☞ The British Government have recently transmitted, through the Secretary of State at Washington, a gold chronometer, as a testimonial to Capt. Edwin Gerrish of the ship Sagamore, of this port, for his gallant conduct in rescuing some shipwrecked British seamen on his late voyage from New York to Liverpool. Capt. Gerrish is a young shipmaster, and has twice been the means of saving the lives of British mariners while pursuing his voyages upon the ocean. The superb present, which has been received by Collector Jenkins, and awaits the return of Capt. Gerrish, could not find a more worthy recipient.

☞ The Second Lesson of Mr. Clark's Singing School will be given this (Tuesday) evening, at half-past 7 o'clock.

CHARLESTOWN NAVY YARD.—The work upon the new steam sloop Plattsburg, is being prosecuted with a good deal of vigor. The Charlestown Advertiser says, "This vessel will be 250 feet long, over all, and 222 feet between her perpendicular, with a beam of 42 feet. We believe the Plattsburg was the last vessel of this class ordered by the navy department, and the last commenced; but yet such is the skill and energy of the mechanics at this station, and the abundant facilities at hand, that she will undoubtedly be the first of the number baptized by water, not excepting the one under contract at New York. The same amount of work has almost always been performed in two-thirds the time that has been occupied at any other station, save at the Kittery Yard. And the expense has been reduced to almost the same ratio."

☞ "Annie Lisle," a beautiful yet simple Song and Chorus, words and music by H. S. Thompson,—published by Moulton & Clark, Newburyport—is for sale at the Book and Music Store of James H. Head. It is in Thompson's best style—somewhat similar to "Ida May," one of the most pleasing songs of the kind we know of.

☞ The "Polka Mazurka," from the Ballet Faust, as performed by Signora Santolini and Miss Galo—arranged for the piano by Carl Bergmann. This souvenir de ballet has a handsome likeness of the lady performers in their abbreviated and beautiful costume. For sale by Chas. C. Harvey.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The 22d annual report of this corporation, to the Legislature of Massachusetts, shows the net earnings of the year, after deducting expenses, to be $283,508.80. Deducting from this sum $142,986.60, for interest paid, leaves $140,513.18 surplus for the year.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

FRIDAY, Feb. 5.
Ar sch Edward & Frank, Stewart, Boston.

Ship Sagamore, Gerrish, sld fm Liverpool 19th ult for New Orleans.
Ships Venice, Whitman; New Hampshire, Weeks; Cynosure, Harris, and Anna Decatur, Parsons, ar at Mobile 30th ult, lading.

☞ The despatches of Sunday, from Washington, represent both parties preparing for Monday's vote in the House.—The N. Y. Herald's correspondent says:—

The Republicans and Anti-Lecompton Democrats have left no stone unturned, and their hosts are all marshalled in the field ready for action to-morrow. They expect to carry the previous question on Mr. Harris's proposition. The vote will be very close, with the chances in favor of the Republicans. The democratic absentees have all returned. The vote will not be a test one of strength on the admission of the Lecompton Constitution, and is not so regarded by the Administration. Letters are constantly pouring in from various sections of the South, all breathing and tending to the one idea that if the Lecompton Constitution is rejected by Congress, the Legislatures will be immediately convened by the Governors of most of the Southern States, and their Senators and members requested to withdraw from the Union. A movement has already been started for a Southern Convention to meet as early as practicable.

This is the old bugbear come again.

(Times Correspondence.)—Speakerr Orr promises that if the Committe is ordered, he will follow the usual parliamentary rule, and appoint a majority of anti-Lecomptonites. If he does not, it is intended to take the appointment out of his hands.

Senator Douglas is quite ill to-day. He has received from Kansas the united testimony of the three judges of election at the Delaware Crossing precinct, showing that only 43 votes were polled there, and sent by Jack Henderson to Lecompton, where Calhoun's brother counted them, and entered them as 370 odd, thus giving a pro-slavery maj. in Legislature. The anti-Lecompton men feel confident of carrying Harris' motion to-day by 5 to 10 majority.

☞ The Spanish fleet now in the Gulf of Mexico numbers thirty-two vessels, some of which are at Havana, others at Vera Cruz, and the remainder manœuvering between Havana and Matanzas.

☞ The Springfield Republican says that Rev. Dr. Osgood of that city was very low on Friday night, and is not expected to survive long. His children have been summoned to his death-bed.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought, FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded us being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced there or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very rectly.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were informed of the virtues of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend of our family, offered, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any of his playmates. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDNER, Ills., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and preserving the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

SOLE Agents for the above Goods, have on hand a large Stock of the same, suitable for sho ps and sea wear.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result not proved them to possess all the qualities claimed to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would cheerfully send to show any one who would favor them with a call. They have been supplying some of the officers of the Falmouth, who have tested the Rubber goods, and found them unfit for sea service.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Managers would particularly direct attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries are authorized by the laws of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the orders come to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Write your orders plainly, and the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. These lotteries are based upon numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $30,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to the following

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

THE well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner of the State of Maryland is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact deserving the managers special attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the week, (Sundays excepted,) the numbers, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan) and result of combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention. Lists of drawings mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Herald. Write your address plainly, and direct to

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which for merly disfigured the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being furnished with two banks of keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument, when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being models the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in the above nature, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallett & Cummings,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent allowed for yearly, towards the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent directly or addressed to the subscribers, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties themselves employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

A MERITED REBUKE.—In an article on the subject of the Lecompton Constitution, the Philadelphia Inquirer remarks:

Some of our northern journals are in the habit of sneering at and ridiculing what they term "the shrieks of Kansas." The theme is to them one of idle merriment; and they complain that the public ear is worried and wearied with the incessant and tiresome details of wrong and outrage. Is this a subject to be so regarded; or is it worthy a reflective and free people that a history so tragical, connected with an issue so momentous, should be treated as a toy, and consigned, among the trivialities of the moment, to jest and ridicule? The statesmen and patriots of the land regard it with awe, as involving principles and consequences the most profound and vital. It digs around and endangers the foundation stone of our republic—the principle of self-government.

There is no other issue: that of slavery has faded away and is now unknown, unrecognized: that of party is lost, for parties are split, mixed and forgotten on this question; and it stands, among the parties, political and sectional, alone, upon the distinct and broad principle—Have the people a right to frame their own government? That the decision of this question is not a matter to be lightly regarded, we learn from the eminent statesmen placed, by the late and present Administration, in authority in the Territory, who declare, and their opinions are overwhelmingly and conclusively confirmed—that the effort to force upon that people a government framed by Missouri, will result in civil war—a war that cannot be confined to Kansas, but which, spreading like a circle in the water, will involve all the West, it may be all the nation. The people upon whom it is proposed to place this yoke, are Americans. They have not been born nor bred to servitude, and will not submit to be slaves. Why should they?

CRIME AND PURIFICATION.—A young girl was found one morning, week before last, in a barn at New Canaan, in an insensible state, and bearing marks of the most brutal treatment. She says that she was drugged in a low drinking house, repeatedly abused, and then taken to the barn in a senseless condition. She remained in a critical condition for several days, before she could give any connected account of the affair. It came out on an investigation, that at several places in that town where it was supposed that selling bad rum were the worst crimes enacted, the vilest acts of gambling and lewdness were enacted; and that beardless boys, young men, and old men, made them their nightly resort. So incensed did the citizens become, that they at once commenced the work of purification, and last week closed every rum hole in town.—New Haven Palladium.

AN OLD MAN.—Thomas Wilson, aged 102, passed through Wheeling on Saturday, accompanied by his grandson. The Gazette says that Mr. Wilson is a native of Ireland, having emigrated to the country in 1791, being then 35 years of age.—He resided in Washington city until the year before the death of Washington, when he moved to Wetzel county, Va., in those days called "the far west." From Wetzel he moved a few years since, to Wood county, Va., where his grandson resides.

MICHIGAN LEGISLATURE.—Detroit, Feb. 5. The extraordinary session of the Michigan Legislature adjourned on the 3d inst.—The Swamp Land, Judicial and Loan bill bills are among the important measures passed. Joint resolution instructing our representatives in Congress to vote for the Homestead law, and certain harbor improvements, and in opposition to the Lecompton Constitution, and the further extension of slavery, were also passed.

STEAMBOAT DISASTER.—Louisville, Feb. 5. The Steamer Col. Crossman, from New Orleans for St. Louis, burst her boiler about a mile above New Madrid, Missouri, last evening, and thus caught fire and burned to the water's edge. She had on board 100 passengers, and 25 to 50 of them are reported to be lost. Among the saved are the captain, mate and five laddies.

☞ President Buchanan's Lecompton Message is thus endorsed.

The New Hampshire Gazette says:

It is a very well written, truthful and straight-forward document. The bold and fearless manner with which the President attacks and exposes the rebellious Topeka movement, and fastens the responsibility of the Kansas troubles upon the deluded men who inaugurated and sustained that imposition, provokes the wrath of the "friends of freedom" to a ridiculous extent. Their ravings are amusing for they "bite a file." The Lecompton Constitution has every legal characteristic which can be conceived, yet through the stupidity or rascality of the free state men of Kansas, it does not reflect the sentiment of a majority of the people upon the subject.

The Boston Post says:

The clear, straightforward and very able message of President Buchanan will command the attention of the whole country. It traces, with fairness and justice, the progress of that illegal movement, the Topeka organization, down to the present time. It characterizes this properly as a rebellious movement, and it points to it as the key of the whole of the troubles that now exist in Kansas.

The Dover Gazette calls it, "this excellent, frank and fearless document."

A tar growing sick of his business deserted his ship, went into the country and hired himself out to a farmer. He was immediately set to ploughing with a yoke of oxen and an old horse called Jim. The sailor being wholly unacquainted with the management of the tacks, sheets, and bow lines of his old mare and oxen, in his first attempt to put about, missed stays, and by turning the yoke, threw Jim and his oxen all down in a heap together. Jack frightened with the confusion, bawled out for help. The farmer asked, "What is the matter?" "Matter! matter enough, by conscience," replied Jack. "The larboard ox has got on the starboard side—old Jim has got foul in the rigging, and they are all going to the bottom stern foremost!"

MUSICAL FUN.—Mrs. Deming, the concert-singer, lately appeared with Mr. Dodge, she singing sentimental lyrics, he comic ones. On descending the stairs, after the concert was over, Dodge heard an old woman asked what she thought of the performances. "Well!" she answered, "I like Mrs. Deming first-rate, but I can't bear that Dodge! 'Twas just as much as I could do, two or three times, to keep from laffin' right out!"

The Worcester Bay State—the only National paper in that county—has been discontinued. The Weekly Bay State, however, survives.—Boston Courier.

For national read slavish or doefaced,—and you'll get the true idea.

The Charleston Mercury heads an article "The South Betrayed on all Sides."—The side on which it is most betrayed is the inside. Ambitious politicians, faithless demagogues, have deceived the people, aroused violent passions against justice and right, and are setting up the rule of minority against the law of the land.—Providence Journal.

PRECOCIOUS.—A little friend of ours was recently asked the question, "Who made you?" Placing his hand a few inches from the floor, he answered, "God made me so much, and I grew the rest alone."

LIQUOR SHOPS CLOSED.—The liquor shops in Boston were closed throughout Sunday, the first time for years. This was in obedience to an emphatic hint from the authorities. Oyster and eating saloons were open at stated hours. Boston is progressing. We must eat, but there is no need of drinking—liquor.—Bee.

A STRONG METAPHOR.—Is there no connection between your use and this abuse? Look down into that black swamp of beastliness, that pool of loathesome intemperance. Did it spring up spontaneously there? No, it has been fed by rills trickling from heights of respectability, and through marble aqueducts of fashion.—E. H. Chapin.

ANOTHER ALLEGED DEFAULTER.—The Hartford Times states that one of the Willimantic manufacturing companies has lost by defalcation of one of its officers the sum of forty-five thousand dollars.

☞ A letter from Messina, Dec. 14, says that Signora Lorini, nee Virginia Whiting, of Boston, made a great success there in a new opera called "Marco Viscanti."

☞ New Hampshire has ten counties, five cities, 232 towns, 2276 school districts, 649 churches, 40 newspapers, 29,229 farms, and 57,337 dwelling houses.

☞ The editor of the Atlantic Monthly is now said to be Lowell, the poet.

☞ Do not regard any person's opinion of you, against your own knowledge.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 10, 1858.

CONGRESS.

On Monday, February 8, in the Senate, the question of reference of the President's Message in relation of the Lecompton Constitution, was debated at length, and finally referred to the Committee on Territories.

In the course of the debate, Senator Clay of Alabama spoke in favor of the disunion resolutions of his State, and said :—

When the principles enunciated in the resolutions of the Legislature of his State are forgotten or unheeded by Congress, then, like the Senator from Maine, this Union would have no charms for him. He trusted that Alabama would never dishonor herself by retreating from the position she has assumed.

Mr. Seward said that at the proper time he would express his opinion of this great question and would give the remarks of Mr Clay a due consideration. He thought that they would fail to convince him of the justice and policy of extending slavery into a free Territory. The attempt to carry this Kansas scheme would be destructive to the best interests of society. He regretted to hear Senators express the opinion that under any circumstances the Union would cease to have attraction for them. He had no belief that the Union would decease at all; nor that it would cease to confer upon all of us the benefit it was designed to confer. The people of the United States love and cherish this Union.

Mr. Hunter said that the message of the President met his full approbation. He deprecated further debate, and hoped the question of reference would be taken at once.

Mr. Davis also heartily concurred in the message. It breathed the sentiments of a patriot.

Mr. Fessenden said he attacked the opinion, not the decision of the Supreme Court, for it gave none. He believed that that opinion, carried into effect, would undermine the institutions of the country. Our institutions have stood firm on the doctrine of freedom—not slavery.

After the Lecompton Message was referred to the Committee on Territories, Mr. Douglas again asked the Senate to take up his resolution calling on the President for information relative to Kansas, including correspondence, &c.

Mr. Mason moved an adjournment.

Mr. Douglas hoped not.

Mr. Mason—I make that motion. It is not debatable.

Mr Wilson demanded the yeas and nays, and the motion to adjourn was carried by twenty-seven against twenty-three.

[This vote on the adjournment is a test vote. Senator Mason is the leader of the Lecompton party in the Senate. The Lecompton swindle has 4 majority there, which would be nullified if two bogus members now there were thrown out, and their places filled as they should be. But these bogus Senators will be kept for the present—for when a gigantic fraud and swindle is begun by a man or a body of men, smaller swindles and those of all sizes, will be practised to keep it up and carry it out.]

In the House of Representatives, the Lecompton Message being the unfinished business of Friday night's session, was at once taken up. The previous question was ordered—yeas 113, nays 107. The motion to refer the President's Kansas Message and the Lecompton Constitution to the Committee on Territories, was lost—113 to 114. Mr. Harris's motion—to refer the message to a Select Committee of thirteen—was now reached, and was adopted—114 to 111. To clinch matters, Mr. Harris then moved to reconsider, and to lay the motion to reconsider on the table, which was agreed to —115 to 111. Twenty-one Democrats and one American voted with the Republicans.

On the vote against a reference of the Lecompton Constitution to the Committee on Territories, the following Democrats voted against it: Adrian of New Jersey; Chapman of Pennsylvania; Cockrill of Ohio; Cox of Ohio; J. G. Davis of Indiana; Dewart of Pennsylvania; English of Indiana; Foley of Indiana; Groesbeck of Ohio; L. W. Hall of Ohio; Harris of Illinois; Hoskin of New York. Hickman of Pennsylvania; Lawrence of Pennsylvania; Morris of Illinois; Pendleton of Ohio; Shaw of Illinois; Smith of Illinois; McKibben of California; Marshall of Illinois; Montgomery of Pennsylvania; making 21 Anti-Lecompton Democrats, and H. Winter Davis, American. There were six absentees—Bonham of South Carolina; Carruthers of Missouri; Harris of Maryland; Landy of Pennsylvania; Matteson of New York; and Reilly of Pennsylvania.

Cragin, Pike, and Tappan, of New Hampshire, voted for freedom and enquiry, as was their duty, and as was expected.

The following is Mr. Harris's motion:

That the message of the President, concerning the Constitution framed at Lecompton, in the Territory of Kansas, by a convention of delegates thereof, and the papers accompanying the same, be referred to a select committee of thirteen, to be appointed by the Speaker.

That said committee be instructed to inquire into all the facts connected with the formation of said Constitution, and laws, if any, under which the same was originated; and whether such laws have been complied with and followed.

Whether said Constitution provides for a Republican form of government: and whether there are concluded within the proposed boundaries of Kansas sufficient population to be entitled to a representative in this House, upon the basis now fixed by law; and whether said constitution is acceptable and satisfactory to a majority of the legal voters of Kansas.

Also, the number of votes cast, if any, and when, in favor of a convention to form a Constitution as aforesaid; and the places where they were cast and the number cast at each place of voting, and in each county in the Territory.

The apportionment of delegates to said convention among different counties and election districts of said Territory, and the census or registration under which the same was made; and whether the same was just and fair or in compliance with the law.

The names of the delegates to said Convention, and the number of votes cast for each candidate for delegate, and the places where cast; and whether said Constitution received the votes of a majority of the delegates to said convention.

The number of votes cast in said Territory on the 21st of December last for and against said Constitution, and for or against any parts or features thereof, and the number so cast at each place of voting in said Territory.

The number of votes cast in said Territory on the day last named for any State and legislative officers thereof, and the number so cast for each candidate for such offices, and the place where cast.

That said committee also ascertain, as nearly as possible, what portion, if any, of the votes so cast at any of the times and places aforesaid were fraudulent or illegal.

Whether any portion, and if so what portion, of the people of Kansas are in open rebellion against the laws of the country.

And that said committee have power to send for persons and papers.

Mr. Keitt rose to a personal explanation, saying the House would remember that its proceedings during the session of Friday were broken in upon in an unpleasant manner. It was due to fair dealing that he should assume to himself all the responsibility for the violation of its order, dignity and decorum. He was the aggressor, and whatever of responsibility attached to that act belonged to him alone. It was also due to justice that he should make whatever reparation was in his power to the dignity and decorum of the House, thus violated. He did this in the expression of his profound regret at the occurrence. Personal collisions are always unpleasant—very seldom excusable—rarely justifiable—never in a legislative body.—He felt in full force the responsibility that he assumed in saying that he was the aggressor, and that the entire responsibility properly belonged to him. In this connection he had but one other remark to make, and that was, whether any blow was directed at him or not he could not say—at least he was unconscious of having received it. With this explanation he parted from the subject.

Mr. Grow said he had been taught in childhood that all fights among men are disgraceful to human nature and to the Christian community, and this is especially the case among law-makers, in the midst of their deliberations. Riper years and the force of education had satisfied him that this lesson was good and true. Yet the right of self-defence was recognized as one of the inalienable rights of man, to be exercised in all cases and under all circumstances, whenever necessary for the protection of life and property. At the last sitting of the House he found himself unexpectedly engaged in the first personal conflict of the session. He tendered to the House most cheerfully whatever apology was due for the violation of its order and decorum, and no one regretted more than himself the occasion for the violation of its order.

The House then immediately adjourned.

This is a victory, by a very small majority, of freedom, over the most barefaced political gambling and swindling which was ever attempted in this country. It is by no means certain that three or four (enough to turn the scale in favor of the Lecompton swindle) may not be bought up by good fat offices or contracts, before the day of trial comes. But it will be worth a good deal to have the facts in regard to these matters spread before the people in a Congressional document, in direct contradiction to the President's most unfortunate Lecompton message.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Speaker Orr will not be prepared to announce the names of the committee of fifteen till to-morrow.—The majority will be men not opposed to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. In forming the committee the Speaker will be governed by that rule of parliamentary action which requires that the avowed enemies of a measure should not be appointed to determine upon its merits.

Mr. Hughes of Indiana will probably be chairman of the select committee, which will be a fair one in every respect. The South is evidently disposed to back down in the matter of secession.

Most positive assurances were given this morning that if Mr. Harris's resolution passed, three States would certainly secede, but the fire-eaters take the result very meekly thus far. The probability that Lecompton will yet pass, in spite of transient defeat to-day, keeps them quiet. The scanty majority in the House against it, and significant votes of Messrs. Bell, Crittenden, Houston and Kennedy, foreshadow a pro-slavery majority in the final struggle.

Jack Henderson of Kansas is here.

(Herald correspondence.) It is pretty certain that the Lecompton Constitution will pass. I am informed on the very best authority that quite a number who voted for the reference to the special committee will vote for its admission on its final passage. It is evident from the vote in the Senate to-day, that the majority in favor of the admission of Kansas, will range from eight to twelve. The belief is general that Minnesota and Kansas will be admitted together.

Official information has been received, showing beyond a doubt that a free State State Legislature and free State officers had been elected in Kansas.

For the Chronicle.

Mr. Chronicle.—Your articles of the 8th on Bells are not quite sufficient.

The only preventive to a Bell's cracking, is to arrange it so that the continual expansion caused by the blows of the hammer, will be admitted without overstraining a contiguous part.

It is not the violence of the blow, or the remaining of the hammer in contact with the bell after the blow is struck, that causes the breakage. Nor will the fixing the bell loosely to the stock prevent it.

The breakage is caused by the metal being expanded by the blows of the hammer only in one line of the circumference.—Below that line and above it, the strain expanding it, is more and more at every blow of the hammer, until it breaks. And every bell, however large, strong, or good, will break with such action in time.

To prevent, my plan is, to occasionally raise or lower the hammer, so as to expand the metal more throughout its whole lower half, and most at its lower edge.—The action then would enlarge the mouth of the bell by general expansion of the metal, and not break it, if the hammer were changed. A MECHANIC.

JUDICIAL.—Concord, N. H., Feb. 8.—The Supreme Court of New Hampshire have just decided that the law of the last June session of the Legislature, repealing the act establishing a Board of Bank Commissioners, did not legally pass both branches, and is therefore not valid, nor binding as a statue of the State. The Board of Bank Commissioners, therefore, continue in office and will examine the banks as heretofore.

ANTI-LECOMPTON MEETING. — Philadelphia, Feb. 8.—A large Anti-Lecompton meeting was held here this evening.

Mr. Daniel Webster called the meeting to order and nominated John W. Forney for chairman. Upon taking the chair, Mr. Forney made a speech condemning the Lecompton Constitution.

After which ex-Secretary Stanton was introduced, and made a long and able address upon Kansas affairs.

KANSAS.—St. Louis, Feb. 8.—The Westport correspondent of the Republican says that difficulties have again broken out at Fort Scott, Kansas, and that a requisition has been made on government for troops.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich out, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economise greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

J. W. Emery, John Knowlton, Benjamin Cheever, Thos. L. Tullock, Micajah C. Burleigh, Directors.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a meeting for Prayer and Conference, in the Chapel of the Middle Street Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

☞ In our notice of Baptisms on Sunday, we transposed the associating clergymen. Dr. Lamson and Mr. Holmes baptised together, in the morning; and Mr. Hall with Mr. Gouch in the afternoon.

☞ In consequence of the "hard times," the drawing of the New York Comospolitan Art Association was postponed from Jan. 18th; and it has been determined, therefore, at this late hour, to keep the books open for subscription until March 25th, 1858, when the distribution will absolutely take place, and all the works of art embraced in the revised catalogue will be awarded, without reserve, among subscribers whose names are on the books up to that time.

☞ 1,000 bbls. Flour were recently brought from Iowa to Portland, for $2 per bbl.; and a contract made to bring 20,000 bbls. to Boston via Portland, for $1.60. Portland is "bound to shine," yet.

☞ Mr. Moses Lakin, of Hancock, N. H., while loading timber in the woods last Friday afternoon, dropped down dead beside his team. Mr. Lakin was apparently a very robust and healthy man.—He leaves a wife and eight children.

OUR CHARLEY.

When the blaze of the wood flickers up and down in our snug evening parlor, there dances upon the wall a little shadow with a pug nose, a domestic shadow—a busy shadow—a little restless specimen of perpetual motion; and the owner thereof is "our Charley."

Now we should not write about him and his ways, if he were strictly a peculiar and individual existence of our own home circle; but it is not so. "Our Charley" exists in a thousand, nay a million families; he has existed in millions in all times back; his name is variously rendered in all the tongues of the earth; nay, there are a thousand synonyms for him in English—for indisputably "our Willie," or "our Harry," or "our Georgie," belongs to the same snub-nosed, rosy-cheeked, restless shadow-maker. So in France he is "Leonce," or "Pierre," as well as "Charle;" in Italy, he is "Carlino" or "Francisco." In German, "Max" or "Wilhelm;" and in Chinese he is little "Ling-Fung," with a long silk tail on the back of his head—but the same household sprite among them all; in short, we take "our Charley" in a generic sense, and we mean to treat him as a miniature epitome of the grown man—enacting in a shadowy ballet by the fireside, all that men act in earnest in after life. He is a looking-glass for grown people, in which they may see how certain things become them; in which they may sometimes even see streaks, and gleamings of something wiser than all the harsh conflict of life teaches them.

'Our Charley' is generally considered by the world as an idle little dog, whose pursuits, being very inconsequent, may be put off or put by for every and anybody; but the world, as usual, are very much mistaken. No man is more pressed with business, and needs more prudence, energy, tact, and courage to carry out his schemes, in face of all the opposing circumstances that grown people constantly throw in his way. Has he not ships to build and to sail? and has he not vast engineerings, to make ponds and docks in every puddle or brook, where they shall lie at anchor? Is not his pocket stuffed with material for sails and cordage? And yet, like a man of the world as he is, all this does not content him, but he must own Railroad stock too. If he lives where a steam-whistle has vibrated, it has awakened an unquiet yearning within him, and some day he harnesses all the chairs into a train, and makes a locomotive of your work table and a steam whistle of himself.

He inspects toy-shop windows, gets up flirtations with benevolent shopmen; and when he gets his mouth close to papa's ear, reveals to him how Mr. So-and-so has a locomotive that will wind up and go alone—so cheap, too—can't papa get it for him? And so papa (all papas do) goes soberly down and buys it, though he knows it will be broken in a week. Then what raptures! the dear locomotive! the darling black chimney sleeps under his pillow, that he may feel of it in the night, and be sure when he first awakes that the joy is not evaporated. He bores everybody to death with it, as artlessly as grown people do with their hobbies, but at last the ardor runs out. His darling is found to have faults. He picks it to pieces to make it work better; finds too late that he can't put it together again; and so he casts it aside and makes a locomotive out of a broken wheelbarrow and some barrel staves.

Do you, my brother or grown-up sister, ever do anything like this? Do your friendships and loves ever go the course of our Charley's toy? First enthusiasm; second satiety; third discontent; then picking to pieces; then dropping and losing? How many idols are in your box of bygone play-things? And may it not be as well to suggest to you, when you find flaws in your next one, to enquire before you pick to pieces, whether you can put together again, or whether what you call defect is not a part of its nature. A tin locomotive wont draw a string of parlor chairs, by any possible alteration, but it may be very pretty for all it was made for. Charley and you might both learn something from this.

Charley's business career, as we before intimated, has its trials. It is hard for him to find time for it; so many impertinent interruptions. For instance, there are four hours of school, taken out of the best part of the day—four mortal hours, in which he might make ships, or build dams, or run railroad cars; he is obliged to leave all his affairs, often in very precarious situations, and go through the useless ceremony of reading and spelling.—When he comes home, the house-maid has swept his fore-mast into the fire, mama has put his topsails into the ragbag, and all his affairs are in a desperate situation. Sometimes he gets terribly misanthropic; all grown people seem conspiring against him; he is called away from his serious avocations so often, and his attention distracted with such irrelevant matters, that he is indignant.

He is rushing through the passage in hot haste—hands full of nails, strings and twine—and Mary seizes him and wants to brush his hair; he is interrupted in a burst of enthusiasm, and told to wash his hands for dinner! or perhaps, a greater horror than all, company is expected, and he must put on a clean new suit, just as he has made all the arrangements for a ship-launching down at the swamp. This dressing and washing he regards with unutterable contempt and disgust: secretly, too, he is skeptical about the advantages of going to school and learning to read; he believes, to be sure, when papa and mamma tell him of unknown future advantages to come when he is a "great man;" but then the present he is sure of; his ships and sloops; his bits of strings and fish-hooks, and old corks and broken railroad cars; and above all, his new skates; these are realities. And he knows also what Tom White and Bill Smith say; and so he walks by sight more that by faith.

Ah, the child is father of the man!—When he gets older he will have the great toys of which these are emblems; he will believe in what he sees and touches—in houses, land, railroad stock—he will believe in these earnestly and really; and in his eternal manhood, nominally and partially. And when his father's messengers meet him, and face him about, and take him off his darling pursuits, and sweep his big ships into the fire, and crush his full-grown cars, then the grown man will complain and murmur, and wonder as the little man does now. The Father wants the future, the child the present, all through life, till death makes the child a man

So, though our Charley has his infirmities, he is a little bit of a Christian after all. Like you, brother, he has his good hours, when he sits still and calm, and is told of Jesus; and his cheeks glow, and tears come to his eyes, and his bosom heaves; and now he is sure he is going to be always good; he is never going to be naughty. He will stand still to have his hair combed; he will come the first time mother speaks; he will never speak crossly to Katy; he repents of having tyrannized over grandmamma, and made poor mamma's head ache; and is quite sure that he has now got the victory over all sin. Like the Israelites by the Red Sea, he beholds his spiritual enemies dead on the sea shore. But to-morrow, in one hour even, what becomes of his good resolutions? What becomes of yours on Monday?

With all "our Charley's" backslidings, he may teach us one thing which we have forgotten. When Jesus would teach his deciples what faith was, he took a child and set him in the midst of them. We do not presume that this child was one of those exceptional ones who have memoirs written, but a common average child, with its smiles and tears, its little naughtinesses and goodnesses; and its aptness as an example was not in virtue of an exceptional but a universal quality. If you want to study faith, go to school to "your Charley." See his faith in you. Does he not believe you possessed of boundless wealth, boundless wisdom, and infinite strength? Is he not certain of your love to that degree that he cannot be repelled from you? Does he hesitate to question you about anything terrestrial or celestial? Is not your word enough to outweigh that of the wisest on earth? You might talk him out of the sight of his eyes, or the hearing of his ears, so boundless his faith in you.—Even checks and frowns cannot make him doubt your love; and though sometimes, when you cross him, the naughty murmuring spirit arises, yet in an hour it dissolves and his little soul flows back, prattling and happy, into your bosom. Be only to God as he is to you, and the fireside shadow shall not have been by your hearth in vain.—Mrs. H. E. B. Stowe.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received, so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity. The 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $3 size; yours very respfly.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to try some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend of mine, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a new fine growth of hair stopped the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and preserving the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world with as much the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the proposed and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all whomsoever MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that Dr. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are alone the certain panacea, safe, sure, and effectual remedy to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, and pleurisy, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other nostrums thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, AS IT KNOWS, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired objects, the undersigned have been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread abroad, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to Dr. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4581, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every Town in the United States.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tone full, clear and equal. Great attention is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals or sets of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by one of the coupler, the two keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and substantial manner, having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We would further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following persons:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Orders from any part of the country or world, send directed to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

SPIRITUALISM.—An advertisement in the Newburyport Herald, invites skeptics, who "wish to be convinced of the immortality of the soul, or the ability of departed spirits to communicate with mortals, to call on C. H. Foster, at No. 5 Charles street, who is a rapping, writing, healing and test medium."

The Herald says,—"Spiritualism finds its votaries increasing, notwithstanding Harvard College pronounced it a humbug. Such evidently it is not, though there may be a great difference of opinion as to the cause of the phenomena produced. The facts are not to be denied: for whatever the professors of Harvard College may say, people will believe their own senses, however impossible the phenomena may be declared to be by some.

"Recently, Mr. Foster's sittings, as announced in advertisement, have caused much excitement in the south part of the city, and he is indisputably the best test medium that ever gave experiments in this quarter. Any number of persons, whose testimony would be taken in any court, and upon any case, will say that at Mr. Foster's room they have heard raps and seen tables tipped; received communications written by the hand of the medium, backward and forward, and written without pen, ink or pencil, when nobody was touching the paper; and heard musical instruments give forth harmonious music, when no visible hand was near them.

"These and many such facts, unaccounted for by any known laws, are calling those who wish to investigate the subject, to Mr. Foster's sittings. We wish that some of our scientific friends who have faith in books more than human experiences, would give the Professor a call, and declare why these things are so; or if not so, as the multitude testify, wherein lies the delusion."

THE AMERICAN HORSE TRAINER BEFORE HER MAJESTY.—At Windsor Castle, on Wednesday morning, Jan. 13th, Mr. John S. Raney, from the United States, America, had the honor of exhibiting before Her Majesty, the Prince Consort, and the royal family and suit, in the riding house, his miraculous power over the horse, on various subjects selected for the occasion.

He commenced with a wild colt, 18 months old, belonging to the Prince Consort, which was brought from Shaw Farm, and which had never been handled except by halter, and selected by Colonel the Hon. N. A. Hood for the occasion. After being alone with the animal about an hour and a half, the royal party entered and found Mr. Raney sitting on its back without holding the rein, the horse standing perfectly quiet. Mr. Raney then made a few remarks in regard to his great experience in the treatment of this noble animal.

A drum was afterwards handed to Mr. Raney, which he beat with fury whilst sitting on the horse's back, without the colt exhibiting any signs of fear. The royal party afterwards withdrew for a few minutes, and on their return found the animal lying down, and Mr. Raney knocking its hind legs together, one of which he put against his face.

Afterwards, a restive horse from Mr. Anderson's stables in London, which Mr. Raney had before handled, was brought in; this horse was placed at one end of the riding-house alone; Mr. Raney went to the other end, and at his call the horse walked quietly up to him. He then made the horse lie down in the presence of the queen, when Mr. Raney crawled between his legs, and over him in various ways. Mr. Raney then rolled the horse on its back; the horse afterwards was placed in various positions, in which it stood without holding and without a bridle.

A third horse, selected by Mr. Meyer, the riding master, as a very nervous animal, was then brought in, and in a few minutes afterwards it was made by Mr. Raney to do all which had been done by the other horses.

At the conclusion of the exhibition the Prince Consort expressed to Mr. Raney his gratification and thanks. The secret has been entrusted to Major General Sir R. Airey in confidence, who has pronounced that there is nothing in the treatment but what any horseman would approve of. The secret will be made known when a sufficient number of subscribers have been obtained.—Manchester, (Eng.) Examiner.

"Ah!" said Mrs. Partington, as she stood looking at the placards stuck all over the front of a store, advertising damaged goods for sale. It was not a big R like those which the doctors begin their prescriptions with, but the simple ejaculation "ah!" and as she said it, people going along listened to what she had to say. "This," continued she, running on like a wheelbarrow, "is what is meant by Mr. Jacquotha, where he says, 'sweet are the uses of advertising,' but,"—here she butted against the word "dam-aged," making two syllables of it, with a profane construction on the first, that made her hold her hands up in unqualified horror. "But though the goods are aged, I don't see the need of putting it quite so strong—so much stronger than the goods are, I dare say." Here like pulled her sleeve, at the same time kicking on the nose a big dog who was smelling at her "ridicule," and the old lady moved on amid the crowd.—Sat. Eve. Gazette.

THE ROW IN CONGRESS

The fracas of Friday night, in the U. S. House of Representatives, occupies the descriptive genius of most of the correspondents of the New York papers. There is substantial harmony between the main statements of the different writers. All agree in saying that no "bad blood" resulted from the affair, but that good humor immediately followed, tempered with general regret. The correspondent of the Tribune, who was an eye-witness, gives an "After breakfast view of the affray," in which he reiterates the original encounter, and adds:

Mr. Keitt's excitable Southern friends, in the midst of whom Mr. Grow happened to be when this took place, rushed to the scene of conflict, some to help him up, others to assail Mr. Grow, and others to restore order. Among these last was Mr. Davis of Mississippi, of whose motive for interfering in the fight I was not aware at the time I sent my telegram. I have since learned that he actively exerted himself to preserve peace. Mr. Grow, who stood his ground firmly, was thus instantly surrounded by a ring of Southern members, all apparently and some really attacking him.—Conspicuous among them were Messrs. Davis, Barksdale and Lamar.

Supposing that the whole group were attacking Mr. Grow, Mr. Potter of Wisconsin dashed among them, dealing heavy blows on all sides, and receiving some very severe ones in his face and on various parts of his person. Washburne of Illinois at the same moment sprang over chairs and desks to Mr. Grow's assistance, followed by his brother of Wisconsin, Tappan of New Hampshire, and other Republican members. The Southern members thus furiously, assailed of course defended themselves; and some who entered the arena as peacemakers, left it as combatants. The battle was severe while it lasted, and revealed an unexpected readiness for fight among the Northern men.

Mr. Davis, and the other Southern members who were engaged in the fight, came over and conversed with their opponents in a frank and courteous manner during the rest of the night session; and certainly if the Southern members are content with their share of the transaction, the Northern members have no reason to be ashamed of theirs.

As seen from the Reporters' Gallery, it presented a droll enough spectacle. There were some fifty middle-aged and elderly gentlemen pitching into each other like so many Tipperary savages—most of them incapable, from want of wind and muscle, of doing each other any serious hurt.

Mr. Barksdale of Mississippi, who was among the most active, encountered at one moment, Mr. Potter of Wisconsin, who was decidedly the champion of the ring.—Potter grasped Barksdale by the hair, with the evident intention of putting that gentleman's head into chancery. To his unutterable surprise and disappointment, the hair came off. The Mississippian was scalped. He jumped about bald-headed, making frantic efforts to recover his wig, which Potter had disdainfully tossed among the crowd, some one of whom kindly restored it to its proper owner.

Everybody is praising the promptness with which Messrs. Potter and Washburne of Wisconsin, and Washburne of Illinois, dashed into the excited crowd of Southerners and rushed to Grow's aid. The Southern men who were in the fight declare that they found them very ugly customers.—They are all natives of Maine.

A Southern Senator remarked yesterday, that the Republicans had gained the first battle, since they drew the first blood (Keitt's) and got the first scalp (Barksdale's wig.)"

The correspondent of the Times says:

Mr. Keitt picked himself up, and after some ineffectual and random passes, left the hall, and was seen no more until after the melee ended, except by some friends who sponged his bruises. I understand he is under the impression that he stubbed his toes, and so fell! The mistake, certainly, is excusable, for the blow which he finally provoked from Mr. Grow's long-suffering patience, was so severe that he would hardly be expected to have any very clear recollection of the circumstances.

The correspondent of the Courier & Enquirer thus accounts for the rush of the "brave allies," and narrates the consequences;

Of course, as the melee was sudden and general, no member could understand the intentions of any other. In fact, the presumption from the beginning was that the attack upon Mr. Grow was premeditated, like the outrage upon Mr. Sumner, and Republicans were seized with a desire to punish Keitt. Had the ruffian been found after the beginning of the disturbance, he would have been severely handled. Mr. Barksdale was collaring Mr. Washburne of Illinois; seeing this, C. C. Washburne of Wisconsin bore up to the relief of his brother.

Mr. Lamar of Georgia ranged up by the side of Mr. Barksdale, and Mr. Potter opened in artistic style on the whole, mistaking Mr. Washburn of Illinois for the enemy. Mr. Potter saluted him roughly on coming into action; but correcting himself, charged upon Mr. Barksdale's wig with one hand and his countenance with the other. Mr. Barksdale received two severe blows, but whether from Mr. Potter or Mr. C. C. Washburne cannot be determined.

Mr. Potter was thrown off his balance by Mr. Barksdale's wig coming off and remaining in his hand, and his blows probably failed of their object. Mr. Potter was slightly marked under the left eye, Mr. C. C. Washburne had his thumb sprained, and Mr. Washburne of Illinois had his throat compressed. Mr. Lamar, it is stated, drew his penknife, but with what purpose cannot be known. When Mr. Davis of Mississippi felt himself struck in the face, he drew a weapon in self-defense, but quickly replaced it.

Mr. Mott of Ohio, a Quaker member much respected, and Rev. Owen Lovejoy of Illinois, were thickly engaged, shoving, holding, choking and crowding friends and enemies by turns, as peace-makers.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 11, 1858.

J. D. WILLIAMSON, the New York witness, who manifested so much reluctance to appear before the Tariff Corruption Committee, lest he should criminate himself, has been examined, and testified that he knew nothing, directly or indirectly, in regard to the expenditure of money for corruption purposes, &c.; but he informed Robert Carter that he was ready to testify that, on a former occasion, European manufacturers and the British government had authorised "Sir Henry Bulwer and others to expend two millions of dollars to affect our tariff and to establish a free trade policy. More than $700,000 had actually been expended to buy the members of Congress, or to defeat their election when they could not be bought." Williamson also intimated to Carter that he could disclose corrupt or disreputable transactions of our own Government, in connection with the negotiation of the recent treaty with New Grenada. This wonderful fellow Williamson "claims to have been the secret commercial agent for this country of the Barings and other English and French mercantile and manufacturing houses, from 1841 to 1850. He declares that if he catches Speaker Orr, or any member of the House, in New York, he will prosecute them for kidnapping and false imprisonment."

This fellow Williamson, puts Uncle Toby in mind of that scoundrel John Henry, who humbugged President Madison in the time of our last war with Great Britain, and received a good sum of money from our government, as the bonus for making some great disclosures of treachery among New England men, who Henry alleged had received British gold, as bribes to oppose and embarass the war. Henry got his money, but the disclosures were never made, or amounted to nothing—for the simple reason that he knew nothing about the matter, except just enough to soft-soap our government and get his fee.

☞ John W. Forney presided over the Anti-Lecompton meeting in Philadelphia, on the 8th. He said he (Forney) had hauled up the flag of popular sovereignty in the Press with the knowledge and consent of Mr. Buchanan. He then spoke of the minions of power, reading out the men who really composed the Democratic party. He said, we raise our voices, not to petition or implore, but to protest against pressing a constitution rejected three times upon a people. We are to say to our representatives that if they choose to make this test upon the people, when the election comes off the people may choose to make a test upon them. In his speech, Mr. Forney referred to Messrs. Douglas, Walker, Stanton and Wise, calling forth immense enthusiasm.

☞ Gov. Wise—in his letter to the Philadelphia Anti-Lecompton-Meeting, of Monday night—says that, after a careful review of the President's message, he is constrained to differ with Mr. Buchanan, and protests against the mode in which the Lecompton Constitution was "pretended to be submitted, as anti-republican and oppressive, and as offensive to the self-respect and moral sense of a free people."

STRENGTH OF THE ARMY.—The effective force of the United States is, according to the latest returns received at the Adjutant General's Office, as follows, distributed among the military departments:

Department of the East,	869
Department of Florida,	337
In Kansas, Nebraska, Minnesota and Arkansas,	3,666
Department of Texas,	2,045
Department of New Mexico,	2,254
Department of the Pacific,	2,517
Army of Utah,	1,887
Total	13,575

☞ By the steamship Indian, at Portland, we have Liverpool dates to the 27th of January.

The marriage of the Princess Royal of England, with Prince Frederick William of Prussia, was celebrated at the Chapel Royal, St. James Palace, on Monday, the 25th ult.

There were riots at Belfast, Ireland, that day.

Operations were resumed on the Levinhan on the 25th. The ship moved about nine feet each day.

Breadstuffs declined—Cotton advanced another farthing.

COOMBS THE POLYGAMIST.—A fifth party, in the person of a young lady from Nantucket, has appeared and claimed Coombs, the polygamist, as her husband. It appears that she holds the third claim upon his affection, having been married to him before the young lady of Carver and the widow of Boston.

CONGRESS.

On Tuesday, Feb. 9, in the Senate, a resolution granting authority to the President to settle difficulties with Paraguay, was ordered to be printed. Mr. Douglas moved to postpone the army bill, so as to be enabled to take up his resolution calling for information in regard to Kansas affairs.—The Senate refused—23 to 30. Mr. Dixon of Connecticut, Pugh of Ohio, Mason of Virginia, discussed the Lecompton message—Messrs. Foot of Vermont, Benjamin of Louisiana and Hamlin of Maine debated the army bill, which was the measure before the Senate. Senators Foot, Benjamin and Hamlin opposed the army bill.

Mr. Pugh said if gentlemen would bring in a bill reducing the army and navy, he would vote for it.

Mr. Benjamin said:

He had looked through all the reports and documents on the subject, without any good reason for an increase of the army. The expense would amount to $140,000,000. He was willing to support the administration in any reasonable measure, but could not vote for such a proposition.

Mr. Hamlin opposed the bill. He would not vote for a dollar to send troops to Kansas or Utah, and would never sanction by his vote an executive war. He agreed with the Senator from Vermont—withdraw the troops and officials from Utah, and leave the Mormons to their fate.

Mr. Mason said that when Mr. Douglas' resolution was called up, if it was not previously tabled, it would lead to a very long debate; and, if adopted, its effect would be to transfer to the halls of Congress the excitement now existing in Kansas. He would, therefore, when it came up, move to lay it on the table as a test question, on the ground that it is not a proper subject for the consideration of the Senate.

The House authorized an investigation of the accounts of its present doorkeeper; the Ways and Means Committee reported a bill to enable the President to carry out the Sound Dues treaty; a bill was passed, appropriating $80,000 to defray the expense of defining the boundary line of Texas; another corruption committee was ordered; and the remainder of the day was spent in the presentation of bills and resolves.

MR. KEITT'S SPEECH.—We hope every reader has read the noble penitential acknowledgement of Mr. Keitt of South Carolina, (which we published on Wednesday,) that he was in the wrong, as the aggressor, in vilifying and attacking Mr. Grow. Like a man, yea like a christian, he does not shrink from the responsibility of from the penalty, when he says his own conduct was unjustifiable.

Yet this man, so noble in this rare trait, is the slave of strong drink—for he says himself, he was not conscious that any one struck him, or struck at him. If he will but sign the total-abstinence pledge, and keep it—he will yet be a wise and happy man.

In curious and whimsical contrast with Mr. Keitt's manly amende honorable, we cut the following scrap from the Portland Argus of the 8th,

It is, of course, impossible, at present, to form a safe opinion as to who was most in fault, but we think it entirely certain to say that the conduct of both the principal actors, and perhaps that of many more, was reprehensible in the extreme.—Let the press and the people thunder their condemnations on the part of their representatives, and let the House vindicate its character by prompt and merited punishment.

Now we know who was most to blame—let the Argus "press thunder," &c.

The same paper makes the following remark:

The whole proceeding of Friday night was a piece of child's play. Sensible men, not desirous of any unfair advantage, would at once have agreed to the proposition that was finally adopted. The opposition tried a game which they were not long winded enough to carry out. All that the Democracy wanted was a little delay so as so have a full and fair vote, and they obtained it in spite of the attempt to entrap them.

This is a droll piece of history, almost equal to the President's Lecompton Message. The proposition that was finally adopted, was adopted at once, as soon as offered, and unanimously! It had not been offered in the proper form before, but all sorts of Lecompton dodges and traps had been tried,—till Mr. Quitman saw they must quit, and then he gave in by making the motion.

NEW YORK, Feb. 8.—A fight occurred this morning at Lindmuller's lager bier saloon, in William street, in which a Frenchman, named Henry Murbak, was terribly beaten about the head with a slung shot and other weapons.

It had just been decided, in Brooklyn, that lager bier is not intoxicating. Perhaps beer may be like the cider of a former day, viz., makes men cross and brutal, sometime before they could be called drunk. Perhaps also, these lager bier saloons keep other and more bier, stuff.

☞ ELSIE, of Westview, is invited to continue her contributions.

CHIPS FROM OLD BLOCKS.

First, from the Portland Argus, Feb. 8:

"The wish of the President, so emphatically expressed by him in his recent message, that Kansas may be speedily admitted into the Union, and the whole tiresome, profitless and dangerous controversy thus be terminated, is fully shared and endorsed by every patriot in the land.

* * * * It is a significant fact, also, that nearly all of the old and reliable organs of the party, with most of the conservative independent journals, fully endorse the recommendation of the message, as the surest and best method of speedily shutting up this manufactory of black Republican political capital."

2d, from the Saco Democrat, Feb. 9:

The message communicates no new facts, and is important only as giving full proof of determination on the part of the Administration to exert all its influence to force the admission of the new State under the Lecompton Constitution, notwithstanding all the objections that properly lie against that instrument, and the now well authenticated fact that a large majority of the people of Kansas are opposed to it.

We do not assent to the exposition which the President makes of the Nebraska bill; we do not agree to the sweeping condemnation which he puts upon the Free State men of Kansas; we dissent from the conclusion he arrives at, that Congress should at once admit Kansas into the Union and throw upon the future State the settlement of a controversy, which, in our opinion, should be settled before such admission, and we believe Congress is bound by every fair construction of democratic principles, to refuse to admit a new State till it has satisfactory evidence that the constitution it presents meets the approval of a majority of its citizens.

3, From President Buchanan's Message:

A large majority of the persons who voted against the Lecompton Constitution, were at the same time and place, recognizing its valid extension, in the most solid and authentic manner, by voting under its provisions.

This same doctrine was put forth by the Washington Union, ten days before the delivery of the message.

4, From the Ohio Statesman, a leading paper of the democratic party in that State:

Since the election of the fourth of January, in Kansas, there has been a further change in tactics. Before, the Lecompton Constitution was to be put through because they would not vote; now, it is because they have voted. The advocates of this scheme at Washington ought to be well paid for supporting it. They are obliged to write themselves down asses every day. They dare not take the only ground upon which the shadow of an argument can be sustained—that of the plenary and absolute power of the Convention, and the unconstitutionality of Congress doing anything more than inquire, is the Constitution brought here republican in form? They cannot do this, because the President does not take such ground. To disagree with the President, even in thought, or with a Cabinet Minister, is not in the Union, and would break the heart of the Star. Our Democracy is made of sterner stuff, and after every effort to comprehend the Kansas question, we are prepared to dissent whenever the Administration makes an effort to force the Lecompton Constitution through Congress.—Upon the very day that the people are said to have recognized the Constitution by voting for officers under it, the people repudiated that Constitution by ten thousand majority. Yet, the miserable and disgraceful subterfuge is now advanced, that all who voted for Free State officers are in favor of that Constitution. If we had nothing better to say than this, we would say nothing. It is better to be assailed by a rogue than to be defended by a fool; and we can conceive nothing more calculated to damage those Democrats who support the Lecompton plan, than the reasoning of the Washington papers. The worst of the business is, that the Democracy are requested to surrender sense as well as honesty.—We are asked not only to put up with cheats and forgers, but to admit that childish nonsense is statesmanlike, and that incoherent gabble is sound reasoning.

☞ Peterson's Ladies' National Magazine, for March, 1858, is received from the publisher, Chs. J. Peterson, Philadelphia. The plates are, The Homestead, Colored Fashions, Children's Fashions, and many others. The Pearl Locket is a touching tale.

☞ It is reported that John W. Seymour was seen in Columbus, Ga., last Wednesday. The Hartford Savings Bank, of which he was treasurer, and which he swindled to the amount of $100,000, has offered a reward for his delivery in Hartford.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.
"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—
Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.
Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."
Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.
Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.
Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.
The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.
It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.
And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.
For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.
The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

IT IS SO.
We know it to be a fact, and therefore do not hesitate to say, that in all Scrofulous and Bilious diseases, Indigestion and its attendants, Sick-Headache, Sour and Sick Stomach, Canker and Salt Rheum or Tetter, all skin and other diseases arising from impure blood, Myers' Extract Rock Rose has no equal. If you doubt the fact, read the array of proof in our Circulars, for the truth of which we challenge investigation.

THERE IS NO REMEDY
Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy! It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

The Ladies' Benevolent Society will meet at No. 20 Deer street, at 2 o'clock, this afternoon.

The District Committees of the Ladies' Charitable Society, will meet this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Medbury, No. 36 State Street.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Class Meetings of the Methodist Society assemble this evening at 7½ o'clock.

M. L. ASSOCIATION.—At the last meeting of the moot N. H. Legislature, it was voted that the next meeting be held at the Court House, and all subsequent meetings until further notice,—and that each member be allowed to give a pass, signed by him, to any ladies or gentlemen, not exceeding six, to visit the Court House when the Legislature is in session.

THE COLORED VOCALISTS, a company of real colored singers, (a quartet of gentlemen, with a lady pianist,) are advertised to sing at the Temple on Saturday evening We are informed their singing is of the highest order,—not excelled by any company of vocalists in the country. They sing but one night, as they are on their way to Kansas.

☞ S. B. Weston, Esq., editor of the Temperance Visitor, will lecture on Temperance next Sunday evening, in this city, either in the Temple, or in the Old South Church. A collection will be taken. 4t

☞ It is proposed to hold a Rockingham County Temperance Convention at Raymond, on Washington's Birth Day, Monday, 22d, at 12 o'clock, noon. Temperance men, especially Ministers and Christians of every name, are invited to attend,

THE TOWN BELL.—The use of this term in the Chronicle and Journal has led some people to suppose the old North Bell, now so damaged, belonged to the town. This, however, was not the case. It was bought by and for the First or North Parish, as the records show. It has been a town bell only in the sense that the town has used it. Once, when for a short time Mr. Vaughan was town bell ringer, and at the same time Mr. Webster was sexton of the North Parish, the wardens of the parish would not suffer the town to ring their bell except by the parish sexton—and so Mr. Vaughan rang another bell.

☞ A yoke of very handsome sparked Fat Cattle, driven into this market from the farm of Col. J. W. Pierce, Greenland, on Wednesday, weighed 5057 lbs. Their excellent beef is to be sold from the stalls of one of our butchers,—but as he don't choose to inform the public of the fact by advertising, we mus'n't expose him.

☞ Among the numerous cases of presentations that took place in our city last season, was a note for about $60, to the famous dodger who repudiates his clothing bill. It was presented in due form, by a fully qualified to do the thing right.—George received it with a suppressed grin, in true pantomimic style—putting it carefully in his pocket, he hastily retreated to the nearest reading room, fully satisfied that no man could obtain clothing cheaper or hold his head much higher.

☞ The new ship built by the Union Co. of this city, at a cost of $60,000 it is said, was purchased last week by Messrs. Jones and others for $43,000. She is to be called "Rockingham," and to take a cargo of hay and ice to New Orleans, under command of Capt. George Melcher.

THE GRANITE STATE BARDS are to give a concert in Chesley's Hall, Rye, on Friday evening, 13th inst. The Bards comprise Messrs. G. M. Goodrich, W. S. Goodrich, J. C. Goodrich, and J. H. Head, vocalists; with S. W. Tripe, pianist—all natives of this city, and well known as performers of talent. It is not easy to find voices as good as theirs, and very rare that four such come together in one club.—Their programme is excellent; and we have no hesitation in promising our Rye friends a fine musical treat—and hope to hear them in Portsmouth ere long.

Messrs. Editors:—Please say Rev. H. D. Moore came from Portland by special request of the parents of W. B. Robinson, to attend the funeral services, without the knowledge of his being a Mason or an Odd Fellow. C. R.

☞ The sleighing on Wednesday was well improved—and, by the aid of the sun, it was almost worn out by night.—Among the teams out, we noticed Dennett & Odion's omnibus sleigh, drawn by six horses, driven in hand by Mr. Wm. H. Dennett, in good shape—and well filled with young ladies and gentlemen.

MARRIED.

In Keene, Volney Woodcock to Keziah L Richardson, both of Swansey.—Anthony Voller, of Medford, Mass, to Augusta Kenney.

In New Boston, William Coffin, of Concord, to Harriet Kendall of Mont Vernon.

DIED.

In this city, 5th inst, Mr Otis C Wilson, aged 40 years.

In Charlestown, Mass, Mr Theodore Davis, aged 56, formerly of this city, and son of the late Capt John S Davis.

His remains were brought to this city and interred in the Auburn street Cemetery, Wednesday afternoon. He has been employed for many years, at his occupation as sailmaker, in the Navy Yard at Charlestown; was a worthy, industrious man, and possessed of many noble and generous feelings. He had been sick for the past four weeks, of consumption and congestion of the lungs.

☞ The Funeral of Mrs. John Rogers will take place at the Meeting-House in Navy Yard Village, this (Thursday) afternoon at half-past two o'clock.

In Keene, Mrs Arathisa S Linzie, aged 68, late of Prescott, Mass.

In Mont Morris, N Y, Mrs Nancy L Bond, aged 73, widow of Col W A Bond, formerly of Keene.

In Nelson, Nathan Tatt, aged 87.

In Swansey, Dea Isaac Stowell, aged 70, formerly of Troy.

In Rindge, Gale Rand, aged 78.

MARINE CHRONICLE.

PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

Ship Athens, Walker, sld fm New Orleans 1st for Boston.
Ship Benj Adams, Chase, cld New York 8th for Liverpool.

KANSAS.—St Louis, Feb. 9.—The Leavenworth correspondent of the Democrat says that a bill providing for a Constitution had passed the Kansas Legislature.

Lawrence letters, in the Leavenworth papers, contain the proceedings of the Board of Commissioners to investigate the election frauds. McLean, the Chief Clerk in the Surveyor General's office, testified to having sent the returns of both elections to Platte City, at Calhoun's request; that he had not seen them since, and that the Delaware Crossing had never been received at Lecompton. This was doubted, and Sheriff Walker was dispatched to Lecompton, to search Calhoun's office, and found buried in the ground, under a wood-pile, the identical return which McLean swore to have sent to Platte City.

Governor Denver, the Speaker of the House and the President of the Senate, examined him, and he swore that they were the same returns that Calhoun counted on the 14th ult.; that the Delaware Crossing returns were among them, footing up 349 votes.

Previous to this, Diffendarf had testified to having given the Delaware Crossing returns to Calhoun at Weston County, subsequent to the count of Lecompton.

It was said that evidence would be produced of his preventing Calhoun from having the returns when he counted the other votes.

Writs had been issued for McLean and Sherwood, who had fled to escape arrest.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 9.—[Herald correspondence.]—Mr. Stephens of Georgia will probably be chairman of the special committee ordered by the House on the Lecompton Constitution and affairs in Kansas. Mr. Hughes, who moved the resolution for the committee will, it is understood, not claim any privilege for having moved it. There will probably be nine Democrats proper and six Republicans on the committee.

LIBERALITY OF PHYSICIANS.—It has always been said that physicians would disparage any remedy, however valuable, which they did not originate themselves. This has been disproved by their liberal course towards Dr. J. C. Ayer's preparations. They have adopted them into general use in their practice, which shows a willingness to countenance articles that have intrinsic merits which deserve their attention. This does the learned profession great credit, and effectually contradicts the prevalent erroneous notion that the opposition to proprietary remedies is based in their interest to discard them. We have always had confidence in the honorable motives of our medical men, and are glad to find it sustained by the liberal welcome they accord to such remedies as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral and Cathartic Pills, even though they are not ordered in the books, but are made known to the people through the newspapers.—New Orleans Delta.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.—No other medicine has ever given such astonishing proof of its efficacy. In cases of Dyspepsia and General Debility it acts in the most agreeable manner, restoring health, when all other remedies have failed. O

SENTENCED TO STATE PRISON. — The Claremont Eagle says, that at the late term of the Court there, Sampson Sankee and William Johnson, colored, for stealing a sheep from the yard of William Benton, pleaded guilty, and were sentenced each to three years in the State Prison. Stearns K. Abbott, who had served a term of two and a half years in the Massachusetts State Prison, for breaking into the Periodical Depot of A. Burrill, was sentenced to six years in the State Prison. Francis Richardson, for stealing a yoke of stags from the pasture of A. C. Dodge, plead guilty, and was sentenced to three years in the State Prison.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these PILLS are found the cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. R. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects on the Liver very marked and prompt. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry I. Ream, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have effected some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Sharet, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to dislodge the stubborn and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Temple, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said in favor of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Enskiel Hall, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that accumulate in the blood, causing disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer your whole complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its improper exhibition. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is selected and purchased by many druggists, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; PLEURISY, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As this medicine has been known for and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every place and city, there is not a most every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the gladsome alacrities of the lungs paid to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and well known to be forgotten.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received no orders from you and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we make no mistake in saying from your Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and gratitude of those who have used the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very respectfully,
DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we wrote to the State of Illinois, for your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence. Nothing would cure it. Finally we advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a most luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I some of late years to two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the hair. Before using it I was a man of no severity. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind of a nature.
Yours Respectfully,

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Maryland, and the Managers appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders to the Managers, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State, and lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next after the one to which they are addressed. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand it. They offer no chance for misunderstanding or mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Bulletin, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner appointed by the Governor, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent to any country for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, after the Havana plan, and Yorker combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers:—Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mechanic Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was a warrant to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the second being an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument, but without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon Instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will produce our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in music in matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further pledge to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,

George Rowen,	Howard & Brown,

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent applied to the payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent to the Manufactory, Boston, with the cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present and employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

THE PIPES AT LUCKNOW.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

Pipes of the misty moorland,
Voice of the glen and hill,
The drone of highland torrent,
The song of lowland rill!
Not the braes of broom and heather,
Nor the mountains dark with rain,
Nor maiden bower, nor border tower,
Have heard your sweetest strain!

Dear to the lowland reaper
And plaided mountaineer,
To the cottage and the castle
The Scottish pipes are dear.
Sweet sounds the ancient pibroch
O'er mountain, loch and glade;
But the sweetest of all music
The Pipes at Lucknow played!

Day by day the Indian tiger
Louder yelled, and nearer crept;
Round and round the jungle-serpent
Near and nearer circles swept.
"Pray for rescue, wives and mothers—
Pray to-day!" the soldier said,
"Tomorrow, death's between us,
And the wrong and shame we dread."

Oh! they listened, looked and waited,
Till their hope became despair,
And the sobs of low bewailing
Filled the pauses of their prayer.
Then up spake a Scottish maiden,
With her ear upon the ground;
"Dinna ye hear it?—dinna ye hear it?
The pipes o' Havelock sound!"

Hushed the wounded man his groaning;
Hushed the wife her little ones;
Alone they heard the drum roll,
And the roar of Sepoy guns.
But to sounds of home and childhood
The Highland ear was true:
Dinna ye hear it?—'tis the Slogan?
Will ye no believe it noo?

Like the march of soundless music
Through the vision of the seer,
More of feeling than of hearing,
Of the heart than of the ear,
She knew the droning pibroch,
She knew the Campbell's call;
"Hark! hear ye no MacGregor's—
The grandest o' them all!"

Oh! they listened dumb and breathless,
And they caught the sound at last;
Faint and far beyond the Goomtee
Rose and fell the piper's blast!
Then a burst of wild thanksgiving
Mingled woman's voice and man's;
"God be prais'd—th' march of Havelock!
The piping of the clans!"

Louder, nearer, fierce as vengeance,
Sharp and shrill as swords at strife, came the wild MacGregor's clan-call,
Stinging all the air to life.
But when the far off dust cloud
To plaided legions grew,
Full tenderly and blithesomely,
The pipes of rescue blew!

Round the silver domes of Lucknow,
Round red Dowlah's golden shrine,
Breathed the air to Britons dearest,
The air of Auld Lang Syne.
O'er the cruel toll of war-drums
Rose that sweet and home-like strain,
And the tartan clove the turban,
As the Goomtee cleaves the plain.

Dear to the lowland reaper
And plaided mountaineer,
To the cottage and the castle,
The piper's song is dear—
Sweet sounds the Gaelic pibroch
O'er mountain, glen and glade,
But the sweetest of all music
The Pipes at Lucknow played!

NEWSPAPER THIEF.—In the Newburyport Police Court, on Tuesday, Constable Batchelder brought up one Patrick Toban, charged with stealing a copy of the Newburyport Herald, of that day, from the door of a subscriber. The taking of the paper was not denied, and upon a statement of the facts, Judge Marston sentenced the said Toban to pay a fine of $3 and costs—in all amounting to $8—and to be committed till paid. In default of the eight dollars, Patrick took quarters in the jail.

The Herald says,

To those unacquainted with the matter, it may seem a severe punishment that a poor man should pay eight dollars, or lay in Jail a month, for taking one copy of a newspaper; but the Herald has been missing from the same door at least once a week on the average for the past two years, and some days we have lost thirty copies in different parts of the town, in the same way. It a poor man, for any special reason, wishes a copy of the paper, we will give him one any time; but this newspaper stealing we have determined to stop, if possible, and shall prosecute every person against whom we obtain evidence.

BAPTISM IN THE NIGHT.—The watchmen heard a singular noise in and about the grounds of Ethan Allen, Esq., a little after midnight on Saturday night last; and upon drawing near, they heard, first a prayer, then the Song of Zion, the words being an appropriate selection from Watts's Hymns. They also observed four men upon the edge of the ornamental pond in the garden, and they awaited anxiously the result. Very soon a hole was made in the ice, and two of the ardent young men walked into the element, and each immediately immersed his comrade. After another prayer and another song of praise, they turned to leave, when the watchmen intercepted them and inquirred, "what on earth they were about?" They replied that the wet and dripping individual who was shivering before them, had just been converted, and couldn't wait till morning to be baptized! The watchmen thought it was rather a cool proceeding.—Worcester Spy.

☞ Mr. Pooler, an industrious Canadian wood-sawyer, of Belfast, recently purchased a fine pig of three months, which he hoped to raise to a size fit for killing.—But one night a horde of hungry and ferocious rats "came down like the wolf on the fold," and the next morning piggy was found dead and partly eaten.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 70 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any, persons solicited that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin till dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

COUNTY POOR FARM.

A writer in the Exeter News Letter advocates a Poor Farm for Rockingham County, and gives the following argument in its favor.

All who observe the signs of the times must be aware that pauperism is largely on the increase in New England. Probably the expenditures in New Hampshire for the support of County paupers, who are mostly foreigners, will be twice as much the present winter as they have usually been. The increase is occasioned chiefly by the employment of foreigners in our manufacturing cities and villages, in times of commercial prosperity, and their discharge in times of commercial distress. Having no knowledge of any business but that of their peculiar trade, and lacking the energy and tact of our native citizens, when the factories stop, many of these persons have no means of living, and must be maintained by public charity. Added to this, there is a certain pauperism of a thriftless, houseless, Gipsey-like people, who seem to be born to live in poor houses, who seem never to have had any parents, or any legal settlement, but abound in children. These two classes, with a few others, constitute the County paupers, those for whose support the Counties and not the towns pay. The expense for supporting County paupers in Rockingham County in 1857, was about ten thousand dollars.

There is no reason to suppose that they will be lessened in the future, and occasionally, in times like the present, they will be greatly increased. In several of our Counties, as Hillsborough and Belknap, farms have been purchased by the Counties, for the support of this class of the poor, and in both those Counties the experiment has proved satisfactory. Why should we not do the same in Rockingham? The County poor are now mostly supported by the towns, who bring in their bills to be paid by the County. And why is this not as economical a mode of supporting them as by taking them to a County farm? Probably the same number of paupers can be as well and economically supported by towns as by the County, but the effect of establishing County farms is to lessen the number of applicants for assistance.

A large proportion of the County poor are foreigners who are able to labor, but who are temporarily out of work, and who will not work, especially in winter, if they can be supported in idleness. These people wander from State to State, and always winter where there is the least work and best fare, at the public expense. In our town poor houses no work can be provided, especially in winter. In a County establishment, where a large number would be constantly supported, more system can be introduced and employment procured for such as are able to work.

Hillsborough County has a farm of some two hundred acres, susceptible of great improvement.—Heavy jobs of building roads and walls, clearing land and the like are kept on hand; and usually, even thro' the winter, a good, wholesome hard day's work can be afforded to all able-bodied men. In November, there were more than one hundred and sixty poor persons upon that farm, and all able to work had employment, and arrangements were making for work at various trades, in-doors.—To such a county the lazy able-bodied pauper will not direct his steps. He will travel along to Rockingham, where there are as good accommodations at the town farms, and no work.

There should be no place for the lazy poor.—"My poor are always with you," but these are not the Lord's poor. They belong to the other side. There are able-bodied men now in our gaols who beg to be allowed to remain rather than go out and work for their bread. So say the gaolers who have charge of them. One of these gentlemen lately stole a piece of beef out of the gaoler's house in Dover, soon after he had been discharged unwillingly from imprisonment, and boasted that he would have his living out of the public some how. It is the opinion of County Commissioners in several Counties, that County expenses for paupers may be reduced one-half by adopting the County farm system.

A farm of from one to two hundred acres, central, easily reached, with a good growth of wood, and land capable of improvement, would be necessary for this County.

The first cost, including buildings, might be ten thousand dollars, and the stock and tools and furniture and fixtures two thousand more.

Will the farmers of Rockingham think of this matter? True, it will increase our taxes at the outset, but a farm of this kind will not be a dead loss like money expended for the class I have named. Let us, at least, be up with the times, and consider fairly what our own interests require.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, Thursday, Feb. 11.

Dear Chronicle:—If the Puritans, in their zeal to protect the sanctity of the church, prohibited the indulgence in innocent as well as hurtful amusements, their descendants have by no means fallen into the same error. Of all the social enjoyments in the long evenings of a New England winter, none are more deservedly popular than Lyceum lectures. It is to be hoped that we shall have a course of lectures next winter, as we have been content without any for two seasons. A correspondent of the Boston Journal says that some gentlemen have expressed their determination of procuring the delivery, in this town, of Mr. Everett's Oration on Washington. We hardly think this will be done.

The Exeter friends of Mr. C. A. Adams of Boston, are circulating a subscription paper to have that gentleman give another of his concerts here. A card in the News-Letter conveys to the musical world the sad tidings that Mr. L. M. Dow, our crack singer, has resolved to retire from further practice. He must have committed this rash step as the boy did a glaring theft,—"in a fit of abstraction."

The Boston & Maine, and Great Falls & Conway Railroads have contracted to deliver in Boston 250 tons of ice per day, for two weeks. The ice is brought by a special freight train from Milton Three Ponds, on the line of the G. F. & C. R. R. That Railroad receives 50 cts. and the Boston & Maine $2.50 per ton.

We had the pleasure of attending an exhibition given by the pupils of Mr. Wm. A. Currier's school, a few evenings since. It was a model school exhibition, reflecting great credit on the teacher and scholars.—Mr. Currier will repeat it at the Lecture room, on Wednesday next.

The installation of Rev. O. S. Lamphear, on Tuesday of last week, was very well attended. The charge to the people, by the Rev. Lyman Whiting, of your city, was a happy production—every one admired it.

Prof. George C. Sawyer, teacher of Latin and Greek, at the Academy, has received an invitation to take charge of a high school in Utica, N. Y. His acceptance, which is quite probable, will be a loss to Exeter, and a gain to Utica, of a faithful and estimable teacher.

The first political meeting of the season was held on Wednesday evening, in the Town Hall, where Jacob H. Ela, Esq., of Rochester, addressed the Republicans of the town. Prof. J. G. Hoyt spoke on the occasion.

Rockingham Chapter No. 1, of the order of United Americans, will give their second annual Festival on Washington's Birthday. Music will be by Hall's Band, of Boston.

On dit—that the next county Institute will be holden at Portsmouth, if the friends of education will work to have it there.

The Supreme Judicial Court sits here on Tuesday, the 23d inst.

Yours, F. G.

☞ Mr. Clay of Alabama says he only expects to make one more speech in the Senate, as disunion is at hand. The plan is, on the rejection of Kansas, for the delegations of South Carolina, Alabama, Georgia, and Mississippi, to vacate their seats and go home. It is supposed that those States will at once call conventions for a dissolution of the Union, and it is hoped that Texas, Louisiana and North Carolina will follow suit. Strange to say, South Carolina is the most conservative of all these.

Their former trial at nullification makes them cautious. Toombs, in 1850, led his companions to the brink of disunion, but they did not like it as well as he expected, and he was forced to turn back and come to the Senate. He will probably repeat the role. No cool-headed man in Washington of either section, gives any importance even to these specific arrangements looking to a dissolution of the confederacy.

☞ In the Massachusetts Senate, on Tuesday, the House bill to regulate "organ-grinders" was rejected, 13 to 16. A communication from the Treasurer disclosed the fact of a loan of $50,000 having been made from the Western Railroad Loan Sinking Fund, to Lawrence, Stone & Co.

☞ A riot took place in New Haven, Conn., on Tuesday evening, between students of Yale College and firemen, when one of the latter was wounded, it was supposed mortally. A letter says:

The wounded man has acknowledged that he was the aggressor and deserved his punishment.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 10.

SENATE.—Mr. Douglas attempted to bring up his Kansas resolution.

Mr. Davis objected, and called for the yeas and nays.

Mr. Douglas proceeded to give reasons why the resolution should be considered now.

Mr. Davis objected to a discussion of the merits of the question, when Mr. Douglas replied, claiming the right to discuss the subject from the practice of the Senate in other cases. He then proceeded with his remarks, referring in strong terms to the fraudulent elections in Kansas, and claiming the right of Senators to demand an immediate investigation as to the facts.

Messrs. Mason and Davis called him to order several times.

The Chair allowed Mr. Douglas to proceed.

Mr. Douglas pledged himself to prove these points, if the Senators from Mississippi and Virginia would guarantee that hereafter the Kansas question could be opened until the required facts could be shown.

Mr. Mason (interrupting)—The resolution shall never pass by any aid of mine.

Mr. Douglas—That's frank. He then proceeded, when Mr. Mason again objected.

Mr. Douglas called for the yeas and nays, which resulted—yeas 23, nays 24; absent 14.

[So Douglas's resolution was not taken up,—and the administration, so far as it has power in the Senate, decrees that the facts in the Kansas case shall never be known, which we suppose is the latest version of popular sovereignty! and of a republican government!]

Mr. Foot submitted an order for the Committee on the Library to report a plan for the accommodation of reporters other than those for the reporters of the Congressional Globe, in the eastern gallery.

Hark! from the Toombs!

Mr. Toombs objected. He did not think there ought to be any such persons in the gallery at all. The subject was laid over.

The debate on the Army bill was then resumed.

Mr. Mason confessed to but little knowledge in the matter, but relied on the estimates of the War Department. He would vote to increase the army, without considering that he was merely registering the edicts of the executive.

Mr. Crittenden advocated the bill, eulogizing the army, as having performed greater feats than any in the world of similar numbers.

Mr. Hale would state in behalf of the administration, though not by request, that the government does not want the bill to pass. He fortified his position by reading an article in to-day's Union. Although he (Hale) would not endorse the administration in all things, yet he would vote in accordance with its desire, to kill the bill.

Mr. Houston opposed the bill, saying he would never again vote to increase the army. He (Houston) had been read out of the Democratic party, but never cared enough about it to ask the reason. Gen. Jackson had principles without platform, but the present administration had a platform, without principles.

HOUSE.—The House went into the consideration of the bill amendatory of the act relative to the safety of passengers in vessels propelled wholly or in part by steam.

The bill was debated on its merits, but no question was taken.

A fool in a high station is like a man on the top of a high mountain—every thing appears small to him, and he appears small to every body.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple globe or shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Burner in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

The entire region hereabouts is suffused by divine influences. I have never seen the like before. In all our towns the Holy Spirit seems to be moving men's hearts.

In addition to the above, we find in our exchanges numerous accounts of revivals in the Middle and Western States.

THE COLORED VOCALISTS, a company of real colored singers, (a quartet of gentlemen, with a lady pianist,) are advertised to sing at the Temple on Saturday evening We are informed their singing is of the highest order,—not excelled by any company of vocalists in the country. TEMPERANCE MOVEMENT.

At the solicitation of friends of temperance, the Portsmouth Washingtonians have engaged Peter Sinclair, Esq., of Scotland, to labor on behalf of the temperance cause among the children of New Hampshire, especially in Portsmouth and vicinity. A fine opportunity is now offered to form Cold Water Armies, and thus enlist the juvenile portion of the community. It is unquestionably true that the children have been neglected. The generation that composed the Cold Water Armies in 1840, are now young men and women; and the principles of temperance that were instilled into their youthful minds at that time, have not been forgotten. Many a young man has, by that simple instrumentality, been saved from ruin. The generation of children now upon the stage, know comparatively nothing of temperance pledges, badges, or cold water songs. The Committee believe, therefore, that with the aid of Mr. Sinclair, who has had such remarkable success among children in his native land and wherever he has been in this country, a new juvenile temperance movement may be inaugurated in the State, which, with the blessing of Providence, will result in incalculable good to our sons and daughters, who are growing up in the midst of temptation.

Mr. Sinclair will commence his labors here about the first of March, and can spend one or two weeks from that time, if the towns, parishes, &c., in the State and neighborhood will raise the small sums needful to secure his services for a day.—Any society or people wishing his lectures, will please to raise $10 and the expense of travel, choose what day they will have their meeting, from March 1 to 15, and apply by letter to the subscriber.

He usually delivers two addresses in a day, viz., one to children, in the afternoon,—the other to a miscellaneous audience in the evening.

Those who send the first letters, can get the choice of days. T. H. MILLER, Pres. Portsm. W. T. A Soc.

FROM MEXICO.—New Orleans, Feb. 10. The Tennessee, bringing Vera Cruz dates of the 7th, arrived here to-day.

On the morning of the 31st, Comonfort, abandoned by his troops, left the city of Mexico, when Pronunciados entered the palace, and named A. Corsigo de Notables as the head of the Government.

Notables elected Zeulaga as Provisional President.

Puebla, Touca, and other points within a radius of the city, have acknowledged the Government, which has been organized and has nominated its Ministers. They, however, up to the 7th, had not a single port, and were depending upon the clergy for support.

Juabazer, as President of the Supreme Court, is President of the Republic, under the Constitution, and has called Congress together at Guanipanito, the great point of Union of Liberals; while Parodi de Clado Artenja l'Egaledo, at several points, was preparing to unite forces, and march against the Mexicans.

Morning Chronicle.

SUPREME J. COURT, CONCORD.—The Concord special correspondent of the Manchester Mirror says:

In the past we have generally had good grand jurors in this county until the last term of the court, but we never have we had a more intelligent and well disposed grand inquest in this county than was the one which was impanelled here last Tuesday. They were in session Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday, and investigated quite an amount of complaints, finding some eleven indictments against persons complained of for various offences against laws, not including the law for the suppression of intemperance; and on Thursday they gave four hours of the day to the examination of witnesses summoned to testify against know violation of the law for the suppression of intemperance, and 29 indictments were found against liquor sellers, 21 of which were against one liquor agent.

The petit jurors are intelligent men and generally friends of temperance. They will endeavor to do right. The grand jurors were about half Republicans and half Democrats, and I should judge the petit jurors were about equally divided between the two political parties, and I think they are upon an average, as to intelligence, integrity, and readiness to enforce the law in question.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass many boasted remedies of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which has been known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are also adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by persons in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him them; see him, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; pound him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and next he walks alone; these pills have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS; let the virtue of this principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet smile, which warms all hearts. It was, sickly features tell you without disgust and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every one understands. Give the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, Kings's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were thought beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled upon the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL. It soothes, it stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living witness who lies to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriant by the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions;—gives the hair soft, lustrous, silky, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache See circular and the following testimonials:

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2. 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have proved as well for our new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, and oblige very respectfully,

DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so far beyond all our expectations, that we felt it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

My little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative. We did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, very respectfully,

GIDEON W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before that it was a mass of poverty. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, St. Louis, Mo.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to conduct their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that the Commissioners have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, and orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the prizes—the prizes range from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FARNOS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend the drawings. All orders connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are regulated by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is wanted, orders are filled in the next drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received by the Managers. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Tertany combinations. Prizes vary in amounts from $40 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The octave coupler, as used by them, enables the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and can be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one set of hands only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great volume of power, equal to the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. Hence we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfactory satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to call and examine our instruments, and examine or test the instruments now exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of our MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following who have tested our instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon;

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

From Hon. Chas. Mason, Commissioner of Patents.
U. S. PATENT OFFICE, Feb 23, 1855.
I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. Morning Chronicle.

FRIDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1858.

CONGRESS.

On Thursday, Feb. 11, in the Senate, a resolution was introduced to pay the expenses of printing the "Dred Scott decision." Mr. Doolittle moved an amendment, to the effect, in passing the resolve, the Senate does not endorse the doctrines of the decision, which was rejected—19 to 32. Some other unimportant matters having been disposed of, the Army bill was taken up and debated.

The House passed a resolution ordering that J. W. Wolcott of Boston be arraigned at the bar of the House, to answer a charge of contempt. Before the $87,000 investigating committee he refused to give other than a general answer to the questions propounded; and in this consists his contempt. The committee assert that they have proof that he received $58,000 of the $87,000.

Mr. J. W. Wolcott was asked the question—"Did you receive from Lawrence, Stone & Co., some time in March last, a sum of securities of money or the amount of $60,000, more or less?" Mr. Wolcott answered that "he did not receive money or securities of any amount for the purpose of influencing, directly or indirectly, the action or vote of any member or officer of the present or last Congress, or the tariff or any other measure considered by Congress, or before it, or contemplated to be before it; nor did he ever pay, or promise to pay, any money or pecuniary consideration, to any officer or member of any Congress for his vote or services in the passage of, or to influence his action in relation to, the tariff or other laws; nor did he ever give any money or securities to any person for the purpose of being paid to any officer or member of Congress for his vote or influence, directly or indirectly, upon any act under the consideration of Congress; nor had he any knowledge that any such act or thing was done by any other person." He states that he had been advised by his counsel that the above is a full answer to everything that such a question may involve, and that to go further would involve interference with his private affairs, which the Committee have no right to do. The Committee say they have proof that $58,000 of the $87,000 expended by Lawrence, Stone & Co., was put into Wolcott's hands, and the Committee deem it material to know whether he admits the receipt of such sum, and how it was expended.

Mr. Stanton remarked that the witness peremptorily refused to answer the question of whether he had received money or securities for any purpose. This was an important interrogatory.

Uncle Toby remarks that it was an impertinent and improper interrogatory. Congress has no more right to get an answer to this question, than it has to that other question, whether Uncle T. has paid for his last new wig, or whether his credit is good enough to buy another. Wolcott's counsel is in the right—and the House has boobyised itself.

The Speaker announced the following as the Committee under the resolution of Mr. Harris of Illinois, to which shall be referred the Kansas Message and Lecompton Constitution, with instructions:

Messrs. Harris of Illinois, Stephens of Georgia, Morrill of Vermont, Letcher of Virginia, Wade of Ohio, Quitman of Mississippi, Winslow of North Carolina, Bennett of New York, White of Pennsylvania, Walbridge of Michigan, Anderson of Missouri, Adrian of New Jersey, Buffinton of Massachusetts, Stevenson of Kentucky, and Russell of New York.

On the question of adopting Mr. Harris's resolution, Messrs. Harris, Morrill, Wade, Bennett, Walbridge, Adrian and Buffinton (7) voted in the affirmative, and Messrs. Stephens, Letcher, Quitman, Winslow, White, Anderson, Stevenson and Russell (8) voted in the negative.

This gives Lecompton one majority in the committee.

WASHINGTON GOSSIP.—The N. Y. Herald's correspondent of the 9th, says:

A better state of things exists as to Kansas matters. The administration will have a majority, notwithstanding the vote of yesterday; several misguided members are on the eve of returning. The Army Bill in its present shape will not pass the Senate.

(Times Correspondence.)—A double game is being played on the Kansas question. The President is constantly assuring the Northern Democrats privately that he knows the Free State Legislature to be returned elected. Calhoun, who ostentatiously declares that he has not seen the President, is constantly assuring the Southern men that in any event the pro-slavery men will have the control of the State.

The game of the Lecomptonites in the Senate is to stifle an investigation of the frauds, and so they voted down the Douglas resolutions to-day, lest it might be rendered impossible for anybody to countenance them. They are trying to keep matters straight till they have got every Democrat committed that they possibly can; then, if it is found absolutely necessary in order to gain the measure in the Senate, Calhoun will return a Free State Legislature, although he has said that he will make no return till after Kansas shall have been admitted: but it is intended still to return the pro-slavery State ticket, so that the Governor can veto any legislative act calling a new convention.

Calhoun yesterday in effect proposed to return a Free State Legislature if Harris would withdraw his resolution, which he declined. The Senate Committee on Territories will meet on Thursday. Kansas will probably not be reported back till Monday.

To favor all these swindles, is called Democracy—to oppose them, rebellion. To bow down quietly and let slavery plant its foot on your neck, is popular sovereignty—to protest or vote against it, is to be misguided.

WASHINGTON MATTERS.—The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says;

"Gen. Calhoun visited Judge Douglas shortly after his arrival. They had a long conversation, several persons being present. The Judge inquired in reference to the returns from Delaware Crossing. Calhoun made no answer. Before they separated the inquiry was again made. Calhoun replied that the return had been properly certified. Judge Douglas then gave him some sworn evidence on the subject. Calhoun read and turned pale.—About 1 o'clock in the morning Calhoun sent to the Douglas' House that he was convinced there had been fraud at Delaware Crossing—five hundred and forty votes being put down where only forty were cast—and that he had made the correction in the record with the approval of the President. He authorised Judge Douglas, Mr. Harris of Illinois, and Gen. Quitman, to publish this fact.

A proposition, in the form of a resolution, will be offered from the Lecompton side, to the effect that the people of Kansas, under the Lecompton Constitution, every provision in that intrument to the contrary notwithstanding, will have the right to change it at any time after its acceptance, if it be accepted by Congress.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Judge Cato and Mr. Carr, the pro-slavery claimants for a seat in Congress, had an interview the President to-day. Carr left for Charleston this evening.

This Postmaster General having to-day been notified that the Collins line steamship Atlantic will not take her departure from New York on Saturday with the mails for Liverpool, has authorised the Postmaster of New York to dispatch the mails by a suitable substitute, provided that they can be delivered in Liverpool for the sea postage.

The wife of Judge Douglas is reported to be in a critical condition, from an unexpected attack of sickness.

FROM WASHINGTON, Feb. 11.—Gen. Calhoun sent a man to Col. Harris on Monday, before the vote was taken, to assure him that the Free State men would be counted in in Kansas. Harris suspected, and gave no heed to the assurance. Last night Mr. Harris saw Gen. Calhoun and questioned him on the subject; after much evasion he at length declared that he had issued no certificates to the Free State men, and should issue none until Kansas was admitted under the Lecompton constitution. Harris replied that then she would never be admitted.

(Times correspondence.) Much indignation is expressed at Orr's arrangement of the select committee on Kansas. In view of the closeness of the vote, however, no attempts will be made to force a reconstruction. It is considered probable, however, that Bennett and one or two others will decline serving.

The Army bill will be killed when put upon its passage in the Senate.

(Courier and Enquirer correspondence.) A base Lecompton trick upon Congress has just been discovered. Regent Calhoun now flatly repudiates his pledges to reject the false returns and give certificates to the Free State majority of the election to the Lecompton Legislature. On Monday morning Calhoun sent District Attorney Weir to Harris and Douglas, declaring that the Delaware Crossing returns were fraudulent, and that a Free State majority was elected, and he promised a published statement thereof the next morning. This was done to defeat Harris's motion for the Special Committee with instructions.

There was a long Cabinet council yesterday, and it is believed that it was determined that Calhoun should not fulfil his pledge. The imposture has excited great indignation among the Free State Democrats here.

"LEF HER SLIPE."—Intimations of whatever nature, touching the dissolution of the Union, have long since lost their force. Proposals for peaceable secession or threats of violent separation, coming from whatever quarter they may, we have ceased either to regard with apprehension, or to find in them much food for mirth.—In process of time, they have all become simply wearisome, like a tale that is told.—Boston Courier.

Perfectly sickening is it to hear the talk upon every occasion of dissolving the Union, as though the fire-eaters could burn off the thread that holds the States together, as their will. If any of them are in earnest in their talk, let them begin, and they can be assured that there is rope enough in the country to hang them, and it will be put to that use very speedily.—The whole north have become tired of their threats, and beneeforward they will be as idle as the wind. We feel very much about it as an old lady of our acquaintance in Salem, used to feel about a cancer on her nose. When her friends expressed anxiety, her answer was,—"Well! it'll never come to anything in my day!"—Newburyport Herald.

A FIRST RATE NOTICE.—The Princess Royal of England, as seen by a Yankee, at the Rugby railway station in Warwickshire:—

"The train contained the princess and all the little princesses, with the requisite number of tutors, governesses, lackeys and so forth. A young lady was lolling out of the window of one of the cars, evidently taking a supercilious view of society as seen at a railway depot. The officers of the establishment all removed their hats and went along the platform bowing like Chinese mandarins. The young lady aforesaid, Alexandria Victoria, et cetera, made no recognition for these civilities.—A number of small royal highnesses were tugging at her skirts to get a peep out of the window, but their royal sister took no notice of their appeals. The princess is said to possess some wit, of a snappish turn, and will no doubt, make as economical and prolific a wife as her respected mother. Meanwhile the princess is as homely in appearance as the bust of George the Third on a continental coin, and, in fact, she bears a striking resemblance in features to that turnip-and-mutton-eating monarch.—Providence has never been lavish of the fatal gift of beauty in connection with the house of Guelph."

☞ The Charlestown Advertiser makes prime items out of small events. Vide these.

We feel cool and refreshed to think the Legislature has passed to a third reading, a bill to construct a horse railroad on Chelsea Beach. It will be delightful to ride along shore in a cool summer breeze, in full view of innumerable clam-shells.

Kansas is now a prominent missionary field, and it is said that the Methodists have succeeded in erecting the first church in Lecompton, and we sincerely hope they will get some of those border ruffians into it and reform them.

The item of interest by the last batch of European news is contained in the announcement that the standard of the height of recruits for India, has been reduced to five foot three inches.

☞ It is asserted that the stock on the Cunard line of European steamships is over 200 per cent. premium. Very little of it is ever sold. A gentleman of Glasgow last summer offered £3000 for a share of £1000, but could not get it. With their first five ships they have built all their additional eight or nine ships, with the common earnings, without any assessments for additional capital.

☞ Mrs. Dodge, wife of a captain killed at Agra, while lying upon a sofa in her residence at Deptford, was startled to see, as she supposed, her husband standing before her. She rose to meet him, but he was not there. She even ran into a garden after him. When she told her friends what she had seen, they laughed, and pronounced it a fantasy. Subsequently it was ascertained that Capt. Dodge was killed on the very night of the apparition.

☞ On Friday, the Massachusetts Senate rejected the Atheist bill, by a vote of 20 to 13. Six Senators were absent, and the President did not vote. In the House, there was a debate on the resolve to amend the Constitution so as to prevent foreigners from voting until the expectation of two years after their naturalization. The resolve was passed.

A BITING MULE.—One of our correspondents informs us that a mule bit a young lady a few days since in Amsterdam. This is certainly the first instance of mule biting we ever heard of: biting must be the instinct of Dutch animals, as well as the habit of Spanish women. MULER.

The city government of Lynn have determined to prosecute the Liquor Law to the extent. A large number of indictments have been found against sellers in that city, as also in other towns in the south part of the county, and many of the parties are keeping out of sight.—Newburyport Her.

Somebody has found out a new way of "taking pictures," by which they can be taken as well in the night as in the daytime. A Schenectady daguerrotypist has missed several from the frames that hang by his door,—and doesn't approve of the new plan.

BOCKINGHAM CO. TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

It is proposed to hold the Rockingham County Temperance Convention at Raymond, on Washington's Birth Day, Monday, 22d, at 12 o'clock, noon. Temperance men, especially Ministers and Christians of every name, are invited to attend. The convention will appoint district and town committees, and make arrangements for Mr. Sinclair's meetings, to establish Bands of Hope, for the promotion of temperance among the youth.

The Convention will be held in one of the churches, near the Depot.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.
"WOODS'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—
Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.
Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the most artificial light yet produced."
Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.
Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.
Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.
The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.
It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.
And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.
For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.
The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

LOCAL.

TO THE UNMUSICAL PUBLIC.

Let any lover of music, possessing the slightest knowledge of that science, with an ear and a soul to appreciate harmony, visit our various churches, and he cannot but be pained at the deplorably low ebb at which, it is evident from the appearance of the choirs, musical matters stand at present in this community. In one or two instances the listener may be gratified by hearing a chorus, deserving the name; but oftener the harmony will consist of but three parts, by as many voices. Let the same individual afterward visit the conference and prayer meetings connected with the same churches, and, considering his former experience, he would be surprised at the large number of fine voices taking active part in the musical exercises, and would wonder why they did not form a part of the church choir, did he not know that all are not singers who can perform, by rote, a few or even many tunes,—and that, too, very acceptably,—any more than they who can recite, parrot-like, a few stanzas or even poems, are readers.

As for the performance, with the voice, of any melody with justness and the desired effect, not only a good voice and sensible ear, but a considerable knowledge of the theory of music, is indispensible; so congregational singing, (which is unquestionably the most suitable for worshiping assemblies, as it enhances, infinitely, the enjoyment and religious feeling of all participants,) is unhappily impracticable, the majority of the people being ignorant of the harmonic science; amateurs devoting themselves chiefly to instrumental, and neglecting vocal, music. Even was not a knowledge of time and harmony requisite, to prevent confusion and discord, it would actually require more time and labor to teach an entire congregation a sufficient variety of psalm tunes, to accord with the varied sentiment of the hymns selected by the pastor, than it would to instruct them in the leading principles of the science.

We are glad to learn that one of the religious societies in this city has become aware of its necessities, and established a Parish Singing School, for the instruction of its youth in Sacred Music—a most worthy example. Also, that our teachers are awakening to the interests of the community, and have established, one an Evening Singing Class, for adults, and another an Afternoon School for children; the latter we learn is to be permanent—the pupils being allowed to commence at any time, and at the expiration of the stated number of lessons comprising a term, to be notified of the fact. As these are the only music schools in a population of ten thousand, the halls should be thronged to their utmost capacity. The leading principles of music will, we hope, and that at no distant period, be taught in our public schools—but till then, there is no better substitute than the Juvenile Singing School; and we can conscientiously recommend the one kept in Exchange Hall as having an efficient and experienced teacher, who has proved himself worthy of confidence and patronage—who will faithfully impart the elements of the science to his pupils for their future benefit, and for the advancement of the art, rather than teach them by rote a great number of "pretty peices," for his own present popularity and profit; which superficial method every one who will give the subject its due consideration, will at once perceive to be, not only a waste of time and money, but an injury to the cause, by depressing its standard.

The better music is understood, the more it will be valued; and as the gospel expressly enjoins singing as a part of Divine Worship, is it not incumbent upon those having the guardianship of youth to look to it that they are instructed in music to that degree which will enable them to distinguish between false and correct harmony, and to perform their part in social and religious assemblies?, . . HAVE WE A BORN ORATOR AMONG US?—Messrs. Editor:—In these days when every drove of cattle entering our midst fills the air with its bellowings, is it strange that the orator,—than whom, as Carlyle says, none would seem less inclined to violence,—should wander through the street unnoticed, uncared for? Yet nothing can be more true, as the session of the N. H. Legislature now holding at the Court House, so clearly proves. The gentleman from Errol, last evening, in his able defence of the bill relative to the voting of aliens, exhibited remarkable power of eloquence. Never before were our ears arrested with such bursts of the loftiest natures. We will not shock your sensibilities by styling him the Demosthenes,—but truly he is well worth, from nervousness of manner and sublimity of thought,—to be characterized as the Rufus Choate of New Hampshire. We do not know whether the gentleman purposes to repeat his effort, but deem it as a duty owed to the community at large that he should so do. It seems strange that no more members of the Association take seats in the House as representatives. Did not our sex prevent membership, we at least would avail ourselves of that privilege. A NEW SHIP.—Mr. George Raynes has a fine ship of 900 tons in frame, designed to stow a large cargo, and to sail well.—She will be oak planked, square fastened, and through treenailed. Mr. Raynes has built many fine vessels, in connection with his father, who was well known as one of the best builders in New England; and since his father's decease, the vessels which he has produced have given good satisfaction to their owners.

FROM KANSAS.—St. Louis Feb. 11.—The Kansas correspondent of the Leader says that Gov. Denver will probably veto all the acts of the special session of the Territorial Legislature.

It is stated of the friends of the bill providing for another Constitutional Convention, that they have sufficient friends to carry it over the Governor's veto.

The propriety of repealing all the statutes of the first Legislature is giving rise to much discussion. The argument of the ultraists in its favor is that its repeal will place the Territory in its former lawless condition. Some members acknowledge their being pledged to their constituents to bring about the repeal, at any cost.

The rumor was discredited at Lawrence that intelligence had been received from Washington that Denver would soon be recalled, and John R. Porter appointed in his stead.

From several accounts the difficulties at Fort Scott appear to be of a private character.

FROM MEXICO.—Private dispatches from New Orleans state that President Comonfort had arrived there on the Tennessee, accompanied by his two daughters, and that he would leave at once on his way North. The church party bought over the troops that supported Gen. Comonfort, and he then left the City of Mexico for Vera Cruz, and took passage on the Tennessee. The rebel leaders, Orsollos and Miramon, were to march with the church party troops to the West to meet the allied forces of the Liberals. It is supposed in well informed quarters that these movements will result in the return of Santa Anna to Mexico, as the church party were able and disposed to buy off everything opposed to them.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ On Saturday, 23d ult., several men at work in the woods on the Blueberry mountains, Dixfield, Me., started a bear. He was followed by a number of persons round the mountain until night. The next morning the chase was renewed, and the bear followed into Canton. Though wounded meantime in the neck, nevertheless brain kept on his march for about ten miles, when he was fired upon by a man standing in his door yard. Soon after the dogs grappled with the animal on the bank of the Androscoggin, just above Peterson's Ripe; but the bear took to the river, which was not frozen at this place, and swam across. A couple of men with axes met him there, and killed him.

☞ Miss Susan A. Pratt of Andover, who was injured on the Boston & Worcester Railroad, last Fourth of July, and who has since been lying ill in Palmer, where she was teaching school previous to the accident, has obtained $7500 of the corporation.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs, arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in some disorder, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more efficacious in the cure of jaundice than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely desire that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — DYSMENORRHŒA.

From Dr. Henry J. Rose, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have entitled me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the bowels system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and dysmenorrhœa with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be efficacious in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. S. Stuart, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent preventives of the threatened sickness when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they must be lost to all sense of duty if for the benefit of the multitude who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness is originate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — DROPSY — VENEREAL.

From Dr. Ezekiel Hall, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your views of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE — SICK HEADACHE — FOUL STOMACH — BILIOUS — DROPSY — PLETHORA — PARALYSIS — FITS — &c.

From Dr. Edward Boyd, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that we can do with any medicine, namely, to place great dependence on an efficacious cathartic in my daily contest with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every edition of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It has proved by long and severe trial to be the most reliable remedy the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from a hundred miles in every direction around its place of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the daily parent relieves of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon anything, there is it irrefragably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtue, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, and now honors on the afflicted they are never forgot, and published cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

HICKORY GROVE, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were indebted to one some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some had been scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence. Some a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, we soon began to see marks of the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, very respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. My age being if I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honest manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the laws of Georgia and the Constitution of the United States. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled the following next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets will be sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to the country immediately.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in the newspapers in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland. The Commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honest manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers would call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day, and as the prize particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Manner of Sanford and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the results taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail on enclosing $1 to DR. CORNELIUS D. CHESEBROUGH, Box No. 4,311, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists in every town in the United States.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WRONG, DECEIT, DISHONESTY and FALSEHOOD are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEBROUGH'S CELEBRATED PILLS are the secret companions for the the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, giving us sweet sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole sex; more effectually to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to CORRECT any disorder connected with regularity.—AND WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral's, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines forced upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, as it KNOWS, that nothing but the said PILLS can ever REMEDY the evils certainly and the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to be spread among them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered null and void; that is to say the Pills ever must be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is improved by applying the tone power to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus used in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great variety of power at the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen. We feel confident, that we will promise our customers an Instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfaction and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our Stock of instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of our Pedal Bass Melodeons, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. P. Emerson,

	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who may wish to purchase Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who pay their rent of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of one year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and the order executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

ONE OF THE FATHERS.—The Concord Journal of the 11th, records the death of Mr. O. P. Brooks, who deceased at Dalton, Dec. 27, 1857, at the residence of his son, aged 92 years, 9 months and 17 days. He retained his mental and physical powers remarkably. The spring after he was 92, he held plough drawn by four oxen to break up. He often walked five miles in a day, calling from house to house. He frequently went alone with horse and carriage to all the neighboring towns, especially to Whitefield, to see his son, who resided there. He was a native of Gratton, Mass.; came when a lad with his father to Alstead, N. H., where he married a daughter of Judge Prentice, and sister of the late Rev. Joseph Prentice of Northwood. He moved from Alstead to Dalton in 1814; was one of nine who united in forming a Congregational church at Dalton, and was for more than forty years a beloved member, and the last standard bearer save one, who first united with the little church at Dalton. He lived to bury all his brothers and sisters, (four older and five younger than himself); also two wives, and seven children out of nine.

Born before the war of the Revolution, he has been a witness of some of the most glorious changes and advances in the moral world. He was always happy in aiding to the extent of his ability all the benevolent enterprises of the day; he was a kind, affectionate father, an obliging neighbor, —his house was a welcome home for ministers. His last illness, lung fever, was short but painful, which he bore with patience. His visions were transporting,—his end peace.

Rev. Mr. Fay of Lancaster preached a very appropriate discourse to a large audience, from the words, "To die is gain."

☞ The Bangor Union says that on Thursday of last week an Irish Widow McDole, who is upwards of sixty years of age, was passing down the hill of Spring street, in that city, with a basket, on her way to market. A young lad was sliding on the icy sidewalk and struck her with his sled, knocking her down. Her arm was broken by the fall. She immediately got up, and proceeded to the house of Dr. Snell, who set her arm and splintered it, so as to secure the fractured bones in their places. Mrs. McDole then took her basket on the sound arm, proceeded to the market, made her purchases and took them home. An instance of more fortitude and resolution is seldom seen.

HOW LECOMPTON IS TO BE SETTLED.—The Washington correspondent of the Richmond Enquirer, writes under date of February 1st, that there is a majority of four in the House against Lecompton, but Mr. Buchanan has promised to put it through in thirty days; and then adds "these four votes may be had, as there are a number of desirable executive appointments ready to be given out, but it will require nice party engineering." These are the men who talk boldly about purchasing votes by desirable executive appointments," that are examining to see what became of the $87,000! There are more votes bought by the President every year, than there is by all the rest of the twenty-five millions of people; and it is a great pity that this power could not be reduced.—Newburyport Herald.

"THE SOBER SECOND THOUGHT."—The Lawrence American is informed that the slave "Betty," whose case excited no little interest a few months ago, and made capital for the hunker papers by refusing to accept her liberty, after returning with Mr. Sweet to New York, suddenly left her mistress whom she loved so much, took passage upon the under-ground railroad, and safely escaped to Cincinnati, where she was joined by her husband, who is a free man.

ELLEN MCNULTY alias Ellen Ready was arraigned in Newburyport on two counts, for violating the liquor law. Ellen is the keeper of a small den located in "Misery Row," on Liberty street, which has been one of the greatest nuisances in this city.—It was alleged that she had sold bad rum to Mr. James Burke, Silas Floyd and one Osborne, the last two named individuals occupants of "our house" on Robert street, which was sworn to by the parties. She was adjudged guilty, and sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs, and twenty days in the House of Correction, on the first count; and $10 and costs and sixty days on the second—and if not paid, thirty days additional. Appealed.—Herald.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston.
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them as early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the Office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDUS INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a pin dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate it purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of unseasonal frosts and debilitating heats. MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1858.

CONGRESS.

FRIDAY, Feb. 12.

The Senate was not in session.

HOUSE.—The Sergeant-at-Arms having reported that he had, in obedience to the order of the House, arrested John W. Wolcott, he was required to bring him before the bar.

The Speaker, in pursuance of the resolution adopted yesterday, asked him what excuse he had for not answering the question propounded to him by the Select Committee, and whether he was now prepared to answer that, and all other questions.

The witness was sworn by the Speaker, as to the truth of his written reply, which is to the effect that he was here in obedience to the order of the House, to answer for an alleged contempt committed by him. He assured the House in all sincerity that he did not design nor suppose he was guilty of such an offence, and respectfully asked till Monday to purge himself from the charge of contempt, and fully justify his conduct. He wished again to consult his counsel.

Mr. Stanton moved that the indulgence be granted, and that he be remanded to the custody of the Sergeant-at-Arms, and have the benefit of counsel. Adopted.

Mr. Hoard of New York said that rumors were afloat, involving the rights and dignity of the House, and asked leave to offer a resolution for the appointment of a committee to investigate whether attempts have been made by persons connected with the Executive department, or persons acting under their advice, to influence the action of the House, directly or indirectly, by promise or intimidation, or the giving or withholding of patronage, &c.

Mr. Warren of Arkansas objected to the reception of the resolution. If Mr. Hoard would put his finger on the person so offending, he would vote with him; but he could not do so on such sweeping, indefinite charges.

Mr. Houston of Alabama said if the gentleman would state, on his own responsibility, that improper influences had been used, that would afford a tangible ground for an investigation; but not scurrilous articles from the newspapers.

Mr. Hoard read from the Richmond South an article which said that the President had declared that he would put the Lecompton Constitution through in thirty days, or burst; as the four desirable votes could be procured by means of executive appointments; but it would require nice engineering.

Mr. Millson of Virginia read from Jefferson's Manual to show that Mr. Hoard himself had committed a breach of privilege.

Mr. Warren of Arkansas said that the Speaker must see that this was not a question of privilege. He thought this attempt to attack gentlemen who stand fair before the nation, radically wrong.

The Speaker thought this matter did present a question of privilege.

Mr. Hoard read from the correspondence of the New York Tribune, of Thursday, the following: "I learn that until Monday morning, it was expected that Burns of Ohio would vote against the Lecomptonites. On the morning of that day, however, he came to another perception of his duty, on the understanding with the President that his son-in-law should retain the valuable place of Postmaster at Keokuk, Iowa, and that he himself should be gratified with the office of Marshal of the Northern District of Ohio, when his present term in the House is completed." Mr. Hoard read from the Constitution, showing that the President's power with Congress only extends to matters of legislation and from Washington's Farewell Address, against trespassing on the rights of the National Legislature; adding that these newspaper statements formed a basis of action for the House.

Mr. Warren said that if Mr. Hoard insinuated that men of the Democratic side were influenced by cowardice, or hope, or fear, he was very much mistaken. Neither the Executive nor others could influence them. He was on the track of a distinguished reporter, and if he could find him he would expel him. If gentleman wanted to attack Democrats, they would be met, but they do not want a stab under the ribs.

Mr. Burns of Ohio pronounced the statement in Tribune an unqualified falsehood.

Mr. Stephens of Georgia remarked that the movement of Mr. Hoard is founded on a vague rumor. It was time, and past it, to end such proceedings.

Mr. Washburne of Maine, accused Mr. Stephens of an attempt to strangle investigation.

Mr. Giddings of Ohio was sorry to see unnecessary excitement. It became statesmen, representing a free people, to purge themselves of such charges of corruption. He referred to the fact that the Democrats once expelled a reporter of the Tribune, for stating that their colleague, Mr. Sawyer, ate sausages.

The House, by a vote of 108 against 88, decided that Mr. Hoard's resolution was not a question of privilege. Adjourned till Monday.

SLANDER.—"Donald," said a Scotch dame, looking up from the catechism to her son, "what's a slander?" "A slander, gude mither?" quoth young Donald, twisting the corner of his plaid, "aweel, I hardly ken, unless it be, mayhap, an ower true tale which one gude woman tells of anither."

NAVAL.—The U. S. steam frigate Wabash, bearing the broad pennant of Capt. Paulding, was at Key West on the 6th inst., to sail on the 10th for New York.

Correspondence of the Chronicle.

FRANKLIN, ME., Feb. 10, 1858.

Last night we were here favored with a snow storm—about six inches fell—the first for the winter, sufficient for sledding—a boon indeed, to our woodmen and teamsters, who for want of it have suffered severely. The winter, thus far with us, has been mild; and probably, about the same temperature-slightly cooler—as with you. But a few days since, near by me, a neighbor's bees left their hives, and flew about as in midsummer. This evening about 5 o'clock, I noticed the thermometer standing at 30° above zero. Last year, as per memorandum I made then, Jan. 24, at the same place, at "7 o'clock 'that' morning, thermometer 34° below zero," and at another place, near by, "37° below." Times, indeed, such as we read of; and well calculated to make that venerable patriarch, "the oldest inhabitant," scratch his head for a thought of when he knew the like of now.

Feb. 11, 9 o'clock, mercury at zero—pure winter arrived in town last night, with a fine "Nor' Wester."

☞ A reliable correspondent says:—About two years since, an Ohio merchant telegraphed to a house in Boston, enquiring the reputation of a man from B., who was in that vicinity, making large contracts for wool. The reply sent back was, "his word is not worth one cent, his note is good for half a million dollars." Developments since have dispelled the charm, and his note is about on par with his word. We call no names, but must remark that it is a strangely surprising fact that very unprincipled men are frequently put on the lead of many large and responsible institutions and corporations, particularly where the funds of the widow and orphan are commonly invested. But we hope a better day is coming, and that men of character and principles will hereafter be sought for to occupy all important offices. The enquiry should always be, when a person is wanted to fill a responsible station, is he honest, is he capable?—instead of allowing fancy men who have influential friends to press them in, to occupy the most responsible positions, to the exclusion of the more honest and modest capable citizen. ‡

PARTIALLY INTOXICATED.—The Boston Journal mentions that between six and seven o'clock last Tuesday, as one of the outward bound cars on the West Roxbury Horse Railroad was waiting at the turnout this side of Hogg's Bridge, for the passage of the inward car, the driver, Anthony G. Hadley, stepped off the car, and was standing upon the sidewalk, when Thomas Geelin, who resides near the gravel bank in Heath street, came along partially intoxicated. Running against the driver, he accosted him with—"What are you doing here? If you belong to that car you'd better make for it soon." Mr. Hadley replied to Geelin, whereupon, without provocation, the latter struck him three or four times, and then fled, leaving his cap on the sidewalk. The driver returned to his car, but soon after starting he discovered blood streaming down his head and face. The rascal had stabbed him. Geelin has been arrested, and the wounded man is suffering, as the point of the assassin's knife is in his arm.

MR. PEABODY'S BANKING HOUSE.—Mr. Geo. Peabody, of London, has forwarded to the New York Times, a note in reply to a statement concerning the liabilities of his house, the substance of which is contained in the subjoined paragraph:

"About the 20th November, when the money panic in the United States and Europe was raging and appalling, my house considered it wise and prudent to adopt a course which would effectually protect its own credit and save many correspondents, who were unable to meet engagements by remittance, from inconvenience and loss.—The acceptance of my house at that time were £2,300,000, (not £6,000,000,) and our application to the bank was for a loan, on good securities, for £500,000, should so much be required. The application was acceded to, and within a few weeks after we took £300,000, depositing securities of our own for the same. Up to this time we have taken no more than the £300,000, although the securities deposited amount to a much larger sum, and since that time my house has paid more than £1,500,000 of the £2,300,000 acceptance out, as stated at the time of its application to the bank. We will further remark that the strength of our principal correspondents is such that our losses on the acceptances above stated, given on their account, will, comparatively, be but trifling."

☞ Mr. Keitt seems to be entirely alone in his "unconsciousness" of that blow he received. The Washington correspondent of the Boston Post chronicles the affair, and after trying to make Keitt appear as well as possible, concludes thus:

Grow then drew back and with his doubled fist dealt Col. Keitt a tremendous blow.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 12.—(Herald correspondence.)—The Investigating Committees will prove to be rather expensive affairs.—They have already incurred an expense of $40,000, for which an appropriation is now asked, and they are not half through. They will cost the government $150,000, and effect nothing at last.

(Times correspondence.)—I understand that the Lecompontites are sanguine that at their caucus to-morrow night they can present a compromise that will satisfy the Douglas men and lead them to cease their resistance. The principal point of the proposition is that Congress shall declare the right of the people of Kansas to change their constitution immediately if they wish.

What power can Congress have to do this? And who will trust such a set of scoundrels as have made and broken seoundrels as have made and broken a dozen promises.

☞ The New York Evening Post says of Capt. Wm. V. Taylor of the U. S. Navy, whose death is announced by telegraph:—

"Capt. Taylor had passed three score years and ten, and has through his long life sustained a high character as a brave, able and indefatigable officer, and an esteemed citizen. He was conspicuous in the battle of Lake Erie, in which he navigated the Lawrence, Perry's flag-ship, into and during the action. He saw during his career a great amount of service, never shrinking from any order for duty. His last cruise was in command of the Ohio seventy-four, on a cruise to the Pacific.—Since that time the infirmities of age have gradually overcome him. He was honorably retired by the Naval Board on full pay."

Captain Taylor entered the service in 1813.

THE TWO RECOGNITIONS.—The Washington correspondent of the Albany Journal says:

"I asked an old friend among the Softs, 'What do you gain for the party in New-York by going for this Lecompton policy?' 'Ah,' said he, 'it was necessary to our being recognized by the Administration.'—I assured him that however warm might be the recognition now by the Administration, it would be the very coolness of indifference when compared with the recognition which the people of New York would extend to his party in November next."

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 12.—A sham duel took place this afternoon on the west side of the Schuylkill, between two young men named De Charmont and Sheridan. The balls were drawn by the seconds from the pistols before they were handed to the combatants, a fact of which Sheridan was aware. As the pistols were fired, Sheridan fell, and De Charmont, fearing the consequences, fled to parts unknown. In a letter he left at home, he stated that if he killed his antagonist, he would leave for Europe immediately.

NEW YORK, Feb. 12.—The Anti-Lecompton meeting advertised for the Acadamy of Music to-night was not held, the lessees of the building persisting in their refusal of its use. A large crowd collected in front of the building, and considerable indignation was manifested, some parties even threatening to break in the doors; the majority, however, were peaceably inclined.

Mr. Stanton was called for and made a few remarks, stating that his voice would not allow him to address them in the open air, but if a hall could be procured, he would be happy to give his sentiments. A large number of persons, with a band of music, followed Mr. Stanton to the New York Hotel, where he was again called out and made a few rewarks.

☞ The Norwich Aurora says that the reported case of hydrophobia in that town had nothing to do with hydrophobia, but was a case of lock-jtw.

☞ The foreign journals report the names of many persons who died in 1857, upwards of a hundred years old. The oldest of the number was Michael Kilawelkin, who died in Russia at the age of 127 years. Seventy per cent. of the number reported were females. The eldest was Elizabeth Goldizes, who had reached to 118 years.

GOOD AND BAD LUCK.—Bad luck is a man with his hands in his breeches pockets, and a pipe in his mouth, looking on to see how it will come out. Good luck is a man of pluck to meet difficulties, his sleeves rolled up, and working to make it come out right. He rarely fails.

☞ There is said to be an unusual abundance of silver change in New York at the present time. In quantities, quarters cannot be disposed of for gold or city bank notes at less than half or one per cent discount.

☞ There is a lady in Danville, Va., nearly sixty years of age, who is now cutting the fifth tooth she has cut within fifteen years. In the same town is a man whose delight is to eat big spiders, green flies, &c.

MRS. DOUGLAS.—Washington, Feb. 12. The wife of Judge Douglas, who was reported to be in a dangerous condition, is now considered out of danger.

LATTER-DAY POLITICIANS.—"We wheel about, we turn about, we do just so."

"Add every time we turn about, the further South we go."

ANOTHER YEAR.

BY ROBERT STORY.

Another year, another year—
O! who shall see another year?
Shall thou, old man of hoary head,
Of eye-sight dim and feeble tread?
Expect it not. Time, pain, and grief,
Have made thee like an autumn leaf,
Ready, from blast or slight decay,
From its slight hold to drop away—
And some sad morn may gild thy bier,
Long, long before another year.

Another year, another year,
O! who shall see another year?
Shall you ye young, or you ye fair?
Ah! the presumptuous thought forbear!
Within this churchyard's peaceful bounds—
Come pause and ponder o'er the mounds;
Here beauty sleeps—that verdant length
Of grave contains what once was strength—
The child—the boy—the man are here;
Ye may not see another year.

Another year, another year,
O! who shall see another year?
Shall I, whose burning thirst for fame
No earthly power can quench or tame?
Alas! that burning thirst may soon
Be co'er, and all beneath the moon—
All my fine visions, fancy wrought,
And all this vortex whirl of thought,
Forever cease and disappear,
Ere dawns on earth another year.

Indemnity for the past—pay up. Security for the future—pay down.

☞ We are indebted to Hon. John P. Hale for a number of valuable Public Documents; among them the Fourth Meteorological Report, by Prof. J. P. Espy, and the Report of the Military Commission sent to the seat of the war in Europe;—the latter furnishing much information in regard to the troops—cavalry, engineers and infantry—engaged in that contest.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOOD'S PATENT," is recommended for the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at my store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light he produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them. E. A. STEVENS.

Messrs. Editors:—On Friday evening, we were regaled with some very fine music by the Granite State Bards. They do credit to themselves and to the name they bear. When they sing in your city, they will have a large delegation from Rye. Success to them. RYE.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors.—We were struck by a certain peculiarity in the article signed "Atalanta," in your Friday's issue, that would lead us to suspect that the wolf is concealed under sheep's clothing,—or in other words that the writer is a second Clodius. If our suspicions are correct, we should advise said person never again to be ashamed of his sex; but if we are mistaken in our impression, we would suggest to Atalanta, in pursuance of a strict parallel with the fabled girl whom she has chosen for her nom de plume, to make a full confession of her St. Valentine's passion to the gentleman of Errol. Truly the Saint could not stand sponsor to a more happy match. HIPPOMENES.

Messrs. Editors:—Mrs. Townsend has left our city. She has gone to preach the doctrines of Spiritualism elsewhere, to people who are ignorant enough to listen to the ridiculous, unjust and unreasonable arguments on which the doctrine is founded. We have been awaiting with eager expectation the results of Spiritualism. Since this doctrine has been preached throughout the length and breadth of our country, we have been looking for something new, something which would improve the temporal and spiritual state of the human race; but neither the one nor the other has as yet taken place, nor do we think ever will. What, then, is spiritualism, and what are its effects? We believe that it is nothing but imagination: we certainly think that those engaged in the performances are in earnest, and have no intention whatever to deceive their hearers or spectators; but we are fully convinced that it is all the work of fancy. We travelled recently with a gentleman who called himself a medium, on the road to F———. After a little conversation, he stopped and spoke, as he called it, under the influence of the spirit; after which he sat down by the road-side and declared that he had glass legs and could not walk without breaking them. It was a long time before we could succeed in convincing him of his error.

The result of all this is, that these people will soon or late find their homes in an asylum. We have heard of many instances in which it caused a nightmare which was soon followed by death. Many indeed rise by night and speak for hours successively, thinking that they are heard by a great audience. Now we have not in any case whatever observed that spiritualism or ghostism so called, turned out for the benefit of its believers. We refer to our holy Bible, which settles the difficult question,—"and the spirit shall return to God who gave it." ABACADABRA.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.
Front Street, Corn-Market Square,
TORONTO, C. W., Feb. 9, 1858.

There is no change of importance to note in our markets since last week, beyond an improved state of our winter roads. The relief anticipated from this change has but partially been experienced, and although the farmers in the interior are pouring in their supplies very freely, consisting of Spring and mixed Winter Wheat, yet most of those in our own immediate vicinity send every thing else to market rather than accept current rates for their prime white Wheat;—and consequently higher prices have ruled for this latter grade, as also for prime spring, with a very active demand for local and eastern Millers. Thd roads being now good, it is confidently expected that a few weeks more will see them change their mind, and our market will be supplied as abundantly as in former winters. In monetary matters, we have no improvement, notwithstanding the reduction of rate of interest in London to 5 per cent., and the plethora of money that apears now to be the only cause of disquietude of our neighbors in the adjoining States.

FLOUR.—There have been considerable sales for spring delivery and prices are firmer, particularly for extras for which grade also there is a good demand for the Eastern State.

Coarse grains come in in great abundance, and sell slowly at quotations.

Dressed Hogs in better demand.

In seeds there are seveal enquirses for the Eastern markets, but as yet there is no stock here. Prices will rule very low, however.

Fine Flour, $2 40 to 2.50 per bl.; No. 2 Superfine 2 12 to 2.25; No. 1 do., 2 50 to 2 60; Fancy, 3 70 to 3.80; Extra, 4.00 to 4.10; Double Ex. 4 50 to 4 65.

In quantities not less than 100 bbls. of any one grade.

Wheat.—Prime white winter 88 to 92c; fair average do. 68 to 85c; Spring 68 to 73c; per 60 lbs.

Oats 25c per 34lbs. Barley 45 a50c per 48 lbs.

Rye 53c per 56lbs. Peas 50 a —c per 60 lbs.

Hogs $ 75 a 5 25 per 100lbs.

Bank Drafts on New York par to ¼ per cent. premium; Boston par; American bills at ¼ per cent. advance of New York quotations.

Freights from Toronto by rail, for full car loads only, to Montreal 60c a bl., 18c. a bush.; to Boston 12½c a bl., 36c a bush.; to Portland 110c. a bl., 33c. bush; to Ogdensburgh 50c. a bl., 15 c. a bush. to New York 115c a bl. 40 c. a bush. Rates to Island Pond, Northumberland, Danville Junction, are same as to Portland; and to Bangor and Waterville 135 cents per bl.

To Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Nashua, Keene, N. H., Lowell, Fitchburgh, Salem, Worcester, Groton Jn., Springfield, Mass, 130 c. a bl. 46 c. a bush

CHARGES ON WHEAT are 5c. per bushel, which covers commission for selecting, purchasig, storing, bagging, and putting on cars; or may remain stored till Spring without extra charge, except for Insurance, which will be about 1 per cent. more.

CHARGES ON FLOUR.—Purchasing and putting on Cars 1 per cent.; storage till Spring, 5c. per bl., which puts on board in Spring. Insurance, extra, 1 per cent. The above are the charges with lands in hand. Warehouse receipts given when required.

Morning Chronicle.

THE PRESIDENT ENDORSED.—President Buchanan and Lecompton have been endorsed (after a fashion) in Boston. The Advertiser of Thursday says:

Mr. Buchanan has received a crumb of comfort from the democrats of Boston.—The democratic ward and city committee of Boston last evening, by a vote of 26 to 17, adopted a series of resolutions, endorsing the conduct of the President, and expressing the opinion that his recommendation that Kansas be admitted "is prompted by a sincere desire to discharge his duty to the country, and is deserving the serious attention of Congress."

The Courier, Mr. Buchanan's "next friend" in Boston, says of the same transaction:

We cannot help thinking the doctrine of popular sovereignty is being carried quite far enough. In a caucus to nominate an Alderman, resolutions on the Lecompton Constitution strike us as rather inappropriate, and we agree with the old-fashioned Democrat, Silas Pierce, that they might have been judiciously omitted at the meeting last evening. Why not let Congress attend to its own business, without bolstering it up?

The Courier evidently dislikes the leanness of the majority, and also dislikes the fact of a split in a party so conveniently small as the one in question.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one disease, and consequently these Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very decided and effectual. Such is my faith in them, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably suited to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice much more effected a cure of Jaundice and other complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Bond, of Lynn, Mass.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the digestive organs, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the power of other medicines. In the Liver Complaint I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. A. G. G. Green, of Chicago.

"YOUR PILLS have had a large share in my practice, as I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in the early stage, in bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Smart, who prescribes as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the commencement of the illness of the patient secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Bluewell, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should be more liberal in recommending it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of other ills, from which it is difficult to escape, and originate in the liver, but your PILLS affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Bechtel Bird, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your opinion respecting their virtues. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system."

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—COSTIVENESS—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—ETC.

From Dr. Edward Bagg, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer your select compliments I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that we ever heard with a purgative medicine. I place great confidence on an effectual cathartic in my daily contact with disease, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I cheerfully comply with your request."

☞ None of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine without imitation. Its reputation is of long standing, and the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; for COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, INFLUENZA, BRONCHITIS, and CONSUMPTION, for the relief of consumptive patients it advances stages of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the hunter to the palace of European kings. Throughout this entire country, as every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then it is undeniably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by the ties of kindness, benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures so numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every one who purchases it speaks in the highest of our new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our city and adjoining towns is that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, by express.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and now we feel it our duty, as we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your preparation, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon began to sprout out, and we may that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HUMPHREYS,
SARAH A. HUMPHREYS.

GARDNER, Mo., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

THE DOUGLAS DIFFICULTY.

Mr. Punch.—I don't seem quite to understand this difficulty between your President and Mr. Douglas. Can you tell me, in a few words, what is its character, Mr. Slick?

Mr. Slick.—Guess I can. Buck's in a fix.

Mr. P.—By Buck, if I apprehend you aright, sir, you would indicate the head of your republic?

Mr. S.—That's the critter. Promised Lecompton Con. should be overhauled.

Mr. P.—Promised the gentleman what?

Mr. S.—Who on earth said gentleman? By Kansas.

Mr. P.—Promised Mr.—a—Lecompton Con. that he should go to Kansas.

Mr. S.—Guess you've a brick in your hat, stranger.

Mr. P.—My facetious friends, sir, have been pleased to say there is a brick under it.

Mr. S.—'Taint that. But hold hard, and grin. You see Douglas has peeped through the hole in his blanket, and seed a bit of light.

Mr. P.—The blanket—Oh! Ah! a bit of light, eh!

Mr. S.—'Spex you don't see none. We'll begin at first causes, and come on promiscuous. Air the great and glorious republic, the only nation in the world where the golden eagle of liberty can wave her alabaster wings, and scream her—

Mr. P.—I know all that.

Mr. S.—Guess you're hard to please, stranger. Wall, air we to have more slave States than we have got? That's the question.

Mr. P.—I trust not; and that the abominable—

Mr. S.—Calculate you had better shut up. Slaves or none, we'll always be ready to whip you. Besides, look at your Irish, and your Jews, and the others that you keep in abject and grinding slavery. Cock-a-doodle-doo!

Mr. P.—I am silent.

Mr. S.—Wall, then. Buck's with the South, and meant to have it all his own way in Kansas, and make a slave State of it, but the Kansas boys kicks, and Gov. Walker (not the fillibuster, mind, you old oposeum)—

Mr. P.—Really, Mr. Slick—

Mr. S.—Shut up, I tell you. Gov. Walker, who was sent by Buck to Kansas to do the work, finds it aint to be done, says Buck promised him that the Lecompton Constitution should be submitted to the people, and so throws up. Buck's a wide-awake b'hoy, but Douglas he's a wide-awaker, and he sees that to force laws on free and enlightened citizens like our'n won't pay, specially when a critter has an eye on the election in 1860. So he just throws Buck over, and there's a difficulty.

Mr. P.—Mr. Douglas being, if I am right, the most influential man in the States, his opposition to the President would be formidable.

Mr. S.—That's it, reeled out uncommon fine.

Mr. P.—Sir, I thank you for your explanation, and I hope that no serious trouble will arise in the United States, for which I always entertain the warmest regard.

Mr. S.—Don't worry yourself into no sort of perspiration about that, stranger. In a corrupt and debilitated old rotten country like your'n, a political difficulty might bring ruin and dismay, but where a western sun gilds the proud pinnacles of American liberty, such things air but the wandering breezes that cool the wings of our glorious eagle and help him fly still higher towards transcendental firmament. Will you liquor?—London Punch.

From the N. Y. Home Journal.

THE SPIRITUALISTS' HEAVEN.

We really missed, quite unintentionally, the other day, an opportunity to take a look into a very interesting place. Walking in Broadway, we were touched on the shoulder by a stranger, who informed us that his wife was to give a "spiritual reception" at a certain place and hour, and he would be "very happy," ect. We chanced to have other engagements, but we see, since, (in the Times) a report of the lady's "entertainment," and we are very sorry that we were not there. We should have likeed exceedingly to have asked a question or two; but the fair spiritualist certainly gave as probable and desirable a picture of Heaven as inspiration would require. She (Mrs. Cora Hatch) thus sketched the

ANGELS' AMUSEMENTS AND EMPLOYMENTS

"She defined the constitution of society in heaven, or spirit-land, and gave her hearers warning that their condition out of the body depended altogether upon their behavior while in it.

"The spirit-land, or heaven, she pictured as a series of worlds, wherein the sympathies of minds find their precise level; where the mind that gravitates towards gross materialism on earth finds itself associated spiritually with minds of the same bent; where the artist finds a region of beauty, such as he pictures to himself here; where Mozart, Beethoven, Handel and Haydn, and all creators of harmony, find their own class of associates, all musical and harmonious; and where the classes of intellect find their congenial spirits, with whom they associate eternally.—Moreover, the spirits walk the earth. The drunkard, whose idea of pleasure is the orgies of the Five Points, is quite as degraded hereafter as here. His spirit, according to Mrs. Hatch, is as a worm crawling about upon the city's paving-stones—the lowest stage of spiritual life, as he was the worst type of physical degradation. Heaven has beauties that are visible only to the more refined intelligences. It has scenery, rivers full of precious stones, golden skies, things to warm the soul of the poet, and to give the artist a perpetual feast. So all good men, who follow truth, justice, and love, find boundless sources of enjoyment. Yet the means of reaching these highest and happiest localities, where the poet, artist, and all good men go, lie within the reach of every individual. We who are in the body have the power to fix our degree of approach to this supernal bliss, by living holily and truthfully, so long as the corporeal body holds together.

"Mrs. Hatch wound up with a solemn exhortation to live with a view to future elevation. She then paused, and, after a moment or two, requested to know if her exposition had been satisfactory? There were some disbelievers in the seats who were not satisfied. One old gentleman desired to know if amusements existed in the spirit-land? Mrs. Hatch replied that she had tried to answer this question—she could say no more than she had already uttered. The amusements of the next world consist of the pleasures each mind finds to its taste here. Somebody had suggested to her that Young America might pine for fast horses. The amusements of such would be few. 'Fast' young men would find in the spirit-world that their 'fast' practices in the flesh would come up before them altogether too fast to be thoroughly enjoyable. They would be ready to find their amusement in everything else but 'fast' life. In short, this class of persons were incontinently consigned to a place, the view of which was a reminder of the conventional Hades. Pure intelligences, however, would find abundant amusements."

As probable, suggestive and rational, this is at least a valuable contribution (by Mrs. Hatch) to the material for fireside discussion.

A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE

INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUDDEN INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.

Morning Chronicle.

TUESDAY, FEBRUARY 16, 1858.

LETTER FROM WORCESTER.

WORCESTER, MASS., Feb. 13, 1858.

Dear Chronicle:—Presuming you would offer no serious objection to receiving an occasional communication from this ilk, and noticing that you have no correspondent hereaway, to keep you posted, I have resolved, with your permission, to assume the duties and relations pertaining thereto.

Although we have been as seriously affected by the hard times as our neighbors, we have, as a general thing, instead of becoming despondent and looking on the shadowy side, endeavored to take things as comfortably as possible; and the manner in which balls, soirees, concerts, &c., are patronized, would preclude the idea that we were suffering from any financial embarassment or monetary panic.

In fact, people nowadays appreciate fun remarkably. And why shouldn't they?—Humor is an essential ingredient in the organization of mankind, and as necessary to a healthful body as vitality. Who ever knew a funny man to die with the dyspepsia? or who ever heard of one afflicted with the hypo or blues? A good constitution depends more on the ability to get up horse laughs at short notice, than it does on filling the stomach three times per diem with a miscellaneous assortment of edibles, or on worrying and fretting about nothing. A spleeny, jaundiced, nervous, irritable person, creates more misery and discord in the community, than four mad bulls and a malicious newspaper. That's so! Life is short enough at the best, and what's the use of abbreviating it by care and trouble? A man whose digestive apparatus is right, can accomplish more than double as much as a sour, bitter, scolding fellow, whose internal arrangements are in a constant revolution. The only way to be free from tribulation, sorrow and the doctor, is to keep a light heart, a merry phiz, and an inexhaustible fund of humor; if they do not come natural, cultivate and strive to support and sustain them, and not go moping about as disconsolate as a dog with a sore head.

A reaction is slowly taking place in business matters, and we hope soon to be able to record our former prosperous condition. For a great number of the failures, suspensions, &c., we are indebted to a gentleman of the legal profession, familiarly known on 'Change as "red beard," from the peculiarly radiant shade of his long and flourishing crop of whiskers. He has stone-d us successfully, and after committing a series of rascalities which would entitle him to a residence in the stone mansion at Charlestown, he abruptly took his departure for parts unknown. He's a petrified villain.

The severity of the times has had the effect of bringing out any quantity of latent talent and shrewdness. As an instance of this, we have an individual here, who previous to the "crisis" pursued the respectable avocation of sausage making. Being obliged to succumb to the pressure in the money market, he turned his attention to a more lucrative occupation—that of getting out bogus advertisements. He has been very successful thus far, and his dupes are numbered by hundreds; exhibiting clearly, that although yankees are reckoned ahead in matters of tact and enterprise, they are remarkably credulous for a people of such superior intellectual endowments. For the edification of your readers, I will give a sample of the ex-sausage maker's ingenuity in concocting taking advertisements.

"A Splendid Chance!!!

Would you gain a fortune speedily?—Then send a dollar immediately to the subscriber, and he will give you a recipe for converting saw-dust into first-class manure, superior to Guano, Poudrette, or any thing of the kind.

Address, J. Dickson Kelly, A. M.,
Worcester, Mass."

Knowing the weakness of the 'softer sex' in regard to quack nostrums, for beautifying the complexion, he prepared the following for their notice:

"Something for the Ladies! A Brilliant Discovery!

The subscriber, while laboring as a Missionary in Circassia, discovered the means whereby the proverbial beauty of the ladies of that country is attained. It is a preparation of several ingredients, easily obtained at any druggist's, and he will send the recipe to any one, on application by letter, with $1.00 enclosed to

Carlos Lemaique, D. D.,
Worcester, Mass."

The new innovation from Royalty has not as yet appeared here. As the breeches-wearing portion of humanity have exhausted all of their superfluous bile over the hoop and crinoline abomination, we presume the highly-colored pattern of—under-dress, will excite little remark, and after the momentary apprehension of evil to come, the ladies will be left to do and dress, as ridiculously and fantastically as they please. We do not think, however, that the red petticoat is adapted for summer travel, especially in the rural districts, where bovine animals of the masculine gender are permitted to roam unrestrained.

It is singular what eccentric notions Irishmen have of things. Yesterday, a full-blooded exotic was brought before the Police Court, on a charge of drunkenness. The Court requested the Clerk to administer the oath. "Are you a Catholic?" inquired that worthy, as he held forth the Bible. "Av course I am," responded Pat. "Take hold of the book," blandly spoke the clerk. "Indade I won't," returned the obstinate Celt. "Take hold of the book," reiterated the official, slightly ruffled in temper. "I tell ye I wont!" and the witness gave a defiant glance around the Court Room.

The clerk looked appealingly to His Honor, whose countenance was irradiated with a broad grin at the former's perturbation. But he quickly relapsed into his usual judicial dignity, and after wiping his spectacles desired to know the reason why the witness would not be sworn on the Bible?

"An' isn't it an American I am? What the divil's the use of gitting nathralized, if I can't swear as the Yankees do?"

Such witnesses as that are just the kind for embryo lawyers to exercise upon.—Speaking of the "profession," we heard of a case of coolness which transpired in this city awhile since, which goes to show that the displayal of "cheek" made by some people is "monstrous." Mr. Smith (very convenient name that) is a gentleman of means; that is, he always means to pay his debts, but unfortunately never does so. Mr. Smith goes his length on the choicest brands of liquors, and he looks upon that portion of mankind who dote on three-cent "nips" of strychnine whiskey, as but one remove above the swine genus. Of late, Mr. Smith has been having his liquors of a wealthy dealer down town, and has stocked his cellar pretty thoroughly; but being "rather short" at the time of purchase, he decided to "call round again in a few days and make it all right."

But as the "few days" elapsed and he did not find it convenient to call round, his suspicious creditor went to get his bill cancelled. Meeting his debtor in the street, he accosted him and presented his bill, as if it was a pistol, at Smith's head. Smith looked savage, and with a "do you wish to insult me, sir?" brushed past the other, in a hurry.

"You miserable, sneaking, swindling whelp, don't you mean to pay me?" exclaimed the irate man, as he grasped Mr. Smith excitedly by the coat-collar.

"No, sir! most emphatically I do not! And I shall put you through a course of sprouts, for your insolence."

"Eh, what?" said the agitated liquor-dealer.

"I'll have you indicted for a common seller of intoxicating liquors, immediately! I'm not to be insulted by every vagabond rum-seller I chance to meet, without obtaining justice; that, sir, I'd have you know!"

The consequence was that Mr. Smith fulfilled his threat, and is now busily employed in getting up such a mass of testimony as will give his creditor an opportunity of studying human nature through iron grates for several years to come.

We germinate the genus rowdies here with as much facility as you do in Portsmouth. Last week a representative of this class received a raw-hide flagellation from a young woman whom he had grossly insulted. I think if some of the mushroom loafers and impudent rascals in your city, who congregate round Market Square and make their impertinent criticisms on passers by, were treated in a like manner, they would speedily be brought to a realizing sense.

We are having a delightful winter; the oldest resident taxing his memory to find a precedent, to the balmy weather, of the opening months of the season. Until within a few weeks, we have had no severely cold weather, and at no period has the thermometer fallen below zero. What little skating we have had, has been improved by our citizens; old and young indulging in the healthful exercise with spirit.

Excursions to Quinsigamond Lake, a sheet of water, some minutes ride by railroad from the city, have been inaugurated, and the few which have transpired, attracted thousands of old and young skaters to the sport. Premiums for the best skating are offered and earnestly contested for.

A revival of religion in this city has resulted in gaining many converts—people having ample opportunity to attend to their spiritual welfare, at the present time.

Another 'ism' has sprung up in our city, to add to the already numerous phases of fanaticism. Its infatuated devotees observe Saturday for the Sabbath, and have many other strange and unaccountable notions.

The Bay State, a daily newspaper, published here, died a natural death last week; the direct result of advocating democratic principles in such a hot-bed of abolitionism, as Worcester. The two dailies now existing, are both of the Republican stamp, but as 'two of a trade never agree,' they are continually in hot water.

But I fear I am transgressing, so till nay next I remain. Yours, D. E. F.

☞ The seventh semi-annual examination of the Massachusetts State Normal School at Salem, took place there on the 8th and 9th instants. The school is now in charge of Prof. Alpheus Crosby, and the exercises of the two days gave satisfactory evidence of the ability and faithfulness of the teachers. Each member of the graduating class read an original essay upon some topic connected with the theory or practice of teaching. The exercises in reading, in the analysis of words into their elementary sounds, in mental arithmetic and geometry, received special commendation. The attendance of visitors was very large. The school numbers 103 pupils, and is in every respect in a prosperous condition.

☞ The Biddeford Gazette says the barn belonging to the City Farm was consumed by fire on Tuesday morning, 9th inst., with its contents, consisting of 7 cows, 3 oxen, 3 calves, 3 hogs, 2 yearlings, upwards of 30 tons of hay, 20 bushels of corn, 79 of oats, 12 of wheat, 8 of beans, and all the farming tools. One of the four oxen was taken out, but so much injured as to make it necessary to kill him. There was but one horse, which was saved with great difficulty. Three hogs were also saved.—The dwelling house, ty being constanly kept wet, was saved uninjured. The fire was set by a boy named Hutchins, who, with his mother, was put in the Almshouse the day previous, and who were incensed because they could not receive aid without going to the Poor House. He has been committed to jail, and his mother was also committed for want of bail to appear as a witness.

☞ Godey for March, 1858, has for a frontispiece, "The Mother's Blessing," a most superb engraving and beautiful picture.—By publishing such fine specimens, Godey has endeavored to teach the public mind to value good engravings, and should have the credit for it.—There is a very fine wood cut, "The Peacemaker:" and the literary execution is admirable.—The publisher, L. A. Godey, Philadelphia, has added 10,000 to his edition, this month.

☞ The New York Herald, speaking of the position of Douglas, Walker, and Stanton, says: "We look at it as a practical necessity, these men not being strong enough to form a party of their own, must naturally be attracted to the republican standard; and before 1860, these detached fragments, having lost their individuality, will become part and parcel of the growing Republican army."

A SISTER OF CHARITY.—The Richmond correspondent of the Petersburg Express reports that Hon. Edward Everett has a sister now performing the sacred duties of a Sister of Charity, and that she is about to take the position of Lady Superior in St. Joseph's Seminary, in Richmond.

A GENEROUS AND CHARITABLE MAN.—Mr. J. W. Farwell of No. 47 Ludlow street, New York city, has opened a free dining saloon for the poor, where from five to eight hundred poor creatures get a meal free of expense every day. Mr. Farwell commenced the experiment on a small scale in November, and has continued it to its present wide extent of charity. He has already spent $4000.

Miss Hales, the owner of the Hales estate, Canterbury, England, took the veil at Paris, as a noviciate of the order of Carmelite Nuns, on the 6th of January. Her mother was deeply affected while witnessing the ceremony, which took from her the only child of her widowhood. Miss Hales intends giving the whole of her estates—roughly valued at £150,000—to the Church of Rome, only excepting a small annuity in favor of her mother.

☞ The New York Journal of Commerce says very little is doing yet, either in real estate or rents. Real estate agents complain of the season as dull and backward. There appears to be less inquiry than usual for houses to be occupied on the 1st of May; which indicates that fewer changes are in contemplation.

TO CONSUMERS OF GAS.

The Carcel Gas Burner.

"WOODS PATENT," is recommended for one of the following reasons:—

Its Economy, which can be proved by any one who will take the trouble to try it with their own Meter, or at any store with a Proof Meter.

Its brilliant, though soft, diffusive light, equalling the Carcel Lamp, acknowledged by Fresnel, "to be the finest artificial light yet produced."

Its self regulating power, requiring no alteration of the stop cock after lighting.

Its durability, and, where the Gas is impure, the ease with which it is cleaned.

Its adaptation for use with rich cut, or engraved shades, or the simple paper shade.

The absence of singing, so annoying to many persons.

It is a Gas Burner by which consumers can tell the quantity of Gas they are using, on looking at the spreaders.

And for every purpose where a continued Gas Light is used, as in Parlors, Stores, &c.

For a reading light in the family circle, it is Matchless.

The subscriber has been appointed Agent for the sale of the Carcel Gas Burners in this city, and would invite all persons who wish to economize greatly in the use of Gas, to make a trial of them.

E. M. STEVENS.

597 Headers, rough faced, with chisel draught, averaging from 6 to 53 cubic feet each, with dressed beds and joints.

410 Blocks, averaging from 10 to 60 feet each, smooth faced on two sides, bedded and jointed throughout.

229 Blocks, averaging from 13 to 25 feet each,—smooth faced on three sides; with dressed beds and joints throughout.

63 Blocks, averaging 14 cubic feet each, smooth faced on two ends and dressed beds and joints throughout.

144 Blocks, averaging from 10 to 50 cubic feet each, a portion of them to be dressed throughout.

The Stone in all respects to be of the best quality of Granite, and the cutting and dressing to be true to the dimensions, to be hereafter given, whether in the straight or curved surfaces.—It is to be understood by the party proposing that all extra cutting which will arise from neglect, will be charged to the Contractor.

Samples of the stone offered will have, in all cases, to accompany the Proposals; and also the extent and locality of the Quarry, from whence it is to be furnished, will be named.

The deliveries to be completed during the year 1858, unless otherwise directed, commencing on or about the 10th day of April next, and in such quantities and particular dimensions as will, from time to time be designated.

Moulds will be furnished for all intricate stones at the expense of the United States, at Castle Calhoun, when applied for by the party with whom the contract may be made.

The Proposals will specify the price of the Stone, by the cubic foot, when dressed, delivered, inspected and accepted.

Each individual offering Proposals will accompany them with the signatures of two competent persons who are willing to become his sureties.

Further details and specifications can be obtained, for the various quantities and sizes of the stones to be furnished, at the United States Engineer Office at Fort Monroe, Hampton Roads, Virginia, by applying in person to

SPECIAL NOTICES.

A PRINTER IN LUCK—GEORGIA A LUCKY PLACE.

Lately there was a young English printer, named Henry Floyd, engaged on the Savannah Georgian, and a few days ago he sailed from Savannah for England, having received the welcome news that he was heir to an estate of 60,000 pounds, about $300,000, a sum much to be desired in "hard times." This is not a luckier turn in the wheel of fortune than that which happened to an American typo sometime since. He has tried his luck at almost every thing, and was about to despair, when the happy thought struck him he might draw a prize. Accordinly he purchased a ticket in S. Swan & Co's legalized lottery, which draws every Saturday at Augusta, Ga., and drew the capital prize of $40,000. The next drawing offers brilliant prospects, as the capital prize is $70,000. Tickets $10, $5 or $2,50, which entitles the holder to the whole or a proportionate share in any prize that he draws.

IT IS SO.

We know it to be a fact, and therefore do not hesitate to say, that in all Scrofulous and Bilious diseases, Indigestion and its attendants, Sick-Headache, Sour and Sick Stomach, Canker and Salt Rheum or Tetter, all skin and other diseases arising from impure blood, Myers' Extract Rock Rose has no equal. If you doubt the fact, read the array of proof in our Circulars, for the truth of which we challenge investigation.

AUCTION.

We have received this day a large lot of Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. He is welcomed by the critics and respected by the learned and polite—while, best of all, "the common people hear him gladly." PERSONAL.—The following history of Mr. Grow, the man who floored Mr. Keitt, is going the rounds:

Galusha A. Grow is a native of Wyndham county, Conn., and is now thirty-five years of age, of medium size. At the age of three years he was left fatherless; at seventeen he entered Amherst College, Mass. In 1850 he was first elected to Congress, from Wilmot's district in Pennsylvania, by twelve hundred and fifty majority, and took his seat in 1851, the youngest man in the House. He is now serving his fourth term. His district, democratic previous to 1854, gave him seven thousand five hundred majority at his second election; at the third he was elected unanimously, and at the fourth his majority was 8000!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 14.—(Times correspondence.)—It is rumored that an effort will be made in the Senate to establish the previous question, and so force an early vote on the Kansas question, and cut short the exposition of frauds. Calhoun openly repudiates the idea now that he will return the Free State Legislature. He will play the Delaware Crossing game through to the end.

The anti-Lecompton men are not at all discouraged by the attempts of the Administration to patch a compromise based upon the proposition that Kansas shall be admitted with a proviso declaring the right of the people to change the Constitution immediately, if they choose. It is believed that all the South Americans and several Southern Democrats would vote against the Administration, coupled with such a condition. I am assured by gentlemen who ought to know, that there is no disposition on the part of the anti-Lecompton Democrats to accept this or any other plan of compromise.

FULL VOTE.—The vote on the Kansas reference on Monday, is said to have been the largest ever given on a test question in the House of Representatives. On the motion of Mr. Stephens of Ga., to refer to the Committee on Territories, which had precedence of Mr. Harris's motion, the vote stood yeas 113, nays 114. Had there been one more vote on the Lecompton side, Speaker Orr would have come to the rescue and turned the scale. The total vote (227) is very large—two more than were cast at the famous test vote on the Sub-Treasury bill in 1838, and fourteen more than were cast at the final tug on the Nebraska bill in 1854. This fact shows the deep interest felt in the issue.—Portland Advertiser.

TWO WEEKS LATER FROM CALIFORNIA.—New Orleans, Feb. 12.—The steamship Empire City, from New York Feb. 2, via Havana, 9th, is coming up the harbor.—She connected at Havana with the steamship Granada, from Aspinwall, and brings the California mails to the 20th ult. The steamer Star of the West left Aspinwall, on the third inst. for New York, with the mails, 250 passengers from California, and $1,325,000 in treasure. The Granada left Havana for Aspinwall, on her return voyage, on the 9th. Advices from Key West state that the U. S. steam frigate Wabash, was to leave for New York on the 10th.

IN HASTE.—The Woonsocket Patriot mentions the marriage of a widow whose husband had been dead but sixteen days. Also the marriage of a juvenile couple—the husband aged 15, and the wife 14.

PLEASANT BUT UNREASONABLE.—A day or two since the editor of the Woonsocket Patriot has been with a butterfly, a violet and a bluebird—and all this in the midst of winter.

3 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

HALIFAX, Feb. 14.—The Cunard steamship Niagara, which left Liverpool, about ten o'clock on the morning of Jan. 30, arrived at this port at 7½ o'clock this A. M., having experienced heavy weather the whole voyage.

GREAT BRITAIN.—Parliament would assemble Feb. 4.

The Leviathan had been pushed twenty-five feet off the ends of the launching ways and her cradles were being removed. She had over seventeen feet of water under her, and was expected to float on the 30th or 31st ult.

Heavy drafts of troops were under orders to embark for India.

FINANCIAL.—The Bank of England reduced its rate of discount on the 29th ult., to four per cent. Reduction had little or no effect on the money market or Stock Exchange.

LIVERPOOL COTTON MARKET, Jan. 30.—Prices were advanced 1-2d per lb by the American advices per Niagara.

MANCHESTER COTTON MARKET, January 29.—The market exhibits a more favorable aspect, with more buyers than sellers.

LIVERPOOL BREADSTUFFS MARKET, Jan. 30.—The Breadstuffs Market is generally dull, and all grades show a slight decline.

INDIA.—Gen. Roberts was appointed to command a full force in Rajaputana, which is assembling at Decca, and which is to march on to Nessarabad. No fresh disturbances had occurred in any part of Decca and Central India. The Punjaub was tranquil.

"Bombay, Jan. 9.—Sir J. Outram defeated the rebels near Allumbagh, Dec. 22, and took four guns. His own loss was trifling.

Sir Colin Campbell, on Dec. 12, advanced towards Furackabad, and intended to proceed thence to Agra.

Col. Seaton's column reoccupied Nympore, Dec. 27, after defeating the rebels, and taking six guns.

Brigadier General Chamberlain proceeds with a column on Rohilcund, and afterwards joins Sir Colin at Agra.

The Decca mutineers have entered the Assam country. Her Majesty's 54th Foot Regiment are in pursuit.

The conduct of the 31st Regiment Native Infantry has excited suspicion. Sir Hugh Rose proceeds immediately with a force to the relief of the garrison.

The population of Indore have been disarmed, and tranquility restored.

In the Punjaub and Scinde all is quiet; but strong suspicions are entertained of Kholapoor Rajah's movements. All now is quiet, however.

New depredations of Khandish Bheels have been reported, and the Hassic and Peinth rebels have been severely handled.

A grand entertainment has been given by the native gentlemen of Bombay to all the European troops in the garrison.

The Bishop of Calcutta died on the 3d.

CHINA.—The correspondent of the Times, writing from Canton River under date of Dec. 16, says that Yeh had returned an insolent answer to the ultimatum of the English and French plenipotentiaries, and that the two forces would in a few days attack Canton.

A few days before this answer was received, Mr. Reed, the American Minister, solicited an interview with Yeh in the city. Yeh replied that he would meet him outside the city, but that no barbarian should set foot within the limits of Canton.

The Paris Pays publishes accounts from Cochin China and Tonquin to Nov. 15.—Persecutions of Christians continue with unparalleled violence. The country was also in a state of the greatest confusion.

FRANCE.—The Correspondent of the Times reports that no further measures of repression are to be directed against the press. Addresses from the Army continue to appear in the Moniteur. Many call violently for leave to to pursue conspirators to their haunts.

RUSSIA.—It is said that Russia intends to restore all the marine stations on the Circassian Coast, but on a new system which will evade the Treaty of Paris.

A now Sebastopol is in contemplation.

☞ The Nebraska House of Delegates have expelled Mr. Robertson, of the Omaha Nebraskian, from the sittings of that body, for calling one of the members a "small potato."

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. George Ballou, aged 26 years, of Woonsocket, (says the Patriot,) died alone in a field while returning from Pawtucket, on the 29th ult. It is supposed that he died of disease of the heart.

☞ S. H. Paine, a saloon keeper at East Randolph, Ms., for liquor selling, has been sent to Dedham to be imprisoned 200 days.

No. 18 Market street, Portsmouth, N. H.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so easily, that its efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health consumes anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is adapted to the disease and no more. Tender children may take them with perfect safety. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint; see his bent-up, tottering form straightens with strength; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no power on earth can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every vigor from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his flesh and the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. New look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its unfathomable yearnings, its restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is anything to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them according to your own advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Give 25 cents per box, and 5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyment of life, by this powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Where a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION! He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more day all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. He is the man who fell when his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. It also accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping-cough, all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick may where they have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scurf; a scald head with eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and effectually cures the nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received your favors of 1st and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold and going,) when a friend, seeing the efficacy of Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and testimonials of the ladies, who have purchased, and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very truly.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we purchased an indorsement of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his suffering, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, it entirely cured the child, removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any child. We can, therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDNER, Me., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Sir: Some time since I sent two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all the Lotteries have a vested right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by an act of the State. As a lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the schemes published in every paper must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to unwitty the buyer. Prizes vary from $20 to $20,000; every prize being drawn, and result drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes by our lottery agents.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRENCH & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to any lottery in the state, authorized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, (after the Havana plan), and Tormenty combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS these time-honored principles are daily taking advantage of the profound and learned. BE IT KNOWN THEREFORE, to all, that the celebrated DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DISAPPOINTMENT has been experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the ladies will cause this Proclamation to be spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one name must be considered genuine, and void, that is to say the PILLS VERY NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING SITUATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh, wiry and tinkling sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get the one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1800 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great variety of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen. We feel confident that we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfactory performances.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Ballett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Stein & Allen, S. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special notice, as it enables persons to test a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

REMORSE AS AN EXECUTIONER.

Mr. DeQuincy, in one of the volumes of his literary reminiscences, thus speaks of a duel between Col. Montgomery and Capt. Macnamara:

"The Colonel, as is well known, a very elegant and generous young man, fell; and Captain Macnamara, had thenceforward a worm at his heart, whose gnawing never died. He was a post-captain; and my brother afterwards sailed with him in quality of midshipman. From him I have often heard affecting instances of the degree in which the pange of remorse had availed to make one of the bravest men in the service a mere panic-haunted, and, in a moral sense, almost a paralytic wreck. He, that whilst his hand was unstained with blood, would have faced an army of fiends in discharge of his duty, now fancied dangers in every common rocking of the boat; he made himself, at times, the subject of laughter at the messes of the junior and more thoughtless officers; and his hand, whenever he had occasion to handle the spy-glass, shook, (to use the common image) or rather shivered, like an aspen tree."

We find a still more striking instance in a treatise by Mr. Guillon:

"The Chevalier de S—— had been engaged in seventeen 'affairs of honor,' in each of which his adversary fell. But the images of his murdered rivals began to haunt him night and day; and at length he fancied he heard nothing but the wailings and upbraidings of seventeen families—one demanding a father, another a son, another a brother, another a husband, etc. Harrassed by these imaginary followers, he incarcerated himself in the monastery of La Trappe; but the French Revolution threw open this asylum and turned the Chevalier once more into the world. He was now no longer able to bear the remorse of his own conscience, or, as he imagined, the sight of seventeen murdered men, and therefore put himself to death. It is evident that the insanity was the consequence of the remorse, and the cause of the suicide."

Conscience, in fact, has the functions of an executioner, as well as of a judge. He who sins, finds afterwards in the remorse of his soul or the wretchedness of his body, the penalty of his transgression. Do we not find in this a strong proof that there is the power of law-executing vested in Him who made the conscience, as well as the power of law-making? "He that made the ear, shall he not hear? He that made the eye, shall he not see?" "He that made the conscience, shall he not judge and punish?"

UNFAIRNESS.—The course pursued by Mr. Speaker Orr, in the appointment of the Kansas Committee, (says the Boston Bee,) is very justly condemned by all fair-minded men. In accordance with parliamentary usage, he should have given the majority of the committee to the party that ordered the investigation; but he has violated the rule of courtesy and the practice which has always obtained heretofore, and given the majority and the control of the committee to the Lecomptonites. They strove to their utmost to prevent any investigation at all, and now have it in their power to stifle it, suppress testimony, refuse to send for the necessary witnesses and documents, or to report the facts which they do learn. This act of the Democratic Speaker is a gross imposition and discreditable to him, and makes us incline to the opinion that a man cannot be a Lecompton Democrat and remain either decent or honest. We can imagine no excuse whatever for Mr. Orr's conduct. The correspondent of the New York Evening Post adds to a notice of this business, the following:—

Now, can Mr. Orr excuse himself from the making up of this unfair committee by the plea that the friends of investigation, in his own party, as well as in the Republican party, never intimated to him who, among others, they would like to see named upon the committee? I answer that he cannot. He was waited upon, according to common custom, by the anti-Lecompton democrats, and informed that they would like to be represented upon the committee by Messrs. Harris, Haskins and English—all able men. Mr. Orr rejected two of them. He was waited upon by some of the leading Republicans of the House, and informed that they would like to be represented on the committee by Messrs. Grow of Pa., Tappan of N. H., Howard of Mich. Sherman of Ohio, all men peculiarly fitted for the place by the positions they have held heretofore, but Mr. Orr refused to appoint either of them.

Mr. Orr will recollect that this act of discourtesy towards the Republicans is not in keeping with the conduct of Speaker Banks in appointing the Special Committee to Kansas. When he (Mr. Banks) was waited upon by Mr. Orr and Gen. Aikem, and other members of the democratic party, and informed that it would be gratifying to them to be represented on the committee by Mr. Oliver of Missouri, Mr. Banks assented to their wishes and appointed him.

The testimonials below given prove that more business is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that any other office of Messrs. Drawing are larger for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R.H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.
PRIME COST, $1.50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 17, 1858.

THREE VOTES.

Thirty-eight years ago, three Northern members of Congress who had acted and voted with the Northern members in respect to the Missouri compromise, suddenly deserted and joined the Southern side; having been corrupted or bribed, as many believed. John Randolph spoke five days on the Missouri question. He liked the treason, but despised the traitors. At the close of the debate, after ridiculing the compromise, he sarcastically and cottingly said, in allusion to the traitors:

I knew these would give way. They were scared at their own doe-faces—yes, they were scared at their own doe-faces! We had them, and if we had wanted three more, we could have had them; yes, and if these had failed, we could have had three more of these men, whose conscience, morality and religion extend to thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes north latitude. You can never find any difficulty in obtaining the support of men whose principles of morality and religion are bounded by thirty-six degrees and thirty minutes of north latitude.

According to the recent vote in the House of Representatives, to refer the Kansas question to a committee of investigation, the South lacked three votes (with the Speaker's) to carry their point. The question now arises, whether the South can have "three more of these men?" It is the opinion of some, that by the appliance of office or the secret service money, they can be had. Some may hope that Northern men will not abandon the principles of their constituents; but we have seen a vast deal of such truckling.

The Richmond South says of the Kansas votes in the House:

"The Black-Republican-Douglas majority was so small, that we are sanguine of ultimate success. Surely more than three men on the other side are 'open to conviction.' Of course, our own friends will stand firm."

The Union, notwithstanding the votes in the House on the 8th, "anticipates the passage, beyond a doubt," of a bill admitting Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. The Union denounces the Douglas men for "their formal and apparently-concerted coalition with the Black Republican party,"—an "unholy alliance in American politics." It styles Mr. Harris, of Illinois, a "recruit to the Republicans." It sees immense mischiefs in a political union of the North, but does not seem to apprehend similar mischiefs from a political union of the South.

The Pennsylvanian, Mr. Buchanan's Philadelphia organ, moans over the fading prospects of Lecompton Democrats in that quarter, and says to promote their defeat, the Forney-Douglas Democrats have threatened to make independent nominations or coalesce with the Republicans in every district of the State, and for every office in the gift of the people. Mr. Buchanan should have counted the cost before he entered upon his career. That union of the friends of freedom—if not upon the present Republican platform, upon some grounds—will be had over the whole North, and not a free State is there that can stand against it. In pushing Lecompton, Mr. Buchanan, as among the last acts of his declining years, drives the knife—that he lifted against that same Democracy in his youth—to the heart of the party organization; and there is not a man in all the free States so blinded as not to see that such is the case.—Newburyport Herald.

The Herald labors under a mistake as to the party against which Mr. Buchanan lifted up the knife in his youth. There was no Democratic party then. Mr. Buchanan was a Federalist, and lifted up his knife against the Republican party. The Federal party was rendered powerless by the peace of 1815; and the Republican party, having really no antagonist, lost its activity directly. President Monroe's era of good feelings mingled them in one mass. In the contest which resulted in Gen. Jackson's election, the Democratic party was gathered, and becoming victorious, has been in power nearly all the time since.

PRAYING BY WORD OF COMMAND.—The "West Pointers" are having a lively time of it, in consequence of the Chaplain, an Episcopalian, insisting that they shall kneel in certain parts of the service. The cadets refuse to comply, and the Commander, taking part with the Chaplain, says the cadets shall kneel. The cadets reply that they will do so, provided he gives the word of command, and not otherwise. Kneeling for prayers by word of command is an arrangement which has been entirely overlooked in Scott's military instruction manual. But what right has a chaplain of the Episcopal, or any other religious persuasion, to insist that a body of individuals whose forms of worship are as various as their names, shall conform themselves to the observances of his particular creed?

CONGRESS.

MONDAY, Feb. 15.

SENATE.—Mr. Seward of New York presented the memorial of the New York Emigration Commissioners, complaining of abuses committed on female passengers by officers of emigrant ships; and gave notice that he should introduce a bill on the subject.

An ineffectual motion was made in secret session, to remove the injunction of secrecy on the speeches and proceedings attending the confirmation of Mr. Sedgwick as District Attorney of New York. They involve the merits of New York politics, and the reasons that led to the removal of Mr. McKeon.

Senator Seward has given notice of his intention to introduce a bill into the Senate to reorganize the United States Supreme Court and United States Circuit Court, so that the several States shall be represented by Judges in those courts, more nearly on the basis of their federal population, while the administration of justice shall be made more speedy and efficient.

HOUSE.—A resolution, appropriating $35,000 for expenses of the several investigating committees, was passed.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio asked leave to introduce a bill requesting the President to negotiate for the purchase of British North America and Cuba, the people of said provinces to regulate their institutions in their own way.

The House refused to suspend the rules—ayes only 10.

Mr. Wolcott appeared with a written statement, disclaiming any intention to contemn the authority of the House, but denying the right of the committee to require answers to questions not within the scope of their duties, viz., the investigation of charges against members of the last House, in connection with the Tariff bill. He had been legally advised not to answer any questions criminating himself, unless an opportunity was granted him to be heard in his defence. He defended his position at great length.

Mr. Burroughs of New York interrupted the reading of the document, saying he had heard enough.

Mr. Clemens of Virginia asked whether the opinion was signed by Reverdy Johnson.

Mr. Stanton of Ohio offered a resolution declaring that Mr. Wolcott has failed to answer satisfactorily, and ordering him to be committed to jail, and be kept in close custody until he is willing to answer all legal and proper questions. Mr. Stanton said that the power to inquire, necessarily implied the power to compel witnesses to produce all essential evidence.

The House had, by the common law, the right to punish witnesses for contempt. It was proved that $58,000 came into the hands of Mr. Wolcott, perhaps innocently, but subsequently it might have been put to corrupt purposes. The Committee have the right of knowing what became of the money.

Mr. Jones of Tenn. moved to table the whole subject.

The resolution was passed, under the operation of the previous question, by a vote of 133 against 55.

These 133 yeas, are guilty of oppression, and of consummate folly. They have no proof that Wolcott has committed any crime, or even misdemeanor—but he has received money—and when they ask him what he did with it he states on his oath that he did not do with it, any thing over which they have any control, but that he cannot disclose further without injury to himself.—The item they call for, is none of their business.

This they call contempt,—and actually put him in jail,—which is most contemptible!

WASHINGTON, Feb. 15.—The Senate Committee on Territories, will report against the admission of Oregon at this time on the ground that she has not sufficient population, that no urgent necessity exists for her immediate admission, and that her citizens do not desire it.

(Times Correspondence.) The House Select Committee on Kansas had a meeting this afternoon and had a stormy time of it. The majority voted down the facts.

(Tribune Correspondence.) The Administration Senators intend to hasten the passage of the Lecompton Constitution by a resolution to close debate at an early day. The debate promises to be one of the greatest in the history of Congress. All the Republican Senators are preparing to take part in it. Judge Douglas is making ready for a great demonstration. The separation of himself and Messrs. Stuart, Broderick, Harris, &c., from the Lecompton party is final and complete. Arrangements are in progress for the consolidation of a great anti-Lecompton party. It is said that Postmaster Gray of the Cleveland Plaindealer, is to be removed this week, in spite of his caving in on Lecompton.

NEW YORK, Feb. 15.—Among the passengers in the steamer Roanoke, arrived today from Richmond, are Oscar M. Thomas, a Frenchman, and Geo. Anderson (colored), in charge of two New York policemen, the former charged with having kidnapped and abducted the latter, and sold him into slavery.

POLICE COURT, NEWBURYPORT.—Alfred Pillsbury and R. M. Perley were arraigned on two counts for a violation of the liquor law. One witness testified that he purchased of the parties for the express purpose of prosecuting them. They were ordered to pay the sum of $10 and costs and be committed to the House of Correction for 20 days. Appealed.—Herald.

OUR VALENTINES—No. 1.

TO F.

I saw you one day, oh, Editor dear!
In your cosy office-chair;
With your indolent pen behind your ear—
(It usually seemed to be there!)
You used the scissors, you used the paste,
And the "Daily Chronicle" grew;
And once in a while, in desperate haste,
You seized the pen, and in excellent taste,
Invented an item new!

A murder and burglary here and there,
A steamboat or railroad accident rare,
A pleasant detion of stocks—
An account of a temperance meeting somewhere,
Or a "great revelation" to make people stare,
From the knowingest spirit that knocks!

And you put up your feet on the table to rest,
And pronounced to-day's Chronicle one of the best,—
An exceedingly graphic sheet.
But you looked round the sanctum, and heaved a low sigh,
And mournfully wished some dear praiser was nigh—
But our eyes chanced not to meet!

Surely, the pleasantest thing in this life,
Were to be agreeable Editor's wife,
And up in the sanctum to stay—
And sit among papers up to one's ears,
In a dear little chair, with some dear little shears,
And help him to edit all day!

To turn the machine for the poems sometimes,
Or help disentangle refractory rhymes,
From lines that poet's might send—
No cooking to do, for we'd live on "puff" paste,
And if o'er that sweet nutriment palled on our taste,
Why we'd go and take tea with a friend!

Greenland, Feb. 14. VALENTINE.

AN UNJUST STEWARD.—The brig Helen Jane has just arrived at Boston, from a voyage to Truxillo and Omoa. The Boston Journal informs us that the master, Capt. Nickerson, relates a singular adventure with the steward of his vessel on the outward passage, which somewhat enlivened the usual dull monotony of ocean life. It appears that a white man having an American protection, and giving his name as Hawes Crowell of West Dennis, Cape Cod, shipped at Boston in the capacity of steward, and received his advance wages before going on board. The vessel proceeded to sea, and on the morning of the first day out the steward was missing, supposed by all on board to have fallen overboard and drowned. Accordingly another man was appointed to his duty, and everything went on without suspicion.

The voyage continued prosperously, and nothing occurred to admonish the the captain that his cargo was leaking in a very unusual manner, and becoming daily beautifully less by an operation which might well be compared to some late financial maneuvring ashore. It seems, however, that after some days one of the crew accidentally discovered that the cargo in the hold had been broken into, and an empty basket of Champagne was found, with other indications of robbery. The captain's attention was immediately called to the fact, and he of course suspected the crew of committing the depredation, and instantly called them them to account;—but nothing could be elicited from the investigation to fix the crime on any of the crew, who stoutly denied all knowledge of the matter.

Thus the affair rested until their arrival at Truxillo, 28 days after leaving Boston. On the first night after anchoring, the crew were suddenly startled by the appearance in the forecastle, of the lost steward; and so firmly convinced were the frightened sailors of the death of their shipmate, that they all instantly fled on deck from the supposed apparition, and told the captain. These fears, however, were soon quieted, for the steward had really appeared, and upon being questioned, confessed that he had secreted himself in the hold on the first day out, under the influence of delirium tremens, and for twenty-two days following had lived luxuriously on champagne, raisins, ham, &c., dining sumptuously every day, and had enjoyed what on shore would be called a "benefit!" He consumed during the voyage eight baskets of champagne, six boxes of raisins, and other things in proportion. He was left in the hands of the U. S. Consul, and will be sent home for trial. The loss to the captain will amount to $250.

Jem: "Spos'n you was to be turned into an animal, what would wou like to be?"

Bill: "Oh! I'd like to be a lion, because he's so——"

Little Tom (who has some recent painful experience at school, interrupting eagerly): "Oh no, don't you be a lion, Bill; be a wasp, and then you can sting the schoolmaster!"

☞ William Miles, the young fireman who was shot by a student at New Haven, on Tuesday night, expired at half-past two o'clock on Thursday morning.

New Haven, Jan. 16, 1852.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhœa commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.

Yours, in Friendship, Love, and Truth,

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Maryland State Lotteries.

R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is as much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pur port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be a meeting for Prayer and Conference, in the Chapel of the Middle Street Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

There will be a Prayer Meeting in the School House, at the Plains, at 7 o'clock this evening.

The Bible Class will meet at the Court Street Chapel, at 7½ o'clock this evening.

There is to be a meeting for Prayer and Conference in the brick Vestry on Fleet street, at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

To-day (Ash Wednesday) there will be Divine Service and a Sermon at St. John's Church. Morning Service will begin at 10 o'clock.

☞ Ash Wednesday is regarded as one of the most solemn fasts of the Church, and will to-day be observed among all the Protestant Episcopal Churches in the world. The day begins the Lenten, or Spring Fast, which embraces a period of forty days, which were designed to be employed in preparation for Good Friday and Easter, when are commemorated the crucifixion and resurrection of our Savior.—Ash Wednesday probably derives its name from a custom observed on Wednesday in the early ages of Christianity, of sprinkling ashes on the heads of penitents, in token of humiliation.

THE CONCERT announced for this evening, at the Temple, is entitled to a liberal patronage from our citizens. First, in itself, as a musical performance, we have good reason to expect a rare treat—the young men composing the club being know among our best singers—and having certainly a well-selected programme. Then the stage will be tastefully decorated—by young men, two of whom in particular are ever ready to lend a hand in adorning public exhibitions, &c., and who ought not to be unheeded in this their call for similar encouragement. We shall be disappointed if the Bards are not greeted with a full house.

A CARD.—Dr. Perry would inform friends, patients, and others, that he "still lives;" and has so far recovered from his recent sickness, as to hope to be able to "mind his own business" (only) as usual, in a day or two. As his death has been currently reported about town during the past week, as well as on previous occasions of his sickness,—and many friends have called at his residence to ascertain the truth,—he deems advisable thus publicly to contradict the report. A. PERRY, M. D.

OUR CONSTITUTION.—By a resolution of the Legislature, last June, the selectmen of each town and ward are required to insert in their warrant an article to take the sense of the voters upon the question, "Is it expedient to alter the constitution?"

CHILDREN AND LABOR.—An article in the North American Review, on the recent "Financial Crisis," contains some sensible observations. Connecting the deficiency of capital in the country, with the increasing disrelish of the native population for productive industry, the writer says:

In the free States, foreign operatives, with their lower standard of intelligence and the cruel prejudice with which they are regarded, are degrading labor in the general estimation, in very much the same way in which slavery degrades it in the Southern States. Since Irishmen have swarmed through our land as hod-carriers, coal-heavers, diggers, and day-laborers, there has been a growing reluctance to engage in hand labor on the part of native Americans.

Foreigners, as farm-servants, are supplanting the children of the soil; as manufacturers, are superseding the sons and daughters of our yeomanry; as domestics, coachmen and gardeners, are repelling from these posts the classes that once sought in them an honest livelihood. Their children are in training in large numbers for the mechanical professions; and, in that same proportion, mechanics decline educating their sons for their own and similar callings. The consequence is a wasteful glut of the professions of law and medicine, trade and commerce; and every supernumerary in these professions defrauds the community of the cost of his own subsistence, and of the revenue that should accrue from his industry to the common stock.

BALTIMORE, Feb. 15.—St. Ann's (Episcopal) Church, at Annapolis, was destroyed by fire last night. It was one of the oldest churches in the State. The fire caught from one of the flues.

MURDER IN BROOKLYN.—On Saturday night Mr. George H. Simonson, a butcher, residing in Brooklyn, and reputed a peaceful citizen and highly respectable man, was murdered by a party of three drunken ruffians in front of a saloon in Pierpont street. Mr. Simonson had been in the saloon and had attempted to pacify the men alluded to, who were very quarrelsomely disposed, with apparent success; but as soon as he left the saloon, he was set upon and struck with some sharp instrument, and thrown to the ground with such force as to break his skull. He died at 4 o'clock the next morning. The three men, Pat Lalley, George McGarry, and Joseph S. Mellon, were arrested, the first in a Brooklyn engine house, and the other two in a New York engine house.

On Sunday night a meeting was held, of some two hundred persons, Ex-Mayor Hall presiding. After remarks by Mr. Hall, urging the whole public to take an active part in endeavors to procure a rigid enforcement of the laws, in order to protect the lives and property of the citizens, a committee of twelve was appointed to "watch the proceedings in this matter, and see that justice is done." A proposition for the organization of a Vigilance Committee, and for the immediate lynching of the murderers, was discountenanced, and failed.

Such murders are the natural fruit of the groggery.

CURIOUS TABLE.—The Boston Journal publishes the following statement, showing the number of liquor sellers who have been actually confined in the Houses of Correction during the year 1857. A curious friend sent to the masters of Houses of Correction for information of this sort, and replies have been received from nearly every county. They are perfectly reliable, so far as they go:

Dedham.—Number of commitments for the year, 60. Number now confined, 12.
East Cambridge.—Commitments for the year, 59. Now confined, 23.
Ipswich.—Commitments for the year, 48. Now confined, 14.
Plymouth—Commitments for the year, 42. Now confined, 8.
Springfield.—Commitments for the year, 6. Now confined, 3.
Northampton.—Commitments for the year, 4. Now confined, 3.
Greenfield.—Commitments for the year, 1.
Barnstable.—Commitments for the year, 17. None now confined.
Nantucket.—None.
Worcester.—Commitments for the year, 95. Now confined, 22.

From the above it appears that three hundred and thirty-two liquor-sellers have actually been confined in the Houses of Correction for the year, and this does not include Bristol county, where the courts have convicted large numbers; neither does it include the House of Correction at Lawrence, where a large number have been confined.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 15.—At Indianapolis, on Saturday night, two Irishmen entered a liquor saloon, and being refused liquor, attempted to raise a disturbance with the persons present. The barkeeper, named Hohl, and a man named Castillo, interfered to prevent a fight, when the Irishmen fired into the crowd. Castillo was shot twice, and died last night. Hohl was also twice shot, and is not expected to live. There is much excitement in consequence of the affair, and lynch law is talked of. One of the Irishmen was arrested.

ROCKINGHAM CO. TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

It is proposed to hold the Rockingham County Temperance Convention at Raymond, on Washington's Birth Day, Monday, 22d, at 12 o'clock, noon. Temperance men, especially Ministers and Christians of every name, are invited to attend. The convention will appoint district and town committees, and make arrangements for Mr. Sinclair's meetings, to establish Bands of Hope, for the promotion of temperance among the youth.

The Convention will be held in one of the churches, near the Depot.

Morning Chronicle.

THE HUTCHINSONS.—Ass B. Hutchinson, of the Hutchinson Family, arrived in Lynn last week, and is arranging to remove his family, in March, to their "Farm Home," in the "Great Northwest." Horace Greeley, writing to the New York Tribune from Chicago, says:

One of the Hutchinson brothers, (Ass,) who are now here, singing their way Eastward from their new home in Minnesota, informed me that he had been singing along four hundred miles, through Minnesota and Iowa, taking grain for music wherever cash was unattainable, and has done very well by it. In one instance a farmer drove up with eight bushels of corn in his sleigh, and his wife and six children seated thereon, saying, "We have no money, but we all want to hear you, and the corn is the best we can give you." He accepted the corn very gladly, gave eight twenty-five cent tickets for it, and sang it out. In every such case, his landlord or some neighboring miller took the grain to sell as soon as possible, and return him the net proceeds. He and his brothers will sing their way back through the same region next April, taking grain wherever cash cannot be had, and turning or shipping it as may be advisable in each case.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and those arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the diseases that afflict mankind originate in one or these, and consequently these PILLS are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"YOUR PILLS are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved invaluable in the treatment of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Knox, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with these pills, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have cured incontestably found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. A. D. Green, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best aperients I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy in the long catalogue of bowel affections, dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, who practices as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the menses. I have last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, for we had tried many things that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy skin, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINSORNAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINSORNAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the best article of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without fear, the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very truly,

DANIEL HATHORN & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: I visited your last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, for we had tried many things that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy skin, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINSORNAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINSORNAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the best article of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without fear, the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

⚠ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye, with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently may be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies a long felt want—the world has ever known for the cure of all pulmonary complaints; BY COUGHS, COLDS, HOARSENESS, ASTHMA, CROUP, WHOOPING COUGH, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stage of the disease. As time makes these facts wider and better known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted from the humble cottage of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and indeed almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best and most reliable for disease of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know what is and what is not, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of disease it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unprecedented benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. Every prize is announced immediately after the mystify the buyer. —MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The tone is powerful, yet sufficiently delicate to allow the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one of the lower set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that will contain 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. And we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to call at our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons wishing to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special attention, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and the money returned, if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

LITERARY EXAMINATIONS.

A presiding elder, in Walker county, Ala., (he told us this himself,) was examining an applicant for preaching license—one who felt ambitious at 'splaining and 'spounding the Sriptures. "Brother," said our friend, the presiding elder, "are you a Unitarian or a Trinitarian?"

After studying awhile—repeating in an undertone, "U-n-i-t-a-r-i-a-n — T-r-i-n-i-t-a-r-i-a-n—Un"—the applicant answered, "Well, I always voted the Union ticket, and I'm a Union man; so I reckon I'm a Unitarian."

The Quarterly Conference didn't think it a safe case; though the brother is on hand, on all election days, for saving the Union.

Perhaps Methodists are not aware, generally, what a scraping Capers' Catechism got last year, in Russell county, Ala.—That excellent Missionary, Bro. ———, was teaching the colored people out of Catechism No. 1—teaching them at the plantations and at Andrew Chapel. A good work, which he did well, and the people appreciated it. We say the people—not all, however. A Hard-shell Baptist preacher, Elder W———, got wind of strange doctrine, and raised the alarm. He had been there at the catechizing himself; yes, he had, and heard with his own ears—

Ques.—Who is Jesus Christ?

Ans.—The Son of God.

Now, said Elder Hardshell, that will never do. When Peter said to Jesus, "Thou art the Christ, the son of the living God," did not Jesus reply, "Flesh and blood hath not revealed this to you?" and here is this man—flesh and blood—revealing it to these negroes every Sunday!

The elder made such a stir on the heresy, not to say sacrilege, that was going on, some people didn't know but something was or might be wrong. He made an appointment and the Methodists (as they always do) gave him the use of their chapel, to use up the Catechism. The elder took it into the pulpit and hammered it well, especially on the fleshly revelations.

Several of the Methodists were on hand. Sister G. spiritedly declared that her mind was not changed at all. The missionaries should still teach her servants out of the Catechism, if they would. But the elder had things his own way against the Catechism, until Bro. B———, seated away back, a wide-awake and very shrewd man, spoke out:

"Sir, do you know that you are speaking and inveighing against the laws of your country? You have read the title page of the Catechism, now read what's on the other side of that leaf, if you please."

Reads: "Entered according to act of Congress, in the year of our Lord 1847, by John Early," "There," continued Mr. B———, who saw the confusion and dismay of the elder, and followed up his advantage before the congregation, "you see that book has passed both houses of Congress and been duly authorized, and here you are trying to raise the people against it."

The elder felt his position an awkward one for a good citizen!—gave it up! the Catechism was victorious.

It was a paper bullet, but brought down the game.

Afterwards, B——— was complimented in company of friends on having found an argument which, though no argument at all, fitted the calibre of his antagonist and saved the case. "Hush, now," said he imploringly, "I really thought at the time it was a sound argument, and that both houses of Congress had approved the Catechism."—New Orleans Christian Advocate.

A TOUGH WITNESS.—Prosecuting Attorney.—"Mr. Parks, state, if you please, whether you have ever known the defendant to follow any profession."

"He's been a professor ever since I've known him."

"Professor of what,"

"Of religion."

"You don't understand me, Mr. Parks. What does he do?"

"Generally, what he pleases."

"Tell the jury, Mr. Parks, what the defendant follows."

"Gentlemen of the jury, the defendant follows the crowd when they go in to drink."

"Mr. Parks, this kind of prevarication will not do here. Now state how this defendant supports himself."

"I saw him last night support himself against a lamp post."

"May it please your honor, this witness has shown a disposition to trifle with the Court."

Judge—"Mr. Parks, state, if you know any thing about it, what the defendant's occupation is."

"Occupation, did you say?"

Counsel—"Yes, what is his occupation?

"If I ain't mistaken, he occupies a garret somewhere in town."

"That's all, Mr. Parks."

Cross-examined—"Mr. Parks, I understood you to say that the defendant is a professor of religion. Does his practice correspond with his profession?"

"I never heard of any correspondence or letters passing between them."

"You said something about his propensity for drinking. Does he drink hard?"

"No. I think he drinks about as easy as any man I ever saw."

"One [more question, Mr. Parks. You have known the defendant a long time; what are his habits—loose or otherwise?"

"The one he's got on now, I think, is rather tight under the arms, and too short waisted for the fashion."

"You can take your seat, Mr. Parks."

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be its judge.
PRIME COST, $1, 50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Fetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

Morning Chronicle.

THURSDAY, FEBRUARY 18, 1858.

LETTER FROM NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, Feb. 16, 1858.

Dear Chronicle.—This week a trio of questionable spirits are let out from the keyhole of the anniversary box which father Time carries under his arm. The names of these periodical sprites are Love, Fun, and Enmity. Hand in hand they appear with the rising of the sun of the 14th of February, and extort from the recipients of their missives severally, smiling blushes, happy laughter, and vindictive oaths, and universally two cents for the post-man. We are among those happy mortals who are always favored with a superabundant supply. Our receipts this year are unusually large, owing undoubtedly to the celebrity we have gained in our connection with your sheet. Our schedule foots up as follows:—Class First,—Sentimental; three (heaven bless you, sweet ladies; may your shadows never grow less). Class Second,—Comic; five: thank you, kind friends, for your favors. There is too much diversity of style to decide which is best in its application; one represents a pair of bellows,—"a blower,"—ah, well! we cannot expect all people to be capable of appreciating true merit! Another seems to be intended for a lady—probably a mistake; we have advertised the same in the Herald, in hopes of restoring it to the rightful owner.—Class Third,—Ultra Comic; nine: scandalous, insulting, outrageous; we would notify the malicious parties that we have sent our boots to the cobbler for an extra pair of taps. Class first we have disposed of at half price to the retail dealer at the corner. Class second we hung around our room to laugh us out of our blue spells. Class third we shall use for shaving paper.

In the natural course of events, business is reviving as spring approaches, but a large trade is not anticipated by even the most sanguine merchants. Few country dealers, except in the Southern States, will purchase as extensively as usual. Commodities and wares of all kinds are cheaper at wholesale prices than ever, but their lowest point for the season is probably reached. Nothing is now falling but rents and omnibus horses,—the latter finding the smooth Russ pavement of Broadway a hard road to travel, these frosty mornings.

"Burleigh," the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, devotes his talents in his letter of the third inst. to a series of invectives, made superlatively emphatic by numerous adjectives, against the memory of Thomas Paine. When a correspondent of a paper holding so high a position as the Boston Journal, descends so far below the standard of truth and justice as to cast deep reproach on the memory of a man whose patriotic writings gained for him the title of the "Author Hero" of the Revolution, and were the motive power of the machinery of that great movement, and whose name as the true original author of the Declaration of Independence, the charter of our liberties, (and we have indubitable testimony to prove that it was wholly the production of his pen) is worthy of the veneration of his people, and should be written side by side with that of Washington in the history of the great struggle,—his effusions deserve rather the unlimited condemnation of intelligent readers than their encomiums of praise, which he in his station should endeavor to sustain. This communication of this writer contains several mis-statements which can be controverted by history and biography. It is by the influence of such writers as "Burleigh," that the name of Paine is breathed by the ignorant as an object of horror, and his works crushed and stigmatized as immoral,—but I can safely assert that the Fourth of July Oration was never delivered which did not quote with glowing fervor the immortal words of Paine, "These are the times that try men's souls," and generally without being aware of their original source.—When a great man dies, his follies and frailties should be entombed with him, but his virtues and good deeds should be made immortal.

"Burleigh" has also distinguished himself of late by an attack on the character of one of the most talented women of the age, Lola Montez,—by edifying his New England readers with the flattering announcement that New York is "the paradise of thieves, burglars, and murderers,"—and by sustaining the action of the late convention of City Clergymen of the Trinitarian persuasion on the subject of Sabbath breaking. This meeting was held at the Spingler Institute a fortnight since, and a report, emanating from the deliberations of several days, is stamped throughout in its tone and language with an evident desire for the enactment of the ancient "Blue Laws," in perhaps a more moderate form, omitting the favorite penalties of our forefathers. It insidiously advocates an infringement on, the rights of the people which awakens only a sentiment of scorn in the minds of our citizens. It would prohibit all travel on the Sabbath, the running of the city railroad cars, the sale of Sunday papers, the departure of vessels, the prosecution of morning business by the grocers and barbers, military funeral pageants, and even Sacred Evening Concerts at other houses than their own Churches. It also favors a movement of some kind, the nature and means of which were not decided on, to compel every one to attend divine worship.

Now a movement in the right direction for improving the morals of the people in this respect would receive the countenance and support of all lovers and doers of right, but when the project bears on its brazen face the stamp of bigotry and egotism, and an encroachment on our free institutions, it cannot fail to meet with disapprobation. On this subject the Herald justly and truly remarks: "Of course in a country where the clergy possess so much power as they do here, it is very difficult to say what they may not achieve if they set to work resolutely. But to an outside observer it would really seem that the clergy must alter their style of preaching, talk more common sense abuse each other less, and make themselves somewhat less ridiculous to their educated hearers, before it can be said the public ought to spend their Sundays listening to them,—before, for instance, their sermons will do as much good as a smart walk of four or five miles in a level country. Again presuming that these alterations are made, and that our clergy write sermons really to instruct and benefit their hearers, and not solely and altogether to earn their salaries, the question arises, how can the public be made to go?"

Our appeal in behalf of the red shirts has met with an approbation which we were not sanguine enough to expect. Last week we received a mysterious package by mail, which we were so suspicious of, that we actually went through the unprecedented formula of turning it over four times before venturing to cut the strings. Judge of our surprise when we discovered its sole contents to be a red silk shirt, and a note expressing the kindly appreciation of the donor, (apparently one of those matrons so numerous in a country town, who are ever ready to bestow their approval on the good deeds of others by bona fide testimonials of regard,) and probably representing the sentiments of gratitude of all our lady readers, from whom we predicted a warm advocacy of our scheme. We would remind the kind lady, however, that in sending us but one of those very acceptable articles of dress, she has placed us in rather a delicate predicament; for if we make proper use of it we shall be obliged to lie abed over Sunday, while it is in the hands of the washerwoman.

ISLINGTON.

LITERARY CURIOSITY.—We chance to have on our table, a copy of the White Mountain Banner, a weekly "Democratic" paper about the size of this, printed in Littleton, N. H., Feb. 13, 1858. Seeing an error in the heading of the paper, (Banner,) we had the curiosity to look through it; and have actually counted eleven hundred and sixty-eight (1168) typographical blunders,—or about fifty to each column. This is a little the tallest of anything we ever saw in the line of errors—and may be regarded by some, as about on a par with the political character of the paper. The publishers advertise to execute job printing—which we have no doubt they will do, as their imprint actually contains sixteen mistakes!

ACQUITTED.—Ex-Governor Bebb, formerly of Ohio, now of Illinois, has been acquitted of the charge of manslaughter, occasioned by his shooting a man who, with a gang of others, was inflicting a charivari upon his just-married daughter. After the main body of the party with which he was acting had proposed to withdraw, the deceased urged them to continue the offensive demonstrations at the house.

☞ The Academy of Sciences at St. Petersburg has just instituted a prize for the best treatises on certain political questions; and the first subject it proposes is the abolition of serfdom.

☞ The Lady's Home Magazine, for March, contains a beautiful frontispiece, Neapolitan Peasants; 8 full page fashion plates, of various descriptions;—and a literary feast. T. S. Arthur & Co., Philadelphia.

BROOKLINE, N. Y., Feb. 16.—The funeral of Geo. H. Simonson, who was murdered on Saturday evening, was attended this afternoon by an immense concourse of citizens, including a large number of the Sons of Malta. Previous to the funeral services, at least five thousand persons visited the late residence of the deceased

CONGRESS.—In Senate, Tuesday, Feb. 16, a resolution was adopted, instructing the Committee on Post Offices and Post Roads to inquire whether the transmission of the mail between Washington and Boston cannot be expedited so as to prevent twelve hours detention in New York.

The joint resolution for the reception of the Turkish Vice Admiral was called up and debated, and finally passed.

The Indiana contested election cases were then taken up, and the resolution allowing further time for taking testimony was passed, after being amended so that all the testimony should be returned to the Senate within ninety days.

The Army bill was then considered, but without taking the question, after an executive session the Senate adjourned.

In the House the deficiency appropriation bill was reported.

The Maryland contested election case was considered, but no action was taken.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16.—The War Department has received dispatches from Lieut. Ives, in command of the expedition for the exploration of the Colorado river of the West. The party arrived at the mouth of the Colorado after an unusually long passage from San Francisco. A small steamer, brought from Philadelphia, after great labor, was put together, and launched on the 13th of December, and answered admirably for the purpose for which it was intended. Lieut. Ives found the charts of the river defective, but the material for their correction had been gathered from the mouth of the Colorado to Fort Yuma. The river was very crooked, full of shoals, snags, sand-bars, and the channel changes so constantly that the best pilot cannot avoid repeatedly running aground. It was supposed that fewer obstacles would be met with above Fort Yuma.

Last night officer McHenry arrested W. Fleming, alias W. F. Norton, who is suspected of being the man who murdered H. F. Robertson, at Winchester, Tenn., about Christmas time. Subsequent information induces the belief that the same person followed Calhoun and his party from Kansas, with nefarious designs. He has been committed for a further examination, on the receipt of intelligence from Tennessee. Col. Carpenter of Chicago has been retained by Calhoun to assist in the prosecution.

The President has removed Mr. Price, Postmaster of Chicago, and reappointed Mr. Cook, his immediate predecessor. He has also removed Mr. Miller, Postmaster at Columbus, Ohio, and appointed Ex-Governor Medary in his place. Messrs. Price and Miller were appointed during the recess of Congress.

Gen. Calhoun to-day placed in the possession of the Senate's Committee on Territories, documents relative to the late Kansas election. He is preparing an address to the public.

The official statement shows that the whole number of passengers arriving from foreign countries last year, was 271,558, 109,000 were females.

Although the various proposition, including that to send for persons and papers of the Anti-Lecompton members of the House Investigating Committee, were last night voted down uniformly by one majority, they will make further effort at the meeting to-morrow, though they say with little or no prospect for a thorough investigation of all the Kansas matters embraced in the resolution under which the Committee was appointed.

KANSAS.—St. Louis, Jan. 16.—Later advices from Kansas state that a party of Lane's men had visited Westport, Mo., to search for Mr. Danforth, a member of the Lecompton Convention. The Missourians made no resistance.

Mr. Stofer, the Democratic Representative from Leavenworth county, was recovering from the wounds received in the late attempt to murder him.

The grocery of Pat Laughlin, who killed Collins at Doniphan a year or two ago, was broken open during his absence a few nights since, and its contents burned in the street.

A skirmish is said to have occurred at Fort Scott, but no particulars are given. Gov. Denver had refused to send the troops there.

THE CASE OF MR. WOLCOTT,—Washington, Feb. 16—1:40 P. M.—[Special dispatch to the Boston Journal.]—Col. Wolcott will not at present apply for a writ of habeas corpus. His imprisonment is much discussed, and by many considered a violation of individual rights. He is in very good health and spirits.]

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF
Buchan's Hungarian Balsam of Life,
THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY FOR Colds, Coughs, Asthma, and Consumption.
JOYFUL INTELLIGENCE!
Another life saved after the Doctors could do no more!
HAVA, Me., Feb. 24, 1845.
DR. BRADLEE—Dear Sir—I take pleasure in giving you a statement of the beneficial effects of Buchan's Hungarian Balsam, on my daughter, who had been for a number of years afflicted with a bad Cough, Pain in the Side, Raising Blood, and all those pains and troubles which attend that insidious disease, CONSUMPTION. I employed several distinguished physicians at great expense, who after numerous visits, and many experiments, finally declared that
THEY COULD DO NO MORE!
I was then advised by a friend to try Buchan's Hungarian Balsam. I did so, and the result has been most astonishing. My daughter is Entirely Cured, and is now attending to her accustomed duties. I paid $200 for Physicians and Medicine, without any sort of benefit, while 86 worth of Hungarian Balsam has removed the disease, restored the strength, and brought on a healthy action. I am gratefully yours, JOHN YOUNG.

All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is no much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—in every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

LOCAL.

FIRE.—About half-past 9 o'clock, Tuesday evening, fire was discovered in the grocery store of Walter Laskey, corner of Bow and Penhallow streets; and in about an hour, that store, and the next, occupied by Francis Dupray, were totally destroyed. The chambers were occupied by Moses & Downie, clothiers, as a work-room.

Mr. Laskey thinks the flames may have taken by means of sparks from a candle, which he blew out on the end of his counter, an hour before. The fire burned with astonishing rapidity, so that nothing was saved from Mr. Laskey's, whose loss is probably $1,000 or more—and no insurance. This store we are told is owned by Mr. J. M. Mathes, and is doubtless insured. The two tenements cost about $3,600, in 1846.

Mr. Dupray owned the store he occupied, and has insurance on it. His stock was partially removed.

Moses & Downie had no insurance on that portion of their establishment. A part of their goods were thrown out; but their loss, in clothing and material, is estimated at $500 or more.

Mr. J. Rider's store, across Penhallow street, was on fire for some time, and the shutters, windows, balustrade, &c., were much scorched.

The wind blowing directly on a long row of old wooden buildings, threatened an extensive conflagration; but with plenty of water at hand, and efficient engines manned by sturdy firemen — the flames were fortunately chiefly confined to the building in which they originated. The roof of the three-story house next the Gazette Office was on fire once or twice, but was extinguished without difficulty.

The clothing-store of C. E. Myers & Co. was entirely cleared, but the brick partition saved the building.

Probably $7000 would not pay for the damage done by that hour's fire.

THANKS.—The subscribers desire to express their heartfelt gratitude, to the gallant Fire Department of our city, and others, for their indefatigable and successful exertions, which alone preserved their store from the total destruction which so imminently threatened it, on the evening of the 17th inst.

Feb. 18. JOHN RIDER & SON.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

The Class Meetings of the Methodist Society assemble this evening at 7½ o'clock.

The Examinations by the School Committee of District No. 2 will commence today, and be conducted in the following order:—

Thursday A. M.—Mr. Senter's school.
P. M.—Miss Mendum's.
Friday A. M.—Mr. Durgin's, Miss Ham's.
P. M.—Miss Hill's.
Saturday A. M.—Miss Clapham's.

It is hoped that as many of the parents as can make it convenient, will attend.

"THE BARDS" sang well, to a good audience, on Wednesday evening, and repeat their concert to-night (with change of programme), for the benefit of the Howard Benevolent Society.

☞ S. B. Weston, Esq., editor of the Temperance Visitor, will lecture on Temperance next Sunday evening, in this city, either in the Temple, or in the Old South Church. A collection will be taken.

☞ A term of the Supreme Judicial Court will commence at Exeter on Tuesday, the 23d inst. The Jurors from this city are as follows:—Ward One, Albert W. Ham, Joseph Harvey; Ward Two,—Stephen H. Simes, Francis C. Jurvis;—Ward Three,— Abner Greenleaf, David Philbrook. Andrew Lowd was drawn as Grand Juror, from Ward Three. But few Portsmouth actions will probably be tried at this term of the Court.

☞ A meeting of the stockholders of the Granite State Bank, of Exeter, was held on Tuesday last. Considerable opposition to the action of the Board of Directors was manifested by some of the stockholders. After an animated discussion which lasted all day, the old board were elected,—Clarke Buzzell and Abner Merrill chosen in the place of George Gardner and Moses Sanborn, deceased. The opposition polled about fifty out of six hundred votes.

Messrs. Editors;—Is it not about time for us to agitate the matter of a New City Hall? Believing that a majority of the voters of old Portsmouth are in favor of it, we would suggest that in the warrants for our next election this question be inserted: "Is it expedient to erect a City Hall?"

PUBLIC SPIRIT.

☞ Mr. Shillaber was greeted by a large audience of his fellow townsmen and friends, (and who can help being his friend?) at the Temple, Tuesday evening. His warm-hearted, cordial, humorous rhymes, were received in a kindred spirit; particularly the local allusions and reminiscences—which we have solicited for publication in a day or two.

The Mercantile Lyceum, thus happily ended,—opened by Albert Laighton, and closed by B. P. Shillaber, with Bodwell, Stone, Winter, and others, between,—need not fear comparison with any course of lectures we have ever enjoyed.

Messrs. Editors:—We had the pleasure of listening to Mr. Shillaber's lecture, delivered last evening at the Temple; and must say that we were exceedingly pleased, and most agreeably disappointed. The lecturer, notwithstanding what he himself or others may state to the contrary, is decidedly a Poet. His justly celebrated poem contains many sublime thoughts, expressed sometimes in the rare form of beautiful imagery; at others, clothed in the unctuous garb of immaculate wit. Mr. Shillaber graphically described man, in all the stages of existence. Without pretending to the eminent position of a critic, we have merely given an iota of our favorable opinion of last night's admirable "Lyceum" lecture. ARISTIDES.

☞ Rockingham Chapter, No. 1, O. U. A., are to hold their second annual Levee and Ball, at the fine Town Hall in Exeter, on the evening of Washington's Birthday, Feb. 22d. Tickets $1. They have most efficient committees, and will have a nice time. We acknowledge the compliment of an invitation; and it being one of our twelve yearly holidays, we shall endeavor to improve the occasion.

ROCKINGHAM CO. TEMPERANCE CONVENTION.

It is proposed to hold the Rockingham County Temperance Convention at Raymond, on Washington's Birth Day, Monday, 22d, at 12 o'clock, noon. Temperance men, especially Ministers and Christians of every name, are invited to attend. And temperance women also, as many as can make it convenient to be present.—The convention will appoint district and town committees, and make arrangements for Mr. Sinclair's meetings, to establish Bands of Hope, for the promotion of temperance among the youth.

The County Committee respectfully request the several ministers in the county to attend the convention if they can,—and if not, to send in the name of some good temperance men in their respective towns, for town committee. Also, to send written requests for Mr. Sinclair's services, with the date when he will be wanted.

The Convention will be held in the Congregational Church, near the Depot.

As the business of the Convention is considerably matured by the committee, there will be time for Resolutions, discussions and addresses, in the afternoon.

And by request of the people of Raymond, there will be a lecture in the evening.

J. G. HOYT,
W. D. HERRICK,
T. H. MILLER,
County Committee.

WASHINGTON NEWS.—The House Committee on Territories will shortly report a bill organizing Carson Territory, composed of the territory lying west of the valley of Salt Lake.

The President has determined to make a thorough change in the federal office-holders in Illinois and the northwest generally, removing those who are opposed to his administration, and appointing in their stead persons who support his views.

Engineering is going on, to get the needful three votes in the House, for the Lecompton swindle. It will probably be successful. The N. Y. Times correspondent of the 17th, says, speaking of the Kansas investigating committee:—

At the meeting last night the minority came prepared with a string of resolutions calling for a full investigation into all the questions connected with Kansas, with power to send for persons and papers. The resolutions were presented by Mr. Adrian. An amendment was offered by Mr. Stephens of Georgia, requesting the Chairman to procure copies of all the papers in the various Departments relative to this subject, which was adopted by a vote of 8 to 7.

Morning Chronicle.

TIT FOR TAT.—In a small country town on the Susquehanna river, there is a church in which the singing had, to use their own phrase, 'run completely down.'

It had been led for many years by one of the deacons, whose voice and musical power had been gradually failing.

One evening, on an occasion of interest, the clergyman gave out the hymn, which was in metrical measure rather harder than usual, and the deacon led off. Upon its conclusion the minister arose and said;

'Brother B—— will please repeat the hymn, as I cannot conscientiously pray after such singing!'

The deacon very composedly pitched it to another tune, with a manifest improvement upon the first effort, and the clergyman said no more, but proceeded with his prayer. Having finished, he took up a book to give the second hymn, when he was interrupted by the deacon gravely getting up and saying, in a voice audible to the whole congregation,—

'Will Mr.——, please make another prayer? It will be impossible for me to sing after such praying as that!'

☞ One of our compositors, the other day, in setting up "pecuniary embarrassments," made it read "peculiarly embarrassed mess." Not much difference, after all.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength, and his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are some cases that no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation, or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the rose blooms on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose, its ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old; they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box or five boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and throughout every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him Consumption. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are speedily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the world where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you brought us orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you brought us orders and calls sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most celebrated and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very resp'ly,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

☞ Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to see some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, it soon healed the sores, cured the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our little boy has a healthy scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, respectfully, yours, respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

Glasgow, Mo., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They have also a full capital paid in for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that the subscriber has the right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the State of Georgia. The lottery will not be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme published, everyone must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the ignorant; the prizes vary from $100 to $100; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Mercury, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all lottery offices have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, and have been legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders will be filled from the class that takes place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are forwarded, nor numbers reserved for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combinations, which vary in amount from $100 to $100 00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; Sun, Tribune, Herald Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and blustering sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer, to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, or the upper set may be used two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass Keys, forms a full organ, of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great variety of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced workmen. We beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

COMING OUT.

"Come out, come out," is the call that has been given to those people that go to meeting where there is any allusion to slavery as a sin; and indeed the call sometimes extends to the cases where intemperance is preached against. Well, some obey and leave the meetings. The result ought to be reported, and as none of them give it, we will write an article or two.

In a pleasant country town, where there is a prosperous society, some fifteen or sixteen arranged to take themselves off at the society's annual meeting. The minister was not a politician, but preached the whole law of the Lord, and sometimes "prayed for all men," including the slaves, supposing, and with good reason, that they were a part of "all men."

Those that designed to leave, thought that it would give the society quite a shaking for them to step out. Perhaps it would nearly or quite fall to ruin. But no sooner was it done than one man cheerfully promised to pay the whole tax those that had left paid. Only a few days passed, when it was found that there was no need of it, for fifteen or eighteen, just the number that had wished to leave, gave in their names as members. The meeting was never more flourishing than it has been ever since; and the sun has continued to rise and set just as before.

Now, as to preaching politics, in advocating the claims of any political party, we do not think it proper. But sin is to be rebuked—slavery and intemperance as well as others. So did Isaiah and Paul, so did the Son of God. The people left the Savior's meeting at Nazareth when they found that the application of his subject was rather hard on them; but it does not appear that they had much success in their separation from the congregation there.

— RECORDER.

[The above is from a minister, who probably tells a little of his own experience in his parish. To this we may add, of our knowledge, that the congregations in the churches of all denominations, in this region, are generally larger this winter than they have been in any other winter for the past six years. We laughed to scorn the braying of those wise animals who stuck up their long ears a few months ago, and who predicted all sorts of disasters to the churches, of which they know about as much as their illustrious predecessor, or Balaam his rider.]

The Statesman, the Portsmouth Ballot, and the Portsmouth Chronicle, are the only papers on the republican side which as yet have attempted to uphold and apologize for the brilliant exploits of the republican * * * * *. The Chronicle, being a professed temperance paper, but a sham republican in disguise, of course upholds the drunken exhibitions of this jewel among the republican worthies. —N. H. Democrat.

Whether the writer of the above extracts tells a wilful or an ignorant falsehood in the words we copy, we cannot say. But they are utterly false so far as the Chronicle is concerned. What we said on this subject was:

We have no defence to make of drunkenness, nor should we recommend persons addicted to it, to any office; and if the Patriot had only stated the case as badly as possible, we should not have said a word about the matter, any farther than to express our sorrow that any citizen, and especially any officer, should thus destroy himself and injure his friends.

But the Patriot went on and called upon the "people of New Hampshire," saying,

'We ask them to look back over the whole history of the State previous to the advent of black republicanism, and they will search in vain for a parallel to this prostitution of a high office.'

We therefore did look back, exactly as the Patriot requested, and gave it a parallel, which shut its mouth on parallels for that time. Then followed its new editor's great discovery of Uncle Toby's black republicanism and pretended temperance,—and now comes along the above from its poor echo and humble imitator.

They must be rather short of means, or they would not use these poor inventions so many times over.

OUR NATIVE FOREST furnishes us with Nature's own remedy for all lung complaints. Dr. Wistar, in his Balsam, combines the essential qualities of the Cherry Bark with Tar Water. It has cured many cases of seated consumption. O.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used, will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

TALENT AND CHARACTER.

A friend has just called Uncle Toby's attention to a letter from "Islington," dated New York, Feb. 15, and published in the Daily Morning Chronicle of the 18th.

That letter finds fault with "Burleigh," the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, for speaking ill of Thomas Paine and Lola Montez, and for speaking well of the New York clergy in their new movement to keep the Sabbath. Islington then speaks ill of the clergy on this account, and copies with approval part of a bitter article from the New York Herald.

He says :—

"It is by the influence of such writers as 'Burleigh,' that the name of Paine is breathed by the ignorant as an object of horror, and his works crushed and stigmatized as immoral."

And speaks of Paine as one whose name is, "worthy of the veneration of his people, and should be written side by side with that of Washington in the history of the great struggle."

He says further :

"'Burleigh' has also distinguished himself of late by an attack on the character of one of the most talented women of the age, Lola Montez,—by edifying his New England readers with the flattering announcement that New York is "the paradise of theives, burglars, and murderers,"—and by sustaining the action of the late convention of City Clergymen of the Trinitarian persuasion on the subject of Sabbath breaking."

Then, after some remarks of his own, on Blue Laws and the rights of the people, he thus approvingly introduces a paragraph from the New York Herald :

"On this subject the Herald justly, truly remarks: 'Of course in a country where the clergy possess so much power as they do here, it is very difficult to say what they may not acheive if they set to work resolutely. But to an outside observer it would really seem that the clergy must alter their style of preaching, talk more common sense abuse each other less, and make themselves somewhat less ridiculous to their educated hearers, before it can be said the public ought to spend their Sundays listening to them,—before, for instance, their sermons will do as much good as a smart walk of four or five miles in a level country. Again presuming that these alterations are made, and that our clergy write sermons really to instruct and benefit their hearers, and not solely and altogether to earn their salaries, the question arises, how can the public be made to go?' "

On these matters, Uncle Toby would just remark, that Talent is one thing, and Character quite another thing. He has known, for example, a lawyer of pre-eminent talent, whose moral character was at once pitiable and detestable. He has known a preacher of great eloquence and no little ingenuity, who was false, dishonest, and unclean. And he has read in Milton's works, of one Satan, who was most unquestionably talented, but yet his moral character was "no better than it should be."

Just so of Lola Montez—somewhat so of Tom Paine—and a little so of the New York Herald.

Lola has talent, so much of it, and such talent, that we think no other "woman of the age" has the like; and pray that if any should have, in our "age," she may not live in our street. But then her character, don't mention it—"a rose by any other name would smell as sweet."

Thomas Paine, unquestionably an able writer,—really a useful one in the early days of the American Revolution, when his "Common Sense" roused up thought, and stirred up the people to strike for liberty—yet lived to write himself down, in his "Age of Reason," in which, while he showed his enmity and contempt toward the scriptures, he showed his ignorance of them, and gross ideas of religion in general. This poor man's character, going from bad to worse, landed him in a condition of misery, out of which the drunkard's death was a deliverance, and his grave a refuge.

And then, as to the New York Herald, it is surely a paper of great tact, some ability, and some influence. So much for its talent. But as to its character, not to be personal, let us say, it is just the paper to make a sweeping attack upon the clergy in a body, as unjust as it is indiscriminating—an attack upon Sunday services worthy of "an outside observer," but not worthy of any body else—and (to come down from the sublime to the ridiculous,) it is just the paper to compare the utility of a sermon with that of a walk, in the manner of the extract above quoted. Why, says Uncle Toby, does not the man ask, whether an over-coat will do as much good as a week's board, or a railroad ticket to New York?

Raiment is good, food is good, and travel is good, to those who need them. Sermons and walks are both good, in their places.—But no one of them is to be made good or bad by comparison with another. Nor will any amount of invective against the clergy, make the Sabbath any less a blessing—nor any amount of whitewash render fragrant the memory of poor Paine, or sweeten the temper and chasten the passions of Lola Montez.

LOST MONEY RECOVERED.—Several weeks since, notice was given that a package of money, consisting of $3200 in bills of the Carroll County Bank, had been lost between Wolfborough Bridge and Sandwich, and a reward of $100 was offered for its recovery. The money had been brought from the Suffolk Bank, Boston, by Niles's Express, and delivered to David Lawrence, the express man between Dover and Alton. At Alton Mr. Lawrence delivered the package to Joseph W. Wiggin, then driving the stage from that place to Wolfborough Bridge. At the latter place, according to the explanation given, Wiggin transferred the package to Mr. Rogers, stage-driver on the Sandwich route. On arriving at Sandwich, Mr. R. discovered the loss of the money. His account of it was that Wiggin placed the package in his (Rogers's) breast pocket, and buttoned the inside coat and surtout over it. Whether the package was in reality delivered to Rogers, was doubted by the friends of the latter. Both persons, however, were closely watched.

No clue to the affair was obtained, until a few days since, when Mr. Wiggin paid a bill in Dover amounting to $40. All the notes being on the Bay State Bank, of Lawrence, an investigation was set on foot, which revealed the fact that Wiggin had exchanged $200 of the Carroll County Bank for an equal amount of Bay State Bank money. It was subsequently ascertained that Carroll County Bank bills to the amount of $300 had been exchanged at another bank in Lawrence, and at Portsmouth.

These circumstances led to the arrest of Wiggin, who, on learning what had been discovered of his movements, confessed the crime and promised to make restitution.—According to his story, two other persons were engaged in the affair, one of whom was to take the money and drop it in the road, another was to find it, and the three were to divide the plunder between them. About $2300 of the money, we understand, has been recovered, and the balance secured—a fortunate circumstance for Mr. Lawrence, upon whom the loss would have fallen.

GERRYMERS IN PORTLAND.—The Portland Advertiser says: "Mr. James P. Slade, of the firm of Grant & Slade, was passing up Congress street on Saturday night, a little past 12 o'clock, and when opposite the Union church, he was met by three men, whose faces were concealed by masks.—One of the three approached Mr. Slade, and suddenly, with a knife or dirk, stabbed him in the chest, cutting through his clothing and inflicting a slight wound in his flesh. Mr. Slade immediately attacked his assailant, and kicked him violently, when the other two men threw a small cord or strap over his head, and drew it tight around his neck until he was choked, when they rifled his pocket of his wallet, containing about $20, with which they all immediately decamped."

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.—The House Kansas Committee met to-night. Mr. Morrell offered a resolution summoning Walker, Calhoun, Stanton, and Henderson for examination, and requiring them to bring all documents in their possession bearing upon the subject matter of investigation. To this it was objected that official documents being from the executive department, oral testimony might be necessary. The resolution, together with four or five others looking to an examination of all matters covered by the resolution under which the committee was appointed, was tabled by eight against seven.

The investigating committee, then, by a majority of one, vote not to investigate.—This committee was made thus, by the dictum of the Speaker,—a new illustration, we suppose, of the "great doctrine of popular sovereignty."

A MISSION TO WASHINGTON.—We hear that Hon. B. F. Butler of Lowell, a Director of Middlesex (Lowell) Mills, has left for Washington. One object of his journey, it is said, is to ascertain, if possible, what has become of that $87,000 fund of Lawrence, Stone & Co. If it was not paid to Members of Congress, as is now asserted, Mr. Butler, in behalf of the stockholders of the mills which he represents, would like to know how it was disposed of.—Trav.

Exactly so, and these stockholders have the right to know, which Congress has not.

☞ Napoleon P. Bryant, of Concord, will address the Republicans of Exeter on Saturday next. The Town Committee of Exeter are active in their efforts to carry the town for the Republicans by an increased majority.

CONGRESS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 17.

SENATE.—Mr. Chandler presented the resolution of the Legislature of Michigan in opposition to the admission of any more Slave States, and against the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Houston's resolution, presented yesterday, in relation to a protectorate over Central America and Mexico, was then taken up.

Mr. Wilson thought it an extraordinary propositition, calculated to foster the spirit of fillibusterism, and disgrace us in the eyes of the civilized world.

Mr. Houston stated that it was not a proposition to extend our dominions, but simply to benefit our neighbors. He was opposed to fillibusterisms, but thought the subject worthy of consideration, especially as other powers have designs upon Central America.

Mr. Mason objected to the reference, because the Central American States would justly regard such a reference as an indignity. Although weak, they are sovereign, independent States, with whom we have treaties, and therefore should be regarded as political equals. He doubted the policy of establishing a protectorate anywhere.

Mr. Hale offered as amendment, that, whereas, a state of colonial dependence is not calculated to illustriate the theory and practice of popular sovereignty, and perfect freedom; therefore the Committee on Foreign Relations are also instructed to inquire with regard to Canada and other British Possession on the American Continent.

Mr. Toombs advocated the resolution. He said the time for action was not distant, and it had better be considered now.

Mr. Mason moved to lay the resolution on the table, which was agreed to.

The Army bill was then taken up.

Mr. Johnson of Tennessee submitted a substitute, which Mr. Wilson accepted instead of his own amendment, providing for four thousand volunteers to serve only during the present troubles.

Mr. Johnson said that he offered the amendment because he believed that it reflected the views of the Administration. The bill which was reported by the Military Committee did not represent the wishes of the Administration, which had not asked for a permanent increase to the standing army.

Without taking action, the Senate adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House passed the resolution of the Committee on Elections in the Maryland case, declaring it inexpedient to grant Mr. Brooks's prayer for a special committee to take testimony.

The House went into committee of the Whole on the Indian Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Atkins made a speech favoring the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Lovejoy argued that the conflict is not between the North and South, but between freedom and slavery, and between the principles of liberty and despotism.—He said the President and the Jesuit Chief Justice are endeavoring to nationalize slavery, and are calling the Democracy to the temple of this demon to worship; and the foul and impious argument that human beings are property, was rank and foul treason against God and his anointed.

The Committee then rose and the House adjourned.

☞ One of the latest items from Washington, Feb. 17, says:

The Senate Committee on Territories met yesterday and adjourned till to-morrow, to compare the three reports now preparing, with the understanding that they should report next Monday. Subsequently a notice was served on Judge Douglas by Mr. Green, to the effect that the majority of the committee had decided that the meeting to-morrow should be final, and that the reports should be made accordingly.

Neither Wade nor Collamer were informed of the alteration in the purposes of the Lecomptonites. It is understood that the statement concerning the Lecompton Convention and Constitution has been submitted to the majority of the committee by Gen. Calhoun, but has not been laid before the committee itself, which is an unprecedented suppression. This excites much indignation where known.

HARVARD COLLEGE.—On Tuesday, in convention, the Massachusetts Legislature filled five vacancies in the Board of Overseers of Harvard College, by the choice of the following gentlemen :—

Daniel W. Alvord of Greenland, (Cong. Orthodox.) Rev. Baron Stow of Boston, (Baptist.) Rev. Thomas B. Thayer of Boston, (Universalist.) Stephen M. Weld of West Roxbury, (Unitarian.) John G. Whittier of Amesbury, (Friend.)

RETURN OF A JAIL BREAKER.—Officer Jellison returned from New York to Boston on Thursday morning, having in custody a man named Timothy Perkins, who with one Rogers escaped from jail in Dover, N. H., a short time since. Perkins was confined for burglary. At the time of his escape the jailer was knocked down, robbed, his hands and feet were tied, his mouth gagged—a condition that rendered him powerless. The rogue was taken to Dover, Thursday.

☞ In Cornish, N. H., on the 8th inst., Arthur M. Wyman, a lad of 13 years, son of Milton Wyman, was coasting with another lad, when they lost control of the sled, which ran against a heap of frozen manure, breaking the sled into splinters, one of which entered young Wyman's body, causing death in a few hours.

☞ Mr. L. G. Eldridge, who was found dead in his bed at St. Louis, on the morning of the 3d inst., was a former resident of Maine, and well known throughout the State. He was 38 years of age, and died in an apoplectic fit.

He had travelled all over New England, as a collector for Newspapers.

SUFFOCATED.—J. Edward Barnes, Superintendent of the Little Schuylkill Railroad, Tamqua, Pa., and Duncan Weir, Mine Agent, were suffocated by the gas in the coal mines in that place, on Monday, 15th inst. Their bodies were recovered at midnight.

TRIUMPHANT SUCCESS OF

JOYFUL INTELLIGENCE!

Another life saved after the Doctors could do no more!

BATH, ME., Feb. 21, 1845.

DR. BRADLEY—Dear Sir—I take pleasure in giving you a statement of the beneficial effects of Buchan's Hungarian Balsam, on my daughter, who had been for a number of years afflicted with a bad Cough, Pain in the Side, Raising Blood, and all those pains and troubles which attend that insidious disease, CONSUMPTION. I employed several distinguished physicians at great expense, who after numerous visits, and many experiments, finally declared that

THEY COULD DO NO MORE!

I was then advised by a friend to try Buchan's Hungarian Balsam. I did so, and the result has been most astonishing. My daughter is ENTIRELY CURED, and is now attending to her accustomed duties. I paid $200 for Physicians and Medicine, without any sort of benefit, while $6 worth of Hungarian Balsam has removed the disease, restored the strength, and brought on a healthy action. I am gratefully yours, JOHN YOUNG

NEW HAVEN, JAN. 16, 1852.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is as much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries have to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have to be signed by R. and not have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

THERE IS NO REMEDY

Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is compounded with the utmost care, and is fast winning its way, on the wings of friendship, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There is to be a meeting for Prayer and Conference in the brick Vestry on Fleet street, at 7 o'clock this evening.

There will be a meeting for Prayer and Conference, in the Chapel of the Middle Street Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

There is to be a Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

The Examinations by the School Committee of District No. 2 will continue today, and be conducted in the following order —

Friday A. M.—Mr. Durgin's, Miss Ham's.
P. M.—Miss Hill's.
Saturday A. M.—Miss Clapham's.

It is hoped that as many of the parents as can make it convenient, will attend.

The Granite State Bards gave a good Concert, on Tuesday evening—to a large and appreciating audience. The hoarseness of one of their most prominent members, somewhat detracted from a part of the performance; but the programme was gone through with in good style. The whole was well received—solos, duetts and choruses,—plaintive, descriptive, and comic—and the entertainment was one of the most pleasant of the season. We might particularize some peices—but of course, those who feel interested in our home singing, were there.

The stage was very uniquely and tastefully decorated—reminding us of the floral concerts of days gone by.

The Bards sang again on Thursday evening, with varied programme—for the benefit of the Howard Benevolent Society.—Though their receipts were not very large, their effort speaks more for their liberality and public spirit, than for that of the public.

"Examine First."—Messrs. Editors:—We have seen a letter written a few days since by Rev. John Hobart, stating that he would like to hold a discussion in this place within a few weeks, with some clergyman or scientific man, on Spiritualism—its harmony with the Bible, Christianity, &c.,—he assuming the Spiritual side of the controversy.

Mr. Hobart was a talented and esteemed minister of the Methodist Church, from which he withdrew a few months since, solely because he had embraced Spiritualism, and deemed it his duty to labor for its advancement. If any of our clergy or others wish to have this matter discussed thoroughly and candidly, before the people, they will find in Mr. Hobart, we have reason to believe, a foeman worthy of their steel. We hope some one will come forward, so that the public may have this theory ably presented from every point of view.

Communications left at the Post Office, addressed "W.," will be promptly attended to. Truth-Seeker.

☞ S. B. Weston, Esq., editor of the Temperance Visitor, will lecture on Temperance next Sunday evening, in this city, either in the Temple, or in the Old South Church. A collection will be taken.

☞ Mr. Nowell's Writing School commences this evening, over Mr. Fonda's store in Market street. All wishing to improve their hand-writing, will find this a good opportunity—and Mr. N. being a well known resident of our city, may be depended upon as a responsible and capable gentleman.

☞ From Charles C. Harvey's extensive stock of new Music, we have a new and pleasing song, "The friends my heart holds dear,"—written by Mrs. N. P. Lasselle, music by F. W. Smith.

☞ It will be seen that Mr. Thomas Neil has removed his Insurance Business from the Chronicle Counting Room, to his new Flour Store, No. 83 Market Street.—We are sorry to lose so pleasant a neighbor: but hope the change may be for his advantage.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for March is promptly on hand, from John J. Dyer & Co., 35 School street, Boston. Though only $2 a year, it is better than many higher priced magazines. Mr. Morse has it.

Louisville, Ky., Feb. 15.—The Northern Bank of Kentucky and Bank of Louisville have been re-chartered by the Legislature for 20 years.

A private dispatch says that N. B. Van Tugle, who kidnapped two free negroes at Geneva, N. Y., and sold one as a slave in this State, has been arrested in New Orleans, and awaits a requisition from the Governor of Kentucky.

A Card.—Not in form merely, but with deep gratitude, would the subscribers return thanks to those "friends indeed," who, by their great exertions on the night of the 17th inst., rescued from the flames several hundred dollars' worth of goods—thus much lessening our loss.

Moses & Downie.

Card.—E. M. Brown & Co. would acknowledge the very efficient services of Engine Co. 4 and 5, in the protection of their property at the fire on the eve of the 17th — for which we return them our warmest thanks; and also to the Fire Department as a whole, who did most nobly sustain their already high reputation.

E. M. Brown & Co.

A Card.—The officers and members of Gov. Langdon Engine Co. No. 3 take this opportunity of returning their sincere thanks to Mr. Aaron Mudge for that bountiful collation furnished them at the fire on Wednesday night last.

Also to Messrs. James M. Goodrich and John E. Rider, for their timely refreshments, all of which were A No. one.

Not forgetting the valuable services of the volunteers.

Per order of the Company.
Wm. H. Cornelius, Foreman.

Engine Co. No. 5 tender their sincere thanks to Messrs. Moses & Downie and E. M. Brown & Co., for refreshments so readily furnished after the Fire on the night of the 17th. Benj. F. Webster,

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive apparatus, and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and are frequently those Pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice:

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your PILLS are the prince of purgas. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Bell, of New York City.

"Not only are your PILLS admirably adapted to their purpose, as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice proved more effectual for the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I am acquainted with. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Bond, of St. Louis.

"The PILLS you were kind enough to send me, have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the diseases of the digestive system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be the best cathartic all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DYSENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. G. Green, of Chicago.

"Your PILLS have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best cathartics I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mr. R. Shoot, who specifies as a Physician and Midwife to Nassau.

"I find one or two large doses of your PILLS, taken at the proper time, are excellent promoters of the natural menstrum when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual in expelling the obstructions which occur from this so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your PILLS for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your PILLS effect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rachel Hall, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your PILLS purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and upon with your statements of their efficacy. They eradicate the cutaneous eruptions, and the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering disease. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS—FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Bond, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot express to you what complaints I have cured with your PILLS better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily practice of medicine, and believing as I do that your PILLS afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences that frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every ounce of it under his own eye with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the purest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. At time when the public need a medicine they know, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of European kings. Throughout this entire country, in every town, village, and almost every hamlet it contains, CHERRY PECTORAL is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. It knows, that any deposence on what men of every station certify it has done for them: if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the testimony of intelligent physicians, whose business it is know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then is it irrefutably proven that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, beyond any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior preparations have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too well known to be forgotten.

See circular and the following.

Dover, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we have compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every town has one or two old dames to have produced their or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $3 size. Yours truly,
DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been partially or almost entirely bald, and some of it had scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but our surprise and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SAMUEL S. STONEBURNER.

GARDNER, Mo., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. I can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in a perfectly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the decisions of Judge Grier and Judge Sprague show the legality of the same. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. Money for tickets sent we have the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after each drawing in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by the State of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day throughout the year, Sundays excepted, as named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $10 to $25. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Maryland plan) and are simplicity combination. Prizes vary in amount from $50 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing forwarded to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

A PROCLAMATION
TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and deserved RENOWN HERETOFORE, to sell, whether MAIDS, WIVES, or WIDOWS, that DR. CHESEMAN'S FEMALE PILLS are almost the certain panacea for all the troubles incident to female disorganization; they ALONE correcting all the painful menstruation, assuaging palpitations of the heart, disturbed sleep, pain in the side, and causing health and happiness to whole families more especially to the MARRIED PORTION, as they are certain to bring on the monthly period with regularity.—THEREFORE, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mineral, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to offer the objects already detailed. THEREFORE, as it is known, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, the manufacturers have been experienced under the regime of DR. CHESEMAN, and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit—always provided that said Proclamation in one case must be considered PILL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when in a state of an immature GESTATION, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

Explicit directions, to be carefully read, accompany each box: Price $1. Sent by mail on receipt of $1 to Dr. CHESEMAN L. CHESEMAN, Box No. 4,531, Post Office, New York City. Sold by Druggists throughout towns in the United States.

Given under my hand and seal.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,
—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and round. Their action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being made of the same, with banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, in every respect, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms and Manufactory, examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We would still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	W. F. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money, if desired, we wishing it only special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rental.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

☞ The Dublin University Magazine, commenting upon the lives of the royal and imperial wives of France, states that there are but thirteen out of sixty-seven, on whose memory there is no dark stain of sorrow, or of sin. An exchange, in summing up the statement, says:—

Of the others, eleven were divorced; two died by the executioner; nine died very young; seven were soon widowed; three were cruelly traduced; three were exiled; thirteen were bad in different degrees of evil; the prisoners and the heart-broken made up the remainder. Twenty who were buried at St. Denis since the time of Charlemagne, were denied the rest of the grave; their remains were dragged from the tomb, exposed to the insults of the revolutionary populace, and then flung into a trench, and covered with quicklime."

SAM SLICK AMONG THE BLUE NOSES.—Last week we saw in the cars between Bangor and Portland, a lad about fifteen years of age, who stated that he shipped in June last at Portsmouth, N. H., on board the brig Lion, owned in the British Provinces. He remained on board of her till last month, when he was paid off and discharged, receiving as the principal part of his pay, what was represented to him to be a fifty dollar bill, on one of our U. S. banks. He walked from St. John most of the way to the State line, and did not show his fifty dollar bill until he was within our State. It proves, however, to be an advertising note, of "Lyon's Kathairon."—The boy's friends live in Portsmouth, N. H., and all to whom he has told his story, advise him to "catch and cage," not only the 'Lion,' but her captain also—which he has resolved to do.

We wish our legislature would suitably punish, not only the attempt to pass such imitations of bank bills, but also the issuing of them by any person in our State.—Portland Adv.

BRUTAL ASSAULT UPON A WIFE.—William Moran, an Irishman, living on Washington street, while in a state of drunkenness on Sunday evening, quarrelled with his wife, who was also drunk, and beat her in the most cruel and shocking manner. After inflicting a severe wound upon her head, knocking out her teeth, cutting open her lips, and blinding her eyes by heavy blows, he continued to beat her until her face was perfectly black, while blood flowed from her ears and mouth, and her body presented a mass of bruises from her neck to her feet. He then dragged her out of the house, about midnight, and left her lying insensible upon the snow, where she remained until morning. Having partially recovered from his frenzy, about six o'clock, Moran called upon a neighbor to assist him in getting the woman into the house, when she was found to be badly frozen and nearly lifeless. Medical attendance was procured, and the unfortunate woman was living last night, with a possible chance of final recovery.—Portland Advertiser.

THE DEATH OF LABLACHE, we learn from foreign papers, was very unexpected; so much so, that, notwithstanding his illness, his name had been advertised in the prospectus of the French Italian Opera for the present season, and his aid was expected in the opening of the new London Opera House, in Bow street. The suddenness of the news of his death evidently took the London Times unawares, for, although that paper usually has original obituary notices prepared long in advance, yet we find that the biographical sketch in the Times of Jan. 29th is merely a translation from the "Biographie des Musiciens," of Fetis—errors included. Some of these errors were corrected next day, by a correspondent. Rather loose, for the Thunderer.—Boston Courier.

GOOD.—The London Star commences a leader thus: "The Moniteur is to the French what Coke, Hale and Blackstone are to the English—the repository of the constitutional law of the country. Englishmen look back into the folios of centuries to find what the sovereign power can or cannot do. Frenchmen, to discover what it will do, look forward to the official sheet of the morrow. Such a hand-to-mouth system may have its charms, like prairie camp life; only it does not suit the settled habits of a people who have Alfred and Milton for their fathers."

☞ Joseph Wiggin, stable keeper in Dover, has been arrested for purloining $3200 in bills on the Carroll County Bank, which had been entrusted by the Suffolk Bank to the care of David Lawrence, expressman. Wiggin exchanged $200 of the money for bills on the Bay State Bank, Lawrence, which led to the detection.

FUGITIVES.—A boat belonging to the Sand Key (Florida) lighthouse was stolen on the night of the 6th, and a party of fourteen slaves escaped in her, proceeding, it is supposed, to Nassau, N. P. Vessels sent in search have returned, discovering no trace of the fugitives.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentous agent.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

POPULAR SUPERSTITIONS.

Among all the recent discoveries, modern Spiritualism seems to some minds to be the most absurd. But the idea of communicating with the spirits of the departed, or calling them back from the other world, is of very ancient date. The ancient magicians, by pouring incense into fire and producing a smoky cloud, called up departed human beings and demons, to the great alarm and wonder of the superstitious. The magic lantern was probably an instrument to deceive the ignorant. In all ages of the world, superstitions have been the most prevalent, where the people have been the most ignorant. Impostors can there practice their arts of necromancy, jugglery, etc. more successfully.

Dr. Johnston, in his book upon "the Chemistry of Common life," published in 1854, (probably the most valuable work ever published upon the subject,) gives an account of the effects of the red-thorn apple upon the Indians of the Andes. From the fruit, the Indians prepare, he says, a strong narcotic drink, which they call tonga. "By its use, they believe that they are brought into communication with the spirits of their forefathers." In former times, he says, the Indian priests, when they pretended to transport themselves into the presence of their deities, drank the juice of this thorn-apple, in order to excite themselves to a state of ecstacy. And although the establishment of Christianity has weaned the Indians from their idolatry, it has not yet banished their old superstions. They still believe that they can hold communication with the spirits of their ancestors."

The same, or a similar fruit, was used at the Delphic temple in ancient Greece, to produce some frenzied ravings which were then called prophecies. The learned author states that a decoction of a similar plant calls up to the presence of the Indian of Peru, the spirits of his ancestors; he converses with them; and when the effects of the drug have disappeared, he relates these imaginary conversations to his neighbors, believing them to be real; and what is stranger still, they are listened to with an equal faith in their reality."

While we marvel at the ignorance and superstition of the unlettered Indians, and of many heathen tribes and nations, there are thousands in our own land laboring under similar delusions. A monomaniac in respect to modern Spiritualism, professes to believe, and perhaps does believe, that he can converse with the spirit of a near and dear deceased relative! Again, we have among us hundreds, perhaps thousands of professed "mediums," who by putting themselves into a sort of trance, but without the decoction of the fruit of the "red thorn-apple,," pretend to be the interpreters of language between the living and the dead. The living person puts his questions. The called-up spirit of the deceased answers by rappings! The inspired or rather transified medium translates the rappings into language! Therefore the medium, if an impostor, can give such ideas to the rappings as may suit the purpose or occasion. The pretended answers of the spirit being often untrue, is a strong evidence of the imposition. We believe that a disembodied spirit is an essence—an immaterial substance—invisible to the human eye; we know that the hands and organs of speech were deposited in the silent tomb. It would, therefore, seem to be impossible that the spirit could either rap or speak. We can hardly believe these mediums, especially such characters as they often are, have delegated power from the Almighty to perform miracles, or to call spirits from the dead. The day of miracles has passed.

It is often said the witch of Endor called up Samuel. This was a miracle, but not performed by the professed witch—for it appears that she she was greatly agitated or alarmed, but she would not have been, had she power to perform the miracle. There were witches, so called, in ancient as in modern times, pretending to perform wonders, miracles, etc. Under the Jewish laws, the penalty of death was denounced against them. Such were the gross superstitions and general state of ignorance not many years ago, among the nations of Europe, that under the general belief that witches were dangerous, and that they could hold communion with Devils and departed evil spirits, thousands upon thousands of the deluded creatures were executed. Although the spiritual mediums of the present day may be as guilty—doing perhaps more injury to society than the witches of old, instead of inflicting punishment, we would leave them to the reprobation of enlightened public opinion.

To justify our incredulity, it is not necessary that we should explain the way and manner in which the medium, or the juggler and necromancer perform their tricks. But it need not be doubted that the rappings may be caused in different ways by human skill and ingenuity. Some conjecture that since the wonderful discovery of the telegram, the same electric fluid is used to cause the rappings. It may be so, or they may be caused by simple machinery in a small box secreted in the clothing of the medium, and put in motion by touching a secret spring. The idea that a spirit called from the dead raps, is preposterous. The moving of tables, or other articles of furniture, is caused by human agency

Science and philosophy teach that a table or inert matter cannot move without the application of force, or some external agency. No electric or other fluid passing from human hands can give mobility to a table or chair. But many of the published reports of the wonderful transactions, vouched with the names of persons present, are fictitious, and intended to deceive the credulous. Modern Spiritualism, having no good results, does a positive injury to society, and sometimes produces insanity.—When a credulous inquirer is informed that a near and dear relative is suffering endless punishment, dreadful must be the effect on his mind. The Roman Catholic priests, holding to a purgatory, extort large sums of money from the living by their mass prayers, which they pretend can remove the spirits of the deceased from that place of torment. The most effectual way to put an end to the popular superstitions of the day, is to enlighten the public mind. Men of science and literary acquirements may deem such superstitions too absurd to require refutation or claim their attention. But under the high command to love their fellow-beings, is it not their moral duty to use their efforts to expose the fallacy of such superstitious notions as are contrary to the immutable laws of nature, and the teachings of the christian religion?

AMICUS.

THE NEW HAVEN INVESTIGATION.—In New Haven on Tuesday, Chief Justice Storrs decided that W. H. Anderson, the student who was under arrest for contempt of court, in refusing to answer certain questions before the court of inquiry, relative to the recent fracas between the students and firemen, could not be compelled to give answers which would tend to criminate himself. The Judge declared that the privilege of a witness which excuses him from giving testimony which may tend to criminate himself, is sacred; wherever the English common law prevails, it is jealously guarded.

A CASE IN POINT.—Mr. Prince, of Essex, in the Massachusetts Senate on Saturday, in the discussion on the Witness Bill, remarked that Mr. Wolcott, recently before the Investigating Committee at Washington, might speedily relieve himself from his unpleasant predicament by simply professing to have philosophic doubts as to the existence of a God. According to the existing rule of law in our courts, the acknowledgement of a doubt, merely, on that point, would exclude a person from the witness stand, and thereby defeat the ends of justice.

SUPREME COURT, MERRIMACK COUNTY.—The Concord Patriot of the 17th says:—

The trial term of this Court closed on Wednesday of last week, having done little business. The criminal cases tried were—State v. Edwid Keniston, (stealing a watch,) which resulted in a verdict of guilty. State v. James M. Gilman, (for stealing sheep.) the jury did not agree.—State v. the same, (for maliciously maiming a sheep,) resulted in a conviction.—Warren Dwinnells retracted his first plea, and plead guilty to the charge of theft.—These three were sentenced to the State Prison for three years each. The liquor indictments were all "arranged," but the county treasury will not be greatly relieved thereby!

By this latter sentence, we suppose the defendants compromised and begged off, with promises not to sell again. But as we do not know, we hope some one may inform us.

☞ The Twenty-Second of February will be extensively celebrated throughout the country, as the papers contain notices of various celebrations of the day. It is a legal holiday in Massachusetts, and the banks, insurance offices, etc., will be closed. Notes due in Mass. that day must of course be paid to-day. The Warren street Chapel Festival at the Music Hall, Boston, will be a grand affair, as it will continue through the day and evening. In New York, Rembrandt Peale will lecture before the Historical Society on the subject of "Washington and his Portraits."

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, Feb. 18.

SENATE.—Mr. Green, from the Committee on Territories, reported a bill for the admission of Kansas, submitting therewith a long report, which was not read.

Messrs. Douglas and Collamer severally presented minority reports.

The reports were all ordered to be referred.

Mr. Green gave notice that he should call up the matter at an early day.

The Army bill was taken up, and the 4th section of the original bill stricken out by a vote of 24 to 23.

Mr. Wilson offered an amendment, to the effect that a reduction, at the end of two years, shall not operate on any officer at the date of the approval of this act, which was adopted.

Mr. Iverson (of Ga.) contended that the bill reported by the Military Committee was more accordant with the views of the administration than Mr. Johnson's substitute.

Mr. Hamlin (of Me.) submitted a motion that in no case shall the force created by this act continue over two years, which was agreed to.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. Shorter of Alabama spoke on the Kansas question, and said that all the Southern States were now united on the Georgia platform, and pledged to resist, even to a dissolution of the Union, the refusal of Congress to admit Kansas because of the existence of slavery there.

Mr. Shorter expressed surprise that Mr. Douglas had abandoned the principles of the Nebraska bill, fleeing before the first gun fired; and, like the Parthian, throwing poisoned arrows before him. He contended that it was never intended to make Kansas a slave State. The five Governors sent there were all Free Soilers, including the traitor Walker. It had been said that the admission of Kansas would light the flames of civil war. If so, let it come.—Let the flames rise even heaven-high. If the South remain in the Union on terms of inequality with the North, under such circumstances, the Southerners would not be a brave and gallant people, but were captives chained to the victorious car of the North. He would rather be a vassal of old than New England. The word "compromise" was offensive to him—he would make it a penal offence for a southerner to uset it. It was suggestive to his mind of surrender, and base submission. Is sounded, in the words of McDuffie, like the bugle blast of a robber band.

Mr. Shorter continued at some length, in a similar strain, closing as follows: The religion of Plymouth Rock is intolerance, bigotry, and fanaticism. Northern clergymen violated the seventh commandment after evening lectures, and when their crimes were exposed, were courted and feted by the fair sex.

[Brother Shorter's exhortation is certainly remarkable rather than admirable. Nevertheless, it is a fair sample of fire-eaters' law, logic, and veracity.]

Mr. Zollicoffer (of Penn.) made a personal explanation in reference to Mr. Hatch's speech of yesterday.

In the course of Mr. Z.'s remarks he stated that Mr. Hatch, in his speech, had uttered a falsehood, with which he (Zollicoffer) now branded him, and took the responsibility.

Mr. Hatch (of N. Y.) was not present.

Mr. Tompkins (of Ohio) made a speech in opposition to the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Clemens of Virginia argued the legality of the Lecompton Constitution, contending that it was not necessary to submit it to the approval of the people. The President had performed his duty fearlessly and manfully.

Mr. Burroughs of New York got the floor, and the House adjourned.

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 18.—The Kickapoo correspondent of the Republican says that on the night of the 6th, a party, headed by Charles Leunare, burned the offices of Mr. Boyd, lawyer, and Mr. Davis, physician, and destroyed all their property. Messrs. Boyd, Davis, Kelly, Laughlin, Lynch, and many others, had fled to Missouri. Much excitment existed.

[The St. Louis Republican is bad authority for such a statement,—and its Kickapoo correspondent is worse, if possible.]

The Committee of Investigation into the Election frauds, had discharged their duty. Report says that Gov. Denver had issued a requisition upon the Governors of ahree States for the person of Henderson.

The Legislature adjourned on the 13th.

Gen. Denver had failed to approve of the Constitutional Convention bill.

Parties arrived from Fort Scott, say that men were moving about in that vicinity, but no fights were reported.

KANSAS.—A despatch from Kansas says that the House has almost unanimously passed a bill declaring any endeavor to put the Lecompton Constitution in force, to be a felony, punishable with death. The Constitutional Convention bill has passed.

Last Saturday the Middlesex Company received an order for 50 cases Doeskins, (10,000 yards) which was filled and the goods sent off the same day. This morning they received another order for 18 cases, (3,600 yards) which are to be sent away to-day. These cloths bring a dollar a yard, and are sent to Southern markets.—Lowell Courier, 15th.

☞ A large barn in New Ipswich, N. H., owned by J. P. & P. Clark, was burned on Sunday night. The fire was the work of an incendiary.

DYSPEPSIA AND JAUNDICE.

New Haven, Jan. 16, 1852.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.

Yours, in Friendship, Love, and Truth,

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS, living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Such Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Courts to be other Lotteries which pu port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

MR. SHILLABER'S POEM.

At the Mercantile Lyceum, Tuesday evening, Mr. Shillaber prefaced his Poem with a brief but neat and touching address to his old fellow citizens—to his first and never-to-be-forgotten home. It contained a feeling allusion to one, whose abilities and worth we are all proud to do honor—and whose general appreciation by his fellow citizens was evinced by the cordial encore which the reference to him brought out. We regret that Mr. Shillaber's modesty refused to allow him to put this address in the way of our readers—all of whom, we know, would read it heart-ily. The following lines, however,—taken from the midst of beauties thickly strown throughout his Poem—will be valued for themselves, their author, and their local interest:

I see the mill-pond's blue and rippling tide,
And the old grave-yard sleeping by its side,
The ropewalk with its mystic wheels and cranks,
The pendant willows by the sloping banks,
The ancient mill with its industrious note,
The boats and boys upon the stream afloat,
The "gates" that open with the water's flow,
The busy skaters dashing to and fro,
The ruddy fires that flash their cheerful light
Amid the frolic of the winter night,
Fed by a fuel that, with spite prepense,
Some call the glaring fruits of young of-FENCE;
And mingled with the whole, come sweeping near,
The tones that once my boyhood loved to hear;
I listen,and my ear detects the swell,
In distant murmurs, of the Old North Bell,
That breathes a welcome with its mellow tongue
And makes me hopeful once again and young.
Oh, how the years have sped upon their way,
Since that bright moment of my life's young day,
When, just awakening its notes to feel,
The Old North Bell made many a loud APPEAL—
Telling of woe and sorrow, dark and dire,
Town Meetings, Independence Day, and Fire,
Waking the people at the morning light,
And warning them to bed again at night,
Calling them home to noon's substantial dish,
The peal most welcome that the heart could wish.—
Alas! the boy is changed, and here and there
Creep in the silver threads among his hair;
And like the bell about which he has sung,
'Twill not be long ere he must hold his tongue.
Dear friends, forgive your speaker's dreamy whim,
For that old past is very dear to him;
And if forbid, like Lot, to turn or halt,
He'd choose his LOT at once, and turn to salt!

Mr. Shillaber closed as follows:

Kind friends, who've followed me with patient ear,
I close my lesson, wearisome I fear,—
Yet here and there, among its leaves and grass,
A flower or two you may have chanced to pass;
And if remembered, keep them in your breast,
That best herbarium, 'neath your spacious vest.
I leave with you my blessing, and the wish
That life's best fruitage e'er may crown your dish,
And, if from this, my task, I bear away
Your favoring smile's invigorating ray,
'T will cheer a heart that, howsofar it roam,
Loves the approval best it finds AT HOME.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.
LAUNCH OF THE LEVIATHAN.

NEW YORK, Feb. 19.— The Collins steamship Baltic, Comstock, came up this morning. She left Liverpool at 2.30 o'clock on Saturday, 3d inst. John M. Botts is a passenger, Mahommed Pascha did not take passage in her.

The steamship Leviathan was successfully floated in the Thames on Sunday, the 31st ult. Arrangements had been perfected to complete the launch on the day previous, but the prevalence of a heavy gale rendered the postponement imperative, and Sunday proving most auspicious, it was determined to proceed with the operations, rather than encounter the risk which further delay would have entailed. The final floating of the great ship was effected with perfect ease, and no accident of any kind occurred, although the river was literally covered with boats full of people, and the timbers forming the cradles, which had been kept down by the weight of the vessel, ascended with great force some twenty or thirty feet above the surface of the water.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28.—Jack Henderson, clerk of the Surveyor General, and Mr. Marshal, the pro-slavery Governor elect of Kansas, have both arrived here.

Mr. Winston has been appointed Marshal of Kansas. He is the same person who was some time ago appointed Indian Agent of that Territory, and afterwards removed.

SOUTHERN STEAMSHIP CONVENTION.—Richmond, Va., Feb. 18.—The Southern Steamship Convention met here last night. Ten Railroad Companies were represented. Hon. W. B. Preston addressed the meeting in relation to the preliminary contract for the New Orleans, Railway, of which half the capital is to be furnished by each party. Two steamers are to be built in Norfolk and two in France, and the capital stock of the Company is to be $3,000,000.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ The Marseilles journals announce the death in that city of a woman named Noggy, aged 103. The Naples journals also note the death in that city of a woman named Bassama, who had attained the age of 113. The Moniteur publishes a decree raising the salaries of the French bishops from 12,000 to 15,000 francs a year, from the beginning of the present year.

☞ It is a very singular fact, that the assassin Orsini and his intended victim, Napoleon III., were, in 1831, brother members of a society called Carbonari, which held its meetings at Forli, in the Roman States, where the eldest son of the King of Holland died.

"SUCH PEOPLE."—Mr. Toombs thinks that there ought to be no "such people" as the reporters, allowed in Congress. Let all the reporters agree that for the rest of the session they will not once name this lofty and contemptuous Senator, and he will be very glad to recognize "such people." It is of "such people" as him that the reporters make great men, and sometimes the very indifferent quality of the stock requires great skill in the manufacture.—Providence Journal.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures much dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health nourises anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again: see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores, which stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he has been been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and cheek, its restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sickness, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—they will come out from the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—six boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and family, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Hoarseness has settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dark white pallor of his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL its imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. It does much, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable disease. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. Ayer, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that today we are compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from home. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces me that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; yours very resply,

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been partially covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his suffering, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, it worked wonders, healing rapidly the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and raising the hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world with the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully,

O. J. WOOD & CO., 312 Broadway, N. Y., (in Great N. Y. Wire Railing Establishment) and 114 Market street, Cincinnati, O.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by a Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every day throughout the year, all mail orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; half-quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle, and on the same plan as Gift Enterprises, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount of prize to be paid, is published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New Orleans Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia.

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m18ly

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which Messrs. Cohen & Co. are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they were personally present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets in the land, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A Scheme is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100,000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass. Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., and at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was a warded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to them they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is perfect, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid passages without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave lower than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for church and private use. The construction is similar to the Pedal Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of a great variety of power as the Church Instrument when used without the Pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skillful workmen. In a word, we will promise our customers an Instrument in every respect superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee satisfactory satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine our finished instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Davis,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Howard & Brown,
Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchase at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment on the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the expense of the manufacturers, to the extent of half of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and be faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

SALT LAKE.—This sheet of water is said to be about three miles in circumference. There are two large mountains in its centre. The lake and the streams in its vicinity abound in fish. Two quarts of the water of the lake will yield a pint of salt. Mr. Laroux informs the Santa Fe Gazette that he has frequently gone to the immense hills there, entered an excavation, and cut out, as if it were ice, large lumps of fine white salt.

☞ John McCullough has been arrested at Philadelphia for the murder of his own mother, on Friday evening. The mother, while intoxicated, got into a quarrel with her son. She called him a robber, and ordered him out of the house. He replied that if he was a robber, she made him so. It is said she spat in his face, and he jumped up and beat her about the head, blackening both her eyes. She fell, and was carried to a bed, where she soon died.

A PAUPER ROBBED.—A landlord in Chappville, Hampden county, a night or two since, having discovered that a lodger, whom the overseer of the poor sent to him, was in funds, plied him with liquor, and robbed him of $153. The stranger, who then had $147 left, represented himself as Peter Clark, and that he was begging his way from West Boylston to Hardwick with $300 in his pocket.

THEY DESTROY THE FISH.—Some of the inhabitants of Rockport, this year as heretofore, have petitioned the Legislature for a law to prevent the seining of mackerel in Massachusetts Bay, which is a very good movement, if we would preserve the fish upon our coast. The seining of mackerel, as they come near the shore in summer, prevents their spawning and lessens the number in our waters. It also destroys many of the fishes when they are too small for use.

There is another practice quite as destructive of cod and other fishes near our shores—the use of trawls, which lie on the bottom, and by which the fishes are drowned in the water and sometimes remain on the hooks for days. It is found that trawl fishing, when continued for any length of time, will break up the haunts of the fishes and frighten them from their old grounds; and by trawls we are destroying the fishes that inhabit deep down in the waters, as the seines are destroying those above.—Newburyport Herald.

TOBACCO — NORTHERN AND SOUTHERN TASTE.—There are fifty-six manufacturers of the staple in Richmond, whose united capital amounts to four or five millions of dollars. More tobacco is raised in Virginia, and opened, inspected and sold in Richmond, than perhaps in any one place in the United States. It is here that the choicest specimens of the weed assume the very shape which commends it to the regard of devoted chewers everywhere. Tobacco is put up in as many different ways almost as there are chewers. There is as much difference between the ideas of the Yankee and Southerner on this question of taste as there is on any other matter. The former likes his "pig-tail" thoroughly sweetened and liquoriced to a degree; the latter, the less sweetening you put in the better the tobacco. Buyers congregate here who purchase for all parts of the globe. Foreign governments are supplied by agents who reside here for that purpose. With many citizens the road to wealth has been via tobacco.—Richmond South.

DANGEROUS MEN.—We are informed that a noted Presbyterian clergyman in New York, in a Sunday discourse, warned the young people of his flock of three very dangerous men in our times, and named these personages to be the Rev. Dr. Bellows, Rev. Theodore Parker, and Rev. Dr. E. H. Chapin. He warned his flock against hearing these gentlemen even lecture, and particularly urged upon them not to attend the proposed lectures on "Social Evils" by Dr. Bellows.

☞ The Superintendent and Trustees of the State Reform School at Westboro, Mass., deny the current stories that the labor of the boys is a loss to the State.

A first-rate joke took place lately in our court room. A woman was testifying in behalf of her son, and swore "that he had worked on a farm ever since he was born."
The lawyer who cross-examined her said, "You assert that your son has worked on a farm ever since he was born?"
"I do."
"What did he do the first year?"
"He milked."
☞ The lawyer evaporated.—Hartford Courant.

☞ The New England Courant—Benjamin Franklin's newspaper—in 1726, contained the following advertisement:—
"Just published and sold by the printer hereof, * * HOOPED-PETTICOATS Arraigned and Condemned by the Light of Nature and Law of God. Price 3d."

R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.
PRIME COST, $1.50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY.—On the 22d of February, 1732, George Washington was born. Living only till '99, he did not attain to the allotted three score years and ten; but he did attain much nearer to the stature of a perfect ruler and exemplary public man, than is common to the race of aspiring mortals.

His excellences have been so often displayed, as to leave us no room to attempt anything new; but let us remark, in passing, that self-control—that ruling of the spirit which Solomon says is greater than the taking of a city—was Washington's crowning excellence.

This day is now a legalized holiday in Massachusetts and Maine. It is not yet made so in New Hampshire, tho' it will be. We do what we can toward making it so, by keeping it ourselves, and noticing it editorially.

In Portland, as says the Advertiser:—

The city authorities, with a view to suppress the noisy demonstrations which have heretofore taken place in the streets on the 22d of February, have made arrangements to afford free amusement to the boys of the city on the evening of that day. A free concert is announced at Deering Hall, to which boys alone will be admitted. We are not advised who the performers are to be, but have no doubt they will be musicians capable of producing quite as agreeable sounds as the boys have been accustomed to make with their trumpets and fish horns. Such a promiscuous audience as will be gathered on the occasion, will probably demand a liberal sprinkling of "fun" in the programme.

A school girl desires us to ask the city fathers why the girls cannot have a concert in the afternoon, as well as the boys in the evening.

DOWNWARD PROGRESS.—From the day of repealing the Missouri Compromise to the present time, the course of the slave power has led directly to Lecomptonism.—From the first armed incursion of the Missourians into Kansas, and the establishment of Ruffian authority in that Territory with the sanction of the National Administration, up to the present despotic attempt to force the Lecompton Constitution on a brave and patriotic people, there has not been a break in the chain of iniquity. Lecomptonism is not a new phase in the book of villainy. The so-called squatter sovereignty of the Nebraska Bill was a cheat and a fraud. The Dred Scott decision, which clearly denies the right of the people of the Territories to abolish slavery from their midst, is a part of the grand scheme of rascality and imposture.

Lecomptonism is a logical result of the Nebraska swindle, the Dred Scott decision and the Ruffian invasions. The opinion of Judge Taney and associates crushes out the very semblance of Popular Sovereignty the Nebraska Bill purported to maintain.

UNIVERSALISTS IN MASSACHUSETTS.—The organizations of the Universalists in this State are as follows: One State Convention, one State Sunday School Society, and one State Missionary Society, six Associations, (two of which have Missionary societies connected,) a college, five periodicals, besides three annuals; 164 societies, of which 120 have Sunday Schools, (the latter containing 5636 pupils); 120 preachers, and 150 meeting houses. This sect has been entirely ignored in the selection of Overseers of Harvard University.

☞ Dr. Holmes, the Boston anatomist, has given us a new theory for the manufactory of men of a large growth. He says: "In Kentucky, Ohio, and Western Vermont, men grow to a large size because of the limestone formation under the soil. Parts of families have emigrated to those regions, and the result in the next generation has been a larger bone development in those who left Massachusetts than in those who remained. Kentucky, Ohio and Iowa will grow large men. The finest figures in the world will be found in the Valley of the Mississippi, in a few generations."

AN AGED BIBLE.—The Selectmen of Chester, N. H., sold a Bible, a few days ago, to John Picket, Esq., of Boston, which was printed in the year 1611. It was formerly owned by a family by the name of Morse, and had descended down from father to son for over two hundred years, till not an heir remained to claim the sacred work. It was of large type, and the whole was in a good state of preservation. It was a great curiosity, but went for the small sum of five dollars.

HEAVY.—Jonathan Blaisdell of Salisbury, one day this week, caught a score of smelts, near the Essex Merrimac bridge, that weighed five pounds.

FREMONT, N. H.—A correspondent of the Exeter News-Letter says: "the Methodists at Fremont have suspended preaching for the winter. They are few there now. Twenty-five or thirty years ago they were strong and sustained a preacher. In 1828 their minister lectured in favor of the election of Gen. Jackson to the Presidency. The next year the same minister was chosen Representative. All went on well. The Union was not split in the nation nor in that town. We hope the Methodists will flourish there again. Fremont is the only town in our County that never had a Congregational Church.

☞ Bishop Bayley, the Catholic bishop of New Jersey, has issued a manifesto, to be read in all the churches, in which he calls attention to drunkards and dealers in liquor. Leaving to the pastor the choice of the particular means to be used, he suggests that each should keep a list of drunkards and liquor dealers in his church.—He says, the Boston Post quotes—

"I am determined to make use of the most severe measures against all who are addicted to this scandalous and destructive vice; and if they continue in the practice of it, they must do it as outcasts from the Catholic church, who have no right to the name of Catholic while they live, nor to Christian burial when they die."

☞ A bill for the suppression of lotteries has been introduced in the Maryland House of Delegates by Mr. Dorsey. The policy system has been regarded as one species of gambling. Baltimore is the only city in which it has been legalized, and the venders enabled publicly to transact their business under the sanction of an officer of the State.

☞ The Albany correspondent of the Journal of Commerce says of Mr. Fillmore's marriage:

"Mr. Fillmore's marriage was very privately celebrated; so privately that not even that industrious class, the city reporters, were aware of it until it was all over. A few of his intimate friends and his only surviving child, Powers Fillmore, Esq., of Buffalo, were present, as well as a party of the bride's friends from Montreal and New York. The newly married pair, will pass the next fortnight at Buffalo, when they will return for the purpose of allowing Mrs. Fillmore to break up her establishment at the Schuyler Mansion. There future residence is Buffalo. It may please your lady readers to know that the bride was attired in white silk with a lace veil."

CHARITY AND FUN.—A letter from New York says, the Calico Ball for the benefit of the poor has proved to be a great success. The receipts were over five thousand dollars clear of all expenses. The Press came to the aid of the managers, and all the papers, except the Herald, gave one-half the bill for printing. The Herald gave the whole bill.

MORMONISM.—Benjamin Chesley was arrested at Manchester, where he was held for trial on a charge of having three wives. Enoch Carter, an old man, has been arrested and held for trial at Lowell, on a charge of having two wives.

☞ Rev. C. F. Tupper, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. J. O. Skinner, pastor of the Universalist church, Rockland, exchanged pulpit services last Sabbath afternoon, and the arrangement gave entire satisfaction to both churches and Congregations, with very few exceptions."

RESUMED WORK.—The Merrimac Hat Factory at Salisbury Point, has resumed work, after a suspension of several weeks, and now employs some fifty hands. We learn that they have sold their stock on hand, and are working on new orders.

☞ The Catholic Freeman's Journal, the organ of archbishop Hughes, at New York, is down upon the President's Lecompton scheme with all the ferocity of "Young America," and all the plainness of the most ultra Republicans.

AMERICANS IN ROME.—A correspondent of the New York Evening Post, writing from Rome on the 22d of January, says:

"The winter here seems to be the reverse of that which I hear prevails on the other side of the Atlantic. Instead of being milder, it is colder than has been known for many years. Yet the lowest point to which the mercury has fallen has been 27° Fahrenheit, and roses and violets are still gathered from the open gardens. There are fewer Americans here than usual this season. Of New Yorkers, however, sojourning among us, are William B. Astor, Senator Fish, Henry De Rham, Edward Matthews, and Theodore Bronson, and others with their families. In addition to these may be mentioned Governor Aiken, of South Carolina; Dr. Henry of Philadelphia; Joseph E. Sheffield, of Connecticut; Hon. W. W. Boardman, of Connecticut, with their families; also the family of George P. Robbins, of New York. Hawthorne (Scarlet Letter Hawthorne) I hear, has just arrived."

CONGRESS.—The Senate, on Friday, occupied most of the session with the consideration of the private calendar.

The Army bill was then taken up, and the Senate adjourned to Tuesday.

In the House, Mr. Hoard of N. Y., rose to a question of privilege, and sent up a threatening letter which he had received from Mr. Burns of Ohio, in reference to some extracts from the New York Tribune concerning him (Burns) which he (Hoard) had read on Friday last. Objections being made to Mr. Hoard's replying, the subject was dropped.

The House then took up the private calendar.

Mr. Hatch of N. Y., rose to a personal explanation, and replied to the remarks of Mr. Zollicoffer, made on Tuesday, in reference to the oaths and obligations of the American party.

Mr. Hoard of N. Y., rose to a personal explanation in reference to the matter previously referred to, and offered a resolution for the appointment of a select committee to inquire whether any improper attempts had been made by the Executive department to influence the action of members by the promise of patronage. Pending the question, the House adjourned to Tuesday.

☞ The story that Capt. Ulmer of schooner Ella of Rockland, was garrotted and robbed at Portland, as he was about to board his vessel, is denied by the Portland Advertiser, which states that Capt. Ulmer now admits he lost his watch while asleep in a dance house. On waking, his money was safe in his wallet.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

PERSONAL NOT IN THE PERSONAL COLUMN OF THE HERALD.

The gentleman who picked up the lady's glove on Monday evening the 16th inst., between Union Square and Bleecker street, respectfully requests the fair one to lose the other, as near the locality mentioned as possible. He finds the left glove a very odd one, although it fits very well—that is to say with a tight squeeze. He would suggest to the lady however, if she does not wish to lose anything hereafter, to send the price of a half dozen pairs of gloves to S. Swan & Co at Agusta, Ga., who are the drawers of the legalized lotteries drawn every Saturday at that place. The successful possessor of a fortunate whole ticket will intitle the holder of the capital prize of $70,000, while a half or a quarter ticket will come in for a portionate share of the same amount. So the lady who lost the glove may thus win a prize and with it find a husband. Tickets $10, $5 or $2,50.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Buck Bean, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is as much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pretport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be a meeting for Religious Conversation at the study of the Rev. Dr. Lamson, Pastor of the Middle Street Church, at 7 o'clock this evening.

There will be an Inquiry Meeting in the Vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

☞ As we are among those who feel sufficient regard for the memory of Washington, (as well as for ourselves,) to lead us to keep this day, February 22d, the Anniversary of his Birthday, as a holiday—no Daily Chronicle will be printed on Tuesday morning.

The Bells are to be rung—which is the only public notice of the day, here, that we know of.

CARD.—The Granite State Fire Company No. 1 survives the conflagration. Their position at the recent fire was at the north side of Spring Market; they drew their own water, and forced their stream up the hill through 350 feet of their own leading hose: from the commencement till the order to limber-up, their breaks were in motion. If their stream was of any benefit in arresting or subduing the flames, it must be a source of gratification to them; but for any encouraging word or deed, they feel themselves under no obligations, as none was received by them, on the evening of Feb. 17th. A. K. P. DEERING, Foreman.

☞ Members of the Mercantile Library Association can obtain free tickets for Mr. Haven's lectures on Political Economy, by calling at C. C. Harvey's store before next Tuesday evening, Feb. 23.

A notice of this course of lectures, from the Journal, with other matter, will be found on the fourth page.

☞ On Tuesday morning at 6 o'clock, a Train will leave the depot of the C. & P. Railroad—to connect with the B. & M. train from Exeter.

POLICE COURT, NEWBURYPORT.—Joseph A. Tilton was arraigned on complaint of the City Marshal, for retailing bad gin at his store on Market Square. Three witnesses testified to imbibing the fluid, which resulted in conviction. He was ordered by the Court on the first count, to pay the sum of $10 and costs of prosecution, and be imprisoned in the House of Correction, at Ipswich, twenty days; on the second count, $20 and costs and thirty days; on the third count $50 and costs and four months; and if said fines and costs are not paid, thirty days additional on each count. After hearing the verdict the prisoner very quietly stepped up to the Judge and laid a cent upon his desk, as a sufficient remuneration, as he remarked to his Honor, for his services. The insult—not the cent—was pocketed, and Joseph received thirty days additional for contempt of court, which will make nine months and twenty days.—Herald.

SUICIDE.—New York, Feb. 18.—Mr. John Bouwer was found this morning in his office, at 72 Wall street, suspended by the neck with his silk handkerchief, to the knob of the iron safe. Pecuniary difficulties are said to have been the cause of suicide. Mr. B. was an old merchant, originally of the firm of J. H. Peters & Co., and subsequently of Stebbins, Brouwer & Co. He has always been largely engaged in the Southern business.

RUTLAND, Vt., Feb. 19.—The passenger car of the local freight train on the Rutland and Burlington Railroad, due here at 11 o'clock to-day, was thrown off the track near Clarendon, seriously injuring five of the passengers. Among the injured are: Mrs. Sheldon, of Fairhaven; Wm. Haskinson, of Healdville; Ephraim Jones, of Reading, Vt.; J. C. Hard, of Jefferson county, N. Y.; and Franklin Maynard, of Cambridge, Mass.

A "RUM" FELLOW ON THE JUMP.—A. P. Colby, keeper of a rum shop on Manchester street, corner of Exchange Block, took a sudden departure from his "native land" about ten days ago. He gathered up all the money he could collect for the purpose (he said) of paying a liquor debt of $1000 at New York, went to the city, then came back to Boston, informed his partner here that he had paid the debt, but was detained at Boston as a witness in the celebrated "White case," and would be back in a few days. Some days ago the New York demand came back here for collection, and the effects of his partner have been attached.

Colby just before leaving Boston wrote back to his family that he had been drugged and robbed of his money, and his pride would not allow him to return to Manchester. He closed his epistle by the sad declaration, that "before this reaches you I shall have perished by my own hand."—This Colby is a regular brick. In 1855 he diddled James S. Cheney and other bogus Democrats out of several hundred dollars, by pretending to reveal certain secrets about Gov. Metcalf and others. Finding themselves handsomely sold, they 'peached and the affair became public. Of course such a scamp never was entrusted with any secret worth revealing.—Manchester Am.

REPORT OF COM. ON TERRITORIES.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18th.—The report, made to-day by Mr. Green, from the Senate Committee on Territories, recites at length the events that have occurred in Kansas. * * *

The Committee say that the abolitionists in Kansas had, thus far, sought power by methods unknown to the law, and by acts of violence; and not through the peaceful agency of the ballot box. Claiming to have a majority of votes in the Territory, and therefore able to elect a Legislature and Convention, they yet ask Congress to wrongfully do for them what they may, at legal times and places, rightfully do for themselves—that is, to change or abolish their Constitution; and, in case Congress refuses to comply with their Constitutional demands, they threaten to afflict the country with an attempt at bloodshed and revolution. Unless Congress will do for them what they assert they are not anxious to do for themselves, but which they wilfully refuse to do, they threaten to plunge the country in irretrievable war. This conduct is so exceedingly unreasonable as to force the conviction upon the mind that they are conscious of being in a powerless minority, and only expect to be able to compass their unwarrantable ends by departing from the general way of peace and quiet. If your Committee are not greatly mistaken, these reckless men misjudge the American people, and will be required to seek peaceful methods for redress of all their grievances, whether they be real or imaginary.

The bill recites that the people of Kansas have framed for themselves a Constitution and State Government, republican in form, and that the Lecompton Convention has, in their name and behalf, asked Congress to admit her. Therefore, It is declared that Kansas be admitted on an equal footing with the original States in all respects whatever.

The bill also prescribes the boundaries, contains the usual regulations relative to grants of public lands, as in the case of Minnesota, and gives Kansas, for the present, one Representative in the House of Representatives.

Mr. Douglas, in his report, dissents from the views of the majority, for the reason that there is no satisfactory evidence that the Constitution framed at Lecompton is the act and deed of the people of Kansas, or embodies their will. He knows that the Convention was not clothed with competent power to establish the Constitution without the assent of Congress, which has been expressly withheld in the case. Hence the Convention only had such power as the Territorial Legislature could rightfully confer, and no more, which was to form a Constitution and send it to Congress as a memorial for admission, which could be accepted or rejected, according as it embodied the popular will;—that all the proceedings of the Convention should have been in strict obedience to the authority of the Territorial government—while, in fact, it was declared to be in force, and to take effect in defiance of the Territorial government, as well as without the consent of Congress:—that the only lawful election held on the adoption of the Constitution, was that on the 4th of January last, which was in obedience to the law passed by the Territorial Legislature, established by Congress with full legislative power on all rightful subjects within the Territory.

Messrs. Collamer and Wade submitted their views:—They say that the Territorial government of Kansas was never organized by its own people, but was usurped by a foreign force, and conquered and subdued by arms, and that the minority was installed in power, which has ever since been sustained by the general government. The Lecompton Constitution is the result of those proceedings, and, contrary to the will of the great majority of the people, legally expressed; and, for Congress, in its discretion, to consummate this protracted atrocity, and especially for such a purpose, is a violation of the fundamental principles of a Republican government, and can produce no permanent peace or satisfaction to the people in the Territory.

The Lecompton Constitution, and its adoption, was concocted and executed to supercede and to triumph over justice. To admit it by Congress, is to turn over that people, not to an election fairly and legally conducted, but to such State officers and legislators as Gen. Calhoun shall hereafter proclaim, and on such contingency as he shall determine. And his long, mysterious, and inexcusable indecision and reserve, but encourages expectations in both parties, one of which is certainly doomed to disappointment.

LECTURES ON POLITICAL ECONOMY.

We would call attention to the lectures on Political Economy, by George W. Haven, Esq. in the Hanover-street Chapel, advertised in another column. The lectures are given under the management and for the benefit of the Mercantile Library Association, a body which is becoming more useful than any other similar association ever started here, and which is in every way deserving of the public patronage.

But aside from the merits of the Association, the lectures will undoubtedly be full of instruction and entertainment. Mr. Haven has once before delivered a series of lectures on the same subject, and they were pronounced by some of our most intelligent citizens to be of the highest order.

He treated in the clearest and most agreeable manner this science, which comprehends the investigation of social wealth—the latter being founded on mutual exchange and the recognition of the right of property among men. In those lectures delivered some years since, the nature of wealth, what had proved best for commerce, agriculture and science, in the history of nations, was described as the lecturer had discovered it to be from an evidently long and laborious study upon the subject; and in treating of the nature of wealth, the sources from which it is derived and the causes of its dissolution were described in clear and elegant language. We feel confident that old and young may derive more instruction and benefit from Mr. Haven's lectures, than could be obtained from any course of lectures which might be given by imported philosophers.

COUNTY EXPENSES.

In these times, when there is so much harping upon State and County debts, it is the course of true wisdom to see that no debt is incurred which will result in a bone for political partizans hereafter to gnaw and growl over.

It will be seen that in the articles in the warrant to be acted upon at the approaching election, is the question to be answered, "Is it expedient to purchase a County Farm, for the support of the poor of the County?"

Before acting on this matter, which would put a debt of $20,000 at least upon the County, it would be well that some authentic statistics should be given by those who have had the subject under examination. Such statistics have not been made public.

The position of Portsmouth gives us a larger share of county paupers than any other town, and probably more than a third of all in the county.—We find that in the past year 59 county paupers have been admitted to our Alms House, 67 have been relieved out of the house, and 5 others have had their passages paid to go out of the State.

The expense charged to the County for those in the Alms House has been $1,12 per week. The average expense of those supplied out of the house has been about 50 cents per week.

Now there is no probability that the establishment of a county pauper farm would reduce the expense, but rather increase it. Should the State establish a general receptacle for such paupers as have no claim upon individual towns, there is a bare possibility that a few cents per week on the board of each pauper might be saved—for the expense of a superintendent and managers of one large institution of 1000 inmates, would not be much greater than that of the superintendent of each of ten county establishments in our State.

The expenditure in Massachusetts, as appears from the report of the county pauper establishment at Tewksbury recently made, shows that with all the advantages of concentration, there being something like a thousand paupers under one superintendent, the cost of board was $1.06 per week—only six cents less than at our Alms House.

As Portsmouth pays about $300 out of every $1000 of the county expenses, such an expenditure would be a direct tax upon our city of about $5,000—and upon every other town in the county a proportionate sum. And that too without any evidence that the burden would be diminished, but rather with a prospect of having our county expenses permanently increased.

This is a matter of economy wholly aside from any thing of a political bearing, and of course will be acted upon at the polls as such.

AMENDING THE CONSTITUTION.

This question will also come before the people of this state in March. We wish our Legislature had taken the proper measures to present the question in a different form, concentrating the question to one point only. The form we should have suggested would have been the following:

Is it expedient to call a State Convention to so far revise the Constitution as to adopt the legislative system of revision as recommended by the last Constitutional Convention?

To such a question we believe a majority of the voters in our State would say "Yes." But to the question as it now stands, they will give the almost unanimous "No."

The mode of revision reported by the Constitutional Convention of 1850, was briefly this: Any amendment to the Constitution may be proposed in the Senate or the House: if adopted by a majority in two successive sessions, then such amendment is to be submitted to the people, and a vote of two-thirds confirms the amendment. No amendment to be submitted oftener than once in six years.

A Constitutional Convention, in a three days' session, could untie this Gordian knot of our Constitution, and leave it open for access in making, in a safe manner, without calling any future conventions, such amendments as are needed—not the least, that of the reduction of the House to the proper compass, and placing the controlling power of the Senate in a larger body.

Without some such process, our State House will be crammed with double its present numbers, before the People will say "aye" to another general Constitutional Convention.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, as we had tried so much, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.
GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM,
GARRISON W. HIGGINBOTHAM.

June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have need two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear as my case was one of the worst kind.
Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the business is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the decision of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published in Boston papers, and the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.
All communications strictly confidential. m18 1y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCIS & Co are the managers, are chartered by three states of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another feature which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. The particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan) and the binary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of Dr. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when unavoidably prevented by experienced under the regime of OTHER PILLS; and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to be read to their husbands, fathers, or their governing benefit—always promising that said Proclamation in one case must be considered NULL AND VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any female is in an INTERESTING situation, otherwise a MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

S. D. & H. W. Smith,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—
Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
No. 511 Washington St., Boston.
The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and producing the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,
Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON
Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being, when used alone, two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument. Both these Instruments, as all Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,
We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will produce an article in our manufacture equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it at the cost of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent directed to the Manufactory, accompanied, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

MINISTRY AT LARGE IN PROVIDENCE.—We have received the 16th Annual Report of the Ministry at Large in Providence, presented and read at a public meeting on Saturday evening, Jan. 24, by Edwin M. Stone. Mr. Stone's reports are always full of interesting statements and valuable suggestions. Here is an extract which presents a bad state of things:

Of the hundreds who have opened to me the sorrows of their homes, three-fourths have named intemperance as the principal source of trouble. "Rum kills us all," said a poor woman to me a few days ago, whose husband was in jail for being, in technical phrase, "indecently drunk." In this simple but terse sentence is wrapt a truth of wide application. Rum kills all; all domestic happiness; all self-respect; all regard for the decencies of life; all sense of parental obligation; all prosperity; all nobleness of manhood or of womanhood; these, all, are the fated victims of rum; and from the charnel houses of corrupt bodies and lost souls, issues the malarious "smoke of their torments."

Drinking and intemperance, within a few years, have presented new phases.—Few, when sipping, as they supposed, a favorite vintage, have suspected that truth would resolve its component parts into cider, whiskey, burnt sugar, alum, and sulphuric acid; or that a fair Otard brand, by the same test, would turn out to be nothing else than corn whiskey, burnt sugar, alum, and a dash of genuine brandy. A suspicion like this, rising to conviction, would doubtless have given to the footing of the bill a less satisfactory complexion. Yet so it has been, and so it now daily is. The adulteration of liquors sold and drank in common dram shops has changed, for the worse, the effects of drinking. Sugar of lead, deadly night shade, tobacco, potassa, cocculus indicus, alum, opium, essential oil of almonds, sulphuric acid, creosote, and other substances equally deleterious and poisonous, used in "doctoring" true liquors, or in manufacturing false, have made drunkards "on short time," and fearfully increased delirium tremens.

We have mourned, as we have seen grey haired men staggering to their homes, or middle-aged men and women carted, like dead swine, to the lock-up. We have marvelled that young men should so early have fallen victims to the inebriating cup. We did not understand how it came to pass, that liquor did its work of death with a speed unknown to former times. We had yet to learn by what subtle agent nerve after nerve was unstrung or paralysed, so that twelve months sufficed to commence and terminate a drunkard's career. We are no longer astonished. The vail has been lifted, and we both see the effects and know the cause.

But there is still a danger of which many are unapprised. I refer to the tendencies to intemperance among children. To this class liger beer has become an attractive beverage. Many a boy, unknown to his parents, indulges daily in its use.—However innocent that drink may be in Germany, here it possesses that virtue in small degree. Some of its ingredients are known to be poisonous, and the increase of bloated faces, since its introduction among us, is, perhaps, the best commentary on its unhealthy effects on the human system. Children who drink lager beer, especially that to which distilled spirit has been added, are subject to the same consequences, while the unnatural excitement and appetite it induces, pave the way to the free use of more stimulating liquors.

If law should ever be applied, with all the force of outraged humanity, it is here. Any law, that in its enforcement will restrain the sale of these deadly mixtures, would be sustained by universal public sentiment, and would do a work for temperance, that no legislation has yet effected.

JOHN MITCHELL TURNED KNOW-NOTHING. Our readers recollect an anecdote of John Mitchell, the Irish refugee, published a short time since in the Gazette, in which he is represented as having said to a darkey who owns or hires, "Sambo, we are going to open the African slave trade, and bring regular jet black, ivory toothed Guinea niggers into this country. What do you think of it?" Sambo replied, "Well, massa, tink it would be a good ting, and keep all dese low Irish out."

John seems to have been thinking seriously of the darkey's answer, and has finally resolved to be guided by his superior wisdom, for he is now denouncing in the Southern Citizen—the paper he publishes in Tennessee—the naturalization laws, and fears that, unless they are repealed, the United States is in danger of being made the common almshouse, refugium peccatorum, and penal colony of the world."—Cincinnati Gazette.

A BELLE AMONGST BELLS.—At a "fancy dress party" in Hartford, Conn., the past week, one lady appeared in a dress ornamented with hundreds of little bells, not much bigger than raindrops, affording music of the fairy kind in the dance. In some of the eastern countries dancing women wear bells on their ankles, which tinkle in time with the music of the dance, and perhaps this custom suggested the more conspicuous display of this musical ornament.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1836.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PRESENT OFFICE than the subscriber, and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R.H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its extreme value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF DOCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of unusual frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1858.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH DAY was more generally celebrated on Monday than usual. Besides the now legalized celebration in Maine and Massachusetts,—there were military displays in Albany, Washington, Louisville, &c.

At Richmond, Va., the celebration was a grand affair. The procession moved at 10 o'clock, and, notwithstanding the unfavorable state of weather, made a magnificent display. Gov. Wise, in the name of Virginia, welcomed the vistors. J. R. Thompson delivered an ode, and Senator Hunter the Oration.

The state was saluted by the Artillery and the cheers of the multitude. Hon. Robert G. Scott made an Address. The Masonic ceremonies were interesting and impressive. Gen. Scott reviewed the troops.

At night there was a general illumination, and the city looked as if in a blaze of light. No accident occurred. There were probably 15,000 persons present.

In New York, the day was celebrated by the Order of United Americans at the Academy of Music.—That immense building was filled to its utmost capacity, and thousands were unable to gain admittance. The oration was delivered by Hon. Erastus Brooks. Several Regiments paraded, and the Veterans of 1812, called upon Mayor Tiemann, at City Hall, who gave them a hearty welcome. The 8th and 71st Regiments were reviewed by the Mayor.

INFANT DAMNATION.—A lecture delivered in Portland, recently, by Rev. Wm. B. Hayden, of the New Jerusalem (Swedenborgian) Church, gives a succinct history of the dogma of Infant Damnation. It began with St. Augustine, who taught that unbaptised infants would be damned eternally, and burned with hell fire. "Martin Luther taught the doctrine, and the Reformed Church adopted it as a necessary part, and logical sequence of their doctrines of original sin and unconditional election." Mr. Hayden also thinks there is abundant evidence to show that it was held by the English Reformers, though it is not in so many words incorporated in the 39 articles. It was taught by John Calvin, and among Puritan divines, by Bellamy and Edwards. Rev. Mr. Wigglesworth, the Puritan poet, thus addresses the little "Reprobates:"

"You sinners are, and such a share
As sinners may expect,
Such you shall have: for I do save
None but my own elect.
Yet to compare your sin with theirs
Who live'd a longer time,
I do confess yours is much less,
Though every sin's a crime.
A crime it is, therefore in bliss
You may not hope to dwell;
But unto you I shall allow
The easiest room in hell."

Thirty or forty years ago the dogma was still alive in certain parts of our country. It is now, we believe, says the Portland Transcript, numbered among those errors which the church has outgrown. Mr. Hayden claims that Swedenborg first legitimated the doctrine of universal infant salvation, although the idea had been hypothetically expressed before his time.

COMMERCIAL REVULSIONS OF 1857.—The commercial agencies of New York city, report the number of failures that have taken place in the United States and the British Provinces, during the late financial revulsion to be over six thousand, of which 741 were fraudulent. The amount of liabilities was nearly $300,000,000, and the assets have averaged about forty per cent. Adding the bank, railroad and other corporation failures to those of individuals and firms, and the liabilities will reach 400,000,000. The number of failures is about 2 1-2 per cent to the whole number of establishments and firms. The aggregate amount of liabilities of the commercial community of the whole country is estimated at thirteen thousand millions of dollars, so that the total losses amount to but one dollar and a fraction to the hundred. "Incredible as it may seem, therefore," says the New York Herald, it is a fact particularly deserving of consideration that the great revulsion and the terrible panic by which it was accompanied, were produced by the failure of one firm out of every forty to meet its liabilities, and by an average loss to the creditors of a little more than one dollar on every hundred."

STEAMERS FOR JAPAN.—Three steamers are being built in Dutch dockyards for the Emperor of Japan. One, called the Jeddo, is about to paddle away from Rotterdam, under Captain Gerkens; it has a scientific library on board.

CALIFORNIA ITEMS.—The orange crop of Los Angelos amounts to about 170,000, and is sold on the ground at $42 per thousand. The fruit is large and good. An acre of ground in a few years yields a thousand dollars per annum.

A couple of men in Marysville tried for a wager to see who could hold his breath the longest. In three minutes, one of them, John Thomas, died. His heart had burst.

At Redwood city, a young lady named Vioget was forbidden marriage with Mr. Smith, who was not allowed to enter the house. Smith sued out a habeas corpus (the lady being of age and free to choose for herself) and Miss Vioget was brought into court. The Judge asked if she wished to marry Smith. Yes, she said, and he made them one flesh.

BRITISH NEWS.—By the Africa, at New York, we have Liverpool dates to Feb. 8.

Congratulatory addresses to the Queen on the marriage of the princess Royal, were voted unanimously in both houses. In the Commons a bill was read a first time for abolishing imprisonment for debt.

Parliment re-assembled on the 4th inst. In the House of Lords, a bill for the amendment of the law of libel was read a first time. One of the clauses gives a defense to all actions for faithful accounts of public meetings.

A resolution was adopted, conferring pensions of £1000 a year each to the widows of the late Sir H. Havelock, and the present Baronet.

After some discussion leave was given to bring in a bill to allow the East India Co. to raise money in England on debentures, the power to continue in force till the end of the session of 1859, and the amount to be restricted to £10,000,000.

Lord Palmerston gave notice that, on the 12th inst., he would move for leave to bring in a bill to amend the government of India.

Some anxiety begins to be felt in regard to the celebrated clipper ship Marco Polo, which sailed from Melbourne on the 24th of October, for Liverpool, with a large quantity of Gold (£205,000) on board. She had greatly exceeded the time usually occupied by her in making the passage, and the underwriters were demanding five guineas for insurance on the gold.

FRANCE.—Letters from Paris enter at length into the details of the new Penal Law, the provisions of which were received by the Baltic.

It is said that the city of Paris was about to raise a loan for a sum equal to four millions sterling.

Private accounts from Paris, mention several failures in consequence of the suspension of M. Odier.

It was thought the stringency of the new penal law would undergo material modifications before its final enactment, owing to the opposition of the Emperor to severe or repressive measures.

The law as proposed, encountered strenuous opposition in the Council of State, and only passed that body by a majority of 4.

GREAT FIRE AT ST. LOUIS—Fifty Persons Killed and Injured.—The Pacific Hotel at St. Louis was burned on Saturday afternoon, at 3 o'clock. The fire caught in the drug store underneath the hotel, and the flames spread so rapidly that the stairways were enveloped in flames before the inmates could be roused. All egress was thus cut off, except through the windows. Many leaped from the third story windows and were horribly mutilated or instantly killed, and many more were unable even to reach the windows, and were burned to death in their own rooms. Several more bodies are supposed to be in the ruins and hundreds of men are engaged in removing the rubbish. The wounded were taken to the hospitals, where many it is feared will die. The loss of property is upwards of fifty thousand dollars. Twenty-seven persons are known to be killed, six badly hurt, and several missing.

STEAMBOATS BURNT.—A New Orleans dispatch of Feb. 21 says:—A very destructive conflagration occurred among the steamers opposite the city this morning. The Virginia, Montauk, W. W. Sherman, S. S. Prentiss, and the small steamer Montgomery, (not the James Montgomery,) were destroyed. The loss by this fire reaches $70,000, which is partially insured, but precise amount unknown. The ship Andover, from New York, was considerably damaged, and one or two other vessels were injured. The whole of the shipping in the port was at one time in a precarious situation.

GREAT FALLS, Tuesday, Feb. 23.

A new two story house on Prospect Hill, near the High School House, was burned this morning between 6 and 7 o'clock. It was owned and occupied by James Goodrich, and was insured for $500.

EXETERIANA.

EXETER, Tuesday, Feb. 23.

Dear Chronicle:—The exhibition by Mr. W. A. Currier's school, on Wednesday evening last, was greeted with a crowded house. The programme consisted of declamations, dialogues and songs. It was really quite surprising to observe the perfect nonchalance with which the young speakers seemed to view the formidable array of elders before them. The whole performance was a credit to the school and its teacher. Of course, we do not particularize, but then if we should, we might mention the introductory by Miss Eugenie E. Davis, and the valedictory by Miss Laura M. Rand, which were finely rendered. Miss Deborah M. Lane, as "I" in the well known and pathetic monologue of "Bets' and I," was loudly applauded. A very creditable fact is, that the several pieces were all committed out of school hours. The tax-payers in District No. 2 cannot do better than retain Mr. C. for another year, and at a price, too, which his valuable services demand.

Our friend Mr. N. F. Carter, teacher of the Boys' High School, recently delivered a poem in New Market. The subject was "Now-a-days," and the production a running commentary on modern institutions generally. It was well received by a large audience.

The Republicans are confident of carrying Exeter by an increased majority. The Town Committee had made arrangements for N. B. Bryant, of Concord, to speak here on Saturday evening last; but an attack of lung fever prevented Mr. Bryant from fulfilling his engagement and no meeting was held. Thomas M. Edwards, of Keene, will address our citizens on Tuesday, March 2.

The friends of Mr. L. M. Dow gave him a Complimentary Concert at the Unitarian church, on Thursday evening of last week, on which occasion, the Exeter Cornet Band volunteered. The Concert was a good one, and it is regretted that the receipts were so small.

We are rejoiced to learn that the Granite State Bards, of your city, will favor us with one of their performances at an early day. If they do justice to their present reputation, they will command a good audience here.

Some statistical genius took the pains to count the number of persons in attendance at the several churches in Exeter, on Sunday last. It resulted as follows: Advent, 43; Methodist, 50; Franklin Street (Free Will Baptist), 45; Elm Street (Baptist), 78; Baptist, 200; Unitarian, 150; 2nd Cong., 123; Catholic, 144; 1st Cong., 306; Total, 1159.

We understand that High Sheriff Brown of Chester, is to preside over the internal arrangements of the new Jail. The new accommodations are very much needed at present, and the old quarters will probably be rather more than comfortably filled during Court time.

The Ball last evening was a complete success. The hall was dressed in a very beautiful manner, and was filled by a large crowd at an early hour. The music was excellent. It was the best thing of the kind we have had here since the Inauguration Ball, two years since.

Judge Bell will hold the term of Court commencing here to-day. Yours, F. G.

EMIGRATION.

There is a small but important township in our county, which has interests attached to it which have not been duly appreciated. As early as 1775 the population was 552. It has never been so great since. In 1850 it was 509. It has usually been but about 450. This town is Fremont. But there is a fair prospect of its being much increased in population. We are not sure that its number of inhabitants will be so great at the next census that it will be judged advisable to take measures to obtain a city charter, but many will be surprised at the teeming multitudes there. The people there duly regard the command God gave to Adam, "Increase and multiply;" and then it has come to pass that emigration is setting that way. Why should enterprising men go to the West? There is much land in Fremont to be possessed. It is now seen that its pitch-pine plains, its arid hills, its gravelly knolls, its dark valleys, and even its amazingly large and long noted "Spruce Swamp," may all be made to bud and blossom as the rose, and bring forth abundantly.

Men have gone in there whose influence will be felt, even at the coming election. May our pen be careful and not touch politics. Who believes that this emigration is to help at town-meeting? The election would have gone right without this emigration. The movement is to make a fortune, and the town great. It will be great. Out of it shall come persons that will "govern men and guide the state."

A SMART ERROR.—Speaking of Salt Lake, where the Mormons live, a paragraph in Monday's Morning Chronicle said "This sheet of water is said to be about three miles in circumference. There are two large mountains in its centre." Any body can see that two mountains, not very large, would cover up such a pond.—The true version is that Salt Lake is said to be about three hundred miles in circumference. It may not be strictly true, but that is the story.

☞ Nebraska is the largest of all the territories belonging to the United States. Its extent may be realized when we compare it with New Hampshire. Nebraska contains 911,435 square miles, and New Hampshire 9,280. Thus it may be seen that Nebraska would make ninety-eight States as large as the Granite State. This is a very large country.

☞ Harper's Magazine for March, is received by A. Williams & Co., Boston; and by J. H. Foster, Portsmouth. It contains two valuable illustrated articles,—The Upper Mississippi, and Tropical Journeyings.

☞ Selah Galphin, of Westfield, Conn., last year kept fifty hens, which gave him five hundred and eighty dozen eggs, and raised thirty chickens. They consumed thirty-four bushels of corn and five bushels of buckwheat.

Sincerity does not consist in speaking your mind on all occasions, but in doing it when silence would be censurable, and falsehood inexcusable.

BUSINESS IMPROVING.—The Harbor Manufacturing Company in Nashua are to commence operations next week, and we understand that the mills on the other corporations have lengthened their hours of labor. At Lowell several of the mills are increasing their operations. At Peterborough, one mill has been put in motion, and preparations are making to start the new mill.—Nashua Telegraph.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Edward Hooper, plaintiff in a case now on trial before the Supreme Court in Portland, died very suddenly at his residence in Windham, Thursday forenoon. He was about 50 years of age.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhœa, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

WASHINGTON'S BIRTH-DAY.

Messrs. Editors.—Another 22d of February, which recalled the holy remembrance of the father of this country to every grateful heart, has arrived and passed by. Being a foreigner I was not able to partake of the real happiness which undoubtedly must have filled the breast of every true American. I was not quite able to feel the tyrannical yoke of an English government pressed upon my shoulders, which was lifted therefrom by this great man, so appropriately called the father of his country, and by those who acted with him,—but the soul crushing yoke of another government, that of my own country, was with glowing colors recalled to my mind. I felt at that moment that I belonged to the number who have reason to keep this day as one of the greatest holydays, and to give thanks to God for giving them such a man as he who took such a prominent part in establishing Freedom and Republican institutions in this country. Were it not for Washington and his compeers, who have planted that tree of liberty in this country, of which every one may taste the fruit, I might perhaps to-day have felt the tyrannies of an absolute governing king.

But how much surprised was I, upon going out of doors, to see all the stores open, and business proceeding as usual.—I thought at first that I must have made a mistake in the date, but the ringing of the bells convinced me that I was in the right. It seems to me that the inhabitants of the United States have forgotten their benefactor. The power of influence was so great that the holy feelings which filled my bosom gradually evaporated, and I am sorry to say I pursued my business as usual. I hope that the Americans at another year will set a better example to

A FOREIGNER.

☞ Besides the merry ringing of the bells, morning, noon and night, in memory of Washington, on Monday—a salute was fired at the Navy Yard, at noon. We have hopes of a celebration of the day, in New Hampshire, at no distant period.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Charles C. Harvey, for a beautiful Song and Chorus, "May of the Valley"—by Geo. F. Root, the well-known "Wurzell," author of Rosalie the Prairie Flower, &c. Everybody has heard and admired "Rosalie"—and everybody will admire "May of the Valley."

Mr. Harvey has also sent us "Young America's Collection Instrumental Music," arranged in three parts, for wood, brass and string Bands—consisting of familiar and popular airs, judiciously selected and well arranged.

Mr. Harvey has a large stock of musical instruments and merchandise of all sorts—and is always up to the times for every thing new.

IN THE WRONG PLACE.—Everybody who knows Father Taylor, as he is familiarly called, the seaman's preacher—and who is there amongst us that does not know him?—is well aware that he is sole commander of that Bethel over which he presides with such success. He is always desirous for his own flock to lift up their voices and relate their experience, and he will always give them all the spiritual teaching required; but woe to any outside usurper intruding his preachments or precepts into his tabernacle without his invitation or authority.

On Sunday evening, Father Taylor had got his meeting well under way, and everything was in fine working order, with a "good head of steam on," as the engineers would say,—when, of a sudden, a tall, gaunt looking stranger, evidently one who had never smelt salt water, arose, and, without preface or apology, with a voice just about as musical as the sounds produced by the filing of a crosscut saw, and with pharisaical mode and manner, thus addressed the unconverted:—"My friends, I would like to impress upon your minds the importance of being converted. Only a short time since, six young men were blown up in a powder mill; and without a moment's warning were ushered into the next world with all their sins upon them. Let your prayers ever be—'Let me die the death of the righteous, and my latter end be like his.'" After the stranger had delivered himself of these remarks with great self-satisfaction he sat down.

Father Taylor then got up and thus disposed of the fresh-water out-sider:—"We don't want any such nonsense here. We can do our own preaching. We don't want to know anything about powder mills; that is out of our line of business. We want the tales of the ocean—the real salt-water talk. Moreover, any one that has searched the scriptures knows that he who was the author of the language contained in the last sentence uttered by this man, was Balaam, the veriest sneak and coward that ever lived. No, no; we don't want Balaam nor his ass, here, to talk to us."

The self-inflated, uninvited and unwelcome stranger then took up his staff and hat, and straightway departed from that house, never more to darken its doors, or inflict his rhapsodies on that people. Father Taylor then resumed the helm, and everything went on, the balance of the evening, in "ship-shape and good Bristol fashion."—Boston Ledger.

LOSS OF SHIP JOHN MILTON.—New York, Feb. 23.—The ship John Milton, Captain Harding, from the Chincha Islands, went ashore at Montauk Point, L. I., on Saturday, during the violent gale which prevailed at that time, and became a total loss. All her officers and crew were lost. Eight dead bodies and the captain's writing desk had been washed upon the beach at last accounts. The John Milton arrived from the Chincha Islands at Hampton Roads, whence she sailed on the 13th inst., probably for New York. She was owned in New Bedford.

A soup house was opened in Salem, on Tuesday, when, the Register says, there were applicants for food from two hundred families, and they sucked the soup kettle dry the first day. This shows a wide-spread destitution that we did not dream of in such a city as Salem; but at this season, and with so little work doing, there is much destitution among even respectable families that have heretofore been in easy circumstances; and this will probably be growing worse for a month to come. It will be well for the benevolent in all our towns to be active in their efforts to relieve want, during the remainder of the winter.—Newburyport Herald.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER.

So long unsuccessfully sought,

FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers the head bald; removes all dandruff, itching and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and prevents nervous headache. Se circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold has given perfect satisfaction, or from new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of this place, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size, by express promptly.

DANIEL LATHROP & CO.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to see some of your Hair Restorative, and the effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to see your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair appeared, so that we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do, most recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HUGGINSONIAN,
SARAH E. HUGGINSONIAN.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all of which will be sent to be filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $1 whole, $1 quarter. $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000 in every lottery drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which H. Fance & Co are the managers, are now drawn in the place of Sam'l Swan, a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and very simple combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '90. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. —MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS.

No. 511 Washington St., Boston.

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Massachusetts Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers.

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the reed instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower or running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments, or the two may be used, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by one of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently loud to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon Instruments from our establishment being made of the best complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will warrant our Melodeon an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in Music, are invited to hear for themselves, and invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

As a still further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following gentlemen, viz:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons, Hallet & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co., Wm. P. Emerson,
Brown & Allen, A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes, Woodward & Brown,
Newhall & Hayes.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited on their payment of the purchase money. This matter is worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain the benefit of the skill of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, will receive prompt attention. Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

ROCKINGHAM TEMPERANCE SOCIETY

The Rockingham County Temperance Convention, met at Raymond, in the Congregational Church, on Monday, Feb. 22. The convention was not very numerous, but there was a good representation of the temperance people in most parts of the county.

Rev. Isaac Willey, of Goffstown, opened the services with prayer.

Rev. J. Fullonton of Raymond was chosen president, and T. H. Miller secretary and treasurer.

The County Committee presented a plan of business, including a series of resolutions, which were referred to a committee, consisting of Messrs. Bradford, Herrick and Miller, who reported them with amendments.

The report was accepted, and the resolutions taken separately, discussed with great freedom, and finally adopted unanimously, as follows:

Whereas, Intemperance is one of the greatest moral and social evils which afflict our community, therefore

Resolved, 1,—that all christians and good citizens should give their influence against it.

2,—that as in union there is strength, we should combine our efforts;—and that in accordance with the recommendation of the State Temperance Convention, we hereby form ourselves into the Rockingham Temperance Society.

3,—that this Society shall consist of all pledged total abstinents within the county who associate with us; and that it shall hold its annual meeting on Washington's birth-day, or on the Monday following, when that anniversary occurs on Sunday.

4,—that the business of the society be done by a County Committee chosen at said annual meeting; the committee to choose their own chairman and secretary, —and to appoint or change the Place of Annual Meeting, when necessary.

5,—that we adopt the plan of meeting, proposed in the State Committee's Circular, viz.—1, Choose President, Secretary, and Treasurer. 2, Choose Executive Committee, one from each town. Choose County Committee. Choose District Committee. 3, Address or lecture by some speaker previously appointed. 4, Reports from each town, by Executive Committee or others. 5, Pledge circulated for signatures. 6, Collection or subscription for expenses. 7, Any other business. 8, Fix place for next meeting.

6,—that we look back upon the temperance efforts of past years, with devout thankfulness for the measure of their success,—and that we may look forward with good hope for the future.

7,—that we approve the Prohibitory Liquor Law, now on our statute books, and hope to see it sustained and thoroughly enforced.

8,—that the further progress of the Temperance cause imperatively demands the earnest and persevering presentation of the Moral Argument and the circulation of the Pledge, especially among the young.

9,—that we warmly approve of the engagement of Mr. Sinclair's mission among us, on this account; and that the County, District and Town Committees, and ministers of the several towns, be requested to make the needful arrangements for Mr. Sinclair's lectures, and other efforts to pledge the youth to total abstinence, by the formation of Bands of Hope, or similar associations.

10,—that we request the ministers in the County to preach on the subject of Temperance on Fast Day, or on the Sunday before or after—and that the County Committee issue a circular to that effect.

10,—Resolved, that it is expedient to divide the County into Town Districts, for the purpose of securing meetings in every town.

I take great pleasure in stating that during the time I have been acting as Commissioner of Patents, Samuel Cooper, Esq., of Boston, has been engaged as Solicitor, and has been in that capacity in constant correspondence and intercourse with the office; he has evinced a thorough acquaintance with the Patent Law, and with the rules and practice of the office, a close attention to the interests of his clients, and a marked candor and courtesy that has rendered the transaction of business with him a pleasure. I have no hesitation in stating that I regard him as one of the very best agents for the transaction of business with this office with whom I am acquainted.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

MATTERS IN WORCESTER.

WORCESTER, MASS., Feb. 23.

Dear Chronicle:—Amid the stirring scenes of life, and when engrossed in its many cares, there are seasons when the mind of humanity turns with fond devotion to the earlier associations of his existence, and the many pleasant reminiscences thus called up, bring out the sunny feelings of the heart. A person who is insensible of the past, and cares not to linger over or recapitulate things of 'Lang Syne,' may be set down as a hardened stoic.

To the absent, there is nothing which gives such sweet solace as news from home, to ensure him that though absent, he is not forgotten. His thoughts are often turned thither and he finds himself, perhaps unconsciously, repeating those expressive words—"do they miss me at home, do they miss me?" Though the sons of old Portsmouth are scattered abroad over land and sea, they forget not the spot of their nativity, and wherever they wander they find "there's no place like home."

A serious check has been put upon conubiality this winter, by the depression in business matters. Matrimony is not an institution to be rushed into headlong, especially in such times as the present, when the circumference of ladies' dresses enhance the dry goods interest so tremendously. "Love in a Cottage" is a very nice thing undoubtedly, but when sighing swains and sentimental lovers, do not possess the wherewithal to obtain such desirable residences, in which to do their billing and cooing, it behooves them to be discreet, and take a long and very careful look, before they leap into the dark. The ministers and justices have had very little to do in this vicinity for the past six months, in consummating marriages, and they sincerely deplore the falling off thereof. But there's a brighter day dawning, and they will be among the first to reap its benefits.

The Evangelical Churches here, have recently adopted systematic visitation, for the purpose of promulgating the Gospel and bringing children into the Sabbath Schools. Each ward is divided into districts, and visitors detailed from the associated churches, to gather statistical information in regard to religious matters, and also to exert such an influence among the masses, as will lead them into the paths of righteousness. May the good work prosper.

We are sorry to record the fact that but little account is taken of the temperance interest in our city. A few poor foreigners, who are induced to sell liquor in order to keep body and soul together, are occasionally pounced upon by those legally empowered to do so, and made to atone for the misdemeanors of all. But our hotels and saloons sell liquor with impunity. Such a partial execution of law will not answer the purposes intended; for justice is not dealt impartially, and to effect a thorough reform, other means must be used. What we want is a revival. We have had religious revivals and political revivals, and now we need a good old-fashioned temperance revival.

There has been much controversy lately in regard to the intoxicating qualities of lager beer. Some contend that it is not only highly exhilerating, but produces the same effect as any spirituous liquor. The Germans have taken umbrage at this and deny the assertion, claiming that it may be drank safely to an unlimited extent, in fact that the stomach is incapable of containing enough of the liquid to render one oblivious. It is becoming a popular beverage among some classes, and it will soon rank as one of the established institutions of America. Some prophetic genius thinks that we shall soon manifest an affection for sour krout and Dutch cheese.

The crack band of Worcester—Fiske's Cornet—has been giving a series of promenade concerts at Mechanics' Hall this winter, which have been well patronized by our citizens. The public appreciate cheap concerts amazingly, and as the admission fee is only a dime, the hall is filled. It is capable of accommodating from twenty-five hundred to three thousand people.

It seems surprising that we are so remarkably exempt from crime, while our sister cities are overburdened with it in in every conceivable shape. It is but seldom we harbor a stone among us, and aside from the usual moiety of drunkards our Police Court has but little business in giving rogues their due.

Our dry goods establishments have this week received a consignment of the red petticoats. As yet none have been seen on the public promenades, although we are looking anxiously for their appearance.

Washington's birth-day was observed here as a holiday, without however any public ceremony. Yours, D. E. F.

SLAVERY IN OUR DIPLOMACY.—Mr. R. K. Meade, the new American Minister to Brazil, reached Rio Janeiro on the 30th of November last, and was formally presented to the emperor on the 6th day of last December. In the course of his address, in speaking of the common sympathies which should bind the two countries, he said:

Their approximation, in many respects, in their political constitutional organization, is well calculated to encourage political and social sympathies promotive of mutual benefits and future commercial progress; while an institution common to both countries, fixed and deeply rooted in their soil, (with many hostile prejudices to encounter from without,) does now establish an affinity between them, and will insure, for mutual defence, a unity of action and feeling that will prove invincible in the future.

In this bold announcement in favor of slavery, Mr. Meade made about the same mistake that Shannon did, when Minister to Mexico, who, instead of reading his speech, pulled out his private instructions, and read them. That he was sent there to maintain the interests of the South, we have no doubt, says the Newburyport Herald, but even Mr. Buchanan would have had him keep a little dark about it.—The Emperor of Brazil saw his mistake, and in his reply made no allusion to the "peculiar institution."

A FIEND IN HUMAN SHAPE.—The Bennington (Vt.) Banner states that a few weeks ago while a man was driving some two miles or more from the village, his horse stepped into a hole in such a manner as to break his leg, when the owner of the animal coolly got out of the sleigh, cut off the leg where it was broken, threw it into the cutter, and drove the horse home upon three legs the remainder of the distance, some two miles. He then sued the town for damages to his horse. We think the town should turn about and send him to the penitentiary for brutal cruelty.

THE UTAH EXPEDITION.—A mail from Salt Lake has been received. It brings news that the snow is six feet deep in the mountains, and the weather intensely cold. The Mormons were active in their preparations to resist the advance of the U. S. troops into Salt Lake city. The army is in good health and spirits, and anxious for more active campaigning.

☞ On Thursday evening, while the convicts in the State Prison at Sing Sing were filing into the mess room for supper, five of them made a rush for the river, which is frozen over, thinking to escape on the ice. They were pursued and fired upon by the guards and all brought back, when three, namen John Spence, Pete Devlin, and ——Quinn, were found to wounded. Spence and Quinn will probably die.

☞ Thomas Foland, who refused to pay his fare in the Hudson River Railroad cars, because the conductor could not provide a seat for him, and then sued the company for ejecting him, has obtained a verdict against them for $50, the judge ruling that conductors must find seats for passengers.

☞ Judge Kane of Philadelphia, the father of the late Lieut. Kane, and somewhat known through the country by his action in the delivery of a fugitive into slavery—and more known for his tyrannical imprisonment of Passmore Williamson for contempt,—died on the 21st inst.

THE POMEROY DEFALCATION.—It is understood that the actual loss arising from the defalcation of Frederick W. Porter, late Secretary of the American Sunday School Union, will not exceed $40,000, and that the managers of the Union, with the assistance of a few of their immediate friends, have determined to pay it out of their own pockets.

☞ The friends of Speaker Orr, says the Washington Republic, cannot point to an instance where the voice of the House was ever before stifled in the selection of any committee, as it has been in the selection of the committee raised under the resolution of Mr. Harris. The House orders inquiry, and the Speaker packs a committee opposed to inquiry.

SAD.—Samuel Clemence of Worcester lost his only eye by an accident while cleaning hot castings on Monday. He lost his other eye by accident a few years ago, and is now totally blind. His fellow workmen contributed fifty dollars towards his support.

Hard words are like hail stones, which, if melted, would fertilize the tender plants they batter down.

CONGRESS.

TUESDAY, Feb. 23.

SENATE.—The Senate passed the bill to amend the act of March 3d, 1851, limiting the liabilities of ship-owners.

Mr. Bell (of Tenn.) presented the resolutions of the Legislature of Tennessee, respecting his opposition to the Lecompton Constitution, and intimating that he ought to resign. He referred to the date of the resolutions, (Feb. 10, 1858) four years after his vote which they censured, saying that it had been usual when the constituents of a member of Congress feel aggrieved at his course, to act promptly.

HOUSE.—The House went into Committee of the whole on the Appropriation Bill.

Mr. Burroughs (of N. Y.,) vindicated the North from the charge of sectionalism, preferred by Southern gentlemen, by referring to the statistical facts shown by the immense preponderance of expenditures by the government in behalf of the South over the North. He also contended for the superiority of the North over the South in industry, wealth, population, education, etc. He proceeded to denounce Messrs. Pierce and Buchanan for their course on the Kansas question.

Mr. Smith (of Va.) called him to order. It was disgraceful for gentlemen to denounce on this floor a co-ordinate branch of this government.

Cries of "No!" "No!"

Mr. Burroughs would be happy it he could say in his heart that he honored James Buchanan, but he must be allowed to speak his candid opinion. He was proceeding, when

Mr. Smith again interrupted him.

Much confusion ensued, during which his hour closed.

COSMOPOLITAN ART ASSOCIATION.—We are gratified to announce that the rumors of the dissolution of the Cosmopolitan Art Association are false. The Directors state that no legal proceedings, of any kind or nature, exist against the Association; that financially and otherwise, the condition of things is most satisfactory; that the Distribution will take place on the date named (March 25th,) beyond any contingency, when the whole revised catalogue of premiums will be awarded, without reserve.

All Magazines subscribed for will be mailed as soon as possible after the reception of the name and subscriptions, and will be furnished promptly throughout the year. The engravings already subscribed for will be ready for mailing in a few days, and those ordered hereafter will be supplied at an early moment.—The Art Journal will be furnished for a year, commencing with the March number, (to issue immediately after the Distribution.) Those subscribers desiring the December number, will have to write, especially ordering it, when it will be furnished, gratis.

☞ The N. Y. Herald's Washington correspondent, of Feb. 22, says;

Dispatches just received from Kansas by the administration indicate a marked change in the aspect of affairs in that Territory. The person who communicated the intelligence occupies a high official position. He says that at the present time a large majority of the people are in favor of the immediate admission of Kansas under the Lecompton constitution; that the honest and fair-minded throughout the Territory are heartily sick of agitation, and desire peace: and that the only way to put a stop to agitation and kill off Jim Lane and his worthless gang is to admit Kansas as a state.

The Herald of Freedom and other papers heretofore opposed to Lecompton, now favor its admission.

"Very like a whale."

AFFRAY AND DEATH.—A letter from Littleton, N. H., to the Boston Ledger, gives the following item of bad news from Landaff.

On Wednesday, about 3 o'clock P. M., one McConnell, a young man about 18 years old, called at the house of Frank Oakes, in that portion of the town called Jericho, for the purpose of getting material for making baskets. They got into some controversy, and McConnell struck Oakes on the head with a beech stick, cutting through his hat, but not making, apparently, a very serious wound, but from the effects of which, Oakes died about 2 o'clock, A. M., next day. His skull was not fractured, (so say his physicians) and some of the time he had his senses; and rumor says, partially admitted that McConnell struck in self-defence. Oakes was a man about fifty years old, and leaves a family. McConnell is under arrest, and has a preliminary examination to-day (Friday) at Bath, N. H.

THE HIGHEST CHIMNEY IN ENGLAND.—The Messrs. Crossley of Halifax are just about completing a new chimney in connection with their works at Dean Clough, which will be of extraordinary dimensions and height, and will outstrip every other that has been built in this country. Its height is 127 yards, the width at the bottom is ten yards.

☞ The annual consumption of tobacco, in the United States, according to late statistics, is nearly three pounds to every inhabitant. What a filthy people!

☞ It is said that the difficulties between Mexico and Spain have been settled.

STARS AND FLOWERS.

O. W. HOLMES.

When Eve had led her lord astray,
And Cain had killed his brother,
The Stars and Flowers, the poets say,
Agreed with one another
To cheat the cunning tempter's art,
And teach the race its duty,
By keeping on its wicked heart
Their eyes of light and beauty.

A million sleepless lids, they say,
Will be, at least, a warning;
And so the Flowers would watch by day,
The Stars from eve till morning.
On hill and prairie, field and lawn,
Their dewy eyes upturning,
The Flowers still watch from reddening dawn
Till Western skies are burning.

Alas, each hour of daylight tells
A tale of shame so crushing,
That some turn white as sea bleached shells,
And some are always blushing.

But when the patient Stars look down
On all their light discovers—
The traitor's smile, the murderer's frown,
The lips of lying lovers:
They try to shut their saddened eyes,
And in the vain endeavor
We see them twinkling in the skies,
And so they wink forever.

TUCKERMAN'S TRIAL.—The trial of Wm. S. Tuckerman for the robbery of the U. S. Mail, was assigned for to-day before the U. S. Circuit Court at New Haven. At the opening of the Court this morning, as we learn by telegraph from New Haven, the case was postponed to the first Tuesday of March, and the Court adjourned to that day. We understand that one of the material points in the defence is the lack of evidence that the robbery was committed in the State of Connecticut, a fact necessary to be proved in order to allow of the trial in that State under the U. S. Laws. Of all the statements made by Tuckerman to Mr. Holbrook, not one, it is said, meets the point of where the robbery was committed.—Traveller.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA AND JAUNDICE.
New Haven, Jan. 16, 1852.
DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.
Yours, in Friendship, Love, and Truth,
CHARLES H. WILLOUGHBY.

Maryland State Lotteries.
R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.
CAUTION NOTICE.
PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets, $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.
The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which pu port to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.
THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.
Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.
One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.
No one has a right to send out individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

Millions of Bottles of MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP are sold every year in the United States. It is an old and well tried remedy.—None genuine unless the fac simile of "Curtis & Perkins" is on the outside wrapper.

THERE IS NO REMEDY
Creating such a stir among invalids as Dr. Sanford's Invigorator or Liver Remedy. It gives such quick relief as to convince the patient of receiving benefit almost as soon as the medicine is taken. We do not know of a single instance where it has been taken without benefit, and in nearly all cases a complete cure is effected by its use. It has acquired its wide popularity simply because it does what it is recommended to do. It is constantly enlarging its circle of friends, carrying healing on its wings, and joy to the hearts of those suffering from Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, or general debility.
General Agents in Boston, BURE, FOSTER & CO., No. 1 Cornhill; and GEO. C. GOODWIN & CO., Boston.
Sold in Portsmouth by JOS. HAVEN THACHER, Druggist.
And sold by Druggists throughout the United States and British Provinces.

LOCAL.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There is to be a Spiritual meeting at the Hanover St. Chapel, this evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

The Class meetings of the Methodist Church will assemble at half past 7 o'clock this evening.

There will be a Prayer Meeting in the Vestry of the Old South Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

LAST THURSDAY IN FEBRUARY.—This day is extensively observed as a day of prayer by the Colleges and Literary Institutions of our land. There will be religious services in the evening, at the Middle St. Church, in which Dr. Peabody, Rev. Mr. Whiting, Rev. Mr. Hall, and the pastor will participate. Services to commence at seven.

☞ There will be a public meeting of the American Republicans at Rechabite Hall on Thursday evening, Feb. 25, at 7 o'clock, when business in regard to the nomination of candidates to be supported at the coming election, will be acted upon.

Per order of the committee.

☞ Hon. Thomas M. Edwards of Keene is announced to address the Republicans of this city, at the Temple, Monday Evening, March 1.

Messrs. Editors.—Allow me to say, in behalf of our tax-payers, that it would afford them great pleasure to see our City Authorities following the example of our neighbors in Salem, in providing good soup for one hundred families for several weeks to come. J. & B.

☞ The Cleveland Register makes the following good hit: "Whether Queen Victoria's red petticoats will become a fashion in America, is yet to be known. It is certain, however, that the attempts of some of her male predecessors to introduce their red coats into the country did not succeed."

☞ The cost of the Central Railroad in New York state was twenty-seven million dollars. The number of employees constantly engaged on it last year was 4,219.

☞ Benjamin Ogle is on trial in Washington city, for the murder of John Webb, a little unoffending boy who was shot dead in a moment of rage.

☞ The ship "Witchcraft," which arrived at Boston on the 5th inst., brings 7,000 boxes of Chinese fire-crackers for the use of Young America on Independence day.

☞ A writer in the Norfolk (Va.) Argus, describes the statue of Wasington, in Richmond, as having its eyes fixed on the House of Delegates, and its right forefinger pointing to the Penitentiary!

LARGE RECEIPTS OF BREADSTUFFS.—Within 24 hours there arrived at New York 9111 bbls. flour, and 33,027 bushels corn, on Wednesday.

An exchange gives some amusing illustrations of the drawling sing-song exortations of some people at religious meetings. For instance, one expressed a desire that he "might live on the Lord's sid er."—Another said that he had "one foot in the grave y and the other was all but er."

"HARD TIMES" SLEIGHING.—A laughable episode of sleigh riding, yesterday, was the appearance of a lady and gentleman in a novel kind of sleigh, to which was attached a top made out of a dry goods case, whose sides were labelled in large black letters, "Hard Times." This unique specimen of carriage caused hearty rounds of laughter upon its passage through Washington street.—Boston Journal.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—In Wakefield, 13th inst., as Mr. David Archibald was felling trees, one of them rebounded, in consequence of coming in contact with a lodged tree, and falling upon him, produced internal injuries, sufficient to cause death within three hours. Mr. Archibald was 63 years old, was an industrious and good neighbor, and many deeply sympathize with his afflicted family.—Manchester Mirror.

"THE IMPORTANCE OF ONE VOTE."—The casting vote of Senator Seward saved the Army Bill in the Senate last week. By this vote the thirty companies, with 130 officers, were retained. These companies will comprise about 2200 men. Col. Davis had previously abandoned the filling up of the companies from 74 to 96, by which 4200 privates would have been added to the army. The number of officers is now 1060, or one to 18 men, which ought to be sufficient in the present financial crisis.—Boston Ledger.

HUMANITY OF A VILLAIN.—Last Saturday night an incendiary burned down the barn of P. H. Clark, in New Ipswich, N. H.—Before committing the act, however, he led the singular humanity to lead Mr. Clark's horse out, and hitch him at a safe distance from the fire.—Lowell News.

MARINE CHRONICLE.
PORT OF PORTSMOUTH.

MONDAY, Feb. 22.

Ar sch Otis, Amazeen, Boston.

4 DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

PORTLAND, Feb. 23.—The Anglo Saxon, Capt. McMasters, from Liverpool 9 A. M., on the 10th inst., arrived at this port at 5 o'clock this afternoon with 71 passengers. She reports being detained off Cape Race 12 hours by ice.

The U. S. corvette constellation was at Alexandria Jan. 26.

GREAT BRITAIN.—On the 8th, in the House of Lords, a vote of thanks to the army in India was agreed to after some objections made to Lord Canning, Gov. General, being included in the vote.

In the Commons, a vote of thanks to the Army in India, was carried after the same exception had been taken, as in the upper house. Lord Palmerston, moved for leave to bring in a bill to amend the law relating to conspiracy and murder, by making it felony; he said the propposition was made in consequence of the recent attempt on the life of the Emperor of the French.

Several speeches were made against the proposed measure, including a very sarcastic one by Mr. Roebuck, when the debate was adjourned. The following evening the debate was resumed, and after speeches by Lord John Russell, D'Israeli, and others, in favor of leave being granted to bring in the bill. Palmeston's motion was agreed to by a vote of 299 to 99.

Mr. Baring presented the East India Company's petition against any alteration in the government of India.

The London Morning Post says that one of the principals in the late attempt on Napoleon, is an Englishman named Thomas Allsopp, an ex-member of the Stock Exchage.

Election rioting had taken place in Limerick, and many persons were seriously injured. The military were called out to restore order.

☞ The Newburyport Herald of Feb. 24 says:—

The report of the proceedings in the Common Pleas Court at Salem, Tuesday, has not reached us; but we learn that the case of Mr. John Janvrin for selling spirituous liquors, was decided without the Jury leaving their seats, it being held that his license was complete protection. This verdict being confidently looked for by Mr. Janvrin's friends, has given much satisfaction to all engaged in the traffic, and it is not probable that they will soon be troubled again.

At Lawrence, Mass., on the 17th, James Gaffney of Haverhill, was convicted of having made three sales of intoxicating liquor, and was sentenced by Judge Taggart—on the first to pay a fine of ten dollars and costs and be committed to the House of Correction for twenty days, and if fine and costs be not paid, thirty days in addition. On the second complaint, to pay a fine of twenty dollars and costs and be committed to the House of Correction for thirty days, and if fine and costs be not paid, then thirty days in addition. On the third complaint, to pay a fine of fifty dollars and costs and be committed to the House of Correction for three months.

TERRIBLE SUFFERING AT SEA.—The Hamburg ship Howard, Capt. Walter, from Hamburg, has arrived at New York after a passage of 96 days, the voyage being a stormy one from beginning to end. She left Hamburg Nov. 10th, with 286 passengers, 37 of whom died on the passage, from sickness resembling cholera, and from weakness occasioned by shortness of provisions and water, the latter being dealt out in very small quantities for the past forty-two days, and most of that made from steam from salt water.

MIDDLESEX CRIMINAL COURT.—Yesterday, Dennis Halliham of Stoneham was convicted on three charges of liquor selling. Lewis Roland of Cambridge for passing worthless money, changed his plea to guilty, was let off on his own recognizance for $500, and immediately enlisted in the army for Utah. Henry C. Kimball of Lowell was convicted of being a common drunkard. Wm. Austin of Lowell, an appealed case, changed his plea to guilty, on a charge of being a common drunkard, and was ordered to give bail in $200 for his future good behavior.—Lowell News.

☞ A poor mechanic at Chicago has had notice that he has become heir to $200,000 by the will of a relative lately deceased in Australia.

☞ Chief Justice Nelson, of Massachusetts, as we learn from the Boston Ledger, has been placed in the Hospital for the Insane in Somerville.

☞ Use the Oxygenated Bitters, and you will have no cause to complain of lassitude, debility, or any of those complaints inseparable from out Spring weather.—They are regularly prescribed by some of our most eminent physicians, in cases of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. D.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford. AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to disease, and disease only, they when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features blossom into health. Give them to some sufferer whose blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stagers, sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with liniments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and now he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to the lean, sour, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has made life a curse; see every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into new life, to cast out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without disguise, and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pitched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to sweep these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the direct cause of Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them perseveringly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are cast out like the devils of old—we must borrow the language of Scripture and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box—5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy eye, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately hale and strong, whisper to all but him CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has stopped his cough and made his breathing easy; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL the unshakable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. It not only relieves and cures, but it prevents. It not only relieves but it prevents the consumptive from ever knowing the disease. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious prowler which carries off the parent's sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick everywhere may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution gratis, and also for sale these remedies, prepared by Dr. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

Dover, N. H., Feb 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity; (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every where we have sold it we have received flattering orders from our own customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $2 size; you very respty.

DANIEL LATHROP & Co.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, as its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with scurf, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but to our great surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A. HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDINER, Me., June 22, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. I can in conscience recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything conducted with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the Legislature of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are for whole, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $40 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, and the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Standard, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

LOTTERIES.

The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. Tyson & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commissioner elected by the people, who is sworn to superintend the drawings and certify everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to any lottery in Maryland, as by special law in that state, a lottery is drawn every day of the month. If no particular class is named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket (after the Havana plan), and Ternary combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 000. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.

☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

TO THE LADIES.

WHEREAS, it appears that the days of right, honor, and integrity are fast fading away, and WHEREAS, the unscrupulous and ignorant are daily taking advantage of the profound and extensively KNOWN REPUTATION OF BELL, whether MAIDS, WIVES, OR WIDOWS, that DR. WHEREAS, these PILLS are purely vegetable and entirely free from mercury, therefore perfectly harmless in their operations and wholly unlike other medicines thrust upon the public, purporting to effect the objects already detailed.

THEREFORE, BE IT KNOWN, that NOTHING but the said PILLS of DR. CHEESEMAN will accomplish the desired object, when DIRECTIONS have been experienced under the regime of COUPER PILLS, and the Ladies will cause this Proclamation to spread amongst them, to their own everlasting benefit, and to the ruining of that vile Profligate in one case must be considered NULL and VOID; that is to say the PILLS MUST NOT be taken when any tendency is an OPPRESSING SITUATION, otherwise MISCARRIAGE will be the inevitable result.

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,
—and—
PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufacturers

By means of a new method of Voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the voice full, clear and organ like. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by use of the coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This connected with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently large to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 persons.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church instrument, being arranged with two banks of keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, to any Manufacturer, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms at any time and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We can further guarantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS from our Manufactory, we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston,

who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

ESSEX COUNTY.—The Salem Gazette of Monday, shows that in Essex County, Mass., the liquor law is enforced to a considerable extent. A correspondent says:—

Twenty or more have been sent to the House of Correction at Ipswich, at the present term of the Court. Others are waiting a like sentence. How many there were under prior sentence, we are not advised—but, from present appearances, it is fair to calculate the month of March will find one hundred able-bodied citizens, chiefly males, laboring under ignominious sentence, in variegated garments, for the illegal sale of intoxicating liquors. Something like this state of things exists in the County of Middlesex, and, probably, following out this proportion, there will be, in all the Counties of the Commonwealth, out of Boston, at least one thousand. And if Boston should have its due, there would be one thousand more there.

The editor says:—

It will be perceived that a large amount of business has been accomplished, although the District Attorney has experienced much difficulty, at this term of the court, in procuring the attendance of witnesses. The community of interest among the rum sellers, and concerted action for the purpose of perverting the witnesses, has caused the difficulty. In a number of cases, witnesses have been provided with the means to take themselves out of the jurisdiction of the court—their board paid at some hotel in a distant town—and other inducements held out to them to "absquatulate." In two or three instances, the officers followed the runaways and escorted them back to this city. Though unwilling witnesses, the jurors could see enough of their disposition, and the management which influenced them, to sift out the truth and find the defendants guilty.

Henry W. Holbrook of Marblehead, Julius C. Gale of Lynn, Ann Martin of Marblehead, David Burns of Gloucester, and Wm. Roland of Lynn, were severally convicted as common sellers.

C. C. Dearborn of Essex, and John Reed of Salem, common sellers, and each sentenced to 4 mos. in the House of Correction, $50 fine, and costs of court.

Margaret Bird of Andover, Frank Burrell of Lawrence, Nicholas J. Mailey and John B. Prime of Lynn, each common seller, sentenced to costs, $50 fine, and 3 mos. in House of Correction.

Edward Ready of Newburyport, and Edward Ankettle of Salem, appellants, guilty of single sales, and each sentenced to $10 fine, costs, and 30 days in House of Correction.

Edward C. Logan and Fred. Stickney, of Gloucester, nuisance act; guilty.

Nathan Mower, Lynn, liquor law; plea guilty on first count.

Robert Stevens, Lynn, do., guilty first count.

Samuel A. Stone, Lynn, do., plea guilty.

Leverett Davis, Lynn, do., plea guilty on first and third counts.

Josiah W. Parker, Salem, do., plea guilty on third and fourth counts.

Wm. G. Kilham, Salem, do., verdict guilty on first count.

Robert H. Smith, Lawrence, do., plea guilty on second count—fine, and 20 days in the House of Correction.

Rosanna Shea, applt., Salem, common drunkard; plea guilty.

John Geary, applt., Salem, drunkenness, second offence; plea guilty—3 mos. in House of Correction.

Andrew Murphy, applt., Salem, drunkenness, second offence; plea guilty—3 mos. in Salem jail.

Ellen McCarty, applt., Salisbury, liquor law, single sale; plea guilty—fine, and 20 days in House Correction.

Patrick Murphy, applt., Lynn, single sale; plea guilty.

Thos. W. Kneeman, Marblehead, assault; guilty.

Susan Daley, Lynn, liquor law, single sale; verdict guilty.

Josiah Herrick, jr., Gloucester; convicted of two sales.

Caleb L. Howard and three others, Newburyport, maliciously injuring a house by firing guns into it; verdict guilty.

THE MOTHER OF WHITTIER.—The Friends' Review (Philadelphia) publishes the following passage of a private letter from John G. Whittier:—

"All that the sacred word MOTHER means in its broadest, fullest significance, our dear mother was to us. A friend, helper, counsellor, companion—ever loving, gentle and unselfish. She was spared to us until in her 78th year, and passed away, after a sickness of about three weeks, in the full possession of her faculties, in exceeding peace, and with an unshaken trust in the boundless mercy of our Lord. It was a beautiful and holy death-bed. Perfect love had cast out all fear."

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber, during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skilful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse. CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE,
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

WEST AND SPRING EMIGRATION.

Throughout all ages, the West has been the cynosure of nations. Among the ancients gigantic impersonations characterized the North—creations of beauty the West. Thus the imagination pictures the unattainable as sublime, the hoped for simply as enchanting. Beyond definable limits, far out on the Atlantic, was placed the Atlantis and garden of the Hesperides.—In such a manner did the old poetic fancy body forth its inarticulate hopes.

With feelings much assimilating, though devoid of that deceptive drapery which the creative genius of the old religion bestowed,—do we of to-day view the still unknown West. True it is not at present depicted as the garden of the divine wedding gift—a mazy paradise. We have advanced (or retrograded, if you choose,) from fairy land and the world of Grecian ideality to prosaic utility and mechanical modes of thought. But the romance of inflated expectations has still to contend with the sneers of a chill incredulity. The West is still that happy land sought with eagerness by the adventurer, and containing, if not the elixir virtue, at least the fountain of human success and enjoyment.

And what is the West? If we glance at the West—as it is to us, as it was to the past—we shall find it in many respects always the same—a wild country, but rich in promise. Unexplored and in resources undeveloped, but gloriously repaying in a thousand fold the seed time, and offering the brightest bays to all who, with true hearts and heroic endeavor, throw themselves, undoubting and unflinching, into the front rank of the van. It is a field for action which is the normal state of our being. Deeds of noble daring or of holy purpose, are enstamped on every chapter of its history.

The East meanwhile becomes materialized. The microscope eclipses the telescope—mental dissection and mechanical appliances supersede the early unity and concentration. The old life, weak in pristine force, moves only in limited and converging circles. A refined literature grows out of the ruin of the natural. Thought relinquishing the sceptre of creation, turns iconoclast, and seeks by analysis rather than by synthesis to adduce its results.

The West therefore becomes the exciter to action; the East retires to study and thought. The West overflows with wealth; the East, except in channels of exit, verges on refinement. In a word, the West furnishes the sinews and the blood; the East the brain and heart. Such formerly was our relation to England, such is the relation of our West to us.

It has been quite fashionable among earlier journals to discourage the annual emigration, nor, unless present politics prove more cogent than old prejudices, are they likely to abate one jot of fogyism. In their narrow vision the expansive west dwindles into a huge, marshy bog, from which is ever emanating an insidious and deadly miasma. They would indeed figure it as a kind of American Maremma of which the Italians have said: "In the Maremma one grows rich in a year and dies in six months."

Far be it from our purpose to ignore the existence of climatic diseases. The west is indeed characterized by peculiar maladies; but is the east more free?—The grave-yards of New England are as populous with the victims of consumption as are those of our western states from the fever and ague. Nor are the usual arguments in regard to fluctuation of property more defensible. True, in past years and to a certain extent even at present, through the influence of eastern speculators, the market has been rendered unsettled. We have, however, yet to learn that inflated monetary transactions are peculiar to the west. Croakers are invariably short-sighted.—The Hercules of modern science has already destroyed the hundred-headed dragon of disease which has hitherto guarded the golden fruitage of western progress.

The valley of the Mississippi and of its tributaries is yet to be the grand source of our wealth. Already, the expenditure of labor being duly considered, it has become the paradise of the agriculturist. The Pacific Railroad will open new avenues for its increasing produce and give additional impetus to its fast swelling population. In such circumstances as these, to all who desire to secure an honorable competence, the region of the setting sun offers uncommon inducements. To attempt to stay the tide of emigration would be useless: to hold back the more energetic and ambitious class of emigrants is criminal. The west is to be peopled by a bold and robust yeomanry, and it is incumbent on us to see that the high-toned virtues, the through education and the intellectual activity which characterizes New England be not withheld.

For the present, as we have before intimated, and as the analogy and teachings of history clearly indicates, there must exist, betwen the east and west, a certain relation of intellectual dependence.

How long this relation will continue is not for us, in this paper or at this time, to discuss. When the valleys of the Colorado and the already advancing Mississippi are enlivened by the abounding evidences of a stable and progressive industry, then and not till then, may it be found necessary that a new horoscope be taken.

J. K.

LEAVENWORTH, KANSAS.—A very large meeting was held at Leavenworth, Kansas, on the 19th inst., to take into consideration the President's Special Message on the Lecompton Constitution. A series of resolutions were adopted.

"Resolved, That we hereby make one last appeal, in peace, to Congress and the President, to reject the Lecompton Constitution."

A motion was then adopted, with tremendous cheering, to burn J. J. Clarkson, Post Master of Leavenworth city, in effigy during his absence, and to hang him on his return to Kansas Territory.

KANSAS TROUBLES.—A New Compromise.—A zealous Pro-Slavery correspondent of the St. Louis Republican, writing from "near Atchison" in Kansas, speaks as follows in regard to the public feeling of the Territory:—

"I am now well satisfied that in order to have peace and secure a speedy settlement of the slavery question, a considerable majority of the people would prefer to see Kansas admitted under the Lecompton Constitution, provided a new election on the slavery clause, and for State officers and members of the Legislature, could be had before the State is organized. Some arrangement of the sort would secure peace; without it, God only knows what is to be the result. Fighting for an abstraction is nonsence; and that is just what a large majority of our party in Kansas think is now going on in Congress.—They are well satisfied that Kansas will not be a slave State for any practical purpose, if so admitted; and they are sick and tired of warring over the question for the benefit of politicians. Most persons who had slaves in Kansas have taken them away since the introduction of the nigger law into the present Legislature, although the law has not yet passed. I have several myself, and if I were in any other county, I would at once take them away."

☞ We have received No. 1 of a new paper from Concord, called the Voice of Temperance, which is issued and edited by Dudley S. Palmer, Esq., the Chairman of the Temperance Committee for Merrimac County, and also Chairman of the City Temperance Committee for the city of Concord,—and, as its leading article states, "will be issued a few weeks to arouse to action the good temperance men of this city and this county, and to arouse a feeling that shall lead to bringing back temperance matters to where they were three years ago."

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 24.—The funeral obsequies of those who lost their lives at the Pacific Hotel catastrophe, took place to-day. The bodies, ten in number, were followed to the grave by the City Officers and Council, nearly all the Benevolent Societies, the Fire Department, and a very large concourse of citizens.

The procession was solemn and imposing, and occupied an hour in passing a given point.

Mrs. Hubbard of Boston died yesterday of her injuries, and James F. Geary died this morning, making a total of twenty victims. Several others of the wounded are not expected to survive.

HARRISBURG, PENN., Feb., 24.—In the State Senate to-day, the majority of the Committe on the Kansas resolutions, reported the resolutions in favor of the Lecomton Constitution, accompanied by a lengthy report, urging the speedy admission of Kansas under that Constitution, with a declaration of the right of the people to alter the same whenever they desire to do so, through proper and legal measures, sustaining the ground assumed in the President's Message. The report was ordered to be printed. A motion to postpone action in order to allow the minority of the Committee to report, was defeated.

☞ Mr. Sinclair will speak at Francestown, Hillsborough County, N. H., on Tuesday, March 16, in the afternoon,—at which time and place we understand the County Temperance Convention will be held.

☞ Rev. Dr. Cox issues a pronunciato against tobacco, which he styles a "hatefully offensive ptyalism, with concommitant dirt ineffable."

☞ The celebrated Abijah Jenkins, pawnbroker, of Boston, is on trial there, for receiving stolen goods, viz. a lot of books which were pilfered from the Courier office.

THE MISSING SHIPS.

ALBERT LAIGHTON.

O, thou ever restless sea,
"God's hal-uttered mystery,"
Where are all the ships that sailed gallantly away?
Tell us, will they never more
Furl their wings and come to shore?
Eyes still watch, and fond hearts wait,—precious freight had they

Precious freight! aye, wealth untold,
More than merchandise or gold
Did the stately vessels bear o'er the heaving main;
Human souls are dearer far
Than all earthly treasures are,
And for them we weep and pray,—must it be in vain?

In the silence of the night,
Did they wrk a wild affright,
Wake to hear the cry of rnx! echo to the stars?
As the cruel, snake-like flame,
Creeping, coiling, hissing came O'er the deck, and up the mast, and out along the spars!

As the doomed ship swayed and tossed
Like a mighty holocaust,
Did they with despairing cries leap into the waves?
Or with folded hands, and eyes
Lifted to the peaceful skies,
Calmly go with prayerful hearts to their nameless graves!

Did the black wings of the blast,
Poise and hover o'er the mast,
Till at last in wrath they swept o'er the crowded deck?
Leaving not a soul to tell,
How the long and awful swell
Of the Ocean troubled breast bore a dismal wreck;

How amid the thunder's clash,
And the lightning's lurid flash,
(Autograph the Storm King writes on his scroll of clouds)
High above the deafening strife,
Piteous cries were heard for Life,
Fear-struck human beings seen clinging to the shrouds!

Or with shattered hulk and sail,
Riding out the stormy gale,
Did the brave ships slowly sink deeper day and night!
Drifting, drifting wearily
O'er the wide and trackless sea,
Loved ones starving, dying there with no sail in sight!

Or when winds and waves were hushed,
While each cheek with joy was flushed,
As they glided gently on, peace in every breast,
With a sudden leap and shock,
Did they strike some hidden rock,
And go down, forever down, to their dreamless rest?

Did the strange and spectral fleet
Of the icebergs round them meet,
Pressing closer till they sunk crashing to the deep?
Do these crystal mountains loom,
Monuments for that vast tomb
In the Ocean's quiet depths where so many sleep?

O thou ever surging sea,
Vainly do we question thee:
Thy blue waves no answer bring as they kiss the strand,
But we know each coral grave,
Far beneath the rolling wave,
Shall at last give up its] dead, touched by God's right hand.

CONGRESS.

WEDNESDAY, Feb. 24.

SENATE.—Mr. Mallory, of Fla., introduced a bill authorizing the construction of a Naval Dry Dock at Pensacola.

Mr. Green's motion to make the Kansas bill the special order for to-morrow was taken up.

Mr. Douglas, of Illinois, asked whether the current report was true that Senators Stuart, of Mich., and Broderick, of Cal., were read out of the party at the Democratic caucus.

Mr. Allen, of R. I., said he knew nothing about it.

The bill was made the special order for Monday.

Mr. Bell, of Tennessee, resumed his speech from yesterday, vindicating himself from the charge that he had been looking to the North for support, rather than to the South.

Mr. Johnson of Tenn. replied, when the Senate went into executive session, and soon afterwards adjourned.

HOUSE.—The House postponed the bill granting pensions to soldiers of the war of 1812 till the 3d Monday of March.

Mr. Campbell of Ohio reported a bill changing the present system of relief of disabled seamen.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Indian appropriation bill.

Mr. Crawford of Ga. made a speech on the Kansas question. He attributed the excitement on this subject to the hatred of the Republicans to slavery, and the doctrine of self-government as provided for in the Nebraska bill.

Mr. Goodwin, of N. Y., strongly condemned the effort to force upon the people of Kansas institutions which they abhor, and to plant slavery there.

Mr. Wilson, of Ind., who voted against the Kansas-Nebraska bill, said the transfer of the slavery question to the people of the Territory produced these convulsions. The government of the Territory was the mere creature of Congress—it had no self-existent, independent power.

Mr. Chaffee, of Massachusetts, defended the Topeka Constitution, combatting the President's assertion that the action of its framers was treasonable, and contending that the Topeka Constitution was provisional, and the best for the people of the Territory.

The debate was continued by Messrs. Fenton, Davis of Mississippi, and others. Adjourned.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 24.—The House Kansas committee held a meeting to-night, but nothing of importance was transacted, the votes being a tie in consequence of the absence of Mr. Letcher. By general concurrence it was made improper for any member to furnish any report for the press.

Mr. Dallas will probably be offered the Federal Judgeship made vacant by the death of Judge Kane of Philadelphia.

Minnesota will probably be admitted apart from and before Kansas, it being understood by the Lecomptonites that Senators Shields and Rice, and the Representatives elect, have caved in, and gone over to Lecompton. I think there is reason to fear that this impression is too true, and that consequently two or three additional votes for Lecompton will be got into the House, which will decide the result.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

DYSPEPSIA AND JAUNDICE.
New Haven, Jan. 14, 1852.
DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.
Yours, in Friendship, Love, and Truth,
CHARLES H. WILLOUGHBY.

Maryland State Lotteries.
R. FRANCE & CO.....MANAGERS.
CAUTION NOTICE.
PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.
The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings: all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.
THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.
Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.
One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.
No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

POLICE COURT.

TUESDAY, Feb. 23.

Before Justice Odell.—Jacob Auerback complained of Wm. Cobo, that he used threats of violence toward the complainant. The justice considered the case not made out, and discharged the accused.

A few days before, Thos. Whalley complained of James Davison, that he beat and bruised Whalley, injuring his eye, &c. It appeared in evidence that Davison did beat him, — but it also appearing that there was about as much blame on the one side as the other, the Justice dismissed the case. If a counter cumplaint had been made, both parties would probably have gone to jail.

Davison is the man who in Thos. Whalley's groggery, some months ago, wrestled with Flannegan, who fell dead. The support of such men, and the costs of court which they make, go to swell our rum tax.

SUPREME JUDICIAL COURT.

EXETER, Feb. 25.

A term of the Supreme Judicial Court commenced a session on Tuesday morning, Judge Bell presiding. The opening prayer was made by Rev. O. S. Lamphear, of the 2nd Cong. Church. Tuesday was occupied in calling the Docket.

At the coming in of the Court on Wednesday afternoon, the death of Hon. John Porter of Derry was appropriately mentioned.

MEETINGS THIS EVENING.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There is to be a Spiritual meeting at the Hanover St. Chapel, this evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock.

There will be a Prayer Meeting in the Vestry of the Old South Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

There is to be a meeting for Prayer and Conference in the brick Vestry on Fleet street, at 7 o'clock this evening.

There is to be a Prayer Meeting in the vestry of the Methodist Church, this evening, beginning at 7 o'clock.

There will be a meeting for Prayer and Conference, in the Chapel of the Middle Street Church, this evening, at 7 o'clock.

☞ The Spiritual manifestations at Hanover street Chapel are attracting much attention and eliciting much discussion.—Keep cool, all round—it is easy enough to say the spirits perform the wonders, but let's see you prove it; and it is not difficult to pronounce it all a humbug, but the man who will explain it thus, will find a fame and wealth awaiting him, the like of which the world has rarely seen.

☞ Mr. Haven's first lecture on Political Economy, at the Hanover street Chapel on Tuesday evening, was attended by a good audience. After an appropriate introduction, the lecturer laid down, in a very lucid style, the Malthusian theory of the relation between labor and capital, the former not to outrun the latter,—and of subsistence and population, the latter to be restricted within the limits of the former. The other lectures will doubtless be as instructive and entertaining as the first, and will open the science of political economy to some enquiring minds who will pursue the subject much beyond the limits of one course of lectures.

☞ Hon. Thomas M. Edwards of Keene is announced to address the Republicans of this city, at the Temple, Monday Evening, March 1.

☞ A rich literary treat is in store for the people of this city, who love eloquence, in the readings and recitations which are advertised to be given on Monday evening, by the Professor of Elocution in Harvard College, Mr. James Jennison, jr. His reputation, professional and general, is such as to warrant an entertainment of the highest order in its kind,—and it is to be presumed that the intelligence and taste of our citizens will give him a numerous audience who can appreciate such a performance.

☞ The Ne Plus Ultra Sewing Machines have been amply proved in this city, and not found wanting. They are superior to any machines sold at so low a price—and equal to many much more expensive. Acquaintance with them only is needed, to have them introduced into every family in the city. Call at No. 21 Daniel Street, and examine them in operation.

☞ A couple of valuable Sleigh Robes were taken from a sleigh in Pearl Street, early on Thursday evening. Whether they were stolen or not, any information concerning them will be thankfully received and liberally paid for, at the Chronicle Counting Room. One was composed of ostrich feathers, the other of wild-cat skins—both light colored.

TORONTO MARKET REPORT.

Front Street, Corn-Market Square, }
TORONTO, C. W., Feb. 18, 1858. }

We are in the full enjoyment of an active Winter business; our roads are good, and supplies of produce of all kinds are now moving throughout the country in abundance. Increased supplies, and, which we rejoice to see, improved qualities of Wheat, have induced a speculative demand, and competition has ran up prices from prime white winter Wheat fully ten cents on last week's prices.

Our quotations hitherto referred only to this market, and were not applicable to prices at which we fill orders for correspondents on the line of the New York Central and Erie R. Rs. Such orders are, in Winter, filled at inland Mills and Markets, whence they are sent direct to the Suspension Bridge. In future, therefore, I shall annex to my Toronto quotations the cost on the cars on the American side of the Suspension Bridge.

WHEAT is in brisk demand especially for prime samples of Winter and Spring. A strong impression exists that such grades will advance at opening of navigation.

FLOUR.—A good deal has been done at an advance, both for immediate and Spring delivery. Flour, warranted from sound Wheat commands an extra price, and is much sought after.

Coarse Grains heavy, at quotations.

No stock of Seeds as yet; small lots of Timothy at $1,25 to $1,50, and Clover at $4,50 offering.

Fine Flour, $2 30 to 2 35 per bl.; No. 2 Superfine 3.25 to 3.30; No. 1 do., 3 55 to 3 65; Fancy, 3.75 to 3.85; Extra, 4 05 to 4.15; Double Ext, 4.25 to 4 65.

In quantities not less than 100 bbls. of any one grade.

Wheat.—Prime white winter 95 to 100c; fair average do 85 to 90c; Spring 68 to 73c; per 60 lbs.

Oats 25c per 34lbs. Barley 50 a 55c per 48 lbs.

Rye 53c per 56lbs. Peas 55 a —c per 60 lbs.

Hogs 5 00 a 5 25 per 100lbs.

At Suspension Bridge—No 2, 3 50 to 3 55; No 1, 3 90 to 3 95; Fancy 4 05 to 4 15; Extra 4 35 to 4 50; Dbl Extra 4 50 to 4 75. Wheat—W W winter 1 05 to 1 10; Av do. 95 to 1 00; Spring 85 to 87. Freight to New York, 90c per bl, 27c per bu. To Albany, 80c and 24c.

Bank Drafts on New York par to ¼ per cent. premium; Boston par; American bills at ⅞ per cent. advance of New York quotations.

Freights from Toronto by rail, for full car loads only, to Montreal 60c a bl., 18c. a bush.; to Boston 121c a bl., 36c a bush.; to Portland 110c. a bl., 33c. bush.; to Ogdensburgh 50c. a bl., 15 c. a bush.. to New York 115c a bl. 40 c. a bush. Rates to Island Pond, Northumberland, Danville Junction, are same as to Portland; and to Bangor and Waterville 135 cents per bl.

To Concord, Manchester, Portsmouth, Nashua, Keene, N. H, Lowell, Fitchburgh, Salem, Worcester, Groton Jn., Springfield, Mass, 130 c. a bl. 46 c. a bush.

CHARGES ON WHEAT are 5c. per bushel, which covers commission for selecting, purchasing, storing, bagging, and putting on cars; or may remain stored till Spring without extra charge, except for Insurance, which will be about 1 per cent. more.

SECOND ESCAPE OF THE ADRIATIC.—A Paris correspondent of the London Globe, says:

"You have already heard how that maritime Jack Sheppard, Captain Durham of the Adriatic clipper, has broken loose again, and is once more over the waters of the dark blue sea. Captain Cavour telegraphed to the authorities at Marseilles and Toulon his arrival in the Gulf of Spezzia, whence the French war steamers dragged him to Genoa, the weather being too stormy to proceed further. It would appear that they relied on the Genoese Captain of the Port for safe custody, and the Port Captain on the French; but between them, amid the squalls and the darkness, the clipper crept out at night, and dashed off in a smart and clever style.—Lever tells us of a Tipperary peasant, when asked to pay for prayers for his son, who had come to grief, saying 'My boy, when alive, broke out of every jail in Munster, and he won't stay long in purgatory.'"

UNPROVITABLE.—In a town on the line of Essex and Middlesex counties, so the Woburn Journal says, a hen-house was entered and robbed. The next morning the owner missed his biddies, but discovered the portmonnaie of the the thief containing sixty dollars and his name, lying on the floor! No questions were asked. The hen-lancier is said to pass for a respectable and honest citizen.

The following remedies are offered to the public as the best, most perfect, which medical science can afford.— AYER'S CATHARTIC PILLS have been prepared with the utmost skill which the medical profession of this age possesses, and their effects show they have virtues which surpass any combination of medicines hitherto known. Other preparations do more or less good; but this cures such dangerous complaints, so quick and so surely, as to prove an efficacy and a power to uproot disease beyond any thing which men have known before. By removing the obstructions of the internal organs and stimulating them into healthy action, they renovate the fountains of life and vigor,—health courses anew through the body, and the sick man is well again. They are adapted to all the ills and disease only, for when taken by one in health they produce but little effect. This is the perfection of medicine. It is antagonistic to disease, and no more. Tender children may take them with impunity. If they are sick they will cure them, if they are well they will do them no harm.

Give them to some patient who has been prostrated with bilious complaint: see his bent-up, tottering form straighten with strength again; see his long-lost appetite return; see his clammy features bloom with health. Give them to some sufferer whose foul blood has burst out in scrofula till his skin is covered with sores; who stands, or sits, or lies in anguish. He has been drenched inside and out with every potion which ingenuity could suggest. Give him these PILLS, and mark the effect; see the scabs fall from his body; see the new, fair skin that has grown under them; see the late leper that is clean. Give them to him whose angry humors have planted rheumatism in his joints and bones; move him, and he screeches with pain; he too has been soaked through every muscle of his body with tinuments and salves; give him these PILLS to purify his blood; they may not cure him, for, alas! there are cases which no mortal power can reach; but mark, he walks with crutches now, and alone; he walks alone; they have cured him. Give them to 'the lean, sow, haggard dyspeptic, whose gnawing stomach has long ago eaten every smile from his face and every muscle from his body. See his appetite return, and with it his health; see the new man. See her that was radiant with health and loveliness blasted and too early withering away; want of exercise or mental anguish, or some lurking disease, has deranged the internal organs of digestion, assimilation or secretion, till they do their office ill. Her blood is vitiated, her health is gone. Give her these PILLS to stimulate the vital principle into renewed vigor, to sweep out the obstructions, and infuse a new vitality into the blood. Now look again—the roses blossom on her cheek, and where lately sorrow sat joy bursts from every feature. See the sweet infant wasted with worms. Its wan, sickly features tell you without dissembling and painfully distinct, that they are eating its life away. Its pinched-up nose and ears, and restless sleepings, tell the dreadful truth in language which every mother knows. Give it the PILLS in large doses to kill these vile parasites from the body. Now turn again and see the ruddy bloom of childhood. Is it nothing to do these things? Nay, are they not the marvel of this age? And yet they are done around you every day.

Have you the less serious symptoms of these distempers, they are the easier cured. Jaundice, Costiveness, Headache, Sideache, Heartburn, Foul Stomach, Nausea, Pain in the Bowels, Flatulency, Loss of Appetite, King's Evil, Neuralgia, Gout, and kindred complaints all arise from the derangements which these PILLS rapidly cure. Take them sparingly, and under the counsel of a good Physician if you can; if not, take them judiciously by such advice as we give you, and the distressing, dangerous diseases they cure, which afflict so many millions of the human race, are to you as the devil of old—they must burrow in the brutes and in the sea. Price 25 cents per box —5 boxes for $1.

Through a trial of many years and through every nation of civilized men, AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has been found to afford more relief and to cure more cases of pulmonary disease than any other remedy known to mankind. Cases of apparently settled consumption have been cured by it, and thousands of sufferers who were deemed beyond the reach of human aid have been restored to their friends and usefulness, to sound health and the enjoyments of life, by this all-powerful antidote to diseases of the lungs and throat. Here a cold had settled on the lungs. The dry, hacking cough, the glassy, and the pale, thin features of him who was lately lusty and strong, indicate all but his CONSUMPTION. He tries every thing; but the disease is gnawing at his vitals, and shows its fatal symptoms more and more over all his frame. He is taking the CHERRY PECTORAL now; it has loosed the cough and made the hacking cough; his sleep is sound at night; his appetite returns, and with it his strength. The dart which pierced his side is broken. Scarcely any neighborhood can be found which has not some living trophy like this to shadow forth the virtues which have won for the CHERRY PECTORAL an imperishable renown. But its usefulness does not end here. Nay, it accomplishes more by prevention than cure. The countless colds and coughs which it cures are the seed which would have ripened into a dreadful harvest of incurable diseases. Influenza, Croup, Bronchitis, Hoarseness, Pleurisy, Whooping Cough, and all irritations of the throat and lungs are easily cured by the CHERRY PECTORAL if taken in season. Every family should have it by them, and they will find it an invaluable protection from the insidious enemy which carries off the parent sheep from many a flock, the darling lamb from many a home.

Authenticated evidence of these facts, with directions for the treatment of each complaint, may be found in Ayer's American Almanac, of which we publish three millions, and scatter them broadcast over the earth, in order that the sick every where may have before them the information it contains. Druggists and dealers in medicine generally have them for distribution. Prepare and cure by these remedies, prepared by DR. J. C. AYER, Practical and Analytical Chemist, Lowell, Mass.

PROF. O. J. WOOD—Dear Sir: Some time last summer I wrote you for information touching your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report to you.
Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, where it fled, seeing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and in a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has as healthy a scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are, yours respectfully.

LOTTERIES.
The well-known Maryland Consolidated Lotteries, of which R. FRANCE & Co are the managers, are chartered by the state of Maryland, and a commission of the Havana gentlemen, duly sworn to superintend and certify that everything connected with them is done in a strictly honorable manner, and that the interests of parties who reside at a distance are as well protected as if they themselves were present at the drawing. Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a perfect right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day at the city of Baltimore, which is now named, orders are filled in the first drawing to take place after the communication comes to hand. The prices of tickets vary from $1 to $20. No tickets are, however, sent unless the money for the same is received with the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and the Havana plan of drawing combination. Prizes vary in amount from $20 to $100 '00. All orders for tickets or packages will receive prompt attention, and the drawing mailed to all purchasers immediately after it is over.
☞ The drawn numbers of the Maryland Lotteries are published by the State Commissioner in the following papers, viz: Sun, Clipper, Patriot, American, Argus, of Baltimore; also, the National Intelligencer and Union, of Washington, D.C.

CURIOUS CASE AT NEWARK.—An Irish girl, some fourteen years old, living as a domestic in the family of a gentleman in Newark, N. J., having recently attended several meetings in the First Baptist Church, became a convert to Protestantism, and wished to be baptized and join the church. This her employer would not permit her to do till he had seen the parents, who are rigid Catholics, residing in New Brunswick, N. J. Last week he went thither, and on stating the cause of his visit, was ordered to send the child home, and they would make her renounce the Protestant faith or kill her. This the employer of course refused to do, when the parents on Friday went to Newark with several others and attempted to take the girl (who was unwilling to leave) away by force, in which they were defeated after a rough and tumble fight. The parents then obtained a writ of habeas corpus and brought the case before Judge Haines, who decided that a mother was generally entitled to the custody of her child, till reaching a legal age, but that in this case, having threatened violence, he could not let her have the girl, and accordingly told the employer to keep her. The parents, finding they could not succeed in their designs, accordingly returned home, after excommunicating and anathematizing their daughter.

☞ The Boston Ledger tells a story of ex-mayor Rodney French, of New Bedford, who, on Thursday, Feb. 18, paid Boston "a visit, and during his perambulations in search of the 'elephant,' he fell in with a lady by whose solicitations he was induced to visit her residence. This proved to be the domicil of the well-known Ike Hayden, and the female none other than his mistress. Mr. French was shown the hospitalities of the house, and this to such an extent as to make him loth to take his departure, so he accordingly concluded 'to make a night of it.'"

In the morning, his pocket book, with $1600, was gone! Hayden was locked up,—and after being in jail two days, he paid $400, was released,—and French went home, minus $1200. A fool and his money—soon parted.

CASE OF 'WRIST DROP' IN A COMPOSITOR FROM LEAD POISONING.—Braithwaite's Retrospect of practical Medicine and Surgery, in its last number, gives the particulars of a case of lead poisoning which is interesting to printers. A compositor who had previously enjoyed good health, had been for a week using new type, which, from the sharpness of its edges, had worn the skin of the extremities of the fingers of his right hand. Two days before his resort to medical treatment he began to lose the power of his right wrist, and at the end of two days the paralysis was complete. From the local application of the poison and the local limitation of its results, the physician determined to treat it locally: and bearing in mind the strong affinity of sulphur for lead, the case with which salts of lead are decomposed by sulphurets, and the facility with which the skin both absorbs and envolves sulphur, he determined to confine his treatment to soaking the hand and wrist in a solution of sulphuret of potassium, and thus to eliminate the lead. The solution was made of the strength of one ounce of sulphuret of potassium to ten ounces of water, and the patient ordered to keep his hand in it for three hours at a time, thrice in the twenty-four hours—the solution to be tepid. No other treatment was adopted, and in a week the hand was as strong as the other, and the patient left the hospital well.

☞ The diplomacy adopted by the city authorities of Portland to induce the boys to relinquish their trumpets, fish-horns, and tar-buckets, on the 22d of February, proved entirely successful. For the first time in many years not a tar-bucket was fired, nor a horn sounded in the streets, and the day and evening passed with remarkable order and quiet. Nearly 4000 tickets were distibuted to the boys of the city for the free concert.

☞ "Mother Boston," 106 years old, and "Daddy Vassal," 92 years of age, the last survivors of those slaves of Massachusetts who are made free by the decision of the Supreme Court of the State upon the Constitution of 1784, by which slavery in the State was declared to be illegal, are still enjoying life and comparative vigor in the city of Boston.

American and Foreign Patents.
R. H. EDDY, solicitor of Patents,
(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largert in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Mr Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent Solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
AUGUST 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R.H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.
PRIME COST, $1, 50 per drachm—PRICE $2 per drachm.
A few boxes of this popular and extraordinary medicine for sale by J. H. THACHER, jy13 Cor. of Pleasant and State Sts.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE
is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

COLORS AND RACES.

A glass prism, upon which falls the Solar rays, shows all the primary colors.—The beautiful rainbow in the sky, by the reflection and refraction of the sun's rays in the watery vapor, exhibits the same primary colors. The variegated flowers of the various hues in our gardens, the green foliage of our forest trees, all the various colored plants that beautify our fields, receive their coloring-matter from the Solar rays. The birds within the tropics are more brilliantly endowed in their gaudy plumage than those of the same genus in the high latitudes. A plant, growing in total darkness, has none of the primary colors,—but transplanted in open day, it soon imbibes its natural coloring matter. Such being the fact in the vegetable kingdom, why should any doubt the Solar influence upon the human complexion? No one doubts this genial, invigorating influence upon the whole human system, being as essential to life as to the life and growth of plants. A fair, white man, migrating to any equatorial region, soon finds that his skin, if exposed to the Solar heat, turns to a bronze or dark brown color, which will remain fixed, unless he should return to a temperate clime. Here is a fact, proving that the coloring matter is from the Solar rays. But the same fact is manifest in respect to the whole human family.

A learned English medical writer states that there is a mucous substance or pigment under the outer skin, which receives the coloring matter—the outer skin being white when peeled off. Dr. Johnston, in his recent invaluable book of 644 pages, upon "the Chemistry of Common Life," in respect to the "delicate and mysterious relation which our bodies bear to the passing light," says, "How wonderful, for example, the varying color of that soft, pulpy, gelatinous matter, which rests on the mucous net-work between our outer and inner skins. Black in the African negro, red in the North American Indian, yellow in the Asiatic, and white in the European, it gives the characteristic color to each race of men. It is structurally the same in all, but for wise ends, it differs chemically in each, so as to adapt each race for the condition in which it is destined to live."

This remark has reference, of course to the general natural complexion in the different degrees of latitude, which varies according to climate from the warm to the temperate. The sable hue is natural everywhere in the equatorial regions round the earth. The white complexion in comparatively a small part of the human family, is found only in the temperate climes, where the natives have been located for many centuries. The Asiatic complexion varies from very dark to yellow and fair, according to the degree of latitude, and the elevation of the country. The African complexion is far from being uniform.—The various shades are manifest, according to the intensity of heat, as in other warm climates,—some tribes or nations are yellow as in central Asia. The American Indians have long been described as being red, perhaps because they painted their skins red. In the North, among the roving tribes of the forest, the skin is dark brown. Modes of life and diet everywhere, have some effect upon the color of the skin. But in South, Central, and North America, the complexion of the native Indians varies, having different shades.

HOMO.

☞ Geo. W. Kendall, of the New Orleans Picayune, writes from his sheep ranche in Texas:—"I have pasturage for 20,000 sheep and any number of horses and cattle, and to see all this space covered, is now what I am working for. I don't bother my mind a moment about Kansas, Brigham Young, or politics of any kind—don't care who is President—fear God and hate the Indians—am indifferent about Walker and the devil—try to keep my feet warm and head cool—and smoke my pipe in peace with all mankind."

☞ One item in the wardrobe of the Princess Royal of England on her marriage, should attract the attention of American women and be adopted by them. A part of her "fit out" was twelve pairs of boots, which are described as "useful and solid;" some of them, intended for rough walking, are provided with treble soles.

SLIGHTLY INDEFINITE.—A California paper notices an entertainment in which Mrs. Leslernier was to read "Nothing to Wear" in "appropriate costume."

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 25.—The Leavenworth Times says that the judges and clerks of the election in Shawnee had been arrested, and testified under oath before the Investigating Committee that the poll book of Shawnee was taken to Westford and that their names were added thereto at that place.

J. W. Clarkson, postmaster of Leavenworth, was burned in effigy on the night of the 15th, and threats were made to hang him if he could be caught.

A. G. Browne, Jr., the Utah correspondent of the N. Y. Tribune, arrived here last night in company with U. S. Attorny Hockaday of Utah. They left Camp Scott Feb. 5th. The health of the army continued good and the weather was remarkably mild for the region. Very little snow had fallen in the immediate vicinity of the camp, and the ground was most of the time almost bare.

The U. S. District Court had indicted Brigham Young, Heber C. Kimball and others for high treason.

The Mormon Legislature was still in session. The latest dates received from the States were to Oct. first, and much anxiety was felt to hear from the East, in consequence of the rumored money panic.

NEW YORK ITEMS.—New York, Feb. 25. The French refugees in this city met last night, and speeches were made eulogizing Orsini and Pierre, the attempted assassins of Napoleon.

The brig Ellen has been seized and certain parties committed to prison on the charge of fitting her out as a slaver.

A gang of ruffians, four of whom have been arrested, knocked down and horribly beat a man named Henry M. Vanpelt, in a lonely part of Brooklyn last night. He will probably die of his injuries.

Paul Hernandez, a Mexican, murdered his wife this morning, in a basement of West Broadway.

NEW YORK. Feb. 26.—A letter from Jopa, of Jan. 17, published in the Tribuue, gives an account of an outrage upon one of the mission families. Five men broke into the house of brother Walter Dickson, murdered his son-in-law, Frederic Gross Steinbeck, outraged Steinbeck's wife, horribly beat Mrs. Dickson, and attempted to cut off Mr. Diskson's head, because, after giving them all the money he had, he would not give more. Mr. Dickson caught the sword in his right hand, which was badly cut. The American Consul at Jerusalem had taken up the matter. Mr. and Mrs. Dickson were from Connecticut.

The sad intelligence was received in this city this morning of the death of Mrs. Harriet Harding Williams, a Missionary of the American Board of Commissioners for foreign Missions, at Mosul. Her death occurred on the 25th of December, and was caused by dysentery. She was the daughter of Rev. Sewall Harding, of the Congregational Board of Publication, and had but recently arrived at her field of labor, having sailed from Boston about eight months since.—Boston Traveller.

AN INHUMAN FATHER.—Brutality and bad Brandy.—During the severe storm on Saturday, a little boy, hardly five years old, very poorly clad, was wandering around Market Square, having lost his way, being blinded and well-nigh smothered by the blowing and whirling of the snow. The child had with him a tin pail in the bottom of which was deposited five cents. He was taken in by one of the market men in the Old Market and a messenger dispatched to the Station House on College street, when an officer proceeded to bring the little wanderer to more comfortable quarters. When brought to the Station House the child said his name was "Johnny Brannan," living with his father, Felix Brannan, on Orange street. The child was sent out in all that wind and snow, blowing and whirling, almost suffocating grown persons, for a pint of brandy at five cents, which is forty cents per gallon: that murderous compound which kills nine times out of ten at a distance of forty rods. The child was sent by his father to the "Pork Market" (a rum shop in the vicinity of Orange Street) for the liquor, and mistaking the place got down near the Old Market, where he became bewildered. The wonder is that he was not found smothered by the drifts, and that he did not walk into the dock. He was wet through, his little hands and feet being nearly frozen; but he was nicely warmed and cared for in the Station.—The mother came after a while, and from her the discreditable, lazy, drunken, brutal character of the father was learned.—Providence Post.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—Dispatches of the 26th, represent the fate of the Army bill as extremely doubtful. One writer says:

Unless the administration get the additional regiments asked for in some shape, either volunteers or otherwise, it will find itself very much embarrassed, and will be compelled to abandon the Utah expedition: at least so I am informed on high authority.

The tariff investigating committee are on the track of some persons who figured extensively in the lobby last session, and who received a portion of the $87,000.

(Times Correspondence.)—Matteson arrived here to-day. His friends say that the reference to a Select Committee is satisfactory, because it gives him an opportunity for trial.

Gov. Walker has written a letter to the Indiana Convention, which, I am assured, is in more earnest opposition to the President's course on Lecompton than anything he has heretofore published. His friends deny any reconciliation with the President.

The vote in the Senate to-day, referring General Shields' application to be admitted to a seat, is substantially a rejection of his application.

CONGRESS.

THURSDAY, Feb. 25.

SENATE.—Mr. Crittenden presented a letter from Mr. Shields, and moved that he take his seat as Senator from Minnesota.

Mr. Johnson (of Ark.) moved to lay the subject on the table. Lost by a vote of 26 to 16.

Mr. Toombs said the whole question was, Is Minnesota a State? He submitted a resolution referring the case of Mr. Shields to the Judiciary Committee, with instructions to inquire whether Minnesota was a State in the Union under the Constitution.

The Army Bill was then taken up for consideration. The pending proposition was the substitute of Mr. Johnson of Tennessee, for the employment of four thousand volunteers.

The Bill was then discussed at length, and the substitute rejected by 23 against 26.

Mr. Pugh moved to authorize the President to accept of the services of volunteers not exceeding three thousand, to serve as cavalry or infantry, for two years, unless sooner discharged. This was adopted by 27 against 25.

The bill in this form was then reported to the Senate and rejected by 16 against 35.

YEAS—Messrs. Bell, Briggs, Broderick, Cameron, Crittenden, Douglas, Green, Gwin, Houston, Johnson (of Tenn.), Mallory, Pugh, Seward, Stuart, Thompson (of Kentucky), Toombs—16.

NAYS—Messrs. Allen, Bayard, Benjamin, Bigler, Brown, Chandler, Clark, Clay, Dixon, Doolittle, Durkee, Evans, Fessenden, Fitch, Fort, Foster, Hale, Hamlin, Hammond, Harlan, Hunter, Iverson, Johnson (of Arkansas), King, Mason, Polk, Sebastian, Simmons, Slidell, Sumner, Thompson (of New Jersey), Trumbull, Wilson, Wright, Yulee—35.

ABSENT—Messrs. Bates, Bright, Collamer, Davis, Fitzpatrick, Jones, Kenney, Pierce, Reid, Wade, Henderson—11.

HOUSE.—Mr. Quitman reported a bill authorizing the organization of a regiment of mounted volunteers for the defence of the frontiers of Texas; also authorizing the President to call out, as occasion may require, four additional regiments of volunteers.

The Matteson expulsion case was called up, and debated at length,—on its merits, regardless of party lines.

Mr. Grow (of Penn.) said the letters making the charges against Matteson were shown to his constituents at the time he was elected. The gentleman from Illinois had said he wouldn't sit here with rogues and villains, but, continued Mr. Grow, the people of the Congressional Districts choose our associates. If members had this right—if they can say who shall sit here, they could exercise the power of tyrants.

Suppose a convicted murderer was sent here, could the majority drive him out? He protested against such an assumption.

Mr. Sherman (of Ohio,) moved to lay the resolution on the table. Rejected, 61 against 122.

It was then referred to a Select Committee by 93 against 87.

THE LOST DAUGHTER, by Mrs. Caroline Lee Hentz, has just been published, with other beautiful tales by the same gifted authoress,—by T. B. Peterson & Brothers, Philadelphia. The Lady's Book says of the work:—We are not called upon, we are aware, to repeat here all that able critics have so often and truthfully said in praise of the dramatic powers displayed in the writings of the late Mrs. Hentz—of the ease, correctness and gracefulness of her style—of the purity or the strength of her moral principles—or of the applicability of her lessons and examples to the prudent regulation of the affairs of everyday life. Like her works, those high opinions of the critics have become household words among American readers.—But there is still room for the spread of the authoress' reputation, and for the extended influence of her writings, which are so well calculated to elevate and enlighten the minds of those who may not yet have had the pleasure to peruse them. It is due also to the worthy publisher, who keeps these works before the public, that he should be remunerated for his labor and enterprise. Exclusive of 'The Lost Daughter,' this volume contains no less than nine of the authoress' most delightful stories. Price, in cloth, $1.25, or, in two volumes, paper cover, one dollar.

FATAL ACCIDENT.—A little girl named Ann Tully, living in Globe Village, eight years of age, while playing with her schoolmates at recess one day last week, was pushed against the fence, and although at the time was thought not to be injured, it has proved that she was internally injured, so much so, that she had bleeding turns, and they were so frequent that they ended her life last week Thursday. This should serve as a caution to children not to be rude in their games, as it is often the case that some serious injury is caused while playing, which sooner or later ends their lives.—Southbridge Press.

New Haven, Jan. 16, 1852.

DEAR SIR—After suffering much for twenty years from Dyspepsia and Jaundice, I purchased a bottle of your Extract of Rock Rose, and after a trial of one bottle, I find my health greatly improving. My wife, also, suffering from the same complaint, and with the Chronic Diarrhea, commenced using your valuable medicine, and immediately found relief. I have also used it in my family for Scrofula, and in no case have ever found it to fail.

Maryland State Lotteries.

R. FRANCE & CO.....,.....,...MANAGERS.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $5. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of getting a prize. Beware of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, it you order from any Broker owning vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

There will be a Prayer and Conference meeting at the Vestry in the Temple, this evening at 7 o'clock.

There will be a meeting for Prayer and Conference in the Middle Street Chapel, on Sunday evening, at 7 o'clock.

There will be a Prayer meeting in the Methodist Church at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening.

There will be preaching in the Temple, on Sunday evening at 7 o'clock.

THE NEW CHURCH.—The Free Will Baptist Society in this city have nearly completed their new Meeting-House, on the corner of Pearl and Hanover streets—and calculate to occupy it as early as May; thus showing what enterprise and exertion will do for a Society neither large nor rich.

The new structure is of wood, 40 by 50 feet, with 20 foot posts,—without steeple. It fronts on Pearl street, and has two entrances, up flights of eight or ten steps.—It is finished in blocks, and is to be painted in imitation of sandstone; and will be an ornament to that part of the city.

There are to be fifty-six pews, with iron supports—which will accommodate about 350 persons. The singers' gallery is over the entrance, at the west, and the pulpit at the opposite end of the building. Gaspipes are laid in the building; and a melodeon is to be used for accompaniment to the singing.

Above the main body of the house, it is designed ultimately to furnish a good Vestry, 20 by 50 feet, 8 feet clear—which will accommodate a Sunday School or Prayer Meeting of 200 persons or more.

The Church is set up, so as to leave an excellent basement, 8 feet high, for storage, school-room or other use.

The Building Committee are Messrs. John M. Davis, Wm. F. Ham, Charles E. Dixon, Tobias Ham, Daniel H. Spinney, Jr.—They state that their project has been kindly entertained and liberally encouraged, by friends of religion in the city; and that they have reason to hope further aid from other citizens, as well as from churches abroad, for whom this Society have often contributed their mite.

This Society is at present worshipping in the Old South Church—Rev. Seth W. Perkins occupying the pulpit.

CUSTOM HOUE.—It istated that Albert Blaisdell, Esq., Superintendent of Construction of our new Custom House Building, has contracted for the granite, to come from Rattlesnake Hill, Concord, N. H.—The stone will be transported to this city undressed, and finished here. Proposals are now being received for the iron work, and the operations upon the building will be resumed early in the Spring.

☞ Mr. Sinclair's address to youth and children, on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, will be in the Temple,—admittance free.

☞ It will be observed that the well-known, extensive and valuable Jacob Sheafe Farm, at Sagamore, is to be sold at auction on the 27th prox. This is one of the best farms to be found anywhere, and the sale offers a rare opportunity for a farmer to locate.

☞ Mr. Newell is to commence a class in Penmanship, at his room over Mr. Fonda's store, at half-past 3—4 rare chance for ladies and children to form or improve their hand writing.

☞ Our neighbor of the Journal, Chas. W. Brewster, Esq., in his paper of Friday, gives an interesting reminiscence of his "Forty Years in a Printing Office," which closed on the 18th of Feb. Were we to wish him another term of like duration, some of our readers might deem it a hard fate; but when individuals "do whatever their hands find to do" with cheerfulness, no pathway is unstrewn with flowers.

We have often been addressed thus,—it seemed to us somewhat in a spirit of envy,—"I wish I had been a printer—see how Mr. Brewster has made money"—and sometimes a similar allusion to ourself has been added. Now if forty years of industry devoted to one calling, with integrity and economy added, won't give a man some sort of a competence,—"the dignity of labor" is about all we can hope from toil.

Mr. Brewster closes his article with a statement that "Nothing of type, press or furniture he used forty years ago, is now left in his office, except an old fancy rule," of which he gives an impression. There is another rule which he has kept by him all the time—which wears even better than the old dash—we mean the golden rule.

We have to thank him for many favors and uniform kind treatment during our apprenticeship in the old Journal office, as well as since. Though our term of service among the types reaches but about one-third the extent of his,—yet it has been more varied, and perhaps not less laborious comparatively. We don't hope to lay down the stick or pen till our day is o'er; but should like to look back, from the end, and see our duties as well done as those of our "venerable" cotemporary. We are proud of the privilege of being a co-laborer with such an one, in "the art that preserves all arts." Long may he "stick" to that rule. T.

ECLIPSE OF THE MOON.—At the Full or Opposition which occurs this afternoon, the moon will be partially eclipsed. The whole of this eclipse will be visible in Europe, nearly all of it in the British Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, &c., but only the latter part in this vicinity; whilst at places situated a few degrees West, the eclipse will be over before the moon rises.

☞ The Granite State Bards sang in New Market, Thursday evening. By a misunderstanding, the bills were not distributed till almost time for the doors to open; which of course lessened their audience. However, a good number assembled, on the moment, and the programme was sung through so acceptably, that many requests were made for another performance there soon.

The Bards sing in Dover, at the City Hall, on Thursday evening next, March 4.

Morning Chronicle.

☞ Rev. Dr. Alexander H. Vinton, T. Starr King, and 5800 other men, and also 1817 women, have petitioned the mayor and aldermen of Boston, to close the dram shops, and revise the jury lists so as to exclude from them all violators of the law.—Thursday afternoon, March 4th, was assigned for a public hearing on the subject. Mr. H. Plympton obtained 2357 signatures to one petition in Ward Four alone.

The Rev. J. E. Crnwford (colord) pastor of the Babtist Church in Nantucket, has just returned from Wilmington, N. C., where he has been to purchase from slavery a neice of his wife. The price paid was $1000, of which £50, was contributed in England.

The Warren Statue.—One of the country members of the General Court was taken by a friend to see the Warren statue in the Merchants' Reading Room, Tuesday, and when asked what he thought of it, replied—He didn't exactly know whether it was a good one or not, for he "had never seen Warren in that character." He was evidently thinking of the comedian at the Museum.—Boston Herald.

Ayer's Pills

Are particularly adapted to derangements of the digestive organs and diseases arising from impurity of the blood. A large part of all the complaints that afflict mankind originate in one of these, and consequently these pills are found to cure many varieties of disease.

Subjoined are the statements from some eminent physicians, of their effects in their practice.

AS A FAMILY PHYSIC.

From Dr. E. W. Cartwright, of New Orleans.

"Your Pills are the prince of purges. Their excellent qualities surpass any cathartic we possess. They are mild, but very certain and effectual in their action on the bowels, which makes them invaluable to us in the daily treatment of disease."

FOR JAUNDICE AND ALL LIVER COMPLAINTS.

From Dr. Theodore Dell, of New York City.

"Not only are your Pills admirably adapted to their purpose as an aperient, but I find their beneficial effects upon the Liver very marked indeed. They have in my practice been more decisive in the cure of bilious complaints than any one remedy I can mention. I sincerely rejoice that we have at length a purgative which is worthy the confidence of the profession and the people."

DYSPEPSIA — INDIGESTION.

From Dr. Henry J. Knox, of St. Louis.

"The Pills you were kind enough to send me have been all used in my practice, and have satisfied me that they are truly an extraordinary medicine. So peculiarly are they adapted to the disease of the human system, that they seem to work upon them alone. I have cured some cases of dyspepsia and indigestion with them, which had resisted the other remedies we commonly use. Indeed I have experimentally found them to be effectual in almost all the complaints for which you recommend them."

DISENTERY — DIARRHŒA — RELAX.

From Dr. J. O. Green, of Chicago.

"Your Pills have had a long trial in my practice, and I hold them in esteem as one of the best cathartics I have ever found. Their alterative effect upon the liver makes them an excellent remedy, when given in small doses, for bilious dysentery and diarrhœa. Their sugar-coating makes them very acceptable and convenient for the use of women and children."

INTERNAL OBSTRUCTION—WORMS—SUPPRESSION.

From Mrs. E. Stuart, who practises as a Physician and Midwife in Boston.

"I find one or two large doses of your Pills, taken at the proper time, are excellent promotives of the natural secretion when wholly or partially suppressed, and also very effectual to cleanse the stomach and expel worms. They are so much the best physic we have that I recommend no other to my patients."

CONSTIPATION — COSTIVENESS.

From Dr. J. P. Vaughn, Montreal, Canada.

"Too much cannot be said of your Pills for the cure of costiveness. If others of our fraternity have found them as efficacious as I have, they should join me in proclaiming it for the benefit of the multitudes who suffer from that complaint, which, although bad enough in itself, is the progenitor of others that are worse. I believe costiveness to originate in the liver, but your Pills affect that organ and cure the disease."

IMPURITIES OF THE BLOOD — SCROFULA — ERYSIPELAS — SALT RHEUM — TETTER — TUMORS — RHEUMATISM — GOUT — NEURALGIA.

From Dr. Rankel Hall, Philadelphia.

"You were right, Doctor, in saying that your Pills purify the blood. They do that. I have used them of late years in my practice, and agree with your statements of their efficacy. They stimulate the excretories, and carry off the impurities that stagnate in the blood, engendering diseases. They stimulate the organs of digestion, and infuse vitality and vigor into the system.

"Such remedies as you prepare are a national benefit, and you deserve great credit for them."

FOR HEADACHE—SICK HEADACHE—FOUL STOMACH—PILES—DROPSY—PLETHORA—PARALYSIS —FITS—&c.

From Dr. Edward Bogel, Baltimore.

"DEAR DR. AYER: I cannot answer you what complaints I have cured with your Pills better than to say all that we ever treat with a purgative medicine. I place great dependence on an efficient cathartic in my daily practice with diseases, and believing as I do that your Pills afford us the best we have, I of course value them highly."

☞ Most of the Pills in market contain Mercury, which, although a valuable remedy in skilful hands, is dangerous in a public pill, from the dreadful consequences which frequently follow its incautious use. These contain no mercury or mineral substance whatever.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Has long been manufactured by a practical chemist, and every one of its doses is now given with invariable accuracy and care. It is sealed and protected by law from counterfeits, and consequently can be relied on as genuine, without adulteration. It supplies the surest remedy the world has ever known for the cure of the numerous pulmonary complaints; for Coughs, Colds, Hoarseness, Asthma, Croup, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of consumptive patients in advanced stages of the disease. As time makes these facts more and more known, this medicine has gradually become the best reliance of the afflicted, from the log cabin of the American peasant to the palaces of foreign kings. Throughout this entire country, in every state and city, and almost every hamlet it contains, Cherry Pectoral is known as the best of all remedies for diseases of the throat and lungs. In many foreign countries it is extensively used by their most intelligent physicians. If there is any dependence on what men of every station certify it has done for them; if we can trust our own senses when we see the dangerous affections of the lungs yield to it; if we can depend on the assurance of intelligent physicians, whose business is to know; in short, if there is any reliance upon any thing, then will irrefutably prove that this medicine does cure the class of diseases it is designed for, paramount to any and all other remedies known to mankind. Nothing but its intrinsic virtues, and the unmistakable benefit conferred on thousands of sufferers, could originate and maintain the reputation it enjoys. While many inferior remedies have been thrust upon the community, have failed, and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and remarkable to be forgotten.

THE GREAT BEAUTIFIER

So long unsuccessfully sought,
FOUND AT LAST.

FOR IT RESTORES PERMANENTLY GRAY HAIR to its original color; covers luxuriantly the bald head; removes all dandruff, itching, and all scrofula, scald head and all eruptions; makes the hair soft, healthy, and glossy, and will preserve it to any imaginable age; removes, as if by magic, all blotches, &c., from the face, and cures all neuralgia and nervous headache. See circular and the following.

DOVER, N. H., Feb. 2, 1857.

Prof. O. J. Wood & Co.—Gents: Within a few days we have received so many orders and calls for Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, that to-day we were compelled to send to Boston for a quantity, (the 6 dozen you forwarded all being sold,) while we might order a quantity from you. Every bottle we have sold seems to have produced three or four new customers, and the approbation and patronage it receives from the most substantial and worthy citizens of our vicinity, fully convinces us that it is A MOST VALUABLE PREPARATION.

Send us as soon as may be one gross of $1 size; and one dozen of $3 size: yours very truly,

DAME, LATHEOP & CO.

Hickory Grove, St. Charles Co., Mo., 1856.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Some time in the last summer we were induced to use some of your Hair Restorative, and its effects were so wonderful, we feel it our duty to you and the afflicted, to report it.

Our little son's head for some time had been perfectly covered with sores, and some called it scald head. The hair almost entirely came off in consequence, when a friend, sealing his sufferings, advised us to use your Restorative, we did so with little hope of success, but, to our surprise, and that of all our friends, a very few applications removed the disease entirely, and a new and luxuriant crop of hair soon started out, and we can now say that our boy has a healthy scalp, and as luxuriant a crop of hair as any other child. We can therefore, and do hereby, recommend your Restorative, as a perfect remedy for all diseases of the scalp and hair. We are yours respectfully,

GEORGE W. HIGGINBOTHAM,
SARAH A HIGGINBOTHAM.

GARDNER, Me., June 23, 1855.

Prof. O. J. Wood—Dear Sir: I have used two bottles of Professor Wood's Hair Restorative, and can truly say it is the greatest discovery of the age for restoring and changing the Hair. Before using it I was a man of seventy. My hair has now attained its original color. You can recommend it to the world without the least fear, as my case was one of the worst kind.

Yours Respectfully.

These fabrics, since their first introduction to the public, (almost three years since,) have been fully tested, and the result has proved them to possess all the qualities requisite to make a perfect article. They have on hand numerous testimonials from gentlemen in the navy and merchant service, which they would be pleased to show any one who would favor them with a call. LOTTERIES.

THE Lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are chartered by the State of Georgia, and have sworn commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner: they refer the public as to their responsibility for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as if they were present. The Manager would respectfully call attention to the fact that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Georgia, as the lotteries of Samuel Swan & Co. are authorized by the laws of that State. A lottery will be drawn every Saturday throughout the year, all orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after the same comes to hand. According to the scheme one ticket in every ten must draw a prize. Tickets are $10; halves, $5; quarters, $2.50. No tickets sent unless the money accompanies the order. The drawings are upon the principle of one number on each ticket, and are so simple that none can fail to understand them. There is no combination of numbers to mystify the buyer. Prizes vary from $50 to $70,000; every prize being drawn, and result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers

☞ A list of the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. Write your address plainly, and direct to S. SWAN & Co., Augusta, Georgia

Prizes paid in full—no percentage deducted from prizes as in other lotteries.

All communications strictly confidential. m181y

Another fact which the managers call attention to, is, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Maryland, as lotteries are legalized by special law in that state. A lottery is drawn every day, and the numbers that are drawn from the wheel, with the amount each prize is entitled to, will be published after every drawing, in the following papers:—New Orleans Delta, Mobile Register, Charleston Courier, Nashville Gazette, Atlanta Intelligencer, and New York Weekly Day Book. S. D. & H. W. SMITH,

—MANUFACTURERS OF—

Melodeons, Organ Melodeons,

—and—

PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

No. 511 Washington St., Boston,

The first premium over all competitors, at the Fair of the Mass Charitable Mechanic Association, of the National Fair, Washington, D. C., also at the Ohio State Fair, held at Columbus, Ohio, was awarded to these Manufactories.

By means of a new method of voicing, known only to themselves, they have succeeded in removing the harsh and buzzing sound which formerly characterized the instrument, and rendering the tones full, clear and pure. The action is prompt and reliable, enabling the performer to execute the most rapid music without blurring the tones. The swell is arranged to give great expression.

THE PEDAL BASS MELODEONS,

Are designed particularly for Churches, Lodges, Halls, &c. It is arranged with two manuals, or banks of Keys, the lower set running an octave higher than the other, and may be used separately, and thus get in one case two distinct instruments; or by a simple coupler, the two banks of keys may be played at the same time by use of the front set only. This combined with the Pedal Bass, will produce the effect of a large organ, and is sufficiently heavy to fill a house that seats from 1000 to 1500 person s.

THE ORGAN MELODEON

Is designed for parlor and private use. The construction is similar to the Church Instrument, being arranged with two banks of Keys, and when used together, by means of the coupler, is capable of as great volume of power as the Church Instrument when used without the pedals. Also, every variety of MELODEONS for Parlor use.

Purchasers may rely upon instruments from our Manufactory, being made in the most complete and thorough manner. Having removed to the spacious Buildings

511 Washington Street,

We have every facility for manufacturing purposes, and employ none but the most experienced and skilful workmen. In short, we will promise our customers an instrument equal, if not superior, in every respect, and guarantee an entire and perfect satisfaction.

Music Teachers, Leaders of Choirs, and others interested in musical matters, are respectfully invited to visit our Rooms, to try and examine or test the instruments on exhibition for sale at their pleasure.

We feel still further warrantee to the public as to the excellence of the MELODEONS, from the Manufactory we beg leave to refer, by permission, to the following:

Piano Forte Manufacturers of Boston, who have examined our Instruments, and will give their opinion when called upon:

Chickering & Sons,	Hallett & Cumston,
T. Gilbert & Co.,	Wm. F. Emerson,
Brown & Allen,	A. W. Ladd & Co.,
George Hewes,	Woodward & Brown,
	Newhall & Co.

MELODEONS RENTED.

Persons who wish to hire Melodeons with a view of purchasing at the end of the year, can have the rent credited as part payment of the purchase money. Rent is very worthy of special note, as it enables those who desire a fair test of the instruments before purchasing, to obtain it, to the benefit of the manufacturers, to the extent at least of a year's rent.

Orders from any part of the country or world, sent direct to the manufactory in Boston, with cash, or satisfactory reference, will be promptly attended to, and as faithfully executed as if the parties were present, or employed an agent to select, and on as reasonable terms.

(Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the Act of 1837.)
No. 76 State st, oppo. Kilby st, Boston,
AFTER an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britian, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remmitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.
This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate.—The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining patents.
All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.
TESTIMONIALS.
"During the time I occupied the office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, did business at the Patent Office, as Solicitor of Patents. There were few, if any persons acting in that capacity, who had so much business before the Patent office; and there were none who conducted it with more skill, fidelity, and success. I regard Sir Eddy as one of the best informed and most skillful Patent solicitors in the United States, and have no hesitation in assuring inventors that they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office.
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents."
From the present Commissioner.
August 17, 1855.—During the time I have held the Office of Commissioner of Patents, R. H. Eddy, Esq., of Boston, has been extensively engaged in the transaction of business with the office, as a Solicitor. He is thoroughly acquainted with the law, and the rules of practice of the Office. I regard him as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse.
CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

Coggswell's Medical Salt,
A PERFECT SUBSTITUTE
FOR THE
LANCET, LEECHES AND BLISTERS.
INSTEAD of being a panacea for all maladies, it has control over but ONE MALADY—has but ONE AIM—accomplishes but ONE THING, to wit: SUBDUES INFLAMMATORY DISEASE—whatever be its form or locality—whether in the head, throat, chest, abdomen, extremities or skin. Every form of inflammation (but no other disease) is subdued, by it as easily as fire is extinguished by water. Is it asked, how it does this?—simply by restoring the lost balance between the fluids and solids. Such is its potency, that like vaccine matter, it requires merely what adheres to the point of a quill dipped into a solution of it, to affect the entire system.
☞ Of its intrinsic value, the enlightened community, and not the discoverer, must be the judge.

Cold Winter is Coming on.
AND with it will return the usual concomitants, Coughs, Colds, Dyspepsia, Scorbutic Eruptions, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Tetter, Ring Worm, &c., which the genial warmth of summer and free perspiration has, for a time relieved, but which the return of rigid, cheerless winter, will bring back, unless resisted by some medicamentum.
MYER'S EXTRACT OF ROCK ROSE, is peculiarly applicable, and if freely used will not fail to protect the constitution against the sudden and extreme changes of our variable climate. It purifies the blood, strengthens the stomach, and invigorates the whole system, thus fortifying against the insidious attacks of ungenial frosts and debilitating heats. See Circulars.

DEATH OF JOHN PORTER.

Upon the opening of the Supreme Judicial Court at Exeter, on Wednesday afternoon, Mr. W. H. Y. Hackett announced the death of John Porter of Derry, and addressed the Court as follows:—

May it please your Honor,—In the rapid flight of time we have reached the period for the convening of this Court. The preliminaries have been gone through with, and the business of the term has been commenced. Yet we miss the venerable form and the measured step of the President of this Bar. Who among us can recollect a time or term when he did not associate our distinguished brother and his presence with the Rockingham Courts?

Mr John Porter, with one exception the oldest counsellor of the bar, died suddenly at his residence in Derry on the fourth of December last. During the day, and up to within a few minutes of his death, he was engaged in his usual professional avocations: thus beautifully ending a long and well-spent life, without decay of mind or pain of body; and fulfilling his well known and frequently expressed wish, not to outlive his usefulness.

Mr. Porter was born in Bridgewater, Massachusetts, on the 26th of February, 1776, a few months before the promulgation of the Declaration of Independence.—Soon after his father removed to Lebanon, in this State. He graduated at Dartmouth College in 1803, and studied his profession with the late Aaron Hutchinson, and more than a half century ago settled in Derry, where he continued to reside, uninterruptedly engaged, with marked ability and success, in the practice of the law, until his death. He soon acquired, and ever afterwards held, a high rank at the bar, and at a time when it contained lawyers who would have conferred distinction upon any bar in this or any other country. His fidelity, patience and industry, his learning and high-bred courtesy, his effective preparations for the duties of Court, and his quiet waiting on its routine, are known to all who are acquainted with the administration of justice in this county.

Not only was he for many years among the first at the bar in this county and this State, but for many sessions he was among the first and soundest of our legislators.—The town in which he resided often conferred honor upon itself and the State by electing him to the House of Representatives. A quarter of a century ago the State secured his services in conjunction with those of other distinguished jurists, in the revision of our statutes. It would be difficult to name one who, during the last half century, had so frequently occupied a seat in the popular branch of our State Government, or who had exerted a greater or better influence in giving shape to our statutes and character to our general legislation.

Neither at the Bar or in the Legislature did he seek opportunities for mere display, but in both positions he was always found equal to what the occasion demanded.

The last time I heard him address the Court, he delivered, in this room, his beautiful and appropriate speech upon the life and character of our late Brother Tilton. The Bar had delayed offering to the Court, the Resolutions which they had adopted, with a view to Mr. Porter's participating in the proceedings on the occasion. When he arrived in town, he readily undertook the part assigned to him, and some who hear me will recollect how admirably he performed it.

With what fearful rapidity such occasions as these are succeeding each other. Where now are the men who gave character to the Rockingham Bar when your Honor and myself were admitted to it? Mason, Smith, Sullivan, Bartlett, Woodbury, Cutts, Haven, French, Butler, Plummer, Cushman, Tilton, Thom.

All gone; and now Porter, after a long and honored life is added to the list.

It is fitting that such occasions as this should be marked at least, by a momentary cessation of those contests incident to the profession in which we are spending our lives; that we should call to mind our brethren who have gone before us, and if their eminence is beyond our reach, that we should resolve the more sedulously to imitate their virtues, and endeavor to realize the rapidity with which we are hurrying after them.

Mr. Hackett said that the Bar had passed Resolutions expressive of their respect for the character of their deceased Brother, which they had requested him to present to the Court, and which he asked leave to read.

When the Resolutions were announced, the members of the Bar rose and remained standing while they were being read, as follows:

Resolved, That we, the members of the Bar of Rockingham County, have received with deep sorrow, intelligence of the decease of our brother John Porter.

Resolved, That the acute and profound intellect, the eminent legal attainments, the upright and honorable conduct, and the amiable deportment of our deceased brother, throughout a long and estimable life, render his loss a calamity to the public, not less than to his immediate friends and relatives.

Resolved, That we tender to the affict-ed family of our deceased brother, our heartfelt sympathy for their heavy bereavement.

Resolved, That the Secretary be directed to furnish a copy of these resolutions to the family of the deceased, and that a copy be presented to the Court, with the request that they be entered upon the records.

Judge STICKNEY then addressed the Court as follows,

May it please your Honor,—The Bar in the County of Rockingham has been called within a few years to part with many of its valued members.—Mr. Porter, who for a long time occupied a prominent position among us, and whose death has just been announced to the Court, is now added to this number, and we are called upon to pay a tribute of respect to his memory.

Few men have left behind them a more enviable reputation than Mr. Porter. In all the stations of life which he was called to fill, and they were numerous, he fully met the public expectation, and performed his duties with marked ability and success. His attainments in the profession to which he devoted himself, were of a high order. As a sound lawyer and safe counsellor he was among the first of the profession, and for integrity of character and honesty of purpose he had no superior. I remember him well thirty years ago, when I first became a member of the Bar in this County—he was then in the full and successful practice of his profession.—I remember also his associates and competitors at that time,—Mason, Sullivan, Bartlett, and others eminent in the profession, —and it is no small praise of him to say, that among such men he maintained a high reputation as a lawyer, and his counsel and services were much sought after and relied upon.

I have been engaged with him and against him in the trial of cases, and any one thus situated could not fail to observe and acknowledge his superior ability and carefulness in the preparation and management of his cases. He was distinguished for the accuracy and soundness of his judgment, and for his extensive knowledge of the law and its practice. As a special pleader he stood in the front rank of the profession, at a time when special pleading was more regarded in practice than at the present day. His manner in Court was peculiarly unassuming—nothing was ever said by him for the mere purpose of display; but he stated his positions distinctly, in language clear and concise, and he seldom had occasion to re-state them. In his manners and deportment he was uniformly gentlemanly, kind, and courteous to all,—nothing assuming, overbearing or offensive, ever came from him—he was particularly kind to the younger members of the Bar, and was ever ready and happy to advise and aid them, when requested, in matters of practice. I often had occasion to avail myself of his superior knowledge and experience in the early years of my practice, and no man ever rendered such aid more willingly or more cheerfully.

His social qualities were of a high order—as a man and a friend he was kind and obliging,—in his domestic relations he was singularly happy—as a husband and father he was kind and affectionate, and was greatly beloved in return. But the most prominent trait in his character, and the one which gave value to all the rest, was his sterling integrity, his honesty and uprightness in all his transactions and in all the relations of life. No man stood higher in these respects, or enjoyed in a greater degree the confidence and respect of the community where he lived.

His earthly course is now ended—he has passed through a long life unsullied, and has gone to another world, where, I trust, he received the welcome of the good and faithful servant.

Judge BELL said—

The Court participate in the sorrow expressed by his professional brethren for the great loss sustained by the profession, the Courts, and the community, by the lamented death of Mr. Porter. We are ready to unite with them in bearing testimony to the sound judgment, the eminent learning, the pure and upright character, the amiable disposition and the honorable bearing, which for so long a period rendered him the object of the high respect of the Courts, and of the esteem and kind regards of his associates at the bar.

It was my fortune to become well acquainted with him at the outset of my professional studies in 1817. I was for a period of ten years in practice in his immediate neighborhood, was associated with him in various trusts, and served with him on the Committee for the Revision of the Statutes in 1827—8, and I had opportunity to know and value his extensive and accurate learning, his good judgment, his great care and habitual caution in the transaction of all business which fell under his charge, and the honest and conscientious principles by which his whole conduct was regulated.

The Statutes drafted by him, which remain the basis of existing laws, bear witness to his thorough knowledge and unusual accuracy.

The Court deem it eminently fit that the brethren should desire to place on record some permanent memorial of their esteem and respect for one so deserving, and we feel a melancholy pleasure in complying with the wishes of the Bar, by ordering the resolutions now presented to be entered on the records of the Court.

COLORS AND RACES.

NO. TWO.

Ever since there was a national population, after the Deluge, the migration of the human family has been going forward, gradually, from near to more distant regions of the earth. After many nations have been located in Southern climes, emigrants of various complexions from the old nations become intermixed with the natives. Were it not for the continued emigration, the native complexion in the lapse of a few centuries would become the same or assimilated, under the laws of nature. But the traveler in his researches, now finds in all countries where there is a dense population and any commercial intercourse, emigrants of all complexions from nearly every section of the globe.—Assimilation takes place chiefly from two causes,—first, the solar influence;—second, the intermixture and marriage of members of the different races. We speak, perhaps with propriety, of different races; but it admits of no doubt that there is but one genus of the human family, and therefore that all the diversities apparent in different nations are the effects of natural or physical causes. We cannot reject this conclusion without rejecting the authority of the sacred writings. Rejecting that authority, we may indulge in idle speculations, "in wandering mazes lost." We have the inspired declaration that God hath made of one blood all nations of men for to dwell on all the face of the earth.

At the Deluge, "all men" and "every man" died, except what were saved in Noah's Ark. Again we have the authority of the Bible that "of the three sons of Noah was the whole earth overspread."—Again after naming "the families of the sons of Noah according to their generations, in their nations," the inspired declaration is "and by these were the nations divided in the earth after the flood!" No language can be more explicit.

The infidel may sneer—but can find no authority in support of the theory that there were fifty or more pairs of original ancestors which produced the great diversity among the races. Profane history, physiological researches and reason unite in the support of the position of the unity of the human family—the descent of all races from one pair of ancestors. The Bible settles the question. Each nation has some peculiar characteristics. The natural productiveness of the soil has an effect upon the stature, as we see it has upon the growth of the lower order of animals, and the solar heat upon the complexion.

Maundeville, in his travels in the 14th century, says that "the men of Nubia are Christians, but they are black, like the Moors, on account of the great heat of the sun." King Solomon, the wisest man, assigns the same reason for the black complexion. But the chief cause of the diversities among the nations of the earth is mental culture, in its different degrees. Without this culture, man is everywhere found in the savage or barbarous state.—Nations which have been highly advanced in civilization and in the arts and sciences, as in the northern and northeastern parts of Africa,—in parts of Asia,—even in some parts of Europe, have retrograded to the semi-civilized, in consequence of the neglect of mental culture. The neglect was, no doubt, a consequence of subjugation by the sword.

Now we proudly claim to belong to the Anglo-Saxon race, as being superior to any race. Let us reflect that Britain was subjugated by the Romans, and several times conquered by Southern and South-eastern barbarians, who finally settled and intermixed with the uncivilized Britons. The ruthless invaders must have been the descendants of the primitive inhabitants of Asia—the original stock whence the earth, in the lapse of time has been populated. The Anglo-Saxon blood is the blood of all nations. The origin is the same. Tracing the history of England back not very many centuries, we find the inhabitants, the descendants of various savage, conquering tribes in a semi-civilized state. The progress has been slow, but probably more rapid than that of any other nation, to a high state of civilization and refinement of manners, and in new devolpments in the the arts and sciences. In our own country we know what rapid—even wonderful progress has been made during the last half century. In the same period an equal progress has been made in England. We hardly need say that this progress in the arts and sciences, results, not from the blood of a race, or races of men, but it is the natural effect of superior mental culture. For the superior progress in the two countries in civilization, in literature and the sciences, we cannot be unmindful of the blessings of freedom of speech and the press. Despotism is the foe to mental culture; for the general diffusion of knowledge and Christian principles among the nations would overthrow every despotism and arbitrary government on the face of the earth.

Upon a more glance of the subject, we may thus perceive upon reflection that the color of the skin or shades of the complexion, the features, and stature, instead of being the cause of the diversity among races, are but the effects of natural or physical causes. And did the authority of the Bible need confirmation, it may be said that in addition to the faculties of speech and reason peculiar to the genus man—the organic structure of the human hand, that wonderfully contrived instrument, is the same throughout the whole family of man.

HOMO.

AFRICAN SLAVE TRADE OPENED BY THE SOUTH.—New Orleans, Feb. 26.—An editorial article in the Delta of to-day asserts that the South has already opened the African slave trade, and that a regular depot has been established on Pearl River, in Mississippi, where cargoes have been received, the negroes sold and put to work. The Delta says the vessels engaged in the trade generally use the French flag, because the British cruisers on the African coast will not trouble it.

It ought to be generally brought to recollection in this country, that Hon. Caleb Cushing, by his able writings, several years ago, was the apparent or probable means of proventing France, and perhaps the United States, from agreeing to the proposed tripartite treaty or compact—by which the cruisers of Great Britain, France and the United States were to exercise mutually the right of searching such merchant ships or vessels of the three nations, as were suspected of being slavers.

When this arrangemnt failed, the writer of these lines, then connected with another press in this city, as a writer,—made a statement similar to the above, and regretted and condemned Mr. Cushing's agency in the matter,—and regretted especially that America or Americans, with our professions of love for liberty, should be the means of promoting the slave trade.

Almost immediately after this article was published, being we think in the time of John Tyler's administration, there was an intimation received here from Washinton, that some official heads might drop off, if our newspapers here took such a course. And an able writer, then here, and enjoying a federal office, promptly wrote several articles which were published, defending and lauding Mr. Cushing's course—which seemed to heal the breach. At all events, the heads were not cut off.

Now we are looking at old facts, let us look at another, not quite so old. Just before the last presidential election, some of the ultra pro-slavery men at the South clamored loud for the re-opening of the slave trade. The influence of these men was felt in the nomination; and some "black republican" papers went so far as to assert that if Mr. Buchanan were to be elected, the slave trade would be revived.

It has not been, by law,—but it seems it has been in fact,—and now, when any offender against the piracy law, for so it is, shall be prosecuted—we may expect to have a decision from the Supreme Court of the United States, to the effect that that restriction is null and void! on the ground that the slave trade, existing before the Union, was a vested right. And then we may hear some president express his surprise that anybody could ever have thought otherwise!

These things would be no more strange than the Dred Scott opinions, or than the president's letter to the New Haven memorialists.

RETRIBUTION.—It is instructive to note how the devices of men sometimes return to plague their inventors. Louis Napoleon, who holds his tenure of despotic power at the constant peril of assassination, because of the recent attempt upon his life, has endeavored to obtain of the English government more stringent regulations respecting republican refugees resident in Great Britain. The effort has led to much discussion in the British press, and the London Times, with a coolness almost amounting to malignity, reminds the third Napoleon that his uncle left a legacy of $2000 to Cantillon, the soldier who attempted to assassinate the Duke of Wellington; and that he, Louis Napoleon, is said, shortly after his seizure of the throne, to have sought this person out and to have paid him the legacy with interest.

☞ Major Buford, who was so prominent in Kansas affairs a year or two ago, has given up the cause in disgust and returned to Eufaula, Ala., to resume the practice of the law.

☞ Abijah Jenkins, the celebrated pawnbroker of Boston, whose countenance has so long adorned that delectable sheet the People's Advocate, has been on trial in Boston, in the past week, for receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen; and on Friday the jury brought him in guilty, in strict accordance with the evidence. His counsel, of course, as he has money, took exceptions to the verdict, which must be argued. The Herald says:

The verdict was received with considerable surprise by a majority of those persons who attended the trial, as they had anticipated a disagreement of the jury.

No doubt this is true—for all who know much about such matters in Boston, understand that her men of leisure and pleasure—gamblers, pimps, swindlers, groggery-keepers, &c., &c., make up a large majority of those who would go to look after the case of Abijah Jenkins. With them, the wish is father to the thought. But in his charge to the jury, the Judge said:

In this case the defendant comes to you with the presumption of innocence; an whether he is a member of the Lancers rich or poor, prejudiced before the public you have nothing to say. He is here for trial on two charges, viz:—Receiving stolen property, and knowing the property to have been stolen. In the first place, was the property stolen? This proposition is admitted. Did the defendant know that it was stolen when he purchased it? To decide this question, you will ask yourself this broad and general question:—Would a man like the defendant be able to know by any circumstances attending the transaction, how the parties selling the property came into the possession of it?—The general test of a guilty knowledge in such transactions, is proof of a concealment of the property by the purchaser.

The price paid for stolen property is oftentimes a test by which a guilty knowledge can be inferred, but it is not impossible that the full value of such property might be paid by the receiver. Another test of a guilty knowledge is the position in life of the parties offering the property for sale. These are the ordinary tests, and the jury are to consider them.

This judge gave the prisoner the benefit of all reasonable doubts,—but not of the unreasonable. This for juries, is an important distinction,—and rather important for Abijah.

On Sunday evening last, as Mrs. Charlotte C. Thayer, wife of Mr. Willard Thayer, of Bellingham, R. I., was in the act of taking a rum-sweat, the flames from the liquor communicated to her clothing, and she was burnt in a shocking manner. She lived till Wednesday morning, when death put an end to her sufferings. Her age was 64 years.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

REMEMBER THIS!

Nearly all diseases arise from viscid humors, and any Medicine to be an effectual remedy must strike at the root and produce a change.—Numerous (so called) alteratives are known to and prescribed by our Physicians with much effect. But it is acknowledged by the first Physicians of the age—Professor Ives, Dr. D. A. Tyler and others—that the Rock Rose (Helianthemum Canadense) is superior to anything in the Materia Medica as an alterative, and so great has been the interest manifested in it that Dr. D. A. Tyler of New Haven, published a Dissertation in order to lay before the Medical Profession the virtues of a plant destined to effect a radical change in their practice. Myers' Extract Rock Rose is the only reliable preparation, and has already in Scrofulous and Bilious diseases effected cures that surprised its most ardent friends.

CAUTION NOTICE.

PERSONS living at a distance should be extremely cautious of whom they order Lottery Tickets or Certificates of Packages of Tickets.—The country is flooded with bogus and swindling Lotteries. Every inducement is held out to get persons to invest money in them. Capital Prizes of from $20,000 to $40,000 head their schemes—with tickets at One Dollar. $100,000 capital prizes are offered, tickets $1. All such, in every instance, are frauds; and if money is sent to them for tickets, it is so much thrown away without the shadow of a chance of ever drawing a prize. Private of all Lotteries where the Capital Prize is unusually large in comparison to the price of tickets.—In every instance where large prizes are offered for a small cost of tickets, put it down as a certain fraud.

The Kentucky State Lottery for the benefit of the Shelby College, under our management, is the only Lottery in the United States which is legally decided by the Maryland Drawings; all other Lotteries which purport to be decided by the Maryland Drawings, are frauds.

THE MARYLAND STATE LOTTERIES.

Purchase in the Maryland State Lotteries, then you are sure of being right. And in ordering in the Maryland Lotteries, you are sure of fair and honest drawings.

One thing look to, and that is, if you order from any licensed vender in Baltimore, do not receive any but Managers' Tickets and Managers' Printed Certificates of Packages. The Managers' Certificates have the numbers printed, and have the lithographic signature of R. France & Co.

No one has a right to send his individual certificates, if he does it, be sure there is a fraud at the bottom of it.

THE INSURRECTION AT ARKANSAS.—The St. Louis News gives further particulars of the rumored insurrection in Arkansas. A planter from Independence, Mo., with fifty negroes, reached Washington county, Arkansas, on his way to a farm which he had bought in the State; and, while there, the negroes, having nothing to do, were allowed to go about the neighborhood as they pleased. A weak-headed old lady, seeing a number of them together, became frightened, and made her way to a neighboring settlement, with news that the negroes had "riz," and were on their march towards the settlement. Some little alarm was created, but an hour served to dispel the apprehensions excited by the old lady's story, and the affair was no more thought of.

NOVEL HISTORICAL QUERY.—"Who was Great Pomp?" inquired a pupil in one of our public schools of his father, the other evening. "Pompey the Great, my child," replied the father, "was a Roman general who lived before Christ." "That is not the man," said the child, "for he has not been buried so many years, and his name was Great Pomp. Besides, he must have been a Frenchman, according to my teacher's account." "What did your teacher say," replied the father, "that makes you think he was a Frenchman?" "Why," answered the urchin, "my teacher says Napoleon was buried with Great Pomp, and I never heard of him before."—Boston Transcript.

HOUSE.—Mr. Grow of Pa. gave notice that he should introduce a bill permitting the government to be sued by its creditors in the Courts of the United States.

The House went into Committee of the Whole on the Indian Appropriation bill.

Mr. Smith, of Pennsylvania, said there was a spirit of revolution abroad which, unless checked, would eventually end in disunion. For this spirit of revolution the representatives of a portion of the people are responsible, they having started it on this floor. He was opposed to disunion.—He hoped it would never happen, but believed that if the idea should be abroad that the disruption of this confederacy was impossible, it would only lead to increased efforts to effect it on the part of those determined to destroy it.

Mr. Smith then proceeded to argue that Kansas should be admitted under the Lecompton Constitution.

Mr. Giddings of Ohio said—"will you vote for a resolution requiring the President to withdraw the troops in case Kansas is admitted."

Mr. Smith answered "yes."

Mr. Crawford said he would have so voted a year ago.

Other democrats responded to the same effect.

Mr. Giddings immediately gave notice of a bill directing the withdrawal of the army from Kansas.

Mr. Smith said—"If I vote for the withdrawal of the army, will you vote for the admission of Kansas?"

Mr. Giddings (emphatically) said—"Under the Lecompton Constitution? never, never!"

Mr. Smith, (proceeding) said there was no cause for a separation of the Democracy on this question.

Mr. Harris, of Ill., replying to a remark applicable to him, said that the convictions of his mind were the same now as in the last Congress. He objected to Mr. Smith's drawing inferences from his speech not justified by his language.

Mr. Smith proceeded to advocate the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution. He concluded by saying that he did not want the administration hampered by any conditions, as he believed that the people of Kansas could amend their constitution when they pleased.

Mr. Jones asked the consideration of the Indian Appropriation bill. It had been before the House for ten days, but as yet no allusion had been made to it.

Mr. Giddings (of Ohio) made a few remarks, depicting the wrongs of Slavery, and maintaining that man has a right to assert and strike for his liberty.

The House then passed the Indian Appropriation bill. Also a bill appropriating $408,000 to enable the President to fulfil the treaty stipulations for the abolition of the Sound Dues.

Adjourned till Monday.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—New York Herald correspondence of Feb. 26 says:

The Secretary of War, with Generals Scott and Harney, is busily engaged in arranging the spring campaign against the Mormons. The Secretary has decided not to wait the action of Congress in relation to increasing the army, but to immediately withdraw the troops from the frontier and all other quarters, and concentrate them against the Mormons.

The opposition among the Democrats in the House to the admission of Kansas under the Lecompton Constitution, is rapidly disappearing. There can be no doubt but it will pass the House by ten or twelve majority. There is no doubt about the Senate.

Quite likely this is true—but per contra read this Tribune correspondence:

Gen. Shields denies that he has made any committal in favor of Lecompton, or that he has condemned Judge Douglas's course. His previous declerations are unchanged, he says, and will be affirmed whenever Minnesota shall be admitted.

A letter written here two months ago, by Gen. Whitfield, stating a general disposition of the Territory to have the constitution submited to the people, was set up in the Union office and suppressed by authority. The proof sheets are in existence and may be published.

Information has reached here, which, it is said, implicates the administration directly with some recent election developments.

☞ Hon. Rodney French, of New Bedford, denies being at such a house in Boston as was stated, or meeting with such a loss.
